Appointment of Collector Postponed for Cause.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS TO BE SOLD AT THE BEST PRICE.

Why Orillia and Millbrook Debentures Sold High—Mill-st. Residents Want a Sewer—Other Business.

Our town fathers met in regular session Monday night at 7.30, Mayor Sootheran and all members present. The minutes of last meeting were read by Town Clerk Knowlson, and were duly confirmed.

Communications.
From C. E. Grant, Clerk and Treasurer of Orillia, stating that they sold an issue of $52,000 4 per cent. debentures to Hanson Bros. Montreal, at $99.05.—lyled.

From B. F. Reesor, L. H. & P. Co., drawing the attention of Council to the fact that their street light globes were being broken apparently by boys throwing stones. Between 30 or 40 globes had been destroyed, as well as several lamps damaged. A reward offered by Council might stop the trouble, and he asked that some action be taken.—A reward of $5 will be offered.

From Hugh O'Leary, on behalf of Mr. F. Cornwell, asking for a remission of taxes on brewery property to cover the time his brewery was idle in 1903, from date of fire in March.—Finance committee.

From Town Solicitor Hopkins, respecting Local Improvement taxes on Convent property.—lyled.

From Tax Collector Nicholls, respecting same, and stating that Archdeacon Casey had refused to accept the settlement arrived at in committee.

From Stewart & O'Connor, with reference to the same matter, and suggesting that its settlement be referred to the County Judge.—To this Mayor Sootheran objected on the then we could get, and learned that the debentures, which sold at 99 1/2-100, ran for 30 years, with interest payable half-yearly, and were guaranteed by the County of Simcoe. The Watchman-Warder also commented some time ago on the fact that Millbrook had sold debentures at a better rate than Lindsay could secure, but the fact was that a private investor paid a special price for a $500 not needed for a particular purpose.

Ald. McCrea—"What is the best offer?"

Clerk Knowlson—"The Dominion Securities Co. offered 96 1/4 on Sept. 18th, but the bid may not hold good now."

Mayor Sootheran—"We have to get rid of the present lot of bonds—we're losing money every day. I've got to pay the bank 5 per cent. and they're not anxious to accommodate us even at that figure. The price of debentures is falling—we could have got 97 early in the spring. I advised selling then, but you thought we ought to get more and held back. Now I'm prepared to move that we dispose of the debentures at the best figure possible."

Ald. Cinnamon—"That will mean a deficit, sure."

Ald. Storer—"I would like to hear from Ald. O'Reilly, as he blocked the sale before."

Mayor Sootheran—"Ald. O'Reilly was like some others and thought the offer of 97 was too low. He cannot be blamed for trying to get more."

Ald. Storer—"Ald. Storer has no doubt sold honey high one year and found the price rule lower the next. I said at the time of the first offer that I was not in favor of selling the town debentures at less than par, but apparently in this instance it cannot be helped. In future cases I would be willing to make the interest 1 1/2 per cent., or even 5 per cent., if necessary to avoid any loss."

Mayor Sootheran's resolution was then put to a vote, a 1 was adopted.

A petition was read from John Carey, W. Hungeford, Dr. F. A. Walters and others, asking that an electric light be placed at the junction of William and Colborne-sts.—Police and Lighting committee.

Market Clerk Callaghan reported the collection of $62.48 in weighing fees and market tolls during September.—lyled.

Clerk Knowlson read a Local Improvement petition, signed by A. O. Loughlin and others, asking that a sanitary sewer be constructed on Mill-st. between Glencliff and Melbourne-sts.

Ald. Storer—"I'm not going to vote for any more sewers this year, and I intend to move that the one on Glencliff-st. be not proceeded with this year. My reason for this is that the sewer on Durham-st. has been neglected a dozen old women with tea-cans could have thrown back more earth than has been shovelled into the sewer since the pipes were laid a couple of weeks ago."

It looked as if the petition would be rejected, whereupon Ald. O'Reilly remarked that it was strange that some people could get sewers while others could not. Every property-owner but two had signed the petition because their cellars were full of water and their houses damp whenever a rainy spell prevailed. If Council turned the petition down they would have to appeal to the Board of Health.

Mayor Sootheran—"I can't understand why there should be any hesitation about granting the petition—the town will only have to pay for the street intersection, 33 feet."

The engineer's report on the sewer was then endorsed. The sewer will be 264 feet in length, with six laterals 38 feet long, and the estimated cost is $575, of which the town will pay $80. Clerk Knowlson was authorized to advertise the Board of Revision and call for tenders.

Reports of the standing committees on Police and Lighting, Board of Works, Town Property and Finance were read and adopted.

De Wants a Rebate.
On motion Mr. Thos. Robson was heard in connection with the taxes on his laundry for 1903. The agreement under which he secured partial exemption obliged him to employ a certain number of hands for ten months in each year, and he had sold out at the end of eight months to Mr. Deal, who employed a larger staff than the agreement called for. Under the circumstances he felt that he (Mr. Robson) should be granted exemption for eight months.

The matter had been considered by the Finance committee last Friday evening, when Mr. Robson's request was turned down, but the fact had not been recorded in the minutes of the meeting. Because of this the committee will again give it their attention.

Threatened With a Suit.
Mayor Sootheran informed Council that he had been served with the statutory notice of liability in connection with the serious accident met by Mr. A. Primean recently, and he understood that a similar notice had been served on Ops Council.

The Collectorship.
On his Worship throwing out the suggestion that Council go into committee of the whole to appoint a collector for 1904, Ald. O'Reilly made a vigorous objection. He said he had no candidate to put forward and would support the present collector, but he would not vote for his appointment until the roll for 1903 had been returned complete. Until a few days the collector had possession of both 1902 and 1903 rolls although last year the members were a unit in condemning that practice as bad. Now he (O'Reilly) asked them to stand true to their pledges to put an end to that sort of thing. What proof had the chairman of Finance that only two items remained unsettled on the 1903 roll? At last meeting in his monthly report the auditor referred to the 1902 and 1903 rolls as still in the Collector's hands. Councilors were very particular about a 50c. account now, and then, but they were willing to take Mr. Nicholls' word as to the amount of taxes outstanding, which might be $5,000 or only $5. He would accept Mr. Nicholls' word as quickly as anyone, but it was not business to leave such matters to anyone's word. In conclusion Ald. O'Reilly took the ground that Council was not obliged by law to appoint a collector at that meeting, as maintained by Mayor Sootheran, and said he would not support any appointment until last year's roll had been handed in.

Ald. Cinnamon—"I think Ald. O'Reilly's views are sound."

It was then agreed that the appointment of a collector be postponed for two weeks, Council to stand adjourned until the 17th.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

LITTLE BRITAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Married at the residence of Mr. G. Irwin, in Little Britain, on Sept. 28th, by Elder A. N. Henry, of the Christian church, Mr. Henry White, of Toronto, to Miss Eva J. Brown, daughter of Edwin Brown, Valentin. They are both deaf and dumb but have attended the Deaf and Dumb School and can talk in their language as well as any of us can in our language. Both the bride and bridegroom are very clever and well respected by all who know them. They departed on the evening train for their wedding tour with the best wishes of not only their friends and acquaintances, but the community at large.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Eck, of Lindsay, paid a short visit to Mrs. F. H. Wallis on Tuesday, Oct. 4th. Elder Henry, who had the task of performing a marriage ceremony at Oshawa on the 21st, when Mr. Cory D-Guerre, of Toronto, formerly of Woodville, and Miss Artie McGill, of Oshawa, were united in holy bonds of matrimony.

The revival meetings which have been taking place in our Methodist church during the past two weeks have been very successful and helpful. The different appointments on the circuit were well represented at nearly all the meetings, and every one seemed interested in the revival. Mrs. Ann Rodman has been improving her room commodious dwelling by erecting a cement wall under it.

Mr. E. E. Dillman, Mr. J. J. Glass, and Mr. L. Rodgers, were in Lindsay on Friday last to get information regarding the forming of a Rifle Club at Little Britain. The above-named and Dr. Hall and Messrs. V. and Leslie Pogue joined the Lindsay Rifle Association. We understand Mr. E. E. Dillman is going to contest for some of the places in the rifle matches held in Lindsay on Thursday of this week. We might say it would add considerably to the sport if our village if the Club is formed, which we think can be done if any move whatever is made toward the organization of one.

Another addition has been made to the already large number of monuments in our Christian cemetery. Mr. Alex. Smith, of Glandine, has erected a fine monument in memory of his beloved wife. It was supplied by R. Chambers, of Lindsay.

We notice Mr. Lye, who was appointed as temporary agent at Mariposa Station after the very sudden death of Mr. Murray, former agent, has lately been given the appointment as a permanent position. He has brought his wife and family with him. We give Mr. Lye and family a hearty welcome as one of our community.

The Rev. Mr. Brown, of Kingston, paid a flying visit to several of his friends in our burg on Friday last. We notice he has failed considerably since he gave the lecture on the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky some few years ago, but he still has the same old smile in the same old way.

Mrs. R. Roach and son have departed from our village for their home in Windsor.

The work of repairing and enlarging our town hall is advancing rapidly. It is expected it will be completed in about another week or two, when we will have a hall that we can boast off as far as the inside part, at least is concerned, which is receiving the attention.

Miss Annie Rodman, who is employed in the service of the Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, spent a few days under the parental roof last week.

Miss E. Cornish, of Toronto, spent a few days at her sister's, Mrs. S. Irwin, last week.

Mrs. Smith, of Toronto, was the guest of Mrs. J. Dushane last week.

Saturday morning Mrs. Dr. Blewett and son departed for Toronto from whence, after a short stay, they will return to their home in Chicago.

Mrs. T. H. Wallis, our enterprising stock buyer, returned from Haliburton Friday morning, 30th, where he had been buying stock.

Miss Mabel Shaver, of Toronto, paid a flying visit to her home last week.

On Sunday morning and evening, Oct. 1st, Rev. Mr. J. J. Rae, of Oshawa, delivered two very fine sermons in our Methodist church. The best of attention was given by the large congregations who filled the hall of the church and everyone seemed to drink in a good many of the good things which were said.

Mrs. J. Jenkins, Miss Louie Jenkins and Mr. Charlie Jenkins, attended the Black Watch Band concert held in Lindsay last week. They report it as being something grand.

Mr. Augustus Shaver, and Mr. Newton Shaver, who were home to spend their vacation, have returned to Victoria University to resume their studies.

Mr. F. Rooks and Mr. Howard Wickett, two of our young men, have gone to Manitoba, Mr. Rooks going for his health partly, and Mr. Wickett going to take a position as railway telegraph operator.

Mr. E. Greenaway, of Toronto, was home to spend a few days under the parental roof, but has again returned to resume his practice at the Bantingway Hospital, of Toronto.

Miss Louie Jenkins and Miss Edna Greenaway, two of our young ladies have gone to Toronto to put in a term at the Conservatory of Music. As they were both in our choir, and Miss Greenaway being organist of the choir, they will be missed very much from our midst. However, Mrs. R. Oliver is taking the position of organist, and it is to be hoped our choir will hold its well earned reputation.

Mr. Revel, carriage trimmer for D. Sinclair, carriage manufacturer, of Lindsay, was at Mr. R. S. Robertson's on Tuesday, Oct. 4th, doing some trimming on Mr. Robertson's show rig.

"JUST BEEN TO TOWN TO GET THE SEASON'S SUPPLY OF THE THINGS I'M GOING TO NEED IN MY BUSINESS AS A CANADIAN FARMER"

score of expense, and the Finance committee will again consider the matter.

From the Town Solicitor, in reference to the unused gas lamps on the street. He advised that the Co. be notified to move them at once, and if not complied with Council should have the work done and sell or store the lamp posts.—Police and Lighting committee, with power to act.

From Jas. Roach, Road Commissioner, urging that a second grant of $15 be made for the repair of the western boundary road.—Ald. Robinson—"Fyle it, we have no money."

From Mayor Sootheran—"That would not be fair or courteous, we can't expect the township to keep up the boundary roads. We should at least give our reasons for refusing."—Board of Works, with power to act.

From the Captain and Secretary of the Fire Brigade, asking for six suits of rubber clothing.—Town Property Committee.—Chairman McWatters—"What's the use—it's been before us a dozen times and you refused to grant it."

From Jas. M. Chambers, asking that the cement walk petitioned for by property owners on the south side of Wellington-st., between Sussex and Albert-sts., be proceeded with at the rate of $100 per foot.

From Mrs. Neddo, asking exemption from dog tax.—lyled.

From W. C. Way, Town Engineer, protesting against a decision of committee to make him pay for the cost of typewriting duplicates of his reports to Council.—Mayor Sootheran—"It would not be right—Mr. Way submits a written report, and that is all we can expect."—Referred to Board of Works.

Sale of Town Bonds.
Town Clerk Knowlson called attention to a pile of correspondence in connection with offers for the town's unsold Local Improvement debentures, and pointed out that late bids were lower than those previously refused.

Mayor Sootheran—"In connection with this sale of bonds I wish to make an explanation in reference to a paragraph which recently appeared in The Post concerning a sale of bonds by Orillia Council. I wrote to the Town Treasurer in order to find out the reason why they obtained a better offer for 4 per cent. bonds than we could get, and learned that the debentures, which sold at 99 1/2-100, ran for 30 years, with interest payable half-yearly, and were guaranteed by the County of Simcoe.

A petition was read from John Carey, W. Hungeford, Dr. F. A. Walters and others, asking that an electric light be placed at the junction of William and Colborne-sts.—Police and Lighting committee.

nothing. His duty, he said, was to fight against Spain. His conscience was satisfied that by destroying her shipping he wounded her mortally, but his conscience would never consent to killing men other than in fair fight. On deck I was loyal to my captain, as was my duty, but in the cabin I spoke my thoughts freely, as was a sailor's privilege. "The crew is getting surly," I told him one day, "with this long continued success, and it will take little to make their muffled grumblings break out into open mutiny."

"What will they have?" he answered impatiently. "But sailors are the same all the world over. I make not the slightest doubt that Shem, Ham and Japheth growled among themselves on deck whenever Captain Noah was in his state cabin. But let our lads say what they want, and I am ready to listen. It is not as if they were hired for a set trading voyage to a certain port and back again, with thumb marks and crosses duly set against an agreement and bounty money pocketed and guzzled before the anchor was tripped. I am their captain only by election and hence to a certain degree their servant."

"How if they depose you?"

"Then I shall serve under the new captain. Who is it to be—yourself?"

"You know me better than to think that," said I warmly.

"Yes, Jack, I do. But who else is there?"

"Willie Trehallan."

"Willie Trehallan would never take the cross staff from my hands. Besides, he does not know how to use it. But what about the old man? He had the ear of many of the crew, and from what I hear was a shipmaster before he fell into the hands of the Spaniards."

"I can well believe that," said I. "It was only the other day he took the cross staff in those twisted fingers of his, shot the sun, ciphered on his reckoning on the slate, and turning round, 'Oh, ho, ho, Master Topp!' he chuckled. 'He's a lubberly navigator who cannot find his position to a matter of three minutes! And then when I had gone over the work afresh and found that he seemed to be right, 'Ah, ha, ha, Master Topp, you're a better scholar with cudgel than with pencil! More weight in the forearm than in the head, eh? Stick to the sea long enough and you'll blunder a stout ship ashore yet before you're hanged.' And he would have added more in the same strain, but I didn't wait to hear it."

"Ah," laughed Alec, "the old man's infirmities protect his skin from the trouncing of John Topp's fist, and the old man's wit is too sharp pointed to take a trouncing from John Topp's tongue."

"Maybe," said I sulkily, "but I have no fancy to be taught by a daff man."

"Why not, if he knows something which you don't? Put your pride in the powder room, Jack, along with the other touchy explosives, and remember that every man on this earth has something to teach. At least, so I have found. The mummer chap from Stratford says that there are sermons in stocks and stones and good in everything."

"Where's the good in a Spaniard?" I asked slyly.

"To fill land and build towns for her majesty's legs some time to occupy and for the present to gather gold for you to plunder!"

"Right!" said I. "Then let us set about the plundering. I tell you this pointless cruise must cease or there'll be powder burning within the walls of the fortress. The men's sulks will come shortly if you don't give them Jack. If you and the other rascals are so greedy for gold, you can put the Scourge about whenever you please. And I'll fight her for you down to the last plank when the time comes."

Without another word I sprang up the ladder.

The men were idling about the hot decks in surly knots of threes and fours, but the news brightened up their sullen faces as rain does a parched prairie. They jumped to their stations like a parcel of holiday school-boys. Up went the stowed fore-sails, the headsails sprang aloft like larks, and driven by eager arms the wind-lashed heaved us up to the stream anchor at which we were riding.

"Flatten in the starboard jib sheet there and cant her head off! Hand-somely, now! There she comes round, the beauty! Forward there, let draw and sheet home! Now, helmsman, set her head north-east and by north and keep her so till we are clear of the island!"

A good whole sail breeze was coming from the east by south, which tempered the sun's brazen rays to a pleasant warmth and sent us sweeping along through the smooth Caribbean sea on one of our best points of sailing. The hands were in high good humor at the thought of a full-fledged prize. A cask of rich allende had been brought on deck and broached, and thus with most cheerful augury we began our new quest.

Patriotism might wait. It was plunder's turn now.

CHAPTER XXVI.

As long as we were within sight of Margherita we held on as though making for some of the Windward group, for we knew that there would be watchers on the cliffs, to say nothing of the pearl fishers in their canoes, who would at once spread the news of our neighborhood, and so spoil our chance of making a capture, unless we could manage to baffle them. But when the highest peaks of the islands were just visible as dots on the horizon from our mastheads, we hauled our wind and began making short boards under easy canvas to north and south alternately. By this means we kept our position as far as possible unchanged, just out of sight of Margherita, and any, and without losing a single man. And why? Because their crews have nothing to fight for. But intercept a rich plate ship and in one fight we may lose half our ship's company, and then it will be 'Hurrah for England, while yet the Scourge has men enough to sail her there.' Well, so be it. As my wounds will not hunt dry scented any longer, I must bide my time.

"You speak confidently," said I, half scared at his vehemence, "as though you could point out the course of a fat prize without further search."

"And so I can," he answered quietly, and, unrolling a chart of the main, he skewered it on to the table. "See here! The vessels coming empty from the east touch no land before reaching here and so make for this strait in happy ignorance of our presence. Not so those that are full of treasure and homeward bound. Every port on the coast has been advertised of the pestilential Englishman's whereabouts, so they steer a point or two to the northward of the regular course and pass by the other side of Margherita, near that same El Pueblo del Norte which we harried three months ago. Now, if we creep round the eastern end of the island I warrant we'll be within gunshot of some hulking gold wagon before we're a couple of Sundays older."

"Then," said I, "in the name of all that's sensible do it!"

The captain laughed shortly. "No, I'll leave the matter in your hands."

trusted that the gold hunger of our lookout would let nothing of value escape us on the road to Spain.

For 15 long days did we patrol the seas on narrow sentry go, without sighting a sail. On one night a mer-maiden was reported by Job Trehallan as having sung to him as he hung over the tiller, and he told us with a shame-faced chuckle that it must have been the comeliness of his features which attracted her. Another afternoon we hauled a monster shark aboard and ate him, with the greater relish when we remembered that he would doubtless have done the same by us had the tables been turned.

On the fifteenth night we watched, with no little uneasiness, a pale, flickering flame passing along the waters in coiling curves some two leagues off toward the north-west. The know-ing ones said it was the breath of the great sea serpent prowling in search of prey and would have tried to scare it away with a shot from our big gun had not Alec flatly forbidden it. Now, though at the time I thought this vista of his ill-judged and foolhardy, as tend-ing to make the men careless in guard-ing against the common dangers of the deep, yet, as the issue showed, it was the luckiest thing for us that the men did not have their way; for had the noise of firing gone abroad just then the reward of our patient search would have slipped away ere we could pluck it, and we should never have known the rich prize we had lost.

Scarcely had the last flicker of the sea serpent's trail died into the night when Job Trehallan, who as the keenest sighted man on board was jockey-ing the fore cross-tree, hailed that another light was shining out now.

"What kind of light?" cried Alec.

"A clear, steady glow, sir, though it babbled bigger than a pea."

"Where away?"

"Down to leeward. Square abeam."

At the welcome news we slackened our sheets, put the helm up and ran off before the wind to see what manner of company that light promised us.

When we had run half a league, Job sang out that there were three lights now and that he could make out that they were the poop lanterns of a large ship hove to end on to us.

In an instant all was preparation. Our numbers were small, but the 32 men who assembled without needing a drum to beat them to quarters were tough as whiplcord and wiry as game-cocks. There were no prentice hands to hinder matters by overwilling scurry and bustle, nor were there any cowards who would duck to flying bullets. Each man knew his place and his work and went to it. Guns were cast loose and loaded, pikes unslashed from the booms, axes and small arms taken from their racks, livestock tubs arranged along the decks, the powder room thrown open and everything cleared for action. Yet all this was done with the greatest quietness, so that if possible we might creep up within range of the enemy un-discovered.

The night was dark and sured our purpose well. The Scourge's course was down the wake of the few rays of moonlight that crept through the cran-nied clouds, but the side of her cloths which faced the Spaniard was shrouded in heavy shadow. The galleon, on the other hand, was plainly visible to the eager eyes which peered over our bulwarks. She was hove to, as is the cautious habit of the dons during even the finest night, and her heavy bow now thrashed down into the swell and now shot off a cataract of foaming water as the beam rose again into the salt laden air. She was riding very dead, and many were the congratulatory rib nudges when the men saw how low she lay in the water.

"An 800 ton galleon," rumbled out Willie Trehallan in a growling whisper. "Eight hundred ton, never a one less, if my eye hasn't lost its trick o' measur-ing, an laden that deeply her waist's 'most flush w' the wave tops. There'll be tidy pickings behind those stout ribs o' hers, very tidy pickings."

"Oh, ho, ho!" chuckled the old man softly. "Counting the moldores and 'oreetting the caballeros, they're a tidy lot. Smacking your lips over the tidy pickings like my burly Jack here, whose soul thirsts after plunder more than his belly does after drink. But, Bontswain Willie and Lieutenant Jack, there's going to be a bloody fight first, eh?"

"Ah, ha! It's a blissfully gawsome time I see ahead for the galleon yonder. Sleek sides hacked through and through with shot, carvings splintered and gildings blackened, her plinths plucked, her fabric dismantled, and her scupperns will bleed till the sea around glows like an autumn sunset. Oh, ho, Captain Ireland! You're like to choke our good friends, the sharks, with very surfeit before this world is a night and a day older."

"Think of it! Scarce a shot will leave your guns that does not dull its speed on human flesh. That galleon has not spare housing for a fly. She's crammed with men close as peas in a pod, soldiers and servants, passengers and cooks, marines and officers. There should be nearly 600 pairs of ears aboard her. Saluts! What a merry conceit it would be to shred off those same ears and carry 'em home like a string of dried figs as a present to her most gracious majesty! What say you, Jack Topp, shall we do it?"

I was about to make a sharp answer, for the old dotard's savagery sickened me, when Alec sternly called for silence for fear that our voices should give the alarm. And so I held my tongue, and the old man subsided into smothered gurgles.

Save for the creaking of the gear and the gentle splash of the water against the bends we crept as quietly as a craft full of specters. But the noises inseparable from the working of a vessel or else the snarl of danger in the air, which, they say, a Spaniard is specially quick to scent, at length stirred the drowsy sentinels to their duty, and presently the noise of great confusion came to us over the water.

On board the Spaniard terror and tremulous preparation were everywhere. The portholes opened, and brass cannon grinned through them and gleamed evilly in the moonlight. A swarm of battle lanterns flew aloft and perched like fireflies in the rigging. An attempt was made to get the gal- leon under way so that she might an- swer her helm and thus be easier to fight. But her people were a mere dis- organized mob, each trying to be use- ful, but entirely without order or dis- cipline, and so crowded as they were they succeeded best in getting into each other's way. Some few to the sheets and braces, some merely buried about bawling orders and directions to whoever would listen, and some loaded ordnance and small arms with frantic haste. These last, as soon as the charges were rammed home, were fired. Bow chaser, stern chaser and broadside pieces were fired as fast as the gunners could load them, but as they did not trouble themselves to take any special aim the volleys may per- haps have disturbed the fishes, but from us, the enemy, they drew not groans, but grins.

There the great galleon lay helpless, like some wooden island, spitting in- nocuous fire from every point. But the Scourge drew on under perfect com- mand and in perfect silence.

When we were almost aboard of the enemy, Alec put down his helm and, running across her bows, poured in a heavy raking fire as each gun bore and then, getting before the wind again, came back under her stern and repeat- ed the dose from the same pieces. While they were still lying helplessly head to wind he went about once more and, sending his starboard broadside into her poop windows as he shot past, ran away to northward and engaged at long range.

Hitherto, save for a few shot holes in the sails, a trailing rope or two and here and there a white jagged splinter, we had suffered nothing. But Alec had noted that the don's fire was steady- ing down as discipline began to assert it- self, and knowing that one well aimed broadside must either dismantle or sink us, remembered that in a fight against heavy odds brains and not brute force should be the watchword. So, confi- dent in the powers of his long gun, he sheered off to a distance and began pelting the Spaniard with single shots as fast as the piece could be loaded.

The don, on his part, after a quarter of an hour's furious cannonade, grew tired of firing at a mark which was obviously beyond the range of his guns and, setting his sail trimmers to work, got the galleon on the larboard tack. She was headed for Margherita, and it was plain to us that she intended to run for shelter under the batteries of El Pueblo del Norte.

Now, such a project by no means suited our ideas, and so we redoubled our efforts with the long gun, hoping to carry away some spar that would disable her. But though Jan Pongony could plump a shot into the hull every time he clapped his livestock to the priming there was not a gunner among us able to dent either mast or rigging. And so, flattening in our sheets once more, we made after her close hauled and, ranging up to windward, tried an-

By one of fate's revenges these Spaniards were hoist by their own raine, for on the old man's advice we crammed each gun to the muzzle with the very shackles and wrist cuffs that had chained some of us to a galley's bank and, taking the quoins from the run carriages, let fly a cloud of inquisitorial engines that brought everything down by the run about their ears. Fet- ters were never put to finer use.

A cheer went up as we saw the gal- leon with foremost gone below the round top, mainly cut through in the slings and rigging all in hopeless blights, full head to wind, lying an un- manageable hulk on the water.

But rejoicing came too soon. In an- swer to Alec's summons to surrender a tall armored figure sprang on to the poop and, bawling us, swore he'd fight the ship while two planks of her held together.

The cheer died on our lips. The ar- mored Spaniard was Don Miguel del Cassamoro.

CHAPTER XXVII.

"Hello!" cried Alec, somewhat taken back at this unexpected meeting. "By all the wickedness in Spain, Don Mi- guel del Cassamoro in the flesh!"

"As you'll soon find to your cost, sea robber. You've overshoot your mark this time, Senior Captain Ireland."

"Perhaps so," said Alec unconcerned- ly. "But pardon my surprise, senior. I hoped you were a ghost long ago. Too wicked to be drowned, eh?"

The Spaniard whipped out a venom- ous oath and yelled to his men to fire again. A broadside crashed over our deck, too high fortunately to do much injury to the low lying hull, but our long gun was dismantled and our bow- sprit snapped off short just outside the gunnion.

Then indeed for awhile the battle raged in grim, red earnest. With the forestry carried away we could do nothing but lie head to wind parallel to our antagonist until a tressa new-sail was rigged. Had it been blowing fresh we might have had her round before the wind and so run to a distance to re- fit. But the firing had flattened down the light breeze almost to a dead calm, so we had perforce to stay where we were.

In a strait like this we had counted upon being able to row the Scourge out of danger, as we had already rowed her up alongside a prize in a calm, but now, as fortune would have it, an un- lucky round shot entering in at an open port had hit the six sweeps as they lay lashed on the deck and had broken ev- ery one of them into two. And so, with the decks becoming more of a shambles every minute, we stood our ground and fought the guns like furies, and though our pieces were outnumbered by more than two to one we hoped by serving them twice as quickly to return as good or even better than we got. Besides, every shot of ours found a billet some- where in the Spaniard's hull, while many of his, through the greater eleva- tion of his guns, flew harmlessly over the little Scourge. Had it been other- wise we could never have hoped to keep her aloft.

While we were still a cable's length from the enemy's stern a strange thing happened. A sailor ran on to the poop, leaped overboard and swam as though for his life toward us. Spanish shot pitted the water round him like thun- der drops in a pond, but as he held up his hand as if appealing to us for as- sistance we engaged his assailants and made them think rather of their own skins.

The swimmer meanwhile came up alongside and, getting his fingers into the main chains, scrambled on board. Though vastly changed by the hard-

The Love of Eating.

IS THE AMERICAN BECOM- ING A GOURMAND?

In our largest cen- ters of population, such as New York and Chicago, we daily see more attention given to the inner man. Cafes and lunch-rooms are filled with men and women who seem to give all their time and attention to thoughts of properly or improperly feeding their stomachs. "It is of course best to eat slowly, but not too much," says Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Sur- gical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. In this 20th century people devote so much time to head work that their brain is fatigued and there isn't sufficient blood left to properly take care of the other organs of the body. The stomach must be assisted in its hard work—the liver started into action—by the use of a good stomach tonic, which should be entirely of vegetable ingredients and without alcohol. After years of experience in an active practice, Dr. Pierce discovered a remedy that suited these conditions in a blood-maker and tissue-builder. He called it Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—an alternative extract that assists in the digestion and assimilation of the food in the stomach—so that the blood gets what it needs for food and oxidation, the liver is at the same time started into activity and there is perfect elimination of waste mat- ter. When the blood is pure and rich all the organs work without effort, and the body is like a perfect machine.

SYLVESTER M'FG CO LINDSAY

GRAVE DANGER AHEAD FOR MR. BORDEN.

THE COUNTRY.—"Don't want to discourage yeh from takin' an interest in this here railway of ours, Mr. Borden, but I'd just like to intimate that if yeh don't gee up a bit an' git off the track yeh're goin' t' git knocked high'er'n a kite before long."

A FALLACIOUS ARGUMENT.

A Conservative argument claims that in 1902-3 "Americans bought from Canada 62 cents worth of merchandise per head of population, whereas Canadians per head of population bought from the United States about $21.66." Further "per head of population the Americans bought only about ten cents worth of Canadian farm products, while Canada bought from the United States about $2.90 worth of the same kind of farm products per head of population." The Conservative contention seeks by this argument to show the necessity for increasing the Canadian tariff on imports from the States. The reader will at once note the fallacy involved in reducing imports and exports to a per capita basis when of the two countries interested one contains about six, the other eighty million of people. But let us meet this "reasoner" on his own ground by reversing the process and dealing not with purchases but with sales.

Our exports (sales) of all kinds of goods to the United States in 1903, came to $72,000,000. That is to say if there are six million Canadians, each Canadian sold $12 worth of stuff to our neighbors.

Their exports (sales) of all kinds of goods to Canada in 1903, amounted to $138,000,000. In other words, if there are $80,000,000 Americans, each American sold to Canada $17.25 worth of merchandise.

Coming to agricultural products alone, including animals and their produce, our exports (sales) of those commodities to the United States last year were $9,000,000 or $1.50 per capita. Their exports (sales) of like commodities to us were valued at $16,000,000 or 20 cents per head of their population.

Consequently each Canadian sells seven times more agricultural products to the United States than each American sells to Canada, and the same result works out in the case of exports at large, that is to say, each Canadian sells seven times more to them than they sell per head to us. The Conservative argument turns out, therefore, to be a kicking gun.

Of course, the per capita basis is not a sound basis; it can be made to prove anything. It suited the Conservative writers' purpose to employ it in the case of sales, where, upon he is at once driven up a tree.

SIR WILFRID'S GREAT SPEECH AT SOREL.

For we reproduce some of the chief points of the Premier's magnificent opening address at Sorel, Que., the other day:

"I thank Providence that He has made us His instrument to give these favors to the people. But I ask especially those Conservatives who may be here if the fact that Providence is with us in any reason why the people should be against us?"

"This policy of amity, of conciliation, I put into practice as soon as I had in my hands the destinies of the country. If the country is prosperous to-day it is due to the adoption of this policy."

"When we reformed the tariff in 1895, it was done after a preliminary investigation, and it is the intention of the Government to have another investigation to find what are the needs of the country, and to prepare legislation in accordance therewith."

"I introduced the preference policy, and I am ready to defend it; you have already secured the profits of it. We gave the British preference because we want British trade. Great Britain is our best market."

"Are you going to continue that policy? On that point the answer is easy. It has been before the country for two years. It was given, not in Ottawa or in Canada, but in the heart of the Empire at London, at the Colonial Conference, when I declared to the Empire that I and my colleagues of the Government were ready to make a trade treaty."

"These thousands of settlers (in the Northwest), must have all the supplies of modern civilization as well as the materials for their work. Who is to supply all this? We naturally wish that it should be the manufacturers of Canada; and not the manufacturers of the United States. We want them to buy their supplies here, to ship their products out through our country, and get their supplies in the same way."

"I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada."

"The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway."

"It (the G.T.P.) will, of course, cost money, but I will show you that we have made such a bargain with the Grand Trunk that it will really not cost the country anything. We will borrow this money at three per cent, build the road, and lease it to the Grand Trunk for three per cent, practically taking the money out of one pocket and putting it into the other."

A ONE HORSE ISSUE.

The Montreal Gazette will have nothing to do with Government ownership of railways, the chief dish offered by Mr. Borden, and even girls at municipal ownership of minor utilities. The issue which the Gazette has introduced into the campaign in place of Government ownership and which it is handling with rare skill and pathos, is a piebald horse, sixteen years old, that draws a mail cart in Montreal. It appears that the work of collecting letters from the boxes and branch offices in Montreal is performed by a contractor, who employs horses, one of which is said to be but a saving remnant of a horse, a mere shadow of its pristine glory. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals got after this base contractor the other day, and with Sir William Mulock's hearty approval, hailed him to the police court, where justice was done in the premises. Yet the Gazette gravely accuses Sir William of being responsible for the shattered condition of that horse—no connection of the male sheep Dan that once constituted the Tory platform in Ontario politics—and calls upon all respectable people to punish him by voting him and his colleagues out of office. It is not a thesis calculated to elevate our political ideals to any great extent, but an organ that is fighting shy of its party's principal plank must needs do something to make atonement. The piebald's name, by the way, is Sir Charles and there is a suspicion that the P.M.G. is shamefully using him out of hatred for the robust war-horse of Chamberland.

But there is another side to the story. Rumor says the contractor bought Sir Charles from Colonel Sam Hughes, M.P., who rode him in his South African campaigns with My Servant Turpin clinging on behind and waving aloft the flag that used to flatter De Wet—a banner bearing the legend "The Old Flag, the Old Man, the Old Policy." If this be true, and it is not denied by the Gazette, then it is obvious that Colonel Hughes must share the responsibility with Sir William. Did the Duke of Wellington sell his Waterloo charger to a P. O. contractor?

For or Napoleon Bonaparte his while Marengo to a sausage maker? By no means. Every school boy knows that, when the war drums ceased to throb for them, those historic animals were carefully put away in clover and lived to a green old age. Why, then did Sam allow Sir Charles to fall into Grit hands and thus doom him to serve Sir William Mulock in this menial capacity?

The Gazette speaks this side of the question. "Speaking with all respect, the least Colonel Hughes could have done when he had sheathed his gory blade was to dedicate Sir Charles to the Orange lodge at Lindsay for service on each recurring Twelfth. Almost any lot in life would have been preferable to that of dragging a red cart for a Rouge P.M.G. through the streets of a town most of whose inhabitants live and die without getting the 'annual' and probably without being aware that this gallant steed once carried the two heroes who by their own unaided efforts saved the Empire many a time and oft in the Boer War, and alas! got nothing for the job."

In days of old, when one Arthur Wellesley was winning his spurs in India, an Irish ballad-maker chanted the deeds of Private Mulock of the Mayo corps that was in the forefront at Bhurnigur. The two armies were standing in battle array about sunrise on that eventful day when this remarkable occurrence took place before the eyes of all:

The Hindoo King he climbed a tree, a spy-glass in his eye, To see his murdering pagans our British valor try; But soon he gasped, grew pale and shook, and cried in tones of woe—"Oh jokers, let me out of this—there's Andy Mulock!"

And the campaign thereupon terminated. Wellington obtained the credit, Andy got sixpence a day, So in South Africa, Sam and Servant Turpin and Sir Charles snatched British victory from British defeat several times a week—at any rate as often as was necessary—yet what is their reward? Servant Turpin has retired to his humble home at Fenelon Falls, Sir Charles is dying by inches far from home and kindred under Mulock's intolerable regime, Sam is about to be overwhelmed by the Grits in Victoria and the Canadian House of Parliament shall know him no more! Vanity of vanities, this is a chilly world for loyal men and beasts under Laurier rule.

As announced in our telegraphic despatches elsewhere, Parliament is dissolved. Nominations will take place on Oct. 27, and voting on Nov. 3rd. As predicted yesterday, the campaign will be short and sharp.

Toronto Star: Notwithstanding Mr. Borden's threat in which he warned the Grand Trunk shareholders against going on with the present contract, the Manufacturers' Association thankfully conclude that "the Grand Trunk Pacific is now assured."

At a political meeting held at Bowmanville last evening in the interest of Col. Ward, the Conservative candidate for that riding, Col. Sam Hughes in his speech endorsed Lord Dunsford and his military bill, in which he upheld compulsory service and drill.

The customs receipts in Regina for the year ending June 13, 1904, totalled $241,700, an increase of $91,700 over the previous year's receipts. This return is eminently satisfactory and is a striking illustration of the rapidly growing prosperity of all portions of the Northwest.

In the last three years of the McKinley tariff the United States consumption of wool was 1,257,449,293 lbs. In the three years of the Wilson moderate tariff it was 1,690,879,588 lbs. In the three Dingley years, 1898 to 1900, it declined to 1,167,764,667—a falling off of over 433,000,000. The people use more shoddy under the Dingley tariff.

The outdoor treatment of consumptives is becoming very general, and is regarded no longer as an experiment. The Surgeon-General of the U. S. navy proposes that men of the navy affected with consumption shall not be discharged or become pensioners, but shall be subject to treatment under conditions that shall be most favorable to their recovery. The purpose is to have a farm near the coast at an elevation of about 2,000 feet. Dr. Frederick Sohon has a floating sanitarium to test the advantages of salt air and factory enough the fact.

The fact that Government ownership exists elsewhere proves nothing—certainly does not prove that it is adapted to our social, political and moral climate. In Germany and other European countries the State owns and operates the railways in part for military reasons. In Australia the States own and operate them in order to ensure the speedy development of the country, but, though the official reports are satisfactory enough, the fact remains that the Government ownership of railways in Canada is a failure.

brought out by outsiders show that the policy conduces to extravagance, inefficiency and corruption—to a condition of things, in short, familiar to ourselves in connection with the Intercolonial. Sixty years ago the British parliament took power to purchase all the railroads after a period of 21 years, but no one seriously advocates such a step to-day, the results of State operation on the Continent having demonstrated, that, allowing for all its imperfections, company ownership and operation is preferable in the public interest. In the United States our Socialist friends desire to see the railroads and everything else nationalized, so that society may be resolved in the end into a vast pooling arrangement whereby the strong shall maintain the weak and the thrifty support the improvident. But as in England, so in the States, the temper of the Anglo-Saxon race is not favorable to such experiments and the acquisition of the railways by Government is advocated by few outside the diminishing Populist party and the Socialists proper.

How many Canadians familiar with the history of the Intercolonial would care to see that road carried to the Pacific? What would be the consequence to the farmers and others constituting the bulk of the population, who are and would continue to be served by company lines? Would they not have to pay commercial rates on their own produce together with extra taxes to make up the loss arising from the political or electioneering rates granted to the settlers along this transcontinental road? Mr. Borden ignored the interests of this multitude and listened only to the shrill cry of Mr. Maclean of the Toronto World, whose mission is to save mankind by patent curatives that come to him in his dreams.

Above all, Mr. Borden is flying in the face of the traditions and present temper of his party, which accounts in the main for the striking apathy and want of enthusiasm reported by disinterested persons who have attended his meetings.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Polling Thursday, Nov. 3rd.

Canada can stand four more years of prosperity.

Victoria and Haliburton should get in line with the Party of Progress.

On Tuesday, Oct. 11th, the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton will meet in the Academy, Lindsay, to select their candidate.

Hamilton Times: "The Dundas Star does not like our alliteration, 'Laurier, Liberty, Loyalty, Liberalism.' Perhaps it prefers 'Borden, Borden, Boredom, Bluster.'"

Sir Richard goes to the Senate. Liberalism will still profit by the Grand Old Man's ability, although his bodily vigor is not as of yore. Long may he serve his grateful country!

As announced in our telegraphic despatches elsewhere, Parliament is dissolved. Nominations will take place on Oct. 27, and voting on Nov. 3rd. As predicted yesterday, the campaign will be short and sharp.

Toronto Star: Notwithstanding Mr. Borden's threat in which he warned the Grand Trunk shareholders against going on with the present contract, the Manufacturers' Association thankfully conclude that "the Grand Trunk Pacific is now assured."

At a political meeting held at Bowmanville last evening in the interest of Col. Ward, the Conservative candidate for that riding, Col. Sam Hughes in his speech endorsed Lord Dunsford and his military bill, in which he upheld compulsory service and drill.

The customs receipts in Regina for the year ending June 13, 1904, totalled $241,700, an increase of $91,700 over the previous year's receipts. This return is eminently satisfactory and is a striking illustration of the rapidly growing prosperity of all portions of the Northwest.

In the last three years of the McKinley tariff the United States consumption of wool was 1,257,449,293 lbs. In the three years of the Wilson moderate tariff it was 1,690,879,588 lbs. In the three Dingley years, 1898 to 1900, it declined to 1,167,764,667—a falling off of over 433,000,000. The people use more shoddy under the Dingley tariff.

The outdoor treatment of consumptives is becoming very general, and is regarded no longer as an experiment. The Surgeon-General of the U. S. navy proposes that men of the navy affected with consumption shall not be discharged or become pensioners, but shall be subject to treatment under conditions that shall be most favorable to their recovery. The purpose is to have a farm near the coast at an elevation of about 2,000 feet. Dr. Frederick Sohon has a floating sanitarium to test the advantages of salt air and factory enough the fact.

The report of the Geological Survey of Canada shows that since 1896 upward of $97,000,000 of gold has been shipped out of the Canadian Yukon.

No wonder the wise ones marvel at the Tory leader's attitude toward the new trans-continental railway. The day of small things and small-minded political leaders in Canada is past.

Peterboro Examiner: Mr. R. L. Porden leader of the Conservative Opposition, on his Ontario tour doesn't find very encouraging signs of the desirability of changing the government of the country. He meets everywhere a wave of prosperity, which makes for him hard swimming against the stream. If he strikes a town at the right hour in the morning he sees the streets alive with men carrying a full dinner pail, hastening to the factories ready to take on the hum of industry when seven o'clock strikes. Let well enough alone. Men working full time, or over-time, at good, round wages, won't feel much like harking back to the days of stagnation before the present Government took the tiller.

Somebody who is alive to the tendencies of the times in the United States, and who sees the influences that control the legislative and executive bodies, has called attention, to this forecast made by Abraham Lincoln in 1865, and invites its consideration by public-spirited citizens:

I see in the near future a crisis approaching that unnerves me, and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country. As a result of the war, corporations have been enthroned and an era of corruption in high places will follow, and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its right by working upon the prejudices of the people, until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the Republic destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxious for the safety of the country than ever before, even in the midst of war.

The Orillia Times refers to the Borden meeting in that town on Monday day evening last as follows:

Mr. Borden's meeting was a disappointment. Mr. Borden himself was a disappointment. He has been heralded as a speaker of rare qualities, ranking with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. G. W. Ross, and a statesman with a wonderful grasp of Canadian public questions, but he certainly did not manifest any of these qualities in Orillia. He was courteous and gentlemanly, and used good English, but these qualities should not be considered exceptional even in a Conservative leader, more's the pity that they are so. Not only is he lacking in personal magnetism, but he lacks the happy faculty of adapting himself to his audience. On Monday evening one third of his audience were ladies, a third more cared nothing for a dry dissertation on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and as a consequence Mr. Borden's remarks were seldom punctuated by applause, and then only of a feeble kind.

The Weekly Post.

LINDSAY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7.
VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

As announced last week, the date of the Federal elections has been fixed for Thursday, Nov. 2nd, and the time being short, the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton have not a minute to throw away. Their motto should be "Work, Work!" if they wish to realize the desired aim—the return of a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and progressive government. No time should be lost by the workers in completing organization in the various sub-divisions. The finishing touches should be given to the work between now and next Tuesday, the date of the convention called in Lindsay to select a candidate to enter the field against Col. Sam. Hughes. That a candidate—a strong and popular man—will be nominated, is a certainty. There is no lack of material but it will rest with the convention to choose the better man, and for that reason it is important that every part of the large riding shall send the full number of delegates or alternates to the convention in order that the selection may be unanimous and indicative of the best thought of all.

It must be borne in mind that the Liberal candidate will have only three weeks in which to visit every portion of the large riding, and upon his friends and supporters of the Liberal cause will devolve the responsibility of looking after the work of organization. Upon the thoroughness with which this task is performed will depend in no small measure the success of the Liberal cause locally, and nothing should be left undone to perfect the work.

There is cause for enthusiasm. With a strong candidate, who is bound to no corporation, who has no axe to grind or private end to serve, but who will be proud to carry the Liberal banner to victory, the chances will be in our favor. There never was a better or more hopeful feeling among the Reformers of the united Counties, and all feel that victory is not only possible but probable.

But there must be hard, persistent, well-directed work, and every Liberal must do his share.

PONDER THESE FACTS.

Here are a few facts that should be pondered by every Canadian who loves his country and strives for her welfare. In the 18 years that the Conservatives were in office, their surpluses amounted to $27,862,000, or an average of a little more than $2,500,000 per year. In the 8 years that the Liberals were in office their surpluses amounted to $37,850,000, or an average of $7,235,000 per annum, and this with a lower tariff than during the Conservative regime.

Every year of the 18 the Conservatives were in power the debt of Canada was increased $6,700,000.

Every year of the 8 years the Liberals have been in power the debt has been reduced $185,624—a total of $1,084,998.

The last year of Tory rule the net debt was $50.61 a head of our pop-

Gladya Simson, a pupil of Miss R. Wilson, S. S. No. 10, Manvers, whose name did not appear with the list of successful pupils at Janetville, has received her entrance certificate. Her marks were overlooked and upon a re-examination of her work the result was that she passed very successfully.

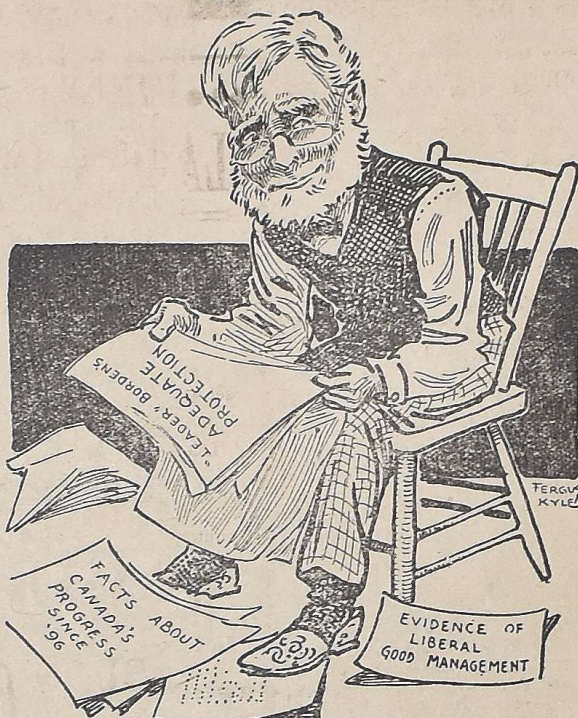

LITTLE BRITAIN.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss Vera Robertson and a lady friend of here, who are attending the L. C. I. at Lindsay, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home.

Several of our citizens attended the Sunderland Fair last week. Mr. S. Metherell displayed his sheep and poultry, and came back with the same old story in the same old way—some firsts, some seconds and a very few thirds.

Dr. Blewett, of Chicago, is home to spend a few days under the parental roof.

CAMBRAV.
(Special to The Post.)

One of those interesting events which arouse a tumult in the hearts of the ladies occurred on Wednesday afternoon last at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. W. A. Fanning, one of our leading citizens, when his eldest daughter, Ethel Earl, a popular and charming young lady, was united in marriage with Mr. William Gilbert, our progressive and highly esteemed general merchant. Rev. A. J. Torrell officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Bert Fanning, and Mr. Geo. Henderson, of Gravenhurst, was groomsmen. The wedding march was played by Miss Jeffers, daughter of Dr. Jeffers, Lindsay. The bride looked very charming in a rich gown of white silk crepe-de-chene, with veil, and the bridesmaid wore cream silk crepe-de-chene. The bride's shawl and ulation. In 1904 it is but $13.69, or nearly $4 a head less.

And compare the quality of the Government and the conditions of the country in 1896 and to-day. Why shouldn't Canada like Liberal rule? Why wouldn't Victoria and Haliburton send a supporter to Laurier?

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Hugh Waddell, the Tory candidate in West Peterboro, has backed out and no one can be got to take his place. Tally one for Laurier.

Montreal Herald: Honest Injun, how can anybody conscientiously explain a vote against Laurier in the present conditions, and still claim to be a patriotic Canadian?

Globe: The News asks what has become of the full dinner pail. Clearly it is no longer an issue. It is taken for granted under Liberal government. By the way, does the News remember the black flag demonstrations and hunger parades of 1894 and 1895?

The secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor says that the fight waged against the open shop for the past two years by the Chicago labor unions has cost the organization 100,000 members and resulted in defeat to the unions. The employers' association has been too much for the men. Two years ago the Chicago Federation of Labor had a membership of 240,000 men, now it has dwindled down to 140,000. The Pullman company, the International Harvester works and the Mechanical Rubber company have opened their shops this week after several weeks of idleness, and have notified their men to come back on individual engagements. The shops will be open to every capable workman.

OMEGEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The weather has been fine for taking up roots and shipping fancy peas, but is broken to-day. (Wednesday.) Corporation labor is now getting the streets in shape after the sidewalkers are completed.

The Reform convention on October 11th at Lindsay promises to attract a large number of delegates.

The thoughtful citizens of the village are now on the alert to get some manufacturers to locate here and build up our town, and add more rate-payers.

SALEM—MARIPOSA.
(Special to The Post.)

On Wednesday, Sept. 28th, a pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. James Woodward, 7th con. Mariposa, when his oldest daughter, Emma T., was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Simson Noble. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. E. Cragg, pastor, in the presence of a large number of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride party entered the lawn to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Vina Coome, and took their place under a beautiful evergreen arch. The bride was very prettily attired in a gown of royal blue silk, 1839 style, and carried a bunch of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Lizzie McEachren, of Oshawa, who was similarly attired and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Lawrence Noble. After the greetings and congratulations the guests repaired to the dining-hall where they partook of a sumptuous repast. The bride was the recipient of a number of useful and pretty presents. Guests were there from Oshawa, Oakwood, Lindsay, Cannington, Manilla, Little Britain and Toronto. Amid a shower of rice the happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto and points west.

MISS MITCHELL'S FINE MILLINERY.

Handsomely Decorated Rooms and Thronged of Lady Visitors.

As usual, Miss Mitchell's rooms were crowded with ladies on the days of the opening. Her rooms were unusually attractive this season—never before has she shown such a display of ready-to-wear shapes and rich trimmings of every sort.

One very handsome hat was a Gainsborough, of white plush, the top of him was made of applique and fancy chenille braiding, white ribbons and velvet several times, ending in that bow at the side. Two plumes drooped gracefully over right side being caught with large buckle.

Another very striking hat was a large black velvet shape drooping front and back; padded folds of silk and row of beads finished the edge of brim and crown; the under brim was of shirred silk, and large plume hung over left side, with knot of burnt orange velvet on bandeau.

Another was a "Torpedo" shape. Top was draped in fancy green and brown and velvet, under brim laid in folds of brown plush, coils of maroon, old pink ribbon, and puff of plush under brim at edge; bunch of shaded foliage hanging low at back, with bow of ribbon.

At the display of dress goods, ready-made skirts, coats, dress goods, and trimmings of every sort was included in the showing.

JOY SUCCEEDS DESPAIR

IN THE HOME OF MR. JOSEPH HILTON, THOROLD, ONT.

His Daughter, Florence, was all but Dead From Dropsy—Her Doctor had Given her up—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills then were Used and Today She is Well and Strong.

From The Post, Thorold, Ont.

Everybody believes in a dreamy sort of way of the efficacy of a well and wisely advertised medicine, when the recorded cases of restored health are at a distance; but when a case comes up in the home town, when the patient is known to everyone, and when the cure is not only positive but marvellous, the efficacy of the medicine becomes a fact—a decided thing.

For many years The Post has advertised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People; large quantities of them have been sold by the local drug stores, and many remarkable cures have been effected. One of these attracted the attention of our reporter and he investigated. Miss Florence Hilton, the eighteen year old daughter of Joseph and Mrs. Hilton, living in the west part of the town, was taken ill early last summer with dropsy, coupled with heart trouble. She was compelled to give up one duty after another, and finally became unable to walk or to lie down. Her suffering was intense and medical skill did all that could be done. Florence, however, grew worse, sitting in her chair day and night for five long months to get her breath, and the parents despaired. At last the doctor gave her up and said further visits were futile. The poor girl's limbs were pitifully swollen and finally burst beneath the knees. She sat helpless and weak, gasping for breath, and at times could not breathe at all, only with the greatest difficulty. One night the neighbors came in and said she could not live till morning. But to-day she is alive and well, moving about among her young companions a remarkable and marvellous contrast to what she then was. The reporter called one evening at the Hilton home, but Miss Florence was out visiting. (The father and mother were in, however, and freely told him of the cure, which they attribute entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The first box was brought to her by her grand-mother, who urged their use. Then Mrs. Hilton herself remembered that she had the previous winter been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of a slight attack of dropsy, and also remembered the many cures advertised in The Post. She bought two boxes and Florence took them, three pills at a dose. In two weeks she felt a slight decrease in her limbs, and more pills were procured. For five months—five long, pain-laden months—the weary girl had sat day and night in her chair, but now she began to feel the pain leaving her and to see her limbs resume their natural size. Fourteen boxes of the pills were taken and at last her perseverance was rewarded. She rose from her chair; her former strength gradually came back; one by one her household duties were taken up again, and when The Post representative called he was met by beaming faces and thankful hearts and a grateful readiness to give a true world the facts that had saved a bright young life and brought joy instead of grief to a Thorold home.

In thousands of other homes, scattered over the length and breadth of Canada, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have brought health and joy and gladness, and in every home in the land where sickness and suffering enters new health and strength can be had through a free use of this medicine. Remember that substitutes can't cure—they make the patient worse, and when you ask for this medicine, see that the label name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around the box—then you are sure you have the genuine pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BREEZY LOCAL BREVITIES

GATHERED BY POST REPORTERS ON THEIR DAILY ROUNDS

What is Happening in Town and the Country About Us.

—Peterboro people are using the skating rink as an opera house this season.

—Remember the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. still pay 3 1/2 per cent. on deposit.—wtf.

Lever's Y-Z (Vase Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder is a boon to any home. It disinfects and cleans at the same time.

—The Bell Telephone Co. are improving the appearance of their poles by having a new coat of red and grey paint put on.

The campaign orator doth come. And think, with dire dismay, That spite of all his speeches, some Will vote the other way.

—The Bell Telephone men have completed a line through Victoria Road and Kirkfield to the Raven Lake Cement Co's works.

—Farmers should take advantage of the Victoria Loan & Savings Co's office hours—open from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., every legal day.—wtf.

—The Championship Pennant won by Lindsay B.C.C. from Bowmanville last Thursday is now floating from M. J. Carter's tall flag staff.

—A Peterboro hotelkeeper was fined $60.78 the other day for permitting fighting on his premises and refusing to allow the Chief of Police to enter.

—Owing to the continued serious illness of Peter Sells, the Forepaugh-Sells Bros. circus aggregation will be sold by auction in New York on Nov. 10th.

—On Monday, Sept. 26th, 1320 lbs. of butter were chummed at Eldon creamery at Longville. The farmers are still sending in large quantities of cream.

—The wild rice harvest at Rice Lake has been in progress for the past few weeks, and is the best crop in many years. Prices range from 4 to 7 cents a pound.

—Miller Bros., on the corner of Lindsay and Ridout-sts., have improved the appearance of the front of their store by putting in a second plate glass window.

—According to the Whitby Key-stone apples and pears are quite plentiful in that section, the former being only 50 cents a barrel and the latter 50 cents a bushel.

—"Bread has riz." The delivering bakers of this town announce that hereafter the two pound loaf will be reduced in weight to one and one-half pounds and retailed at the former price.

—Campbellford citizens will vote on a by-law to raise $30,000 on twenty-year debentures to instal a new electric light plant, and $6,500 for steam heating in the public and high schools.

—Mr. Geo. Smith, O.L.S., Woodville, last week completed the work of subdividing the Lang block of twenty acres, south of Ross Hospital, into building lots. The property is most desirably located and the lots should sell rapidly.

—Sandford's furniture and wood-ware factory, Beaverton Falls, is being flooded with orders, and has to be enlarged. The extension is 102x24 feet in size, three storeys high. There are now between 50 and 60 employees at work steadily.

—Conductor Irwin and Engineer Johnson, charged with being responsible for the Sarnia wreck, in which Mrs. Dowsett was killed, have been committed to attend their trial. They were admitted to bail, the amount being placed at $15,000.

—Mr. John Campbell, of Fairview Farm, Mariposa, last week shipped 43 head of his famous Shropshire sheep to St. Louis Exposition.

Messrs. Donald Campbell, of Mariposa, and Arch McMillan, of Thorah, were in charge of the future prize takers.

—After the Cheese Board adjourned on Monday all the factories sold to the buyers at 7.30 except Mariposa. Mr. Fitzgerald secured Pine Grove, Reabro, Maple Leaf, Star, Dunsford and North Ops—631 boxes, the balance being taken by Messrs. Flavella and Cook.

—Saturday was a very bad day for a fire owing to the high wind. The dwelling of Mr. J. Makins, William-st., was threatened with destruction owing to a spark from the cupola of McCrea's foundry having lodged in the roof. The firemen were called and extinguished the blaze in a couple of minutes by tearing away the burning shingles.

—To give our readers an idea of the activity of the lumbering firms in the far north, we may mention that during the past four months, the St. Anthony Co., headed from their limits over their railway to their mill at Whitney, over 200,000 logs. When the Victoria line is extended to Whitney, much of the lumber out there will pass through Lindsay.

—Mr. Wm. Myers, blacksmith, of Barkton, who was struck and killed by a C.P.R. train Sunday last, was a brother of Mrs. Wedgill, nurse of the noted ward at Ross Wm. Lee, of Ops. Both ladies attended the funeral. Deceased was present at Lindsay Central Fair, and many of our citizens who met him during his visit were shocked by the news of his sudden death.

—Peterboro bakers announce that in view of the jump in the price of flour—80c a hundred weight—the last three months—they are compelled to raise the price of the three pound loaf from 9c to 10c, and the four-pound from 12c to 13c. Compared with this advance, the decision of Lindsay bakers to charge 12c for three pound loaves looks like extortion.

—The Post sanatorium was visited the other day by a man who was recently discharged from Ross Hospital, where he spent some five or six weeks under treatment. While not wishing his name to appear, he said he felt it to be his duty to express publicly his hearty appreciation of the unflinching care and kind treatment he received from the sanatorium inmate of that excellent institution. Miss Scott, the Superintendent, and Miss Allan, the head nurse, were particularly mentioned.

A Heart-to-Heart Talk on Clothing

Don't skip a word or you may skip a dollar. It's the cautious people we're after—those who know a good dollar's worth in most things, but are not quite sure about clothing values.

Now, to begin. We do not sell the cheapest clothing, but we do sell the best clothing cheapest. You never read an advt of poor clothing. Strange, too, for there's more poor than good. Each advertiser represents his own as being better and cheaper than others. How can the public discriminate? Only one certain way, come and see.

We are exclusive sellers in Lindsay of the renowned Progress and Twentieth Century Clothing. If there's any fault in this clothing neither makers nor wearers have ever discovered it. If you will visit our store we'll convince you even if it should come to giving you a suit or overcoat on trial.

We've wedded high artistic designs to values of thorough honesty. Adults' suits and overcoats priced alike—$5, $7, $10, $12, $15, $17, $20. Boys' in proportion. All kinds of Furnishings for Men and Boys.

THE COUNTY ROADS SYSTEM

INTERESTING INFORMATION FOR THE VARIOUS MUNICIPALITIES

Report of the Roads and Bridges Committees, Adopted Last Week.

Below we present to our readers the special report introduced at last week's session of the County Council in connection with the County Roads system. The information therein is reliable and should influence the public mind in favor of the scheme.

Gentlemen,—Your committee have considered with great care the report of the Conference of the Township Councils and the County Council held yesterday, and especially the resolution of the Conference expressing approval of the establishment of a County Roads System and requesting the Council to proceed to designate the roads to be assumed and improved. Your committee beg to recommend that the request be acceded to.

In considering this important question your committee have had in view the fact that the share of the Government appropriation available for the County of Victoria is $20,000.00. To earn that amount an expenditure of $80,000.00 would be required, leaving the amount to be provided by the County, $60,000.00. In the opinion of your committee provision should be made for expending in the Town of Lindsay and the incorporated villages the amounts which would be required in raising the part of the capital sum, $60,000.00, which would primarily be provided by the County by issuing debentures payable in twenty or thirty years as may be deemed desirable. There would be expended in improving the highways in the respective township municipalities to be assumed by the County, the share of the principal sum of $60,000.00, according to the equalized value of each for County purposes and besides this there would be expended in the townships their share of the $80,000.00 to be received from the Government, the town and incorporated villages not participating in the appropriation of the Government grant.

The amounts available for expenditure in all the municipalities would be approximately as follows:

Townships Share of $60,000.00 Share of $80,000.00

The roads assumed in the townships will be maintained hereafter by the County as County roads. There is a provision in the Act permitting the remoter townships to take their shares and expend the amounts themselves. In such cases the roads would not be assumed by the County or form part of the County Roads System.

Owing to the fact that the standard of the roads to be assumed and improved may vary, and in order to arrive at the number of miles that can be assumed in the various town-

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

Baby's Own Tablets have a remarkable record. All over the land you will find mothers who will tell you this medicine has saved the lives of their little ones. When you give Baby's Own Tablets to your children you have a guarantee that you are not stupefying them with poisonous soothing stuffs. No other medicine for children gives this guarantee, and no other medicine safely cures all such ills as colic, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, and teething troubles. The Tablets not only cure these ills, but an occasional dose given to a well child prevents them. Mrs. G. A. Sawyer, Clarenceville, Que., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl and find that they are the very best medicine I can give her." Try the Tablets for your children—they will not disappoint you. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail in a box by writing to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Departure of a Popular Young Lady

Miss Ella Gross left last week for New York to assume the duties of nurse-in-training at the Gilvill Hospital. Before leaving Miss Gross was entertained by the past, Rev. James Wallace, and the choir of St. Andrew's church, at the home of the former, when a most pleasant social evening was spent, the program including refreshments and the presentation of a purse containing some bright good things, for which the recipient returned thanks to all who had so kindly remembered her.

Mr. Wm. Cain, of Niles, Mich., left town last week for home, after a pleasant visit with his brothers, Andrew and James, whom he had not seen for the long period of 37 years. Mr. Cain left Lindsay about 40 years ago on the outbreak of the American Civil War, and enlisted in the Northern Army. After serving three years and taking part in many important battles he was wounded and secured his discharge. He returned to Lindsay for a few weeks and then left for Michigan, where he engaged in business and forgot his old town, which has improved so much since he last saw it that he was almost unable to distinguish any of the old landmarks. Mr. Cain is now in receipt of a pension of $12 per month.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great and wide-spread popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

INQUEST WAS ADJOURNED.

DEATH OF AN OLD MAN AT THE GAOL MONDAY.

He was Arrested Saturday and Sent up as a Vagrant—Inquest Held.

(From Tuesday's Evening Post.) Everyone who witnessed the races here on the second and third days of our Central Fair will be able to recall to mind an old man, white-haired, and clad in blue jeans, who looked after one of the horses and handled the reins in several of the heats. His name was Cicero Ogden, and he hailed from Kincardine. The owner of the horse, who called him self Cassidy, remained in town the week after the Fair, and quarrelled with Ogden, who had been drinking heavily. The old man was destitute and could not get away to his home in Kincardine, but he managed to get more liquor than was good for him.

On Saturday he was arrested by Chief Nevison and brought before Magistrate Jackson, who sent him to gaol for a term to sober up. On Sunday he complained of being ill and Dr. Jeffers, Gaol Surgeon, was called in to see him about 2 p.m. and wrote out a prescription, which was filled at one of the drug stores. About 5 o'clock the patient took a weak spell and expired.

Dr. Burrows, Coroner, held an inquest at the Gaol this morning, and after taking all the evidence the enquiry was adjourned for one week, with the Council chamber as the place of meeting, in order that the Kincardine friends of deceased may be represented by counsel if they so desire.

The jurors summoned are: John Duck, C. E. Beacock, Robt. Nugent, B. F. Reesor (foreman), D. O'Keefe, Jos. Parkin, M. Cole, J. E. Adams, F. Crandell, Geo. Little, A. B. Terry, Geo. Spenceley, Wm. Simpson, J. P. Niell.

PRETTY SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Menzies—Williams.

The following from the Peterboro Examiner will interest many of our young people, the principal in the happy event described having event described having been a member of Mr. M. J. Carter's staff a couple of years ago:

A very pleasant event took place last evening at the residence of Mr. John Williams, when his daughter, Maud Helen, was united in the bonds of matrimony to John J. Menzies, of town. The bride's wedding gown was of white tulle, cloth over white tulle, trimmed with applique, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and asters.

The bridesmaid was Miss Edith Williams, sister of the bride, and she wore a dress of white organdie trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and asters. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Albert Menzies, of Fenelon Falls. Miss Estelle Cuncannon and Miss Victoria Allen acted as flower girls, they were dressed in white organdie. Miss Estelle carried the ring in a basket of sweet peas. The wedding march was very beautifully played by Miss Nellie Allen, cousin of the bride. The house was decorated with autumn foliage and flowers. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service, to the bridesmaid an opal ring, to the groomsmen a gold tie-pin set with pearls, and to the flower girls gold brooches. Among the many handsome presents received by the bride was a clock and fruit dish from the employees of the C. G. E. Company, and a cheque from her father. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue pique, and she wore a white beaver hat. After the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, about sixty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, after which the happy couple left on the nine o'clock train, for two weeks' wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends.

OBITUARY.

William Copeland, Helena, Ark.

News was received last week of the death of William Copeland, formerly of this town, at Helena, Ark. Since then national particulars have come to hand. The following from the city's paper will be read with interest by old friends:

"William Copeland, who was formerly of Canada, but lately of this city, died yesterday afternoon at 4.35 at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Hudson, on Walnut-st. Deceased was stricken last Tuesday with a congestive chill, from the effects of which he never rallied, and his demise was not unexpected. He had lived in Helena for the past year and was regarded as a good citizen. He served on the police force for several months and made an excellent officer. His many friends will regret to hear of his almost sudden death, and will sympathize with his bereaved relatives.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Hudson.

The deceased will be remembered by many citizens around town, having been employed in connection with the Electric Works. He was of a pleasant, genial disposition, and his death is much regretted. Deceased was brother to Mrs. Jas. A. McWilliams William-st.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

All but 17 of the returning officers for Ontario have been appointed.

Mr. Peter Ryan of Toronto, has declined to contest any constituency. Mr. Hugh Waddell, the Conservative candidate nominated on Saturday at Peterboro, has withdrawn from the contest.

Quebec, Oct. 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada, will arrive in this city to-day on business connected with the general election.

About 40 M.P.P.'s have already accepted the invitation to the Temiskaming Railway trip. About half the members at least are expected to go next Monday. The excursionists will return the following Thursday.

Mr. W. S. Fielding opened his campaign at Amherst N.S., Monday night, where he has Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Messrs. Charles Marcell and H. J. Logan addressed one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in that town.

Puts It Inland.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—In view of the immense strategic importance of uninterrupted communication by wireless telegraphy at all times between Canada and Great Britain, the Marconi Company has decided that the station near Glace Bay should be located in a less exposed position than is at present the case, was the statement made yesterday by J. P. Ope, vice-president of the Marconi Company. As his arrival in the city of New York, a site some distance inland, he added, has already been secured and Mr. Marconi will take the opportunity offered by the removal of the station for incorporating a number of improvements.

Wong Bing Deported.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 4.—U. S. Commissioner Gray yesterday ordered the deportation of Wong Bing, a Chinaman, unlawfully residing in the United States, it is alleged. Wong Bing conducted a store at Brockville, Ont., for many years, and it is said is a naturalized British subject. Representations were made to the Commissioner that the Dominion Government would permit Wong Bing to re-enter Canada on his certificate, but the Commissioner finds no authority for deporting Chinamen to Canada, and rules that he must go back to China. Appeal will be taken on the point of the Chinaman's British citizenship.

Cincinnati Canadian Club.

Cincinnati, Oct. 4.—The organization of the Canadian Club of Cincinnati, which was begun last Sunday, was completed yesterday by the election of the following officers: President, Allen Bishopric; vice-president, Alexander Macdonald; secretary, Robert A. Black; treasurer, Ernest Rhodes; directors, W. T. McLean, S. G. Terrill, Charles F. Clark, James Mitchell and Robert Franklin.

Sick Headache

If troubled with this distressing ailment, watch for the first indication of an attack; as soon as you feel it coming on take three of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the attack may be warded off.

Mr. Geo. R. Wright, of New London, New York, says: "For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctor'd with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well." He has since recommended these Tablets to several of his neighbors, who are enthusiastic in their praise of the remedy. Sold by druggists at 25c. per box.

Home Rule Not Dead.

London, Oct. 4.—(C. A. P.)—Dillon, M. P., in addressing a gathering of Nationalists at Sligo, said, "nobody in England thinks home rule is dead; if they did I should advise them to turn their eyes across the Atlantic and watch the triumphant progress of the leader of the Irish party, courted and welcomed by all the leaders of the great political parties in the United States. When he passed on into loyal Canada, which used to be quoted by Chamberlain when she sent a contingent to fight the Boers, yet we saw in Montreal last week the Attorney-General of Canada, a good Irishman, coming to the meeting and taking his seat on the platform at the side of Mr. Redmond and telling Mr. Redmond he had been charged by the Cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to convey to the Irish party the full sympathy of the Canadian Cabinet in our demand for Irish liberty (applause)—that did not look very much like a dying cause."

A Change of Route.

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—The party of locating engineers on the G.T.P. survey, who were running a line about 160 miles north of Lake Nepon, found it necessary owing to the physical and topographical condition to throw their line one hundred miles south of the route they desired. The height of land between Lake Superior and James Bay takes a sharp bend to the north, as it passes behind Lake Nepon and it looks as if the G.T.P. line must cross this summit twice in a short distance.

Expenses of N.W.T. Government.

Regina, Oct. 4.—At the session of the Legislature yesterday afternoon the Premier moved that hereafter night sessions be held, and accordingly the House will commence sitting at nights to-day. This will render possible an early prorogation, enabling the members to take part in the Federal campaign. The estimates for the year were presented. An expenditure of $101,540 is provided for as against $89,965 last year.

Would Have Been a Peer.

London, Oct. 4.—The St. James' Gazette says it is understood that the late Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, who twice refused a peerage, eventually accepted the honor and would have been gazetted Baron Macwood in the next birthday honor list. "Fate," the paper adds, "has rendered the event impossible, but it is deemed probable that a barony following the procedure on the death of W. H. Smith (who was Minister of War in Lord Salisbury's Cabinets of 1885 and 1886), will nevertheless be conferred on Lady Harcourt."

$100 Went Astray.

London, Oct. 4.—On Friday evening last a certain young lady who holds a position as clerk in one of the stores here, deposited a roll of bills under a pillow in her bedroom at her boarding house, for safe keeping. Her precaution had not escaped the attention of some person evidently aware of her possession of the money, and when she awakened in the morning the money was gone. It contained over $100. The theft was reported to the police, who are now working on the case.

Lad Did Thieving.

Galt, Oct. 4.—Within the last six weeks there has been much petty thieving done in and around Galt. As a result the police have been working overtime in an effort to locate the thief. Chief German quietly took up the cases, and that he worked effectively, is demonstrated by the fact that on Saturday night he arrested a 16-year-old boy named Lawrence Smith, who lives on Bruce street, and Smith has confessed to seven charges. He has been remanded for sentence.

Barque Sunk; Crew Saved.

Fredrickstad, Norway, Oct. 4.—The Norwegian barque "Sir John Laurance" (from London) has struck on sunken rocks outside this harbor and has broken up. The crew were rescued.

Koch Goes to Africa.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—Prof. Robert Koch will continue his work of research in the service of the State. He will go to German East Africa this winter for bacteriological study.

Baby Badly Burned.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—On Saturday Baby Florence Dill of 3 Drummond place came to the front doorstep of her home, and sat down clad only in her flannel nightdress, to pull on her shoe. A little lad living next door was playing with matches, and, having ignited one, he threw it at the little girl. It stuck to the nightgown and in an instant the child was enveloped in flames. Her mother wrapped her in a rug and the flames were extinguished, but not before severe burns had been inflicted. She may die.

Twelve Persons Drown.

Las Vegas, N.M., Oct. 3.—Half of Watrous has been destroyed by a flood, and at least twelve persons have been drowned, including three children of J. H. Stevens, Felix Villalare, his wife, two sisters and a couple of children and O. F. Porter. J. H. Stevens and his wife escaped, but they are in a critical condition. Many persons were rescued from trees and house-tops.

May Be Charged With Murder.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—F. W. Watts, arrested at Moosejaw for robbery, may be charged with the murder of Alex. Taffen, whose body was found mangled in the railway yard of this town two weeks ago.

Died in Jail.

Lindsay, Ont., Oct. 4.—A man named Clero Ogden, who had been attending the races at the time of the Fair, died in jail here yesterday. It is understood he has friends at Kincardine, Ont., and at Galt, Mich.

GREAT MISSION CONFERENCE. ACCIDENT NEAR JANETVILLE

EMINENT METHODIST CLERGYMEN AND LAYMEN HERE.

Interesting Open Meetings—Names of Delegates Present.

(From Evening Post, Sept. 30.) Many of the most prominent of the clerical and lay members of Canadian Methodism are now assembled daily in the Cambridge-st. Methodist Church. They are in attendance at the 81st anniversary meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. The convention has not attracted a great deal of attention locally, but a good audience attended the first open meeting, held last evening, and no doubt many will flock to hear the experiences of the several missionaries from Japan, China and other foreign fields, as such an opportunity may not again present itself to our townsmen for some time to come.

The following gentlemen, hailing from different parts of the Dominion are here: Rev. A. Carman, D. D., Rev. A. Sutherland, D. D., Rev. Jas. Henderson, D. D., Harris H. Fudge, Esq., Rev. Wm. Briggs, D. D., F. C. Stephenson, M. D., Chester D. Massey, Esq., Newton W. Rowell, Esq., Hon. Geo. A. Cox, J. W. Flavell, Esq., Hon. Justice MacLaren, LL. D., Rev. J. A. Rankin, A. D. Watson, Esq., M. D., Toronto; Rev. E. B. Ryckman, D. D., Cornwall; Rev. W. R. Young, D. D., St. Thomas; Rev. G. F. Hustis, D. D., Halifax; Rev. Jas. Woods, D. D., Brandon; Rev. D. A. Moir, St. Catharines; Rev. Jasper Wilson, M. A., Ridgeway; Rev. J. R. Rae, Pictou; Rev. Manly Benson, D. D., Pembroke; Rev. W. H. Evans, D. D., Yarmouth, N. S.; Rev. Wm. Swan, Newfoundland; Rev. J. A. Wood, British Columbia; Rev. D. Macdonald, M. D., Japan; Rev. R. B. Ewan, M. D., China; Thos. Hilliard, Esq., Waterloo; W. J. Ferguson, Esq., Stratford; W. H. Lambly, St. John; Judge S. A. Chesley, Lunenburg; J. Hunter White, Esq., St. John.

At last night's meeting Mr. H. H. Fudge, Esq., of Toronto, the Treasurer of the Society, occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a short and appropriate address. The abstract of the general report of the Society was presented by Dr. Henderson in a most interesting shape, and the General Secretary, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, presented the financial report in a concise form and devoid of the usual dryness which accompanies such statements. Rev. Dr. Ryckman gave a thoughtful address from the text: "Let us overtake with God." Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., spoke on "Our Home Missions," with an earnestness and knowledge of his subject that proved most convincing. Dr. Briggs spoke of our "Present Demands," and dispelled any sense of weariness in the audience by the very witty manner in which he handled the subject.

Hunts for Big Game.

The season is fast approaching, when the hunter will be getting ready for his annual outing to the woods in search of big game, and the present time is opportune for making the necessary arrangement for a successful hunt. From reports received by the Grand Trunk Railway System, deer are plentiful in several districts of the "Highlands of Ontario," and moose abound in the "Temagami" region. In one day recently eight individual moose were seen by a hunting party at different points in this region. The open season for deer and moose in the "Highlands" is from November 15th, and from October 18th to November 15th in the Temagami country. Hunting parties are assured of the legal number of game if they go into the proper localities. Reliable information regarding camp equipment, experienced guides and all requisites for a successful trip can be had on application to J. D. McDonald, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

EASTWOOD'S WRECK

Four Railway Men Killed and Burned Past Identification.

STATION DESTROYED BY FIRE

Grand Trunk Engine and Cars Piled in a Heap—Twenty Cars Burned—Live Stock and General Freight Consumed in the Fire—Fireman Cameron Not Expected to Recover.

Eastwood, Sept. 29.—As a result of one of the most disastrous freight wrecks in the history of the Grand Trunk Railway, through a rear-end collision at this village, five miles from Woodstock, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, four men are dead and possibly five, and one injured so severely that he could not survive the night.

The dead: Thomas Heron of Toronto, engineer; Harry Fallis of Hamilton, conductor; C. B. Donnelly of Hamilton, brakeman; Alexander Kirkland of Hamilton, engineer.

Late last night it was learned on good authority that a Buffalo driver, who was riding in the caboose of the through freight, is missing, and is believed to have perished. His name could not be ascertained.

Cameron Will Likely Die.

Simon Cameron of Parkhill, living at 418 West King street, Toronto, fireman, was severely scalded and burned and injured internally and will likely die.

About twenty cars of meat, stock and general freight were consumed by fire, together with Eastwood Station, which was wrecked by the collision and afterwards destroyed by the burning of the wreckage. One new locomotive of the "900" class is a complete loss. Three hundred yards of track were torn up and rendered useless. Auxiliaries with a force of 200 men labored since early morning until late last night, and the track was not clear till 10 o'clock.

Inquest Opens and Adjourns.

Dr. McLay, coroner, opened the inquest at 5 o'clock last evening. He empaneled a jury who viewed the wreck and discovered that the switch had been left open. As the conductor and brakeman of the freight on the siding, and as Engineer Heron of the second freight are dead and his fireman is dying there is little hope of accurately determining who was responsible for the disaster. The inquest now stands adjourned until Monday.

Station Agent's Escape.

One of the remarkable features of the disaster is the escape of Thomas Dunn, the station agent, and his family. They were stopping in the east room of the building, and to this fact alone they owe the saving of their lives. As it was they had to push out in their night attire to avoid the fire. The collision threw freight cars right into the side of the western half of the station building and it was one of the first things to fall a prey to the flames. All the books, tickets, fixtures and furniture, together with some freight, was destroyed.

The remains of the dead were only a few charred bones and ashes, the first being recovered about ten o'clock.

Collision on the C.N.R.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Four men were injured in a collision at Oak Point, on Lake Manitoba, yesterday morning on the C.N.R. A couple of work cars, a boarding and sleeping car were standing on the track when a west-bound train coming down the line backed into them, doing considerable damage to the train and injuring William Breen, Thomas Marks, Ernest Breen and Joseph Richardson. The injuries of the two former are internal and may prove serious. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Knelt to Meet Train.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 29.—A Canadian Pacific work train coming into the Soo from the east struck and killed an unknown man a couple of miles from town about 6 o'clock last evening. Deceased, accompanied by two other men, named O'Reilly and Banister, all drinking considerably, was walking along the track when a west-bound train coming down the line backed into them, doing considerable damage to the train and injuring William Breen, Thomas Marks, Ernest Breen and Joseph Richardson. The injuries of the two former are internal and may prove serious. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Ten Cars Derailed.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—An accident resulting in the derailing of ten freight cars occurred on the C. P. R. line, just east of the old Streetsville Station, at about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause was the breaking of a defective wheel. The loss will run to several thousands of dollars.

M.C.R. Censured by Jury.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 29.—The coroner's jury, investigating the death of J. W. Mill, a Michigan Central engineer, who was killed on Sunday, found a verdict censuring the railway company for the defective condition of the siding where the accident occurred, and for the lack of wrecking appliances by means of which Mill might have been rescued.

Blame For Wreck Fixed.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Responsibility for the wreck of the Sunday school excursion train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad at Glenwood, Ill., July 31, when 18 persons were killed and more than 100 others injured, has been fixed by the grand jury. It indicated for manslaughter Frank E. Hoxie, engineer; Frank Casper, conductor, and Chas. H. Wright, brakeman of the train which caused the accident. Frederick Whitman, train dispatcher, and Patrick Costello, fireman of the freight train, were exonerated. Disobedience of orders was given as the cause for the accident.

Brighton, Sept. 29.—Fire broke out at 10 last night in the pressing department of W. N. Davidson's tailor shop, but was quickly extinguished. A panic was narrowly averted at the opera house, where some one foolishly gave the alarm during the progress of an entertainment. The crowd rushed out without any serious injuries.

A RECORD REVIEWED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Opens the Campaign at Sorel, Que.

A MAGNIFICENT GATHERING

Premier Displayed Remarkable Strength and Buoyancy During the Delivery of His Speech—An Impressive Moment in the Course of His Address—Contrast Between Papineau's Mission and Sir Wilfrid's.

Sorel, Que., Sept. 29.—The first Liberal gun in the general election campaign of 1904 was fired by Sir Wilfrid Laurier here yesterday. The Premier addressed a magnificent gathering of the electors of a county of Richelieu, speaking for a full hour, and although he did not announce the actual date of the elections, he said that the question that was foremost in the minds of his hearers at the moment would be answered in a few days. The gratifying part of the Premier's address was the remarkable strength and buoyancy that he displayed throughout its delivery. His voice had the old vigorous ring that characterized the campaign of 1896, and his general bearing under the heavy task was excellent. It had been asserted that Sir Wilfrid would not speak for more than half an hour, as he was not physically able to do so, but by actual count he was on his feet more than an hour, and he spoke for fifty-eight minutes.

A Splendid Audience.

The crowd that greeted him was one of the most gratifying and enthusiastic urban gatherings ever seen in the Province of Quebec. The entire market square in front of the stand erected for the speakers was packed with people, and a portion of the mass reached down into the main street. Every available window and gallery in the vicinity was crowded, and even though it was impossible for any but the most vigorous speakers to throw their voices as far as the outskirts of the crowd the great gathering remained intact, standing in a block intensely interested from 2 o'clock until 5.30, three full hours and a half. Line after line of flags and bunting were here and there stretched across the principal streets and the docks and railway station were similarly decorated.

Reception of the Premier.

The Premier, accompanied by Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, arrived by the R. & O. steamer "Three Rivers," a crowd of several hundred persons came from Montreal. When the steamer came into view around the curve in the river a cannon announced its arrival, and immediately the whistles of every steam craft in this busy little shipping port sent forth a stirring welcome. An immense crowd that packed the approaches to the wharves and hung upon the sheds and every available elevation gave a great cheer to the accompaniment of a band aboard the boat. Mayor Paradis extended a civic welcome to the distinguished visitors.

Long before the Premier arrived at the market hall platform the square was crowded. Balloons bearing inscriptions such as "Long Live Laurier," "Liberalism and Liberty," "Prosperity and Progress," ascended over the heads of the people, and a brass band discoursed music. As Sir Wilfrid was driven through the streets the crowds on both sides greeted him with cheer after cheer, and many pressed to the side of the carriage to shake his hand.

The Premier's Speech.

The Premier's speech was a review of the work of the Liberal Government since coming into power in 1896, telling criticism of the Opposition's program, a reiteration of his sympathy with all dignified efforts to bring about treaties of commerce with Great Britain, an avowal of his intention to maintain the British preference, to revise the tariff wherever revision should be found to be advisable, and a glowing assurance of his loyalty to Canada, to British institutions and to the Motherland. It was an impressive moment when the Premier bared his head to the cheers of his attachment to his native country, and to all that made for the advancement and prosperity of the whole Dominion.

The Other Speakers.

Other prominent speakers were Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. R. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor General; and Mr. Brunet, the local member. Mr. Brodeur practically sent down a defiance to the trusts and monopolies, and Mr. Lemieux drew a contrast between the mission of Hon. Louis Joseph Papineau in 1837-38, and the mission of Sir Wilfrid to-day. Papineau had asked the people of Richelieu not to buy British goods, so that they might avenge the injustice done by British bureaucrats, but Sir Wilfrid now asked the children of the same people to encourage their trade relations with the people of Great Britain by keeping in power a Government that would maintain the British preference.

Among those on the platform were: Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor General; Senator Casgrain, Senator Cloran, Robert Bickel, M.P.; L. A. Rivet, M.P.; S. Chénier, M.P.; Hector Champagne, M.P.; A. Bergevin, M.P.; G. A. Lacombe, M.P.

PAIRS OPENED.

Chatham, Sept. 29.—Yesterday Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, opened the Peninsula Fair here. He made some suggestions to the farmers present, and was well received. Sunderland, Sept. 29.—Mr. R. R. Ganev, M.P.P., opened the Brock Fair here yesterday. He delivered an address on New Ontario. 4,000 people listened to him.

WON THE PENNANT

Lindsay B.B.C. Champions of the Midland League.

BOWMANVILLE 7, LINDSAY 10, "HOW ABOUT IT, PETERBORO?"

A Large Crowd Witnessed the Game—Bowmanville People Well Represented—The Grounds in Poor Condition Owing to the Rain—Both Teams Made Errors, but the Locals Outplayed Their Opponents.

"And the blow nearly killed father." Lindsay 10—BOWMANVILLE 7. As a result of last week's great game Lindsay has now landed the championship of the Midland Baseball, in spite of the fact that Peterboro! won't they feel cheap after all their hot air talk!

When the Bowmanville boys came to town yesterday they were overconfident of winning. "Oh, certainly we can win, we did it before." But the Lindsay bunch were out to win, and soon developed the game in their favor. The visitors are a good, jolly bunch of players, and took their defeat in good part. "It's no disgrace to be in second place, is it, Maggie?" They played good ball at times, but the errors were numerous on both sides, at times, and it looked dark for Lindsay when Bowmanville banged out two runs on juicy errors, but our boys did not get discouraged and hit the ball all over the lot for seven. "Curly" was in first class condition, but had to work hard; he fielded his position well and also did some hitting. Hooper, Bowmanville's "mitch tooted" twirler, was batted out of the box, after the second innings, and Osborne was hit in the same way, but kept the hits pretty well scattered and pulled out in some tight places, with men on bases. Wilcox, their second baseman, is a star and figured quite often. The locals all played good ball and were in the game all the way, but the work of McGill was especially noticeable on 1st base. He got every thing in his reach, high, low, wide, or otherwise, his pickups being numerous. A baseball team in Lindsay would not be complete without "Norm" on the initial bag.

NOW FOR THE GAME. 1st Innings—Lindsay stepped to the bat with McGill as a leader. "Norm" hit a liner to Osborne at 3rd, who made a neat pickup and retired the runner at 1st. Workman popped up a high fly to the same player, who held it fast and Cinnamon hit to Wilcox at 2nd, but was retired at 1st. Weeks, for Bowmanville, drove a fly to Marks in right field and took his seat; Manager Morris singled over short-stop and reached 1st; Wilcox, tipped the third strike into Cinnamon's mitt, where it stayed; two strikes were called on Osborne, when "Cim" caught Morris trying to steal 2nd. It was a pretty throw.

2nd Innings—Miller bunted to pitcher, who retired runner at 1st; Menzies hit a grounder to 3rd and landed on 1st; "Curly" poked a slow one out to Hooper, who tried to catch Menzies at 2nd, was called safe, but "Curly" was out at 1st; Marks advanced Menzies to 3rd by hitting to Hooper, who became excited and fumbled the ball. Mark landed on 1st; with two on bases, Stalker hit a liner to Wilcox, who retired the batter at 1st, leaving two on bases; Osborne bunted a slow one to Menzies, who was beaten on his throw to 1st; Williams, the big man of the team, bunted and now the rooters held their breath, for "Cim" threw two feet over McGill's head.

3rd Innings—Little singled to the first, runner foul line and got to 1st; McGill hit a neat liner between 1st and 2nd advancing Little to 2nd; Workman advanced both runners a base on a jab to Hooper, Workman reaching 1st. With the bases full Cinnamon made up for his two errors by slinging the ball out into left garden for a two-bagger, bringing Little and McGill in. Miller singled to right field and Workman trotted in; Menzies hit a safe one over the short stops and Cinnamon became scared and made a shift, as Hooper was pounded out of the box. Osborne was put in to pitch, Hooper playing left field and Martyn took his stand on 3rd base. "Now what is going to happen?" was the question. Osborne let "Curly" walk to 1st, but Mark fanned the atmosphere, and with three on bases Stalker got in the way of the ball (accidentally hit), and trotted to 1st, forcing Miller in; Little put a small one at the pitcher and Menzies was retired while sliding for the home plate; McGill brought the next two in on a beautiful low drive to left field, and Workman lined one out to Wilcox and was retired at 1st. Well, now, that was playing ball—seven runs in one inning. The rooters went wild. Just listen. "1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, Oh, Oh, O.O.H.H.H." Now the visitors determined to land a run or two somehow. Gates bunted and was retired at 1st; Workman pulled in Weeks' high fly and "Cim" clung to the third strike called on Morris. 2-7.

4th Innings—"Cim" stepped to the bat and the fans yelled, "Another touch, Cinnamon." The ball hit him and he got to 1st; Miller did the bunt act and "Cim" was advanced to 2nd; Menzies managed things in the same manner; "Curly" was retired at 1st by Wilcox. "That's more like it," was the crowd's comment. Workman and McGill handled Wilcox's liner; "Curly" and McGill were on the spot and took Osborne's bunt into camp; Williams bunted and was caught at 1st.

5th Innings—Mark pounded a lucky one down the third base line, and got to 2nd on a pass ball, but was put out at 3rd on Stalker's hit to Hooper. Stalker was put out at 2nd on Little's hit to short. "Give it a 'Cim' touch, old boy!" greeted McGill when he came to bat, but his liner was caught at 1st. Menzies took Martyn's slow one. Hooper was hit by thrown ball; Edick hit to Workman, who put runner out at 2nd, and threw a difficult one to catch the batter at 1st. "Norm" stopped it, but Edick was called safe. Gates hit a fly over 1st base and Mark sprinted, made a running one-hand pick-up and stopped the runner at 1st, retiring the side.

6th Innings—Weeks and Williams batted Workman's bunt. "Cim" was trotted to 1st; Miller fanned on a trip of elbows. Now "Curly" retired the side on five deliveries, which was a good feat. Weeks hit to "Curly" and died at 1st; Morris tried to do the same, trick, but met with the same result and Wilcox fanned on a foul tip to Cinnamon.

7th Innings—Menzies singled over short and reached 8th on a low throw to 1st and to 2nd bases; "Curly" retired at 1st; Mark brought Menzies in and Stalker was again hit by the ball and travelled to 1st. Little then brought Mark in on a beautiful hit. McGill came forward, and connecting with the ball brought Stalker in; Herb Workman advanced all a base, and with bases occupied "Cim" hit to Wilcox, who retired Little at the home plate; Miller's infield fly was captured by Martyn, leaving three on bases; Osborne was put out on a slow one; McGill retired Williams at 1st; Martyn was ducked at the home bag on Menzies' pick up and sure throw to McGill.

8th Innings—Menzies hit a neat one to short-stop, but was put out at 1st, on "Curly's" bunt fly into Osborne's glove, who then gave it to Williams. Mark evidently did not see the twist, and was called out on strike. Bowmanville now scored the ball rolling by reaching 1st on a hit to centre garden; Edick got the first walk on balls; Gates fanned on a trip of twisters; Weeks hit to "Curly" and Hooper came in; Morris hit to Workman, and Edick scored; Morris stole 2nd; Wilcox bunted to "Curly" who tried to catch the runner at 3rd but the ball went away (through Menzies) head, the runner getting to 3rd; Martyn fanned the air; Hooper hit a liner to Menzies, who made an overthrow to 1st, Williams coming in and Hooper getting to 3rd; Edick bunted to "Curly," who tossed the ball to "Cim" to cut off the runner, but "Cim" dropped the ball. Edick was put out trying to steal 2nd. Bowmanville scored both runs on errors.

3rd Innings—Little singled to the first, runner foul line and got to 1st; McGill hit a neat liner between 1st and 2nd advancing Little to 2nd; Workman advanced both runners a base on a jab to Hooper, Workman reaching 1st. hands, he being mixed up with the runner, and two more come in. Osborne hit to Menzies and Gates came in; Williams fanned; Martyn's high fly was captured by Menzies. 7-10. Fine runs in one inning. "Now, boys," said the manager of the Bowmanville team, "three to tie and four to win." Hooper reached 1st; Edick got to 1st on a hit by pitcher; Gates hit to McGill, who doubled it to Workman and Weeks fled to Stalker. 7-10. The rooters now hopped out of the stand and one could not hear what was what, on account of the yells, such as "Now do you like the protests?" "Now for Osborne's $1000." "Wonder how Peterboro feels," etc.

NOTES ON THE GAME. —Doesn't the flag look good? —"Isn't Jack Rose a peach?" —A good crowd greeted the boys. —How about that Cobourg wad of $100? —Bowmanville did not hit the ball very frequently. —Perhaps "Curly's" new hat and sweater helped some. —There was a high wind, but sky-scrapers, were scarce. —"Toot toot horn," was heard from in the grand stand. —Don't cry, Peterboro, you did all you could to put Lindsay down. —Cinnamon redeemed himself in grand style. That was a beautiful two-bagger. —Capt. Cinnamon played a good game, and his two-bagger was well received by the crowd. —McGill received many a pat; his work yesterday—especially the low pickups—was great. —The Bowmanville rooters did remarkably well, and cheered for their pets, but 'twas useless. —It was a little bit difficult for Little to get started in the sawdust, but he got there all the same. —Geo. Little, "the old reliable," who has played ball since he was a small boy, and has been figuring in fast company for over 20 years, says he took part in his last game Thursday. During his career as a baseballist, Geo. has won a number of medals, etc., and has always been in the forward line. His baseball friends will miss him on the diamond, but hope to see him help out when it comes down to a tight pinch.

Cause of Lockjaw. Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. This germ may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation, and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Peterboro Fair Notes. —Mr. Thos. McKiver, town, exhibited a mare in the postcard class at Peterboro Fair.

—In the carriage fully or gelding class, Mr. A. Kennedy, town, showed a beauty.

—A gentleman who lives near the Exhibition grounds had a number of choice melons stolen from his garden on Sunday night.

—An Otonabee farmer at Peterboro Fair was "done" for the amount of $35. Lindsay Fair was entirely free from confidence men.

—Mr. Isaac Deyell, the Lindsay Cattery King, showed a general purpose horse at the Peterboro Industrial, and a mare or gelding in the saddle class.

—Mr. Steve Oliver, who attends all the surrounding fairs had two entries in the Jersey class, showing a bull, one year or over. Oliver also was an exhibitor in the poultry line.

—The agent for the Sylvester Manufacturing Co. of Lindsay, had a big time Tuesday at the Peterboro Fair, distributing pocket mirrors and other advertising matter.

MINISTERS' PLANS

Meetings in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec.

THE PREMIER MOVES LATER

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Hon. Mr. Fisher Already Booked For Meetings in the East —Two New Senators For the North West.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not yet mapped out his plans of campaign, but several of his colleagues are starting out to take part in the fight. Hon. W. S. Fielding left last night for Halifax, where he will meet the Provincial leaders. Hon. H. R. Emmerson leaves tonight for New Brunswick. He will spend Tuesday night in St. John, and on Saturday, October 8th, will attend a convention of Westmorland Liberals at Moncton. Hon. Mr. Brodeur leaves to-day for Roxton Falls, Shefford County, where he speaks in the evening. On Sunday he will address meetings at St. Valerian and Ste. Cecile DeMileon. On Monday night Mr. Brodeur and Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Fisher will address a mass meeting at Richmond. On Thursday Mr. Brodeur is booked for the convention of Nicolet Liberals at Becancour. The proclamation dissolving Parliament will appear in The Canada Gazette to-day.

A Conservative convention will be held in Harmony Hall next Friday. Messrs. Thomas Birkett and Napoleon Champagne will likely be chosen as the candidates.

KILLED THE GOVERNOR.

Moroccan Tribes Revenge Imprisonment of Rebels.

Tangier, Oct. 1.—The Governor of Arzila (a small seaport, 25 miles from Tangier), who was the father-in-law of the former War Minister, El Menehi, has been murdered at Arzila by people of the surrounding tribes. The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the Governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzila and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzila, and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torras, the representative at Tangier of the Sultan, to send them assistance.

MR. BRONSON MAY ACCEPT.

Hon. E. H. Bronson has been approached with a view to his becoming a running mate to Hon. N. A. McEwen for the city of Ottawa in the coming election. Mr. Bronson has not given any definite answer, but there is some reason to believe that, although he determined some time ago to abandon politics, he will consent to run again if it is the unanimous wish of the party.

MR. BORDEN SENSITIVE.

Replies to Sir Wilfrid's Accusation That He Was Not Serious.

Bowmanville, Oct. 1.—Sensitive to the criticism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sorel, Mr. R. L. Borden last night replied to the accusation that he was not serious in his railway policy. The Opposition leader denied the allegation with vigor, and charged the Liberals with lack of seriousness, because, as he said, they had abandoned every plank in their platform of 1903. The remainder of the Opposition leader's speech was along the lines of those preceding. The Bowmanville meeting, like that at Port Hope, was in the interest of Lieut.-Colonel H. A. Ward, Conservative candidate in Durham, who evidently expects a keen fight with the popular Liberal member for the old riding of West Durham, Mr. Robert Belth. Contrary to expectations the announcement of the date of the elections made no appreciable change in the amount of enthusiasm at this as compared with other Conservative meetings.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

At a meeting of the Cabinet at Ottawa Friday, Hon. J. H. Ross, ex-Governor of the Yukon, and T. O. Davis, formerly member for Saskatchewan, were called to the Senate. They are appointed to the two new Senatorships created by Parliament last week.

Dr. Barr, M.P.P. for Duferin, having received the nomination of the Conservatives for the Commons, will resign his seat in the Local Assembly to-day (Saturday).

Andrew MacCampbell is again the choice for the Conservative party for the Legislature at Sault Ste. Marie. Should he decline another candidate will be chosen on the 13th inst.

Death Came Swiftly.

Harrison, Ont., Oct. 1.—Death came very suddenly to John McConell, grocer, Thursday night. He was in his store until nine o'clock, went home and retired at eleven in apparently his usual good health. In a few minutes his wife heard him make a slight noise, and on investigation found he was dead. The cause was heart failure. He for years conducted a grocery business in Chesley and came here about nine years ago.

Opened An Artery in His Arm.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—On account, it is thought, of illness that preyed upon his mind, William McMillan, a man employed at 180 West Adelaide street, attempted suicide yesterday morning by opening an artery in his left arm. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, but has lost so much blood that the doctors have little hope of his recovery. McMillan hails from St. Thomas.

Crushed Between Couplings.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Owing to an ill-judged attempt to pass between two cars which he was coupling at Port Hope yesterday, Thomas Williams, a York brakeman, was crushed between the couplings and so badly hurt that there is scarcely any hope of his recovery. He is the son of a section man, was killed by a train near York.

CONTROL THE STOCK

Steel Trust Purchases Cramp Works at Collingwood.

NOMINAL CAPITAL $2,500,000

Will Not Disclose, However, Its Definite Plans As to Canadian Trade Just Yet, But It Will Ultimately Be Used As the Canadian Subsidiary of the Steel Trust Corporation.

New York, Oct. 1.—Interests representing the United States Steel Corporation have purchased the controlling block of stock in the Steel and Iron Company, organized with a nominal capital of $2,500,000, to acquire and operate the Cramp Steel Works at Collingwood, Canada. The steel corporation will take over the Canadian firm at an early date. In this connection it is said that the new company, which is called the Northern Steel and Iron Company, Limited, will ultimately be used as the Canadian subsidiary of the steel corporation, and that the new plant may be in operation much sooner than if the corporation undertook to build an entire new plant at any point in Canada. Until there are further developments as to the ability of the steel companies now operating in Canada to meet the requirements of the new bounty laws there, the steel corporation will not disclose its definite plans as to Canadian trade.

The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the Governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzila and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzila, and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torras, the representative at Tangier of the Sultan, to send them assistance.

British Commercial Bureau.

London, Oct. 1.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Seddon of New Zealand, speaking at a banquet to celebrate his silver jubilee as an M.P., urged the establishment of a British Commercial Bureau, with branches in all the British possessions, maintained by Great Britain and the self-governing colonies.

The president of the Board of Trade, at the head Board, should be affiliated with the Colonial Chamber of Commerce, with the special object of watching and reporting on trade requirements, manufactured goods, raw material and all other products. The Empire should assist in the extension of British colonial markets, keeping the mother country and colonies posted in respect to competition of other countries.

Threshers Narrow Escape.

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—The barns on the farm of William Scott, in East Zorra, were destroyed by fire from a spark from a threshing engine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the grain and buildings were consumed. There is only a small insurance. David Malcolm, the owner of the threshing outfit, and several men, narrowly escaped death when trying to get the separator out of the barn. Flames caught their clothing but they escaped serious injury. The separator was saved. Loss about $10,000.

Drowned in Georgian Bay.

Perry Sound, Oct. 1.—Patrick O'Connell, watchman on the steamer City of Midland, was carried through a lower gangway and drowned during a heavy gale yesterday morning on the trip from Collingwood here. Nothing could be done to render assistance on account of the heavy sea running at the time. Considerable damage was done to the cargo of general freight and merchandise, and some cattle were injured. O'Connell came from Glenora, near Cobourg, Ont.

Fire Chief Croker Injured.

New York, Oct. 1.—Nearly a quarter of a million dollars' loss was caused early yesterday by a fire in the big block of meat-packing houses and refrigerating plants in Tenth avenue. Chief Croker was injured and narrowly escaped death in falling through a floor weakened by the flames into a cellar under the building.

Jury Awards $300 Damages.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—After an hour and ten minutes' consideration the jury in the case of Stickle v. Flick at 6.40 last night returned a verdict saying: "We find the defendant Flick guilty in the first charge, adultery, and damages $300."

Will Leave Canada Nov. 18.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The announcement of the day of the elections has caused the Governor-General to change his plans. Instead of sailing on Oct. 20, his Excellency will leave Canada Nov. 18.

Customs Receipts Grow.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The customs receipts for the whole Dominion for the month of September aggregated $3,902,449, being an increase of $145,743 over the same month of last year.

Decrease in British Revenue.

London, Oct. 1.—The return of the total revenue of the United Kingdom for the half year ending yesterday shows a decrease of $12,333,525 compared with corresponding period of 1903. The principal decrease is in the property and income tax, $12,000,000. The principal increase was in the customs receipts, $4,357,685. The total revenue was $306,851,640.

THE CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

We offer you a better investment than Government Bonds. Better for three reasons.

1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.

2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.

3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the investor or shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled. A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request.

How About Your Hogs?

Are they doing well? Are they eating as they should? Are they not? Perhaps their legs are sore and swollen—there may be danger of founder. Is their hair dry and brittle? If so the trouble may arise from their stomachs, and the swine are sick; they need Myers' Royal Hog Powders.

Myers' Royal Hog Powders positively cure Hog Cholera. No animal is more difficult to administer medicine to than the hog. The powders being mixed with their food are easily taken. Then see them pick up. They go to the root of the trouble, tone up the stomach, regulate the bowels and help the hogs to properly digest their food—will keep them well at all times—nothing like Myers' Royal Hog Powders. Why? They fatten the hogs quickly, insure choice hams, pork and bacon for the market, cures cholera and keeps them healthy.

You ought to have our illustrated booklet about live stock. It is free.

Remember, to get the best results from food fed to hogs, that they should have a daily ration of Myers' Royal Hog Powders and Cattle Spice.

Gully of Murder.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The jury which inquired into the death of Marcus H. Perryman at the Dunn avenue crossing yesterday, to meet next year at Charlottetown, P.E.I. Mrs. Thompson of St. John, N.B., was elected president.

Announcement Premature.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—Major Currie, president of the Northern Iron and Steel Co., was seen last night with reference to the report from New York that the United States Steel Co. had purchased a controlling interest in the Canadian Company. He said: "Any statement to the effect that the Collingwood Company has been purchased for control or otherwise by the United States Steel Co. is entirely prevarication. The control of the Northern Iron and Steel Co. has not been sold or transferred yet to anybody and will not be except on advantageous terms to the stockholders. A prominent official of one of the large American steel companies, after examining the plant at Collingwood, asked us to name a figure for the control. I am not at liberty to give his name at present, as negotiations are only in a preliminary stage."

President of Women's Council.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 29.—The Women's Council of Canada adjourned yesterday, to meet next year at Charlottetown, P.E.I. Mrs. Thompson of St. John, N.B., was elected president.

OMEEMEE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The weather promises to be like Indian summer, and farmers are busy taking up their root crops and threshing.

Never did the Lindsay show please better. Not one dissatisfied person came home out of the large delighted crowds that were present, and now the Lindsay Fair has established a reputation that will be hard to blot out.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church will be conducted on Sunday, October 23, when an excellent supply of ministers will be present, supported by excellent music by the choir of the church, who are now practicing rehearsed selections from the best masters of the present day.

Our sidewalks are about completed and now the taxes for same are being arranged for.

A. Scott has purchased the Dr. Boulcher lot, adjoining J. D. Thornton, agent for same, and will build a residence.

Major Wm. Neil has arrived home safely to the parental home, and among the most fortunate of military men in securing a handsome fortune of $10,000 besides seeing the world. Just the opposite to most of military and peevish men, who usually die without anyone wishing them gone in order to get their wealth.

JANETVILLE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Some of our people, who visited Lindsay at Fair time complain of the treatment they received at some of the hotels in overtaxing them for suitable accommodation. This is a poor way to encourage visitors to your town, and if the complaint is properly founded the Fair management should take the matter in hand and see that the like will not occur another year.

Mr. Royce of Lindsay, who visited Mr. and Mrs. (Rev.) Harrison, a week ago last Sunday, sang a solo at the evening service, which was highly appreciated by all present. Mr. McLaren, of McLaren & Dal-las, Toronto, came down here last week to see the firm's traveller, Mr. E. W. McClure, who was so seriously injured in a runaway accident, and which is reported in another part of this paper.

Mr. J. Hobbs, of the Thompson house, has added very much to the appearance of his premises by having a new iron fence erected. This of new design is quite ornamental.

visited her brother, Mr. Wm. Johnston, for some days last week.

Mr. J. Burns and wife attended the Bowmanville Fair on last Wednesday.

Mr. Hugh McGill and granddaughter, Miss Cora Johnson, were visitors at the Bobcaygeon Fair last week.

Mr. T. G. Hawkins made a business trip to Montreal some days ago. Mr. John Anderson took in the nights at Bobcaygeon's big Fair, and reports a good time.

BALSOVER.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
At the close of the prayer meeting in the Methodist church here on Tuesday evening, 26th of September, Miss Annie Silverthorn, who has been organist here for the past two years, was presented with a purse containing a handsome sum of money, accompanied by the following address: Miss Annie Silverthorn. — Dear friend, on behalf of the congregation and Sunday School we take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your service as organist. We know that you have given much time and anxious thought to your work, but all has been given so cheerfully and earnestly that it has come with double force and value to us. We do not think of rewarding you for all you have done for our service of song, but we are very desirous of acknowledging in some tangible way our appreciation of you and what you are doing and therefore ask you to accept this purse. We trust you will long favour us with your presence and assistance. Rev. J. P. Berry made a very suitable reply in behalf of Miss Silverthorn.

CLABO-MANVERS.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
As Clabo is a hamlet that has lately sprung into existence, the outside world might wish to know something of it and from whence it derived its name. It is a station on the new C.P.R. line, about eight miles south of Lindsay in the centre of a fine stretch of country as is to be found in Ontario. The name, we understand, is a compound word derived from a heavy clay bed struck at that point, and a long winding turn in the road, which, put together, gives the rather odd name of "Clabo." A cozy little station has been built, very neat and of modern design. It is being patronized quite liberally by the people of the neighborhood, and the residents of Janetville, who have to drive a couple of miles to take the trains to the different points along the line. The merchants at Janetville find it a great convenience to have their goods shipped to this station instead of having, as heretofore, to have to draw freight from Lindsay and Port Huron.

We understand that a gentleman, who is largely interested in grain elevators was here some days ago, looking over the ground with a view to locating a grain storehouse here. We hope that he may report favourably of the site to his company, as it would be a great boon to the farmers of this neighborhood.

Time was in years gone by that as soon as a village site was located by the first building thought of was a tavern. The scene has changed. The question has been often asked, "Is the world growing better?" I really think it is in our particular case, the first building we can boast of is a neat, little church—no larger, but just big enough to meet the requirements of the place. Sunday school is taught every Sabbath at 2 p.m. and prayer meeting on Tuesday evenings at 7 p.m. The Rev. Mr. Harrison, of Janetville, presiding. A nice little organ has been purchased and Miss Jordan makes an efficient organist. The services are highly appreciated by the good people of the vicinity, and a good and helpful work is being done. May the good work prosper.

There was quite an exciting time a few nights ago in the vicinity of the East Crooks, when the neighborhood turned out in the form of a rescue party to assist Mr. P. Mahon in getting a fine horse released from the marsh whither it had wandered. The colt being of a "brunchy" nature it was found necessary to have it blindfolded to help in keeping it out of mischief. In this manner it wandered out into the creek, where it was mired. Mr. Henry McKay generalised the rescue corps with the hay fork rope, and on the word of command the animal landed on terra firma.

Mr. James Hogan and his wife are expected home at any time. The young people are anxiously expecting a party.

six years, has retired and handed the reins over to the boys. Geo. will remain on the farm and Fred is around looking up some farms that aid in the market for sale, and may possibly locate in Ops.

KIRKFIELD.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Dr. Neelds and Irvine, Dentists, Lindsay, one of whom will be at the Queen's hotel, Woodville, on Tuesday, Oct. 13, and Campbell's hotel, Kirkfield, on Wednesday, Oct. 14.—w1.

NESTLETON.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. J. Malcom had a raising on Thursday evening. The boys of the neighborhood, turned out in goodly numbers and lent a hand at the erection. A pleasant evening was spent after the bee was over.

Miss Eunice Porteous was one of the many from this section who attended the concert of the Black Watch Band at Lindsay on Tuesday, 27th.

The owners of cattle and sheep in the neighborhood who let them run at large would be money in pockets at the end of the year if they would keep them in the pasture field, as there is sure to be trouble if they dispute the right of way with the engine.

Mr. Andrew Malcom is after overhauling his house, and it now has quite a finished appearance. He personally superintended the work.

Mrs. Wm. Porteous has as usual carried off the leading prizes at the Lindsay Central in butter, as well as several others in fancy work.

MANITLA.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss L. McFadyen has returned to Cleveland. She spent the last couple of months with her mother, Mrs. E. McFadyen.

Mr. Percy King and Miss May King spent a few days in Peterboro last week.

Mrs. W. Berkle and two children returned to Hamilton, after spending a pleasant month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Pearce.

Mrs. Geo. Coone spent a few days in Oshawa lately.

Mr. Erney Coone left for Pittsburg on Saturday last.

Mr. D. B. McQueen was in Port Perry for a few days recently.

Mr. Ralph DeLury and Mr. Jack DeLury has returned to Toronto, after spending their vacation with their parents and friends.

Mr. W. H. Park is talking about leaving our village and residing in Port Perry for a while. There is a good chance for some success, pushing man to conduct a temperance house—lots of travel and business if only looked after.

Rev. Mr. Cragg, of Brighton, occupied his son's pulpit in the Methodist church Sunday evening, taking as his subject "Forgive us our debts."

Miss S. McIntyre, a week in Whitby, the guest of her brother, Judge McIntyre.

Mr. Asaph Edwards, Mr. G. M. Pearce, Mr. T. Jewell, Mr. J. W. McLean and Mr. A. Watt, were in Lindsay Monday night.

HALIBURTON.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
By the time your valuable paper is in the hands of your many subscribers throughout the country our mills will be closed down for the season. Austin Bros., who are after finishing this season's cut under the name and style of the new line, have completed one of the most successful year's cut in their different lines in the history of their business. They had a most satisfactory season's business in their output of lumber, shingles and excelsior, besides hundreds of cords of corded wood, which they have ready for shipping. They were singularly fortunate the past season as regards accident, neither to man or machinery. They report the demand for their different lines of goods as being quite satisfactory, and are preparing for next year's business, having already a camp in the woods in full operation. Another camp will be added later on. The young firm are well satisfied, and hope by next year to duplicate their output.

Wm. Laking Co. have also closed down their mill, after a three months' run, it being quite late in the present season before they were able to get the machinery placed, but since getting started everything went like clockwork. Mr. D. Moore, the foreman, says the management is well pleased with their trial trip, and hopes next season to be able to start operations with the opening of spring. Two camps are already in the woods and a representative of the Co. is out at different points looking up more men. About 1,000,000 feet of lumber have been cut and piled away. The new mill is a model of neatness and the short season's cut has been most satisfactory to employers and employees. Mr. J. W. Laking, the mill manager, as well as the Co's manager, Mr. D. Moore, are both popular with their men, and the best of feeling prevails.

NESTLETON.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. A. Veals, our enterprising and hustling merchant, is still on the road with his egg wagon, and reports the product as growing less. It has been a great convenience to the farmers of the district this season, and we hope to see him continue the good work another year.

Farmers would do well to look after their sheep in the evenings now, as the fall weather approaches. A wolf has been seen in the neighborhood. Whilst many believe it to be tame, not one can ever tell. If aroused, they are said to be very destructive among the flocks.

LORNEVILLE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Ernest Mimms, of Midland, visited friends in this locality last week. Mr. Ed. Fisk and wife were the guests of Mr. J. Lapp for a few days last week.

Will Moore, while passing through on route for Kirkfield on Monday last, spent a few hours in our midst looking up old acquaintances.

Miss Helen Fisher left this week for Peterboro, where she will remain some time.

Miss Martin, guest of Mrs. John Taylor, returned to the city on Saturday.

Miss Morrison, teacher at McIndoo's school, spent Sunday with her friend, Mrs. John Cameron, of this place.

Mr. Geo. Shields, who has been ill for the past couple of weeks, was removed to the Lindsay hospital on Friday.

On Monday, Sept. 26th, 1820 lbs. of butter were churned in the Eldon creamery, Lorneville. This goes to show that although the season is far advanced, still a large amount of cream is sent by the farmers of this and neighboring townships. No better evidence of the satisfactory results obtained from the Eldon creamery can be given than this continued and increasing patronage of those sending cream to the factory.

WOODVILLE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. A. Ferguson, who has been holidaying in Toronto and other places returned home on Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Edwards has returned, after a pleasant visit in the south-eastern states.

Miss Eva Brokenshire, of Fenelon Falls, is visiting under the parental roof.

Married, on Wednesday, Sept. 28, at the home of the bride's parents, Beaverton, Mr. Lawrence Stuart to Miss Maud Stoddart. Congratulations.

Miss Lulu Peam has returned to her home in Port Perry, after a very enjoyable visit among friends in town.

Mr. Jos. Hodgson, of Toronto, visited at the home of Mr. C. H. McKee last week.

Mr. Art. Pethick, who sold his house and lot here some time ago and left town, has returned and is going to take up residence here again.

Mr. Jno. Gunn and family, who moved to the Sault about two years ago, are coming back this fall, also Mr. Hec. Grant, who purchased the property lately occupied by Mr. Ed. Thibault, is having the house painted, which makes a very great improvement.

Quite a number of citizens took in the Sunderland Fair last week, which was an immense success.

Mr. Sam Staples has returned to the city to resume his studies.

Miss Pearl Jordan rendered a beautiful solo at the evening service in the Methodist church on Sunday, entitled "Face to Face." Miss Jordan has a very promising future as a vocalist.

Miss Mabel Bingham, of Cannington, was home on Sunday.

Mr. Wm. McKee is visiting friends in Sunderland.

A number of delegates from both churches went to the Sunday School Convention held at Cambray on Tuesday.

Mr. Geo. Smith, surveyor, who has sold his farm here, intends moving his family to Lindsay to live.

Mr. B. and Miss Cathro, of Lindsay, visited friends in town on Sunday.

Dr. Neelds & Irvine, Dentists, Lindsay, one of whom will be at the Queen's hotel, Woodville, on Tuesday, Oct. 13, and Campbell's hotel, Kirkfield, on Wednesday, Oct. 14.—w1.

CATTLE MARKETS.
Cattle—Firm—Hogs Active and Higher at Buffalo and Chicago.

London, Oct. 4.—Cattle are steady at 8 1/2 to 12 1/4 per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8 to 9 1/2 per lb. Sheep, 10 1/4 to 11 1/4, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.
Receipts of live stock at the city market were 75 loads, composed of 1800 cattle, 800 hogs, 1575 sheep and lambs, with 57 calves and 15 horses.

Trade in sheep and cattle at this market is dead. None were offered and none were apparently wanted. W. H. Dean bought 1 export cows at $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt. and this was the only quotation reported.

Trade in butchers' cattle was slow, with prices easier. There are too many light half-bred butchers' heifers being brought forward as well as too many worn-out cows. There was probably a load all told or picked lots of cattle, that sold for a higher price than $1.25 per cwt. We heard of one dealer, after searching the market over, that bought about a dozen butchers' cattle of choice quality, weighing 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $3.75 to $4.00 per cwt.

Choice picked lots of butchers' sold at $4.30 to $4.40 per cwt.; picked lots, weighing 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $4 to $4.25; loads of good at $3.75 to $4.00 per cwt. at $3.50 to $3.65; common at $3 to $3.40; rough and inferior at $2 to $2.75.

Prices for feeders were easier, choice bred steers, 800 to 1000 lbs. each, sold at $3.00 to $3.50 per cwt. Distillery bulls sold at $2.50 to $3.12 1/2 per cwt, with few at the latter price.

Deliveries were plentiful, especially of the common eastern quality. Prices ranged from $2 to $2.75 per cwt., with the bulk going at $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt.

Only a limited number was offered, and these were generally of poor to medium quality, selling at $3 to $4.50 each.

Prices for veal calves were steady at $3.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were moderate as well as too many worn-out cows, and $2.75 to $3 for butchers. Receipts were not large. Prices are firm at $1.25 for select and $5 for lights and fats.

Receipts, 2200 head; active: be to 10c higher; heavy and mixed, $3.25 to $3.50; roughs, $3.25 to $3.50; pigs, $3.50 to $3.75; roughs, $3.25 to $3.50; stags, $4 to $4.75; dairies and grassers, $3.75 to $4.10.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 6400 head; steady; unchanged.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.
New York, Oct. 4.—Receipts—Receipts 706; feeling steady; dressed beef in fair demand at 6 1/4 to 9 1/4 per pound for native sides; 5 1/4 to 6 1/4 for Texas beef. Cables quoted live cattle higher, 8 1/4 to 12 1/4 per lb., dressed weight. Sheep—Steady. Refrigerator beef selling at 8c to 9 1/2c per lb.; exports, 800 cattle, 1281 sheep and 4400 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 201; veals, steady to firm; grassers, slow; veals, $4 to $5.50; westerns, $3.50 to $4.50; grassers, nominal; dressed calves,

INDEPENDENT EVIDENCE AS TO THE COLONEL'S EXPLOITS

In the interest of truth we have made a careful inquiry to see if we could find any other reference to Sam's wonderful exploits in South Africa than which proceeded from his own mouth. The following is all that we have been able to find. It appears in a Conservative paper at Ottawa: There's the Boer that hides in the mountain. Awaiting the British to pot. There's the rifle bore shooting o'er and o'er. Till the Maxim gun is hot. But a bore far more terrible. Has now appeared in the south. And we Boers must lose to Oom Sam Use. With his smooth-bore long range mouth. This certainly corroborates Col. Hughes' own account of his achievements.

R. J. McLAUGHLIN NOMINATED

The Unanimous Choice of Tuesday's Grand Convention of Liberals.

POPULAR WITH ALL

Conservatives As Well As Reformers Will Work to Send Him to Ottawa as the Member for Victoria and Haliburton.

The convention of Liberals held Tuesday morning and afternoon in the Academy of Music was one of the most successful and best attended in many years, and the enthusiasm manifested at the meeting was a cheering evidence that the present contest will be fought with the greatest zeal.

In the absence of Dr. J. McKay, President of the Reform Association, Mr. C. E. Weeks, of Woodville, took the chair, and after some preliminary remarks, taught school and practised law. Whatever progress he had made in the confidence of the public had been the result of honest effort. He was not going to blow his own horn—in a blowing contest Col. Sam would easily distance him. No good man blows his own horn. He does not have to his works speak for him. The good work of the world was never done by boasting. He was sorry that the fight was with Col. Sam Hughes, as he (Hughes) was incapable of discussing politics, but always and only personalities. He had not intended to mention his opponent's name, but that evening he had received through the mail two great sheets of paper which were being sent broadcast among the electors—one full of false, bombastic and silly self-praise, the other chiefly a tirade of lying abuse against the Hon. Senator McHugh and R. J. McLaughlin, commencing with the statement that Senator McHugh and Mr. McLaughlin planned and schemed to deprive Victoria of one member—a deliberate falsehood manifest-business an adjournment was made for dinner. At 1:30 the meeting was called to order and nominations were asked for the office of Secretary. The office had been rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. E. Mosgrove. Mr. Thos. Junkin, of Fenelon Falls, was elected to the position by a unanimous vote. Mr. Weeks expressed, on behalf of Dr. McKay, the latter's regret at being unable to be present. He wished to have conveyed to the convention his desire to assist, to the best of his ability, the candidate of the convention in the present contest, as he believed the electors were heartily tired of the present representative, Col. Hughes, with his flow and bluster, which has accomplished so little for the riding.

Nominations were then called for a candidate to contest the riding, when it was moved by Mr. John Austin, of Fenelon Falls, seconded by Mr. Wm. O'Hara, of South Mariposa, and further endorsed by Mr. Geo. Johnston, ex-Warden of the County, and J. T. Perkins, of Laxton, that R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., be nominated the unanimous vote of the convention. The name was cheered by the delegates, and the motion was carried unanimously by a standing vote. Mr. McLaughlin was called to the platform in the midst of a great manifestation of enthusiasm, and after prolonged cheering, all feeling that the most popular man in the riding had been chosen. Mr. McLaughlin spoke as follows:

Mr. McLaughlin on rising was received with a tremendous ovation. He accepted the nomination, not that he desired office, but responded to the call of duty, believing that it was a true man's duty to take on the burden of public service at the call of his fellow electors. He had lived in the constituency from his earliest childhood, and had worked on the farm in the backwoods and saw-

Gold storage had been perfected. An active immigration policy was filling our West and making markets for the East. The Grand Trunk Pacific will open up a country greater than many Maritimes for us to develop, with no battle but the battle with nature to fight. Great as the resources of our country are, Justice, Truth and Liberty are greater still, and true men are the greatest asset—and false men the worst enemies—a country can have. If you find me telling printing or circulating slanders and falsehoods by all means do not vote for me.

The battle is yours from now to the end of the campaign. Let no man say he has business at his own house, but let every man respond to his country's call. Fight as honest men—let falsehood, crookedness and corruption remain with the author of these circulars. A steady whet and honest effort—with the help of all others who place Truth and Honor above Party—will win the election. Loud and long continued applause.

Other Speeches. Senator McHugh said it gave him pleasure to endorse the candidature of Mr. McLaughlin as a most able man and one who would, if elected, bring honor to the constituency. He believed the present contest had not a political significance, but was for right against wrong-doing, and in this battle many honest Conservatives were willing to join hands with their Reform friends to get rid of a dishonest politician who was ever ready to sacrifice principle, the interests of his constituents and everything else, for his personal gain. In his manifesto Col. Hughes had enumerated 101 things he claimed to have done for the riding, but almost all of these claims could be refuted and proved to be utterly untrue. Hughes had stated that Mr. McLaughlin and himself were responsible for throwing North and South Victoria into one riding, when he knew he was lying. The British North American Act had made it compulsory on the Government to make the change. Both he and Mr. McLaughlin had written opposing it, but it had to be. Col. Hughes was a political assassin who did not hesi-

to see that Victoria has an honest, useful representative, as Mr. McLaughlin would prove to be if elected.

Mr. Newton Smith described the issue as being between honesty, truthfulness and every quality regarded as manly, and on the other side lying, deceit, and everything we look upon as unmanly. It was not a question of politics in this contest—the aim should be to rid our country of the worst type of politician—one who would not do the square thing. Mr. Robert Kennedy varied the proceedings by reading an extract from one of Col. Hughes' famous South African letters, which fairly convulsed the audience, and followed it up with a bright speech.

A Resolution of Confidence. Moved by W. L. Harriman, seconded by J. Austin, that this Convention desires to put on record our entire confidence in the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and his Cabinet. The unprecedented prosperity and national progress of the past, guarantees the undiminished glory of the future.—Carried unanimously.

The convention closed with three cheers and a "tiger" each for Mr. McLaughlin, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the King.

Some of Those Present. Among those on the platform and in the audience, our reporter recognized the following gentlemen: J. R. Rich, John Stacey, John Martin, Ald. Robinson, Capt. John Corson, Geo. Graham, Ald. John McCrea, W. Davey, E. Kennedy, Dan. Grant, J. Gunn, Robt. Kennedy, Chas. Minty, Jas. Hickey, Jas. Connolly, Jas. Roach, E. Shyne, J. B. Weldon, John Twohey, D. Twohey, W. tate to stab either his own political friends or opponents who happened to oppose his personal schemes. Among his victims were the late John Cross, Dr. Vrooman and Chas. Fairbairn, and it is reported that he has his gun loaded for Sam Fox M.P.P., whose political head must fall if he does not dance to the Colonel's music. The people of this riding are able to distinguish between humbug and brains, and would not accept gall for ability. No person in the House of Commons would work with Hughes as he was continually taking some mean advantage calculated to win for himself a little cheap glory. His influence in the House was therefore nil, and if the electors of Victoria and Haliburton wished to secure any advantage for this riding, on desired to get any bill through the House, they would find it in their hands than those of Col. Hughes. In conclusion Senator McHugh urged the electors to go to work and conduct this campaign with a view to getting rid of the greatest political humbug the country was ever saddled with. (Cheers.) Thos. Stewart made a short but most convincing speech, urging close, careful organization and hard work until the campaign closed. It would not be possible for the candidate to visit each sub-division, or date to hold meetings everywhere. All should be willing to make sacrifices ships or warfare and captivity, we recognized him as Saul Dickory, one of the Bristol Merchant's crew, and hot though the fight raged around us we snatched a moment to press the hand of a comrade of the old days.

He had, so he said, been serving in Spanish ships ever since his capture at the mountain ravine, leading a dog's life, while doing two men's work, and until now had never seen a chance of escape. Further, he had an offer to make us. Give him a light line, and he'd jump overboard again and make it fast to a ringbolt on the don's stern, and then we might warp ourselves up and board through the cabin window.

"But for the love of heaven," he implored us, "keep the Spanish sharpshooters busy while I swim. I can hear the splash of their bullets round my ears now."

Alec, however, refused to allow him to make this attempt for fear of the sharks, observing that we should be able to do as much for ourselves with the grappling iron in half an hour's time at our present rate of drifting.

"But," he added, "I am afraid that Don Miguel has still too many men for my swim suit to tickle."

"Aye, captain," replied Dickory, "that he has. There are nigher 300 than 200 aboard your galleon who can still hit a good heavy blow, though there's near as many besides w' their toes turned up. But once get inside the big cabin, an you can clear it an hold it ag'in the lot o' 'em."

"But I want the whole ship, sirrah," Saul Dickory shook his head. "You can't do it, captain," he declared decidedly. "An if you try the big waves will be rolling over every man o' us tomorrow. But you do what's as good as you can lay your hands on the store o' dollars."

"Without taking the ship? How?" "The hatch o' the treasury is in the cabin floor, an you can strike out the cargo into this queer craft of your'n without a blessed don o' 'em being able to stop you."

And this in the end was what we did. The mermen, or Neptune, or the current, or whatever agency had charge of our heels, swept the two vessels nearer and nearer together till at last a couple of cleverly thrown grapplings caught hold and our bulwark ground against the galleon's square stern.

Her crew had no intention of letting us set foot in their stronghold without a tussle and did what they could with fireballs and grenades, cold shot and naked steel to stop us. But with a ladder of boarding axes driven into their timbers we scrambled up and soon had a footing in the cabin.

Flemmed in by the packed masses behind, the front rank had the alternative of fight or fall. They fought long and desperately, and then they fell, for they expected no quarter and asked none. We on our side fought as furiously as they, stabbing with shortened weapons where there was no room to swing them and thrusting many a foe through the open portholes into the sea. It was a bloody conflict, for not until two-thirds of the cabin's defenders lay dead and dying did the Spaniards suffer themselves to be driven out into the waist.

We ourselves had lost Jan Pengony, his friend George and three others killed outright, and two more were so sorely wounded that they died there on the cabin floor. Scarce a one of us but had his red gash to show.

But it was no time to groan or lick our wounds. The two doors under the poop were closed and barred with furniture piled up against them, loaded patacoes were thrust through the loopholes to command the waist, and the hatch of the treasure room was cleared of bodies and thrown open.

The pieces of eight we found snugly stowed in oak chests, and while half a dozen of us stood ready by the swivel gun the rest made all haste they could to hand up the treasure and lower it through the windows on to the Scourge's deck below.

Don Miguel had no notion of allowing us to spoil his ship unmolested.

Scarcely had we got into the swing of work than he and a strong party with him mounted the poop again and commenced annoying the little craft whose bulwarks were grinding against his ship far below. They hurled down everything weighty and unpleasant that came to hand, and finally they dropped a barrel of powder, which on bursting scorched several of our lads so severely that they cried to us in the galleon's cabin that the deck was too hot to hold any longer.

At this Alec, leaving me in charge of the cabin, returned to his own vessel and balled the poop above.

"Don Miguel, ahoy!"

The tall Spaniard appeared above, gritting his yellow teeth with rage. "Don Miguel, if you do not cease from annoying my people you shall have something else to think about. I swear to you that if you do not permit me to finish my task unmolested I'll sweep your crowded waist with a hurricane of patacoes balls, and that the survivors may not want employment to keep them out of mischief I'll fire your galleon's hold before I leave her. There's a keg of spirits under the table that will help her to burn."

"And if I permit you to carry off your robber's booty in peace?"

"Measure your words, Don Miguel. If you permit me to carry off my lawful prize?"

The Spaniard interrupted him with a harsh laugh of impotent rage. "My lawless prize, I say, taken from my country's enemy," went on Alec calmly, "and if you offer no further annoyance to my men, I, on my part, faithfully promise to do you and yours no further injury for the present. Fortune will, I hope, grant us another meeting on some future day, when accounts may be settled. Meanwhile, senior, your answer is awaited."

Don Miguel, who seemed almost beside himself with suppressed fury, was evidently about to hurl a defiance at us and raised his hand to clench his refusal with a pistol bullet. But his officers and underlings had had all the fighting they wanted. Though each might have a stake in the golden cargo below, each remembered that with another throw of the dice he would lose not only that, but life as well. And choosing, like wise men, the lesser of the two evils, they laid violent hands on their reckless commandant and dragged him down. Then one of them jumped up into his place and signified that they agreed to the armistice. They promised, he said, not to molest us further, and they looked to us to keep a like faith with them. With a ringing cheer our lads set to work again on the gold chests, but none the less we kept the swivel gun trained on the crowd in the galleon's waist, for he is a besotted fool who trusts a penny's worth to a Spaniard's word.

They dared not break faith with us, however, because of the gun, and so we were able to transship the golden harvest without further loss of life.

While the party in the galleon's cabin bustled merrily among the booty another party reloaded our damaged head-sails, and when the last chest of gold-pieces had been dumped upon our deck we caught an ironical cheer for the wealth of Golden Spain, and as the rising breeze slowly belled her sails the little Scourge sheered slowly off from her whipped and sullen adversary.

Aye, we were victorious, and while the red blood still flowed from our wounds we recked little of the heavy price we had paid. But when the mad frenzy of fighting is over gaping cuts, tangle and grow stiff, and then it is that men begin to count the cost and spare a thought for those who have fallen, comrades who were alive and full of hope a few short hours before. We had a dreary account taking. It was clear that the Scourge could no longer hold her own in these seas of the new world.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The galleon's gold had cost us very dear. Out of our slender ship's company 13 had been killed outright, four had hurts that they would die under, and of the rest there was no man who could not show the color of his own blood.

When the excitement of the battle had passed away and the grim fever of slaying had become a memory, not one stood on our decks in whose body there was not some deadly throb or sickening ache—not one who was not stiff from angry, rainbow colored bruises or faint from loss of blood. Our captain lay pale and helpless in his bunk, brought to death's very door by a bullet wound under the shoulder, which he had borne undressed through half the long fight. The back of the boatswain's bald pate was burned black with powder, and he had more ribs stove in than the pain would let him count. And of the others one allied this and another that; one by the blow of an ax had lost the fingers of his hand, another by the crack of a gunstock had lost the sense of his hand.

The active watch on deck consisted of two persons. There was Job Trehalion, with the old scar on his face crossed by a fresher seam, and John Topp, with a pike thrust through the calf of one leg and a dagger wound in the foot of the other.

We had remained in melancholy silence for I know not how long, when suddenly Job Trehalion got up without a word and went down the companion. Returning presently, he gave me a handful of biscuit and a lordly dram of cordial, and these, being sent on their errand, revived me wonderfully. So, after adjusting the bloody bandages round my leg and instep, I told Job that he and I must lay our heads together and consider where to steer to.

Job was all chuckles and grins in a moment. It was not often that he was called into council by any one save the old man, and him he affected to despise, and so he considered his confidence no compliment.

"One thing is sure," said I, looking at the battle havoc round me, "we can't keep the seas in this plight."

"No, Master Topp," chuckled Job, "that we can't. Let alone having no crew to reef or haul the sails, the hull an' spars has sich a-many wounds in 'em that the first good squall'll send us all to Davy Jones' locker double quick. No, no; we've winged, Master Topp, an winged birds has to lie quiet for awhile afore they tries to fly again."

"There should be abler heads than ours, Job, to settle matters in a plight like this, but the abler heads are all sadly battered just now, so you and I must do our best to decide a course without them."

A look of solemn importance struggled hard to drive the grin from Job's face. But habit was strong, and the grin conquered.

"We might go back to the old harbor on Cave Island, Master Topp. It were snug enough, an them buns on the hill above be a rare place for sick men to lie in."

"But the Spaniards, Job! You forget the Spaniards."

"Asking pardon," replied Job, screwing up his face with such a grin that the wound across it began to trickle afresh, "but one o' them Spaniards that we left behind has got off. And if one, maybe all."

"What! I cried. "One got off? Where did you hear of him?"

"Seed him an felt him, Master Topp, which is better than hearing o' him. It was his iron as wrote this fresh mark across my face. That comes o' disregarding the old man's words an sparing Spaniards," he added sagely.

"Captain Ireland's whim, Job," said I, shrugging my shoulders. "But are you sure of your man?"

"Sure as I am o' you, Master Topp, or o' uncle, or o' Captain Ireland, or o' any one else noticeable. This un was a short, cheery kind o' little chap, w' bandy legs an a bright steel basinet on his head. Now, sea armor is always blacked, so a man as wears his bright is nat'rally a man you notice."

"Why, I remember him!" said I. "A merry, cowardly little wretch named Sancho something or other. Your uncle gave him a pretty scare in the Serpent's temple."

"That's him; Don Sancho! An if this blow he gave me had been driven home instead o' falling half hearted through the frightened trembling o' the don's arm I should have gone down sure enough. As it was, I stood an toppled him into the sea for cumbering my way. Saul Dickory maybe could tell us how bandy legs came to be on the galleon."

"Fetch him," said I. And Job went. If Job was right and the Spaniards

"You and I must do our best," had really succeeded in leaving Cave Island, nothing could be more fortunate for us in our present crippled state. There we could recruit our war weary bodies and refit our wounded ship at our leisure, and when our pulses beat full and strong again we would be ready for another throw with Don Miguel, for I, for one, felt sure that we had by no means seen the last of that yellow fanged grin of rage. But if our late slaves were still on the island it would be madness to attempt the landing. Heaven grant they had escaped.

"Aye," said Saul Dickory when I eagerly questioned him, "they've got off, sure enough. I've seed a-many o' them, an, what's more, through them I've heard all about your doings on the island."

"How did they get away?"

"Sighted a trading schooner the day after you left, signaled her w' a smoke from that 'ere Sarpint hill I've heard tell of, an got took off. The snow set them ashore at Barcelona. From there some o' 'em took ship to Cartagena, where, as we was short handed, they joined our galleon."

"Then," said I cheerily, "our course is clear. We'll run to the old harbor to recruit and refit." And with the decision I felt more hopeful and light hearted than I had since first my wounded leg began to tingle.

When we rounded the bluffs at the harbor's mouth and the foreshore in front of the cave opened out to view, it was with anxious gaze that those of us who were hale enough to stand on deck or to lean against mast or bulwark scanned the beach and the heights above the cave for sign of human habitation. The island was a pleasant enough spot to dwell in, and some of the Spaniards might have elected to stay and plant a colony there.

But not a trace of man did we see. Our old fortifications lay ruined and decayed, and in places the quick growing tropical vegetation had almost hidden them from sight. The heavy door with which we had closed the cave's mouth lay half covered with sand, and the doorposts from which it had once hung had fallen shantwise across the opening.

No, there was nothing to fear. The island had returned to the possession of the pigs and the gulls and the parakeets, its original owners.

To reach the huts on the high ground above was for the most seriously wounded an impossibility, and so we had to turn the cave itself into our hospital. We regretted this, because we had hoped much from the healing virtues of the flower scented breeze of the uplands, but there was no help for it.

Ab, it was a time to make the greedy plunder hunter sicken of his trade! The angel of death was hovering round us and claiming now one good sailor and true comrade and now another as part payment of the price of plunder. For the old man's caustic wit and Willie Trehalion's cumbersome attempts to reply to him raised many a smile from the weaker ones and many a loud guffaw from the stronger. And Job Trehalion's grin we had always with us.

But the summons of death came all too often, and the tale of sandy rounds on the yellow harbor grew sadly long in spite of all that the old man's skillful surging and John Topp's tireless nursing could do to shorten it. All that man could do we did, but our enemy was too strong for us.

The end of our nursing came at last. Some conquered their wounds, and some their wounds conquered, and when the last grave had been dug and filled there were but 12 men left out of the two and thirty who had been hale and strong when the fight for the galleon's gold began.

CHAPTER XXIX.

"Twelve men on their legs," said the boatswain, waring his nook toward the huts, "an that counts in the old man an Tinker Tom, which is both crippled."

"Twelve men," said I, "are more than every one would have got off the leeshore on which ten of them were lying."

"Credit where credit is due, Master Topp," replied the boatswain. "All praise to your surging. But for you an the old man an navy job, which, though little better than natural in general, has unstowed a few grains o' sense for this time o' need, I don't say but we should have lost a hand or two more. But as it is we got 12, an what I say is 12 men bairn't able to take the Scourge to England."

"It could be done," interposed Alec in a half musing tone, "if we could keep off the scurvy."

"But you can't," replied the boatswain gruffly. "Might as well try to escape fleas in a London tavern as scurvy on a long ocean voyage, an newly healed men is particular liable to it. Mark me, Captain Ireland, if the Scourge sails from here with none but us 12 aboard, her she'll never work up Bristol river."

"But with the men Saul Dickory tells o'," said I, "we could do it."

"Could we get them?" inquired Alec, turning to the man.

"Why, yes, captain, an easy. Los Roques is the name o' the islands they're on, an you'll find that down in your charts. The chap as told me y'as a half breed that got blown off there in a fishing cruise."

"How did they get there?"

"Well, you see, they're a scratch lot—English, Frenchers an Danes—that banded together at the mines to escape. They gets out, reaches the coast, seizes a boat an puts to sea. They meant to reach one o' the islands an live there till they could steal a ship that would carry them home, but the boat was knocked to splinters in the surf on landing, an having no tools to build another they found themselves safely jailed."

"See, Alec," said I, unrolling a chart and spreading it on the ground. "Give me a crew of six, and I'll take the Scourge round, leaving you others here. By keeping plenty of nothing we shall be out of the usual track and can be back here in ten days without sighting a sail."

But no—Alec would not hear it. If we went at all, it should be with all hands aboard, and himself to command. And finally, after much discussion, this was what we decided to do. Further, it was resolved to leave the treasure on Cave Island for the present. The repairs to the Scourge were soon finished, and the earliest possible day was fixed for the embarkation.

But at the last moment an unexpected difficulty arose. The old man refused absolutely to quit the island. He had been ailing of late, and it seemed that he had never quite recovered from the wound he got in the battle with the galleon. His wits were queerer than usual, and he continually complained of the cold, though the hot summer sun drew streams of sweat from the rest of us.

We all felt great concern for the old man, and, though we knew he would never play us false, but would defend our treasure even with magic arts if need be, still we did not like to leave him behind, ailing as he was. But none of us dared to gainsay his wish except our captain. Fully an hour did Alec spend in useless argument trying to turn him from his purpose and seemed all the time to be strangely moved, though from what cause we could not tell. But he failed. And when at last the Scourge set sail and the old man was left on the beach my sworn shipmate covered him with his eyes till we had rounded the spit and run out of sight. Then with a heavy sigh he turned and went down to the cabin.

It was a strange affair, and perhaps we should have taken it as an omen of ill luck. Though I am myself singularly free from superstitious of all kinds, I must believe that the old man had some foreknowledge of misfortune to come, and yet I cannot think that he knew that the fire would break out in the Scourge's spirit room or surely he would have warned us. But perhaps, as Willie Trehalion says, the seer can see, but cannot change, the decrees of fate. It may be so.

That, however, is neither here nor there. But the fact remains that a fire did break out, and that, too, on the second day out from Cave Island during the first watch of the glass while Alec held the deck.

I was in my bunk, but came up when the alarm was given and was soon passing buckets with the rest. But the dainty Scourge was doomed, and our puny efforts were without avail. The water seemed only to irritate the blaze to further fury, and where at first was pale, lambent flame, blue and transparent, soon there began to roll forth an avalanche of inky smoke, riven by greedy, shooting tongues of yellow fire.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $200 in legal money for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of the Womb, which they cannot cure. The only ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Very often a married woman or young girl does not know who to turn to for advice in circumstances where she dislikes to talk with the family physician about delicate matters. At such times write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free consultation and advice, and the same will be held as sacredly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends or persons without medical training.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol, is entirely vegetable and was the first exclusively woman's tonic on the market—it has sold more largely in the past third of a century than any other medicine for women.

All other compounds intended for women only are made with alcohol, or alcohol is a large component—this alcohol injures the nerves, the little red corpuscles of the blood are shrunk by alcohol. All such compounds, therefore, do harm.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. Use them with the Favorite Prescription when a pill is required. One is a laxative, two, a mild cathartic.

SYLVESTER M'F'G CO LINDSAY

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE TO KEEP UP.

A WOBBLY RAILWAY POLICY.

In regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Borden, the Opposition leader, made a spasmodic plunge at the close of the session into the depths of Government ownership, but he failed to carry his party with him. The Toronto News, which favours state railway ownership, regretfully acknowledges this. And why should it not be true. Mr. Borden himself submitted three policies after having started, when the Government first submitted the Grand Trunk Pacific proposition to Parliament, with the initial declaration that a second transcontinental line was unnecessary. First, he advocated the extension of the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay, the leasing of the Canadian Pacific system to Winnipeg, and the subsidizing of the Grand Trunk to the Pacific; second, the extension of the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, the survey of the north country between Winnipeg and Quebec with a view to future lines of railway, and the construction and control of lines west of Winnipeg by the Dominion; and, third, Government ownership of the transcontinental railway by a route not definitely specified. When to these three-fold policy are added the schemes propounded by other members of the party and the party organs, of which the most simple is the plan of subsidizing the Grand Trunk from North Bay to the Pacific coast, it will excite little surprise that Mr. Borden cannot carry his party with him on his railway policy, not because they are unwilling to follow his lead, but they can't see where he would take them. If his first two policies were bad, what assurance have they that he will not have a new transcontinental railway policy before election day?

THE COAL QUESTION.

Legislation which diverts transportation from its natural channels into artificial ones does so at a loss and waste of capital proportionate to the effectiveness of the interference with natural laws. An illustration of this is afforded by the duties on coal. Originally imposed in Ottawa to enable the coal owners of Nova Scotia to supply the western market, they operate simply to enhance the price of coal to the Ontario consumer. Nova Scotia coal gets as far as Montreal but not beyond; from there to Windsor or rather to Fort William and Rat Portage, the Ontario consumer buys American coal with the duty added to the price. The aggregate amount paid by Ontario in duty during the last quarter of a century is well over $30,000,000, a vast sum to be taken from the working capital of the province. The case is even more serious in New England. Set a coal barge afloat on the Nova Scotia coast and it will drift to Massachusetts. The coal freight rates from Nova Scotia by water to Boston are about one-quarter of the all-rail or combined water and rail rates from West Virginia, which supplies the bulk of the bituminous coal used there. It is estimated that in the past thirty years the New England States have paid $100,000,000 on account of the duty against Nova Scotia coal, from which they have not received a dollar of direct benefit.

When the Presidential election is over in November a movement will be started on both sides of the line to bring about reciprocity in coal. If it succeeds, and there is every prospect that it will, Nova Scotia will supply New England to the advantage of both, while Ontario will get her coal free of duty from the mines of Ohio and Pennsylvania, and with the Trent Valley canal terminal at Port Hope, opposite a coal port, the question of cheaper fuel for manufacturing and all domestic purposes would be solved. Fortunately the question is not a party one in Canada. When the duties were imposed on American coal five and twenty years ago, Sir Charles Tupper said his aim was to bring about reciprocity; and Mr. Fielding has all along hoped for reciprocity as the true policy for both countries.

NO CHANCE FOR JOBBERY.

Doubless with the making of the first Canadian Pacific contract in mind, and thinking that others would do as their party had done, some Conservative authorities are throwing out insinuations, or making direct assertion that the Transcontinental commissioners and the members of the Cabinet are "manipulating contracts" on the Eastern, or Government, Division of the Grand Trunk Pacific in order "to raise campaign funds and strengthen the Liberal party generally in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces."

That is maliciously, as well as absurdly false. Under the law, which is practically the act of 1867, governing the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, the line must be built by tender and contract after the plans and specifications have been duly advertised, and no contract involving an outlay of more than $10,000 can be concluded by the commissioners without the sanction of the Governor-in-Council.

And further as the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, has to pay an annual rental to the Government for the use of the Eastern Section, namely, three per cent. on the cost of construction, the company is deeply interested in seeing that the cost of construction shall be kept down to the lowest figure compatible with good workmanship. A high cost of construction entailing a high rental would, of course, involve high rates, so that the public is as much concerned as the company itself in an economical construction of the road. To ensure this, section 7 of the agreement of 1903, between the Government and the company, provides that the specifications shall be submitted to, and approved by, the company, before the work is begun, and secondly, that the work shall be subject to the "joint supervision, inspection and acceptance" of the chief engineer of the Government, and the chief engineer of the company, who, in case of dispute, shall call in a third man.

How are the contracts to be "manipulated" under such conditions? Every item of the work must be conducted in a manner that shall satisfy the Grand Trunk Pacific Company and its engineers, who are so profoundly interested in keeping down the expenditure. Values will be had for every dollar paid out, because the company has to pay rental on the basis of total cost.

But does anybody think a Conservative Government would insert such a protecting clause in a contract? It does so in the case of the Canadian Pacific?

A GOVERNMENT THAT DOES THINGS.

Critics think it smart to declare that the Government does not cause the sun to shine, the rain to fall or the fruit to ripen. That is true, but we need not concern ourselves about what the Government does not do.

The Government has established cold storage transportation from the farms in Canada to the British markets, making a complete chain from the refrigerator chambers in the canneries and the refrigerator car service to the cold storage warehouses at the chief points of export and the mechanical cold storage chambers on ocean-going steamships. This matter was neglected under Conservative rule, although Australia, New Zealand, and the United States had similar services before 1896.

The Government has secured the removal of the cattle quarantine of 90 days in the United States. This embargo put Canadian cattle raisers at a serious disadvantage, and its removal, after negotiations by Mr. Fisher at Washington, resulted in a large increase in Canada's exports of cattle to the United States.

The Government has adopted practical methods in the distribution of agricultural information, so that every farmer can profit immediately by the knowledge gained through costly experiments.

The Government does not cause the fruit to ripen, but it protects the fruit from insect pests, gives information as to the best grades for various localities, provides for storage and transportation methods, which insure the highest prices, opens markets for all lines of farm products and relieves the farmer of unnecessary burden of taxation.

The farmers of Canada do not ask to be "coddled." They know that the man behind the plough is the arbiter of his own fortunes. There are things that the individual, no matter how industrious or far-seeing, cannot do for himself, however, and the farmers recognize that since 1896 those things have been better done than ever before.

The condition of rural Canada was never more satisfactory. On every hand farm mortgages are being reduced or wiped off, better buildings are being erected, and modern conveniences provided that make the life of women on the farm far more comfortable than in the past. Why should not the farmers of Canada vote for the Laurier Government?

It is "up to" the farmers to decide between the Liberal policy which means a fair-play-to-all tariff policy—a revenue tariff with incidental protection or the Conservative policy which means a sky high protection policy in the interests of manufacturers and gives the farmers and general consumer the heavy end of the load? Keep both hands on Tariff Stability.

Which is the better, high prosperity with a moderate tariff, or high protection without prosperity? Hadn't we better hold what we have? Hadn't we better?

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who was in the field for a few days as an Independent candidate in West Peterboro, has withdrawn from the contest. The fight will be between Mr. R. R. Hall, and Mr. Jas. Kendry.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will address a mass meeting in Brock-st. rink, Peterboro, Oct. 20, in the interest of Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal candidate in West Peterboro. Many Lindsay admirers of Sir Wilfrid will invade Peterboro that evening.

Under Laurier the Courts of Revision in every town and city have not to wrestle with long lines of ratepayers seeking remission of taxes because they can't get tenants for their houses or stores. That was the rule when Tories were in power at Ottawa.

Mr. G. O. E. Foster, who has been seeking a constituency with a consistency that was not at all creditable to Mr. Borden's influence with the party workers, has been put up against Mayor Urquhart in North Toronto.

Hamilton Times: Mr. W. R. Brock, M. P., one of the great business men "behind Borden," has decided that he is too busy to go back to Ottawa. And Brock was slated for Mr. Borden's Cabinet, too! He sees the handwriting on the wall. Borden has no need of Cabinet timber yet.

Orillia Times: An increase in business of a hundred thousand dollars a day, seven days a week, year in and year out, is a record to be proud of, and facts and figures show that since the Liberals came into power, eight years ago, this has been an actual fact. Mr. D. L. White, of Midland, who is an authority on matters of trade and commerce, pointed this out at the Liberal convention.

Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Borden will be in Ontario from Oct. 9 to 15.

It is probable that Hon. Sydney Fisher will speak at several points in Ontario during the campaign. Mr. Fisher's great success as Minister of Agriculture has done much to popularize the Laurier administration.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, the eminent Toronto K. C., who has joined the Laurier Cabinet, will contest Durham County against Col. Ward, of Port Hope. Mr. Robt. Belth, the present representative of Edward Blake's old riding, having decided to drop out owing to ill-health.

The Montreal Gazette will have none of Mr. Borden's "G.T.P. vagaries." It declares that the main issue of the campaign is the tariff—higher taxation on the people—and not the railway question. Mr. Borden has not to go out of his party to seek trouble.

The Windsor Standard, the Essex Tory organ, was not favorably impressed with Mr. Borden's qualities as a leader. It declares that "one hour of Lewis Wigle and M. K. Cavan, on a public platform, with a mixed audience, would create more enthusiasm than Mr. Borden would do in a year."

"The main issue of the election campaign now on," says the Montreal Gazette, "is that of the tariff." But the organs are not a unit on that. The Woodstock Express protests that the tariff cannot be made an issue, and even Mr. Borden declares that the Grand Trunk Pacific is the chief issue. The Tories are a divided family.

If you are not a householder you must register. Even if you are a householder it behooves you to see that you are on the list, as errors are liable to occur. If you are a householder and have moved since the roll was compiled, you must register. You can get any necessary information at the Reform Committee Room, next to The Post printing office.

Mr. John Finlay, the Liberal candidate in East Peterboro, points out in his election address to the ratepayers that "never before since Canada was a Dominion has there been so long an unbroken spell of good times as during the eight years the present Government has been in power." The point is well taken, and is one that his opponent, Mr. Henry A. Moore, a respectable young farmer of Dummer township, will find it impossible to deny.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, of Peterboro, who was a candidate for the Liberal nomination in West Peterboro in January last, and who moved that Mr. R. R. Hall's nomination be made unanimous, now announces himself as an independent candidate. If Mr. McWilliams remains in the field for a few weeks he will be afforded the most convincing proof that Liberal voters will not uphold a man capable of such treachery. Mr. R. R. Hall will sweep West Peterboro.

Mail and Empire, Oct. 6th, announces that "Mr. Kendry has yielded to the persuasions of his leader and has consented to stand once more for the constituency he so faithfully served the last eight years." Is this the Mr. Kendry who publicly went back on his leader's tariff policy a few weeks ago? The Tory situation in West Peterboro must be desperate when Leader Borden is compelled to use "persuasion" to induce a follower of eight years' standing to remain in the firing line.

Under the Liberal Government, with a lowered customs tariff, the increased prosperity of the people resulted in an increase of revenue, the surplus revenue for seven years of Liberal rule reaching the enormous total of $68,400,072, the present year's surplus being $16,500,000, of which $7,500,000 is applied to the reduction of the national debt. This year's surplus in fifty years, if placed at compound interest, will repay the country for its total outlay on the transcontinental railway.

Toronto News (Tory): The heavy expenditures of the Government have been made in a time of prosperity and surpluses, and therefore have excited no alarm in the country. The truth is that the necessary expenditures upon canals, railways, wharves, breakwaters, and public buildings are so enormous that the national outlay must be heavy for years to come, and the best we can hope is that there will be a minimum of waste and jobbery, and an intelligent application of the revenues to objects which make for national equipment and development. Altogether the Government in its administration of patronage, its handling of contracts, and its electoral methods, has disappointed public expectation, and fallen far below the standards set in opposition, while its national spirit, its appreciation of industrial conditions, its constructive capacity and general

A CAPABLE REPRESENTATIVE.

If Lindsay is going to be a live, active town, it ought to have an active and capable representative. This town and county will have such in Mr. McLaughlin. He is hardworking, energetic and able. He is closely associated with the business enterprises of the town and county. He has been actively associated with the organization of enterprises in this country that have nearly a million dollars of productive capital invested in the town and county. He has been the confidential legal adviser of many of the largest industrial enterprises in the county. His sound judgment and financial ability is recognized elsewhere. He is counsel for and director of some of the largest financial institutions in Canada, representing many millions of invested capital. The public have great confidence in his judgment, and absolute faith in his integrity. He has been looking to the future for this town, and is associated with both the water power enterprises that propose to bring cheap power to Lindsay.

There will be a revision of the tariff next session, in all probability. Why should this town not be represented by an accurate economic student, such as Mr. McLaughlin is known to be? The interests of our industries would be faithfully and well represented. The electing him to represent this constituency would add to his influence and greatly increase his power to promote the welfare of the town and community.

Is there a single enterprise or industry in the town or county that Col. Hughes has ever organized or brought here? Is there one brick upon another as the result of anything he has ever done for Lindsay? Would anyone invest a dollar on his judgment? His one specialty, and he has faithfully devoted himself to that, is tooting his own horn—glorifying Sam Hughes—and the whole community would be glad of a good long rest from that.

Business men, give this your consideration. Give Mr. McLaughlin your votes. He will be an able representative, will give the town and county the full benefit of his energy, experience and ability.

WILL DO THE PARTY NO HARM.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette in its last issue had the following to say concerning the contest in Victoria and Haliburton:

How the election in this constituency will "eventuate" neither we nor anybody else can predict with any degree of certainty. The fight will be between Col. Sam Hughes and Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, of Lindsay, the latter of whom will be chosen Liberal candidate at the convention to be held in Lindsay on Tuesday next. In North Victoria, in 1896, Sam Hughes beat Mr. McLaughlin by a majority of 251; in 1900 he beat Dr. McKay by a majority of 106; and a similar falling off at the coming election would result in his defeat. The decline in the Conservative vote was partly owing to the growing popularity of the Laurier Government, which, in 1896 had been in power only four years, and partly to the growing unpopularity of Col. Sam, who would undoubtedly have been defeated but for the halo of glory he had acquired—or said he had acquired—in South Africa. Since then the history of the South African war has been written and printed, and Sam Hughes' alleged heroic feats are not recorded there; in the Laurier Government has been eight years in power, and is thought more of than ever; and Sam Hughes has alienated the affections of so many prominent and influential Conservatives that his defeat on the 3rd of November is more than probable. The Government is absolutely safe, no matter how the election in this constituency may go; and, therefore the many Conservatives in it who think that Col. Hughes ought to be relegated to private life may help to relegate him, without doing their party, as a whole, the least bit of harm.

THE TRAIL OF THE GRAFTER.

We wish to direct the attention of all readers of The Post to page four of this issue, on which appears a letter from Mr. T. G. Irwin, of Glandine, assessor of the township of Mariposa, and a prominent Conservative, who does not endorse Col. Hughes' unfair tactics in manipulating the recent Tory convention so as to secure his nomination. Mr. Irwin states facts that cannot be refuted, and only voices the sentiments of hundreds of honest Conservatives throughout the riding who will not become tools to be made use of solely for Hughes' personal benefit, and who will not stoop to fight such dishonorable tactics. This letter should be read by every fair-minded Conservative, and if your neighbor of that political faith happens not to be a reader of The Post, see that he peruses Mr. Irwin's convincing letter and he cannot help but feel that the writer states the truth. Then if he wishes to work for the welfare of the riding and his country he will cast his vote to rid the County of such a dishonorable politician.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING

In Store for the Citizens of Lindsay.

The charming story of "Joan Val-Jean" will be told by the Rev. Solomon Cleaver, D.D., of Toronto, in the Cambridge-st. Methodist church, on Monday evening next, 17th October. Single admission will be 25c; family tickets only 50c. Crowded houses have greeted Dr. Cleaver's recital of this thrilling story whenever given. Our citizens will do well to be on time to secure a good seat, as the seats will be reserved.—w.l.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier:

Gentlemen, I do not know how many years Providence has reserved for me. I am not as young as I was. My opponents say that I have many faults. I must admit that I have one which I would like to correct. I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada. I hope to see steamers leaving Quebec and Montreal loaded with the products of the Orient and returning again with cargoes for the west to be shipped via Port Simpson to the trading centres of the east. The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway.

PREMIER ROSS AT MOUNT BRYDGES

No Deals With the Conservative Charges of Corruption.

In his speech at Mount Brydges, Ont., the other day, Premier Ross said that it was stated that the alleged corruption of the Government was the result of its long tenure of office. But what did the records of the courts show? Sandfield MacDonald was only four years in office—not quite that—and in the general election of 1871 five of his supporters were unseated for corrupt practices, and only one member of the Opposition; whereas in the general election of 1902, after the Liberals were thirty-two years in office, only one supporter of the Government was unseated by the courts. If four years of office meant the vacation of five seats by the Conservative party, what would have been the number of seats vacated had they been in office over thirty years? He read the following comparison of the members unseated after the general election of 1902, with the previous elections since Confederation:

	Liberal	Conservative
1871.....	1	5
1875.....	10	10
1879.....	1	4
1883.....	3	3
1886.....	1	1
1890.....	2	3
1894.....	1	4
1898.....	6	3
1902.....	1	4
Totals.....	26	37

In the election of 1902 the Hon. Mr. Davis resigned his seat, but even if this were treated as an election voided by the courts, the last general election, after 32 years of office, was better than the Sandfield MacDonald election after four years of office, and better than the election of 1875, when ten members of Parliament on each side were unseated (Applause).

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

Gentlemen,—

As a result of the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Convention, and at the urgent request of many leading Conservatives, I am a candidate for the House of Commons for this constituency.

It will only be possible in the short time between my nomination and the election—only three weeks—for me to visit the more important centres of the constituency. I therefore desire to place my views before you in this way:

1. I believe in tariff based upon the necessities of the public revenue, so adjusted as to protect Canadian industries from unfair competition but not to enable exorbitant prices to be charged the consumer, with such a preference to the Mother Country and sister Colonies as will encourage trade within the Empire. The tariff to be revised from time to time in the interest of the whole people to suit changed conditions, and after careful investigation.

2. I believe in full Government control of all railways through the Railway Commission, which should exercise a general power over rates and service so that people in all parts of the country shall as far as possible, have good railway service at reasonable rates.

3. The battle that Canadians have to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

4. I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have their benefit at the earliest possible time.

5. I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics, and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of the same. I would much rather not be elected than that even one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party; and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing

LETTER III.

(To Editor of Weekly Post.)
Sir,—It is an admitted fact that, given true premises, logical reasoning will result in an accurate conclusion. Also, that, given untrue premises, no matter how logical the reasoning, the conclusion must necessarily be false. In the 29th of September issue of the Watchman-Worder I notice a labored editorial by Dr. Vrooman's decision not to respond affirmatively to the petitioners requesting him to become a candidate for the Federal Parliament. That his decision was wise, and showed his fidelity to the ultimate interests of his party, I am free to admit. That the argument, based on the 973 names of petitioners, is sound, I deny. If 973 names represented all those favoring Vrooman's candidature, well and good, but that such is not the case I have positive evidence. Right here, in our own township, the petition was not circulated to any extent whatever with the exception of one division, and as I am personally acquainted with each individual in that division, I have seen some of the signatures who refused to sign, and some of these have since seen their error and taken their stand under the banner of the petitioners. This may be taken as a true criterion of the other divisions in this township re signers, as many of the Conservatives in the remaining divisions told me they had never an opportunity to sign, and for me to advise the promoters to forward the petition to them and they would gladly sign.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity and produces the disease. Those germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation, and in one-third the time required for the treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Giving First-class Service.

So well satisfied is the Grand Trunk management with the patronage extended to the new fast train between Peterboro and Toronto, via Lindsay, that the word has gone out to the Division officials that every effort is to be made to still further improve the service. As a preliminary step an elegant new parlor car was added to the train a few days ago. The new car is longer than the one it replaced and is finished in main line style; it is fitted with every convenience, and has smoking compartments at either end. There are also rumormongers of a solid vestibule train being built at the Montreal shops for the above route, and there is a probability that the running time will be materially reduced in the near future.

BOBCAYGEON THE VICTORS.

CHAMPIONS OF THE KAWARTHA BASEBALL LEAGUE.

They Trimmed T.A.S. of Peterboro, in Fine Style in the Final Game at Lindsay on Thursday last Week.

Those who heaved the chilly weather Thursday and attended at the Central park were fully repaid in seeing an exciting and well-played game of ball between the T.A.S. of Peterboro, and Bobcaygeon, in a Kawartha League championship game. Both teams were tied for first place, and the game was to decide the winners.

Bobcaygeon came to town on the early C.P.R. train with about 25 or 30 enthusiastic supporters, among whom were several ladies. The Peterboro boys had not many rosters with them, but what they lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm for their team.

The game was called promptly at 3 o'clock sharp, Bobcaygeon losing the toss, and going first to bat. The first few innings of the game were close and exciting. Peterboro pulled strong in the fourth and fifth, getting 4 runs and leading Bobcaygeon by a score of 6 to 2. But now the Bobcaygeon boys and their many Lindsay friends, cut loose, with the result that they succeeded in tallying 4 runs and tying the score. Pandemonium reigned for a few minutes and Bobcaygeon's stock went up considerably. Bobcaygeon scored one in the eighth and one in the ninth. Peterboro tried hard, but were unable to score, the game ending 8-6 in favor of Bobcaygeon. Mr. T. Burke inspired the game to the entire satisfaction of both teams.

Notes on the Game.
"B" for "Bobcaygeon" was the cry. Bobcaygeon certainly deserves all credit for winning the Kawartha championship. They have a good and well-balanced team, and with a little more experience will make the best teams in the district "go some" to beat them.

Peterboro, while they played good ball, were not at their best, their catcher having an off day. He allowed the batters to reach 1st on the 3rd strike several times, which proved costly. Quinlan, the Peterboro pitcher, twisted his arm early in the game and had to retire in the ninth. Parrell taking his place.

"Curly Mack" tried to make a double, but was "out."

Mr. Geo. O'Neill was an interested supporter of Bobcaygeon. His coaching on the lines was a feature.

The "Bobcaygeon" people are certainly good sports. They backed their team for all they were worth.

CURLERS' ANNUAL MEETING.

Officers Elected—Rev. Fr. O'Sullivan the New Chaplain.

The annual meeting of the Lindsay Curling Club was held at the rink October 7th. There was a large number of members present and great enthusiasm manifested, and as a smaller number of old members than usual are dropping out, the prospects are that there will be a very large Club this year. The following officers were elected:

Patron—Mr. A. Jackson.

President—Mr. L. V. O'Connor.

Vice-President—Dr. E. A. Walters.

Treasurer—Mr. J. D. Flavelle.

Assistant-Treasurer—Mr. P. Kennedy.

Secretary—Mr. J. C. Hargrove.

Chaplain—Rev. Father O'Sullivan.

Honorary Members—Messrs. Talbot, P. McMillan, of Bayview, and J. A. Bucknell, of New York.

Managing Committee—Messrs. O'Connor, Walters, Flavelle, Hargrove, Miller, W. McEwen, J. M. Kinslow, Little, Hopkins.

Local Match Committee—Messrs. O'Connor, Flavelle, Hargrove, Hopkins, Miller.

Representatives to the Ontario Curling Association—Messrs. J. D. Flavelle and G. H. Hopkins.

VICTORIA RIFLE ASSOCIATION

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE ANNUAL MATCHES ON THURSDAY

A Strong North-west Wind Bothered the Marksmen.

The annual match of 1904 was held on the ranges last Thursday, Oct. 6th. Firing commenced about 9 a.m. and was completed at 4 p.m. The day was all that could be wished for with the exception of a strong north-west wind, which kept some of the competitors guessing. No doubt this accounted greatly for some of the low scores, especially among the younger marksmen.

Among those from a distance were Mr. George Fitzgerald, of Peterboro, a crack shot, who succeeded in carrying off two first prizes; Sgt. William Britton, of Bobcaygeon; Lieut. Joe Coad and Sgt. Fred Brass, of Oakwood; E. E. Dillman, James Glass, Loy Rogers, of Little Britain; and Lorenzo Davidson, of Glandine.

Below will be found the score in the different matches fired:

Farwell to an Oddfellow.

At a meeting of Lindsay I.O.F. Encampment Oct. 6, Bro. Thos. Walton, of the Grand Trunk shops, was presented with a handsome gold Encampment jewel, suitably engraved, as a mark of the esteem in which he is held by his fellow craftsmen and the regret felt by all on learning of his impending transfer to Allandale shops. The address was read by Bro. T. Matchett, the jewel being presented to Bro. Walton by Bro. W. Scott and R. E. Thomas. Bro. Walton, who acknowledged the gift in suitably terse, joined the I.O.F. many years ago in Port Hope.

In his recent "Introduction to Spectrum Analysis," Dr. W. Marshall Watts shows that "in a drop of water the number of molecules is so great that, if we could see them when the drop was magnified till it had apparently the dimensions of our earth, they would appear like a heap of tennis balls, in number something like 9,556,000,000,000,000,000,000." Even then, it appears, each molecule would be subdivisible into three atoms, two of hydrogen and one of oxygen. And it is, of course, a matter of common knowledge that in every atom of hydrogen there are some thousand electrified "corpuscles."

BROKE THE JAP LINE

Russians Assume the Offensive and Drive Enemy Back.

THREATEN COMMUNICATIONS

An Astonishing Position By Which Each Army Moves Against the Other's Lines—First Success to the Russians At Bentziaputze—Fatal Omission By the Japanese—Did Not Fortify Key Hill.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—General Kuropatkin's order of the day, announcing his determination to take the offensive, was supplemented last night by the news that an offensive movement had already been begun and that the Japanese line has been broken at Bentziaputze, about 20 miles east and south of Mukden. The Japanese occupied a front of about 52 miles east, through Yental and across the railway to the banks of the Hun River, on the west. The Russian force had been moving south in close touch with the Japanese advance since Oct. 4. The Japanese outposts were driven back in a series of skirmishes, and on Oct. 6 the Russians re-occupied the station of Shakhie, 15 miles south of Mukden, the railway battalion restoring the bridge across the Shakhie River the next day in order to facilitate the advance.

A Fatal Omission.
Meanwhile General Mischenko's Cossacks pushed southward as far as the Yental mines, defeating the Japanese in a series of warm skirmishes. The most important action, however, occurred on the Japanese right at Bentziaputze. Here the Japanese held a strong and important position, but it seems they made the inexplicable omission to fortify a commanding hill which was the key to the whole situation. A portion of General Kuropatkin's force made a strong attack on Bentziaputze, and taking a leaf out of the Japanese book, occupied the hill from the east and flanked the Japanese out of town, causing a serious loss in a rear-guard fight.

Japs Retreating

The Russian casualties are reported to have been considerable.

While the operations are progressing south of Mukden, it is reported that two Japanese divisions under Gen. Fushimi are marching west up the Liao River and are now 22 miles south of Simintin. General Kuropatkin is expected to make a similar move eastward. This statement, if accurate, leaves the two armies in the anomalous position of threatening each other's lines of communication, the Japanese by a wide turning movement, while the Russians pushing south, have already indicated a blow upon the Japanese right, and are crowding back their centre along the railway.

What May Result.

While it is understood that Mukden is not heavily fortified, Gen. Kuropatkin has a powerful force behind him, strongly posted at Tia Pass, and, if, as he asserts, the Russians are now powerful enough to assume the offensive, it is possible his advance movement will force the Japanese flanking column to withdraw in order to protect their own base. On the other hand, there seems to be a possibility of one or both the Japanese columns threatening the railway behind the Russians and forcing a suspension of their aggressive movement.

Kuropatkin Boasting.

London, Oct. 10.—In his address to his army, Gen. Kuropatkin asserts that the Russians have a force numerically superior to that of the Japanese, and he predicts a telling victory for his soldiers. The retirement of the Japanese on their position at Liaoyang is construed as evidencing the desire of Field Marshal Oyama to draw the Russians into an attack upon a strong defensive position. The dry weather is favorable to military operations.

The fleet blockading Port Arthur is reported to be more than usually alert, watching for British ships that are supposed to be planning to take supplies into the harbor.

British Steamer Stopped.

Che Foo, Oct. 10.—The increased activity of the Japanese fleet blockading Port Arthur in the stopping of merchantmen, is due to a lookout which is kept for three British ships, which, it is suspected, intend to attempt to enter Port Arthur with tinneled meats and vegetables. The British steamer Victoria was stopped near Wei-Hai-Wei last evening.

BURIED AT NUNEHAM.

Funeral of Sir William Vernon-Harcourt Simple and Private.

London, Oct. 7.—The remains of Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, who died on Saturday, were buried in the family vault at Nuneham, Oxford, yesterday afternoon, with the utmost simplicity and privacy. Only the family and tenantry were present. Simultaneously a memorial service was held at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, where representatives of King Edward and the Prince of Wales were among the numerous congregation, which included the Foreign Ambassadors and Ministers, Cabinet Ministers and personal and political colleagues of the deceased statesman.

Coal Drivers' Strike Settles.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 10.—A strike of coal drivers here threatens to affect the State Insane Asylum, the hospitals and all county and city institutions, to stop the street cars and interurban lines and to seriously affect business.

COAL OR WOOD FOR SCHOOLS

BOARD OF EDUCATION AGAIN TALKED FUEL LAST TUESDAY.

A Battery of Five Typewriters Required for Commercial Students.

Chairman Thos. Stewart presided at the regular meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday, Oct. 12th. The members present were Messrs. R. Kennedy, J. Carew, R. M. Beal, Dr. Blomfield, Jos. Staples, Wm. Davitt, J. G. Edwards, Principal Broderick and several of the teachers were also in attendance.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read by Secretary Spier, and on motion were confirmed.

Attendance at the Schools.

Principal Horstone's report gave 239 as the number of students on the roll of the Collegiate—147 from the town, 74 from the County of Victoria, and 18 from outside points. Average attendance for September, 205. The report closed with the disquieting sentence that should the large attendance keep up the Board should seriously consider the advisability of adding another teacher to the staff at the beginning of the new year—Lyed.

Principal Broderick reported 908 pupils on the rolls of the several ward schools, the average attendance being 820. Number in IV. Book, 148; III. Book, 224; II. Book, 280; I. Book, 306—Lyed.

The Half-Day System. Mr. Beal said that while visiting the schools the previous day in connection with the stove and fuel question he had observed that the half-day system was in force among the junior pupils. Was that done with the knowledge of the Board?

Chairman Stewart—"Yes, that plan has been followed with success for some time in the case of beginners."

Mr. Beal—"What is the object? That was one of the things that struck us when we came to the town—we wished our children to attend school the full time, but found it to be impossible."

Chairman Stewart—"I don't wish to start a lengthy discussion, but I may say that the Board gave the plan very careful consideration and a thorough test before finally endorsing it. It is better for both teachers and pupils."

Mr. Staples—"It gives the children a chance to grow."

Chairman Stewart—"Yes, and it enables one teacher to handle a double complement of pupils."

Principal Broderick—"In the eastward there are 80 children in the primary class, and one teacher could not handle that number at one time."

Chairman Stewart (to Mr. Beal)—"You can re-open this question again at some future meeting."

More Typewriters Needed.

Chairman Stewart—"The proposed purchase of the typewriters now in use in the Collegiate is one of the matters held over from last meeting. Has the special committee a report?"

Mr. Beal—"The committee recommended that two new Empire typewriters be purchased in addition to the three now in use in the Collegiate."

Mr. Beal—"While a member of the committee I am not fully convinced as to the necessity of buying the additional machines, and would like to hear from Mr. Roseyear on the subject."

Mr. Kennedy—"I was appointed on the committee, but was not notified of any meeting."

Mr. Staples—"That was through an oversight on the part of Secretary Spier—it was not intentional."

It was then moved by Mr. Staples, seconded by Dr. Blomfield, that the report of the committee re typewriters be adopted.

Mr. Kennedy moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Edwards, that the report be referred back. "I don't like a hole-in-corner committee meeting," remarked Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. Roseyear, Commercial Master, was heard. He explained that 35 students are now taking the full Commercial course, and he had divided the time as carefully as possible, yet each student had only about one hour and ten minutes per week at the typewriter, which was not enough. Five machines would allow each student a proper term for practice. In Port Hope, not as large a school as Lindsay, there are six machines, and in Colborne either five or six.

Mr. Kennedy—"In writing for the Commercial course is a knowledge of the typewriter necessary?"

Mr. Roseyear—"The old regulations called for it, but under the new ones it is left to the discretion of principals and trustees."

Mr. Kennedy—"In any event we have not yet been given the information asked for—we do not know that the introduction of typewriters has increased the attendance or not. I think they are a damage to the schools, and not long ago I noticed an editorial in one of the daily papers in which it was stated that Toronto educationists were thinking of throwing them out of the schools. It's a sad on the part of our teachers, and what they want they generally stick to till they get it."

Mr. Staples—"The committee thought the increase in commercial class students from 9 to 35 was sufficient proof that the introduction of typewriters was a step in the right direction. Other schools teach typewriting and if we do not the students will go elsewhere for their knowledge."

Mr. Carew—"Three machines have answered so far, and I think we can get along with that number for a while yet."

Mr. Beal—"Let us buy the three machines now under rental."

After some further discussion the matter was referred back to the committee for further consideration. Mr. Kennedy to be present.

Mr. Staples presented the report of the Finance committee, recommending payment of a few accounts, adopted. Next Mr. Staples read the report of the Special committee appointed to consider the question of fuel and the number of coal stoves to be purchased. The report recommended that two stoves be secured for the North Ward schools, three for Francis-st., and two for the South Ward, and that same be cured from Mr. D. Cinnamon at a cost of $18 each, the stoves to be the "Fire King" type; also that the furnaces in the Collegiate Institute and east ward school be fitted to burn hard coal, and that the following be purchased—10 tons for north ward, 12 tons for Francis-st., 10 tons for south ward, 20 tons for east ward, and 50 tons for the Collegiate Institute, the orders to be divided among the several dealers.

Mr. Kennedy criticized the quantities named and objected to hard coal being used in the furnaces when soft coal costing much less, would do as well.

Mr. Beal—"There would be an escape of gas, as the flues would choke up constantly."

Mr. Staples—"What do the churches use?"

Mr. Beal—"Hard coal, of course."

Mr. Carew—"If you go in for coal, let us use the cheapest."

Mr. Beal—"Which do you prefer to burn in your house—hardwood or soft wood?"

Mr. Carew—"A good many citizens burn soft wood all winter."

Mr. Kennedy—"I know that to be a fact—I do so myself."

Mr. Edwards—"Call for tenders; we should get 100 tons at a lower rate than $7."

Mr. Staples—"When I asked for a lower rate they quoted me figures to show that they could not afford to knock even 25c. a ton off. They are reliable men and I believe them."

Mr. Carew—"If we pay $7 for one ton we certainly are entitled to a reduction on 100 tons. My company has been dickering in coal, and I'm not afraid to say that the dealers could well afford to cut off 40 cents per ton on a 100-ton lot if they cared to do so. If you're not satisfied with the prices your coal in car lots like the dealers. If a man comes to me for 100,000 feet of lumber he will give him a better rate than he buyer of 1000 feet will receive."

Mr. Kennedy—"If I owned the furnaces I would use soft coal. We can get best three-quarter lump at $4.20 per car, or $4.55 delivered. Car-takers could not waste soft coal by shaking."

Mr. Staples—"The committee took all those matters into consideration. No sensible person would use soft wood in winter if they could get hard at a reasonable price. What condition would our schools be in if we used the cake-makers with lots of soap?"

Mr. Kennedy estimated that Mr. Staples seemed to be laboring under the impression that all the good sense of the Board was concentrated in the cranium of the special committee.

Mr. Staples—"Messrs. Kennedy and Carew were proved wrong at last meeting in connection with the wood matter, and they may be wrong about the virtues of soft coal."

Mr. Beal—"Why not ask the Spread-Board people what class of coal they would recommend to be used in connection with their heating and ventilation system?"

Mr. Staples—"We have done so. They wrote that soft coal is being used in a number of places, but they advise hard coal."

Mr. Edwards—"Why not so much coal when we do not know what it will be as economical as we hope? Buy a few tons to try."

Mr. Beal—"The trouble is that the furnaces must be specially fitted for either hard or soft coal."

The portion of the report dealing with purchase of coal stoves was here adopted.

Col. Deacon—"This is Greek to me, but I would like to know the relative heating virtues of hard and soft coal."

Chairman Stewart—"About on a par with hard and soft wood."

Col. Deacon—"Use hard coal; the soft kind goes off in a blaze up the chimney to warm the outside air."

Principal Horstone—"There is one thing that the Board should remember—the basement is heated by pipes from the furnace."

Mr. Staples—"That's not a stumbling block."

Mr. Kennedy—"You may change your opinion if you have to call in a plumber every few days."

Mr. Carew—"There's another point—you can burn soft coal with wood if you like—we're doing it on our steamer."

Mr. Beal—"No, no, there must be a smaller fire box for coal or there will be waste."

Mr. Carew—"Some fire bricks will do that."

Mr. Devitt—"Change a couple of furnaces in the Collegiate and let us try an experiment."

Chairman Stewart finally advised that the committee again visit the schools and re-consider the matter, and on motion Messrs. Carew, Edwards and Kennedy were added to the roll of members.

On motion the Managing committee was authorized to call for tenders for the purchase of 2 foot wood for the Central School.

The Board then adjourned.

FRUIT TRANSPORTATION REDUCED

As a Result of the Evidence Given Before the Royal Commission.

It is announced in the October issue of the Horticulturist, that as a result of the evidence given recently before the Railway commission by representatives of the fruit interests, the Railway Company have voluntarily made some material concessions.

A reduction has been made in the rate of mixed car lots of fruit, from the principal shipping districts to the larger centers of distribution, such as Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa and Winnipeg. A special rate for one half car lots, of 10,000 lbs. or over has also been made. In addition the flat rate for long cars, destined for Manitoba, has been abolished, and hereafter shippers will only be charged for the actual amount of ice supplied.

While these concessions are by no means all that the fruit interests asked for, they are, however, considered to be a considerable measure of relief to a very serious situation.

Price of Apples.—As a result of reports received from all parts of the Province, the Canadian Horticulturist announces in its October issue that the apple crops of the Province this year is not nearly as large as last, and that the same is true throughout the United States generally. There is little reason for the dearth of reports of buyers concerning the large crops. While there is a large amount of poor fruit throughout Ontario, the general quality is good, and growers should realize better prices than are being offered. For No. 1 and No. 2, which is good, growers should not accept less than 75 cents to $1.00 per barrel on the tree, where considerable quantities of fruit can be given the buyer. Reports received by the Horticulturist show that buyers are offering from 25 cents to 75 cents per barrel for fruit.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it. In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

THE PREMIER'S TOUR

Begins His Two Weeks' Ontario Campaign in Hamilton.

NOMINATIONS ON SATURDAY

Hon. James Sutherland Again in the Field.—Mr. C. D. Heyd in Brantford—Hon. Peter White to Try Again in North Renfrew—Hon. E. F. Clarke For Conservatives in Centre Toronto.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—It will be nine years on the 17th of this month since Sir Wilfrid Laurier began his famous tour of Ontario in 1896. The opening meeting was in Morrisburg, and it was held in the open air. Bitter cold was the weather, but a large crowd stood entranced, heedless of the cold, as they listened to the coming Premier's oratory. Sir Wilfrid had been challenged to make known his policy on the school question, and at Morrisburg he used the striking expression that he stood within the lines of Torres Vedras. The policy expanded by the then Opposition leader sent him triumphant into office less than twelve months afterwards. Last night Sir Wilfrid started upon another tour of Ontario, and there is little doubt that his campaign will be as successful as the one waged nine years ago. He is the beloved head of a powerful Administration, under whose rule prosperity has come to Canada, and the country has flourished. Wherever he goes throughout the Province Sir Wilfrid will have the same story to tell of peace, prosperity and plenty. Lady Laurier accompanies her beloved husband, and will remain with him throughout the journey. She shares in his triumphs as well as his trials, and is a real comfort and source of strength to him. Mr. Rodolphe Boudreau, the Premier's private secretary, and Mr. Alex. Smith are also in the party.

The Premier At Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 10.—Arrangements for the big Laurier meeting in the drill hall to-night have been completed. So great is the desire to hear the Premier of the Dominion it is thought the large hall will not be nearly large enough to accommodate the crowd. It is expected that Sir Wilfrid will begin his speech about 8.30. He will be followed by Hon. William Patterson, and Hon. A. B. Williams will be the last speaker. President James Chisholm will open the meeting, and the Liberal candidates for Hamilton, Messrs. Adam Zimmerman and J. M. Eastwood will say a few words to the electors.

Mr. Borden at Peterboro.

Peterboro, Oct. 10.—Prosperous Peterboro, the scene of a revival of industrial activity equalled in few points in Canada, Saturday night heard Mr. R. L. Borden enunciate his policy with respect to adequate protection and the Transcontinental Railway. On the former there must have been mental reservations, for in spite of the discouraging views of Mr. James Kendry, the Opposition candidate, the population of the town has increased from 10,000 to 14,000 since 1896, 200 new houses are being built this year, electric cars, after years of idleness, are again in use, several new factories have been established and many others enlarged. On the railway question Mr. Borden had nothing new to say. The afternoon meeting at Havelock, in the interests of Mr. John A. Sexsmith in East Peterboro, was marked by the presence in the chair of Rev. W. R. Tandy, Anglican clergyman, who took a high stand and commended both Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier as high-minded and honorable men.

Politics in a Nutshell.

The Conservatives nominated on Saturday Bruno Nantel in Terrebonne.

Saturday Hon. James Sutherland was again nominated in North Oxford.

At Valleyfield George H. Long was nominated to oppose Mr. Bergeron in Beauharnois.

Andrew Broder was again selected as the Conservative candidate for Dundas County on Saturday.

Wm. Ross of Port Perry has received and accepted the unanimous nomination of the Liberals of South Ontario.

Hon. Peter White will be the candidate of the Conservatives in North Renfrew. The convention was held on Saturday.

At Brandon Saturday, R. L. Richardson of The Tribune, Winnipeg, was unanimously selected to oppose the Hon. Charles Sifton.

At the Liberal convention for the constituency of Brantford, Saturday, C. B. Heyd was selected to champion the Liberal cause.

Hon. William Patterson will be tendered a reception at Sarnia Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, when he goes to speak for Dr. Johnston.

L. De L. B. Tache, the Conservative who opposed the late Mr. Blomfield, is again in the field in the County of Hants.

Hon. T. Hackett, ex-M.P.P., received the unanimous nomination of the Conservative party in the County of Stanstead on Saturday.

Quebec Liberals have nominated George Parent, son of Premier Parent, as the opponent of Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain in Montmorency.

The Conservative convention of East Simcoe was held at Midland Saturday and resulted in the nomination of W. H. Bennett for reelection.

E. F. Clarke was on Saturday night unanimously chosen by the Conservatives of the riding of Centre Toronto as their candidate in the coming election.

At the Conservative convention for the east riding of Lambton, held at Watford Saturday, J. E. Armstrong, ex-M. P., of Petrolia, was nominated for the Commons, and Hugh Montgomery, reeve of Plympton, for the Legislature.

Paris on Saturday the Conservative candidate for the riding of Brant, Mr. Ludlow opposes Hon. William Patterson.

North Essex Conservatives met in convention in Windsor Saturday afternoon and nominated John Wesley Hanna, well known criminal lawyer, for the Federal Parliament.

THE DEPUTY SUSPENDED.

Bartlett and a Special Auditor Going Over the Books.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—Melvin Bartlett, the self-confessed pilferer of Government funds, has acceded to the Attorney-General's proposal to furnish evidence to corroborate his charges against Mr. McKellar, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and was taken to the Legislative Buildings, where he was closeted for several hours with a special auditor, going over the books in which the accounts relative to the sale of marriage licenses were kept. It is understood Bartlett has produced two missing books, and which were supposed to have been destroyed. The Minister of Agriculture has suspended Mr. McKellar, pending inquiry into Bartlett's charges.

Arnold Forster Says Army Is Not For Sport Or Recreation.

London, Oct. 8.—At Sheffield Thursday night, Arnold Forster, the Secretary for War, said his experience in the War Office had convinced him that the lessons of the Boer war had not yet been learned, and that dangers existed requiring immediate treatment. "We do not want an army," he said, "for sport, for social opportunities or for recreation, but an army which is ready to face a foreign army and defeat it." Under the peculiar circumstances of this country Mr. Forster thought, "we should not gain from conscription those benefits which advocates expected, while we should impose upon ourselves unnecessary burdens."

Jonathan George Acquitted.

Sandwich, Oct. 8.—Jonathan George, the aged colored man, who was accused of murdering Mrs. Eliza Williams, whose dead body was found in her little home on April 5 last, is a free man. He was liberated Thursday night because the court held that the prosecution had failed to establish a case against him. In making their presentment the Grand Jurors took occasion to severely score the roadhouses which are licensed in Essex County. Justice Teetzel agreed with the jury, and said that houses licensed merely for the purpose of selling liquor are a menace to society. He again referred to Wade Hill, in whose hotel John Rudden received his death blow, and suggested that Hill remove to some other county.

Collier Lyon Honored.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The winning of the amateur golf championship of America at St. Louis by George S. Lyon received civic recognition yesterday by the presentation to Mr. Lyon of a silver fruit dish with the inscription "Presented to Geo. S. Lyon by the City of Toronto on the occasion of his winning the Olympic Championship at St. Louis, U.S.A., September, 1904." In marked contrast to former civic functions of a similar character the ceremony was held in the quietude of the Mayor's private office.

Arrested in Brockville.

Brockville, Oct. 10.—Albert McNab was placed behind the bars, charged with committing thefts in Montreal. McNab's home is in Brockville, but he has been dodging back and forth between here and Montreal for some time past. A secondhand store in the latter place missed a number of watches, rings, etc., on Monday, the 3rd inst. He turned out to be the right man, for a portion of the missing goods was found on him. He told where the remainder had been pawned. In Cornwall and Montreal other charges will be placed against him.

Warns Australians.

London, Oct. 10.—(C. A. P.)—The Sydney Daily Telegraph, the Ministerial organ, warns Australians against Premier Balfour's conference. Even if it is the limited question of closer union the pooling of colonial policies with British is objectionable from every point of view. Australia cannot allow any entanglement with the Imperial Foreign Office. It concludes that it is extremely doubtful if any of the colonies desire a closer union.

Clarksburg Bank Burglarized.

Clarksburg, Oct. 10.—A daring burglary took place here at two o'clock yesterday morning. The vault and safe in C. W. Hartman's Bank and office was blown open by professionals who obtained less than $100 in money. A box containing some notes and drafts were taken, but as they are of no value to the burglars, and the firm have a complete list they will not be seriously inconvenienced. Nearly all are stamped and numbered.

Against a Conference.

London, Oct. 10.—(C. A. P.)—The Right Hon. H. Asquith, M. P., addressing his constituents on a Saturday, said, regarding the proposed conference, that the summoning of such "seems to me to possess no advantage, but to be perfectly futile for its own immediate purpose and to be fraught with danger to our Imperial unity."

Arrive to Be First.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Another successful day marked the Provincial Christian Endeavor convention. The meeting in Massey Hall last night was well attended, and the addresses by Rev. Principal Caven and Prof. Amos R. Wells of Boston were interesting and instructive. Principal Caven discussed the matter of Sabbath observance. Prof. Wells took as his subject, "Wanted—A Leader," and went on to show the necessity among Endeavorers of a greater willingness to lead.

Eighteen Miners Drown.

Dessau, Germany, Oct. 8.—A sudden inrush of water and mud in a coal mine at Gerlebeck district of Koethen Thursday, imprisoned eighteen miners, who are believed to have perished.

THE CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

We offer you a better investment than Government Bonds. Better for three reasons.

1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.

2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.

3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the investor or shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled. A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request.

Hens Lay All Year Round

when you season the food with Myers' Royal Poultry Spice.

Just think what it means to have the hens laying regularly all winter—when eggs bring their best prices.

That's what Myers' Royal Poultry Spice does for the chickens. It's rich in nitrogenous matter—supplies all the constituents that compose the egg and gives more lasting internal heat. It makes hens lay—and insures fertile eggs for setting.

It's wonderful for making young pullets early layers—for fattening chickens, ducks and turkeys—and for raising plump, strong, vigorous poultry.

If you want to make money out of your "chicken yard" feed Myers' Royal Poultry Spice. It's not a food—but a relish.

MARIPOSA AND GOOD ROADS

COUNCIL ENDORSED THE COUNTY SYSTEM AND SELECTED 40 MILES

Motion in Favor of Abolishing County Council Division.

The Council met in special session on the 28th Sept., when the following motion was passed:

Moved by Messrs. Taylor and Watson, that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Mariposa request the County Council of the County of Victoria to submit to the vote of the electors of said County a by-law in conformity with the municipal amendment act of 1904, sec. 3, chapter 22, of the statutes of Ontario, 1904, declaring that thereafter the Council of said County shall be composed of the Reeves of townships, and villages and mayors of towns, instead of representation by the County Council divisions as now existing.

On motion of Messrs. Watson and Michael, the Council then adjourned till the next regular meeting.

The Municipal Council of Mariposa met in regular session on Monday, the 10th of October, 1904.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and also the special meeting were read and confirmed.

The following communications were read:

From Messrs. McSwamy & Smith, relative to the Hill drain, in which the contractor finds it impossible to proceed with the work on account of the scarcity of labor. Mr. Millar also agrees to release the township from the contract in case they can get the work done otherwise.

A report of the standing committee on Roads and Bridges, in reference to the County Road System.

The report of the Engineer, in regard to putting in a culvert at lots 15 and 16, con. S, on the Oakwood drainage system.

Messrs. S. J. Fox, M.P.P., W. H. Hancock, John Robinson and W. H. McCrannan waited on the Council to take into consideration some other method of completing the Hancock drain, as apparently Mr. Robinson cannot complete his contract.

Messrs. Shaver and Channon, of the County Council, were present to discuss the question of selecting roads in the township that would likely form part of the County Road System and the following roads were outlined for further consideration:

The side road between lots 15 and 16, and north from concession 2 to 14; the 14th concession line from lot 5 east to lot 20; the side road between lots 5 and 6 and north one concession from the 14th line; concession line 13 across 5 lots, including 1 and 5; concession line 9 across 19 lots, including lots 6 and 24; concession line 6 across 8 lots, including 16 and 24; concession line 5 across 10 lots, including lots 6 and 15; concession line 2 across 10 lots, including lots 1 and 10, and across 5 lots including lots 16 and 20; the boundary line of Ops from concession line 9 south to the road going to Lindsay. In all a distance of about 40 miles.

BREEZY LOCAL BREVITIES

CATHERED BY POST REPORTERS ON THEIR DAILY ROUNDS

What is Happening in Town and the Country About Us.

—Sloppy weather.

—Navigation is drawing to a close.

—Shoe dealers report a big run on their stocks of rubbers.

—Mr. A. Primeau's grocery front is receiving a fine new coat of paint.

Use Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) to wash woollens and flannele,—you'll like it.

—There has been no police court for some time now. We are getting good.

—Remember the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. still pay 3 1/2 per cent. on deposit.—wtf.

—At the adjourned sale of Peterboro Cheese Board yesterday, 5c. was paid by the buyers.

—A new brass sign decorates the doorway of E. A. Robinson's shoe store. It advertises "The Crossed Shoe."

—Mr. James Corley, whose farm adjoins the town, has had a portion of his property surveyed and divided up into building lots.

—Farmers should take advantage of the Victoria Loan & Savings Co's office hours—open from 9 a. m. to 4.30 p. m. every legal day.—wtf.

—The name of Chemong post office at Bracebridge has been changed to Curve lake. The post office at the Indian village will still be called Chemong.

—Mr. Geo. McGee, of Fenelon, has just closed a deal with Mr. W. H. Leveson, of Cayuga, near Franklin, for his 200 acre farm. The price paid was $6,200.

—Dr. Ryerson, of 60 College-st., Toronto, will be at the Simpson house for consultation in Eye, Ear and Throat cases on Saturday, Oct. 22nd.—wtd3.

—Grain is passing through in considerable quantities from Midland elevators, which are being emptied, preparatory to the arrival of the fall fleet of grain carriers from Chicago.

—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is announced to speak in Brock-st. rink, Peterboro, on Thursday evening, Oct. 20th, in the interests of R. R. Hall, Liberal candidate for West Peterboro.

—Mr. James M. Chalmers, contractor, is carrying out extensive improvements in the Grand Trunk Pump-house and repair shop. A cement floor and cement-lined cleaning pits under the engines are being put in.

—The interior work on Contractor Chalmers' new residence on William-st. is approaching completion, and he expects to occupy it shortly. He has men at work on his Wellington-st. lot casting cement blocks for his new stone dwelling.

—Mr. J. J. Lundy, of Peterboro, who was in town Monday, informed us that he thinks of making many improvements in his William-st. terrace in the early spring. He is delighted with the steady progress the town is making.

—Some Peterboro ratcatchers are up in arms, because of the apparently excessive cost of certain repairs made to the schools in vacation time! The assertion is made that the committee in charge did not supervise the work in a proper manner.

—The G.T.R. system informs all its employees that "intoxication or the use of intoxicating liquors will be sufficient cause for dismissal," and also that "persons frequenting gambling houses or places where liquor is sold, will not be retained in the service."

—Bobbygon lock will be closed for the season about the 20th inst. and the towmen's dues are being kept at work almost night and day towing logs and other produce from lower lake points. Mr. J. Carew has M. M. Boyd's powerful tug, "Ajax," in commission in addition to his own craft, the Beaver.

—Mr. Thos. McConnell, the owner, is having a large addition built in the rear of the premises occupied by Mrs. J. Eggs, who has been sadly cramped for room of late owing to his increasing trade. The extension will almost double his floor space, and will permit of a better arrangement of the lines carried.

—The morning train from the north brought down a large number of Reform delegates, two extra coaches being added to accommodate the visitors. The C.P.R. also brought a goodly number, many friends and well wishers taking advantage of the reduced rates to visit the town and be present at the convention.

—No less than twelve bridal parties boarded the Midland east bound train between Midland and Blackwater, Wednesday afternoon of last week and it is rumored that in between Mr. St. James' moves were so upset by the lovers that he still talks in his sleep about lovey-doveys and tootsy-wootsy.

—Mr. A. J. Graham, clothier, is now comfortably settled in his new home on the east corner of Lindsay and Guelph-sts. This residence is one of the finest in the south ward, and is fitted with the latest conveniences for comfort and labor-saving labor. The lawn is a large one and will present a fine appearance in the spring.

—Through an error of ours Mr. D. Sinclair, of Cambray, did not secure full justice in our Central Fair report. He showed four head of short-horn cattle and captured 1st prize for two year old heifer, 2nd prize for cow and 3rd for bull calf. In between Mr. Sinclair captured 2nd prize in the general purpose class and the same animal took 1st in the competition for the Sylvester plow.

—Error in Central Prize List.

In our report of the Lindsay Central, published last week, Mr. F. P. Coad, harnessmaker, was erroneously credited with having secured second prize for farm harness. The honor belongs to Mr. H. J. Little, Mr. J. A. Williamson was also wrongfully given credit for taking first prize in farm harness. Mr. Little being again the prize winner. The error was unintentional and occurred in copying the prize list.

A Heart-to-Heart Talk on Clothing

Don't skip a word or you may skip a dollar. It's the cautious people we're after—those who know a good dollar's worth in most things, but are not quite sure about clothing values.

Now, to begin. We do not sell the cheapest clothing, but we do sell the best clothing cheapest. You never read an adv't of poor clothing. Strange, too, for there's more poor than good. Each advertiser represents his own as being better and cheaper than others. How can the public discriminate? Only one certain way, come and see.

We are exclusive sellers in Lindsay of the renowned Progress and Twentieth Century Clothing. If there's any fault in this clothing neither makers nor wearers have ever discovered it. If you will visit our store we'll convince you even if it should come to giving you a suit or overcoat on trial.

We've wedded high artistic designs to values of thorough honesty. Adults' suits and overcoats priced alike—$5, $7, $10, $12, $15, $17, $20. Boys' in proportion. All kinds of Furnishings

"Progress" Guarantee

Every clothier selling "PROGRESS" Brand Clothing, is authorized to guarantee each garment, bearing the "PROGRESS" label, to be free from imperfections in material and workmanship—to be sewed with pure dye silk—tailored by skilled workmen—and made of dependable cloth, thoroughly sponged and shrunk.

Should any "Progress" garment prove not as represented—the money paid for same will be refunded.

TORY FALSE PROPHETS AND THE LIBERAL POLICY.

What was the Attitude of the Tory Party Toward the Liberal Tariff Reforms in 1897, When it was Fully Before Them?

Hear Sir Charles Tupper in the House, as reported in Hansard: "The result is that the tariff goes into operation and the hon. gentleman knows that the industries of this country are already paralyzed in consequence, while honorable members gloat over the destruction of Canadian industries."

"I was reading the wail, the sorrowful wail, of those industries in The Montreal Gazette, where one manufacturer after another declared that those industries were ruined, that their mills must close, and that they saw staring them in the face a return to the deplorable state of things that existed when the honorable gentleman who last addressed the House was in charge of the fiscal policy of this country."

"I say that a deeper wrong was never inflicted upon Canada."

"I feel that, so far from rejoicing at it from a party standpoint, I deplore from the bottom of my heart the ruin that is going to be inflicted upon the best interests of Canada and upon its great industries."

Eight years of Liberal rule has given us the following comparison:

Tory years.....	$ 8,655,531
Increase of trade 7
Liberal years.....	228,039,325
1896—Total exports.....	121,013,852
1903—Total exports.....	225,849,724
1896—Exports of manufacturers.....	9,365,384
1904—Exports of manufacturers.....	20,624,967
Increase exports, 7
Tory years.....	3,724,204
Increase exports, 7
Liberal years.....	11,102,013

While Tory prophecies of disaster prove so false, why should the people listen to their doleful predictions? The Liberals stand upon their record. They are known by their fruits.

SEVERAL GOOD RESOLUTIONS

REGARDING POLITICAL MORALITY PASSED BY PETERBORO DIVINES

Claimed to Embody Results of Mature and Careful Consideration of Subjects Dealt With.

Examiner: The following propositions, passed recently at the meeting of the Ministerial Association, are given out for publication. They have been under consideration for months, and publication has been deferred until the present as being an opportune time.

In view of the near approach of the General Election, we, the members of the Ministerial Association of the town of Peterboro, feel that it is a part of our duty, as teachers of religion and as citizens in public positions, to urge upon all voters in our community that they more carefully consider their rights and responsibilities in reference to the exercise of the franchise.

1st.—It is important that every voter should clearly understand that he is entrusted with a definite part in the government of the country and the direction of its affairs.

2nd.—By virtue of this position the voter is asked, as a patriotic citizen, to express his deliberate opinion at the polls as to the men most fitted to administer the affairs of the country and as to the policy to be adopted for its interests.

3rd.—But should an elector sell his vote, which is thus entrusted to him as to the expression of his own deliberate opinion, it is clear that he is guilty of disloyalty to his country as well as an act of definite sin.

4th.—Furthermore, any citizen who, by direct or indirect means, bribes his fellow citizen to sell his vote is guilty of still greater disloyalty and sin as the guilt of the tempter is necessarily greater than that of the tempted.

5th.—We appeal to our fellow ministers of the gospel throughout the country to join in a general effort to free our beloved land from political immorality and to lead our people to a higher and nobler conception of citizenship.

On behalf of the Association,
J. C. DAYTON, M.A., President,
J. G. LEWIS, B.A., Secretary,
Peterboro, October 2, 1901.

A THOUGHTFUL PRIEST

Points out to Mothers the Way to Keep Their Children Well and Happy

Rev. J. L. Francoeur, Casselman, Ont., is a kind-hearted priest who has done much to alleviate suffering among the little ones in the homes of his parishioners. Writing under a recent date he says: "I must say that Dr. Williams' Baby's Own Tablets are deserving of the high praise they have had as a cure for the ailments of children. For the past eight months I have been introducing them in many families, and, alas, the mothers tell me, with perfect results. Their action is always effective, without any sickly reaction, and they are especially valuable in allaying pains in the head, fever, teething, nervousness, sleeplessness, spasms, cramps in the stomach and bowels, colic and other troubles. Their regulating action gives almost instant relief and gives speedy cure. This is the comforting experience that has come to my knowledge out of their judicious use. I am glad to give you my sincere testimony, and I will recommend the Tablets to all mothers and nurses of sick children as I have done heretofore."

These Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers, or mothers can obtain them by mail at 25 cents a box by writing to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

An Upward Drop.

(Toronto Star.)

The Mail is of the opinion that "the Scotch-Canadians dropped." The Globe because of the Dundonald incident. Dropped. To be sure! The circulation returns for the four months of the Dundonald controversy show an increase of $12,750 over the same months of last year, of $68,650 over 1902, and $91,400 over 1901; the daily average at the present time being 3,000 ahead of last year, 5,000 ahead of 1902 and 7,000 ahead of 1901. A "drop" like that almost atones for Dundonald's "militarism." When Scotch-Canadians "drop the organ" the time is stirring as the pibroch on the heathery hills.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to a croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by all druggists.

Sturgeon Point Notes.

Some of the home-going cottagers left their cats behind to starve, and Constable Graham is half inclined to prosecute them for cruelty to animals.

Partridges are quite numerous here, and some of our sportsmen are having great luck. Mr. Geo. Foster, of Lindsay, spent Saturday here and bagged two pump ducks.

The fall ducks are gathering. Great flocks of them may be seen every morning and evening on the lake, and occasionally quite close to the shore, but they are wild and difficult of approach. Later in the season, when the ice begins to form, the Point sports hope to do some execution among them.

Next spring will see a lot of building going on here. Mr. Broderick, Principal of the Lindsay Public Schools, has sold his handsome cottage near the Spring to Mr. Armour, teacher, and has purchased a lot north of the spring. Mr. R. M. Beal and Mr. Sutcliffe will also build near Mr. Broderick, at Graham's landing.

Although the summer is past the Point is not yet deserted. Half-a-dozen or so families are still here, being loath to leave until the snow flies. They hold that residence here in the fall season is perfectly delightful, and that the price they pay for it after the departure of the great majority constitutes no small part of the charm.

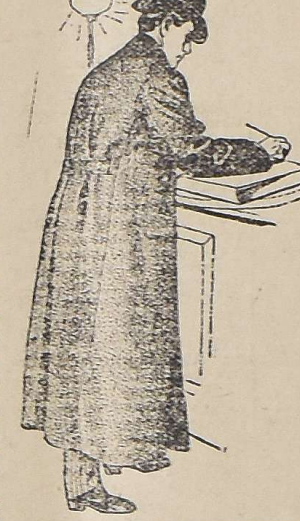

Mr. Jas. McFadden recently completed a very substantial wharf here for Dr. Reardon. The new wharf is just west of Reardon's wharf, and is 25x30 feet. It is built of 12 inch oak, is fastened together with heavy iron bolts and filled solid with stone and gravel. The timber is faced with three thick tamarac plank and the top covered with two inch plank. The job is workmanlike and a credit to its builder.

REV. R. BAMFORTH, OF TRENTON.

Heard at the Cambridge-st Methodist Church Sunday.

During the absence of Rev. Geo. W. Henderson Sunday, the pulpit of Cambridge-st. Methodist church was ably occupied by Rev. R. Bamforth, of Trenton. His morning text was found in the gospel of Luke, 1st chap. 15th verse, "For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord." In his discourse Mr. Bamforth studied the kind of man whom God calls great. He studied the man from two points of view—from the negative and positive and took John the Baptist as an example. Birth and might are not essential in God's great man; piety and poverty, in men are good things; a man shall pass at his true face value and no more. We are living in an age that is becoming stronger and stronger and that is demanding the kind of man whom God calls great. The moral strength of this world has mostly come from that ideal. Social fashions are not essential to the making of the man that God calls great. There is a struggle in the world to-day to be in society won't recognize struggle with the parents to keep pace with the rush. Another element not essential in the making of a man is independence of success. The world demands successful men to make it successful. If men are not successful, society won't recognize them. God calls a man great because of his unwavering decision for truth. John the Baptist had a great soul; he was no slave to appetite and defied the cup. His manly witnessing for Christ was phenomenal; he said he must decrease and let God increase. He stood on truth's foundation and he was listened to with interest, and was appreciated by all. In the evening he delivered an impressive sermon on "So I pray the God of Heaven." This choir rendered some appropriate music.

At Cambridge-st Methodist Sunday School yesterday the 298 scholars present showed their appreciation for the former services of Mr. John Palmer, who is now in Winnipeg Hospital, by giving a ver liberal collection of $37.47 for his use. Miss Wards class contributed $5 towards the amount and the bible class $4. Mr. Palmer was well thought of by all the scholars.

Storer, 10 lbs. honey; Mrs. Whiteside, 2 jars preserved fruit; Mrs. Trew, basket crab apples; Mrs. Milne, flowers.

Stomach Troubles Can Be Cured

Mr. Joseph Pominville, one of the most prominent business men in Stillwater, Minn., after having spent $2,000 with the best doctors for a stomach trouble without relief, was advised to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bilious attacks, lack of appetite or constipation, these Tablets are just what you need. Price 25c.; all druggists.

FOR EMPIRE POLICY.

Great Britain Must Decide What She Will Give.

London, Oct. 11.—(O.A.P.)—The Glasgow Herald says it is time that the issue be put directly to the people of this country. Great Britain must make up her mind what she is prepared to give in the way of preference before calling a conference. Any other course would be unfair to the colonies, whether it involved one general election or two.

Rosebery Misquoted. The Chronicle says Mr. Chamberlain is forever misquoting the speech in Leeds, in which Lord Rosebery spoke of "some sacrifice" as necessary in order to obtain the boon of a strong and united Empire. It was as the context shows of sacrifices of British monopoly in the political administrative sphere of which he was thinking. There are many problems awaiting discussion in this sphere, problems of which more than one incident in recent policy, Alaska, for instance, and Newfoundland, has shown the importance. It is then a complete misapprehension to suppose that the opposition to the Balfour-Chamberlain conference involves the Liberal party in a policy of mere negation in inter-imperial affairs.

Oppose Preference to Canada. Sir Charles Dilke, M.P., speaking at Newport, said that the interests of the United Kingdom and of India and of the overwhelming bulk of the population and trade and shipping of the Empire were a preference in the interests of Canada, but, on the other hand, favor a preference in favor of the greatest trade. Australia could not be benefited by it, although some interests in certain parts could.

Morley Calls On Friday. London, Oct. 11.—(O. A. P.)—Rt. Hon. John Morley, M.P., sails for New York per the S.S. Celtic on Friday, and is expected to proceed at once to Canada.

Leper in Vancouver. Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Another leper was arrested last night while walking the streets of this city.

Succession to Burns.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Little Florence Dill, the six-year-old girl, who was so severely burned at her home at 3 Drummond Place, on Saturday morning by a match thrown by a boy in the neighboring yard, died at St. Michael's Hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Steamer North Star Burned.

Peterboro, Oct. 11.—About noon Sunday the steamer North Star, which for the past 10 years has been running between Peterboro and Rice Lake points, was burned to the water's edge. There was $600 worth of freight on board. There is but little insurance on the boat, which was owned by Capt. Harris of Gores Landing. The boat was about 70 feet long.

Only the Actual Cost.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The Railway Commission's judgment in the case of the Ontario fruit growers' appeal, which resembled a sealer, off Davis Inlet on Tuesday last. The steamer was apparently disabled. It is believed that she is the Canadian cruiser Arctic (formerly the Gauss), bound for Hudson Bay, and that her engines are out of order.

Gets $600 From Railway.

London, Oct. 11.—At the Assize Court yesterday morning, in the case of Barris v. Pere Marquette Railway, the plaintiff was awarded $600 damages. Plaintiff suffered injuries early in the summer while riding on the steps of an over-crowded coach on a Port Stanley excursion.

Struck in the Neck.

Peterboro, Oct. 11.—At the noted Italian house on Bethune street, Sunday afternoon, a number of Italians had congregated. A fight occurred, and as a result one of the inmates was stabbed in the neck. His wounds were dressed, but the police have not captured their man.

David Irvine Dead.

Salem, Ont., Oct. 11.—There died here yesterday suddenly of paralysis David Irvine, aged 66, an army pensioner, formerly hospital dispenser of the 25th Regiment.

Revolt in Santo Domingo.

Cape Haytian, Cape Hayti, Oct. 6. Special advices from Monte Cristi, Republic of Santo Domingo, announce that Gen. Candelaria De Las Rosas, with 50 men, revolted against the Government. Sept. 26, in favor of Isidoro Jimenez, and started for the interior.

With Captain Bernier.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—A telegram from A. P. Low of the Hudson Bay expedition, was received by the Marine Department on Saturday announcing that the steamer Arctic, with Major Moodie's party on board, had reached Port Burwell, Oct. 1. At that point, which is near the entrance to Hudson Strait, the Arctic rendezvoused with the steamer Neptune, which has been in Hudson Bay since 1903.

Is This Boreas?

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 11.—Fishing vessels returning from Labrador report having sighted a strange steamer, which resembled a sealer, off Davis Inlet on Tuesday last. The steamer was apparently disabled. It is believed that she is the Canadian cruiser Arctic (formerly the Gauss), bound for Hudson Bay, and that her engines are out of order.

Archbishop's Farewell.

Boston, Oct. 11.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and bishops representing various parts of the world, addressed a great missionary mass meeting in Tremont Temple last night. The address of the Archbishop was probably the last that he will make in public during his stay in America.

Fire At Nanapan.

Napanee, Oct. 11.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday night the Paisley House Hotel burned. It was discovered to be in flames, and before the fire could be checked they were a total loss. The fire also consumed the adjoining barns of H. Douglas, W. H. Boyle, Dr. Ward and Mr. Stovel.

Died in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Chevalier Trolet, ex-Pontifical Zouave, died yesterday, after three months' illness.

THE LAURIER GOVERNMENT AND THE AGRICULTURISTS.

What a Progressive, Wide-awake and Fair Administration Has Done for the Farmers of Canada.

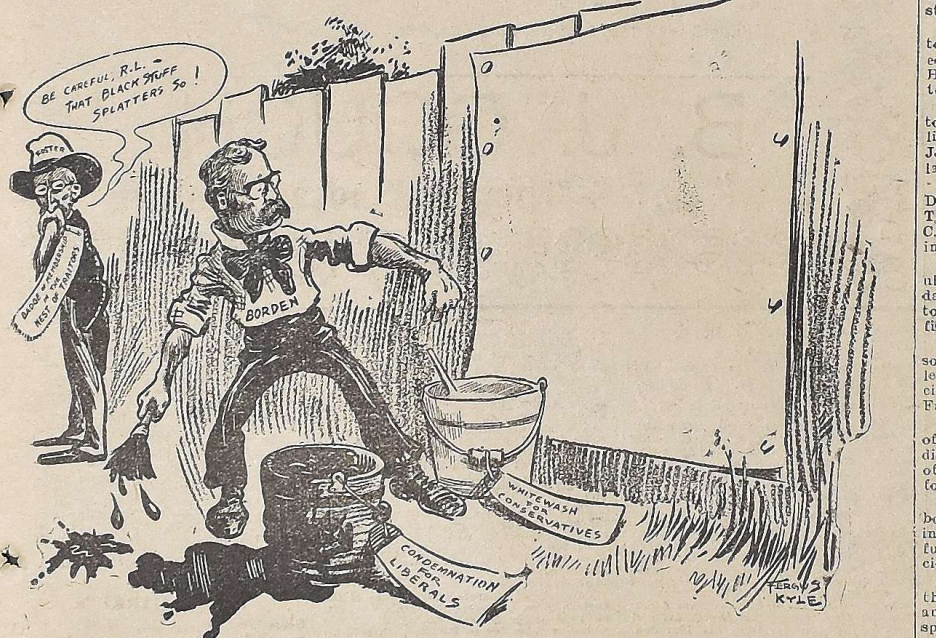

The Laurier Government secured the abolition of the quarantine on Canadian cattle exported to the United States. Result: A fine market for young Canadian stockers and greatly increased sales thereof. Mechanical cold storage facilities were developed and perfected. Result: Increased sales of butter, fruits, etc. A live stock commission was appointed to promote and foster the live stock interests of the country. Creameries were successfully established in the Northwest. A new division was created in the Agricultural Commissioner's branch for the extension of foreign markets, under which officers are detailed to supervise the loading of our agricultural exports at Canadian ports, and the reception of them in British ports, resulting in great improvement in the handling and the storage during transport. The poultry trade has been greatly stimulated by improving the meth-

HUSTLING FOR INSURANCE.

MR. F. J. GILLESPIE, FORMERLY OF THIS TOWN,

Relates Some of his Good Work for the Excelsior Life.

Below we publish an extract from a letter recently received by Mr. Geo. A. Jordan, town, from Mr. F. J. Gillespie, Pacific Coast representative of the Excelsior Life Assurance Co. It will be observed that Mr. Gillespie is displaying considerable energy in conducting business for his company. Here is the proof: Dear Sir, I spent four days (including a Sunday) at Shawanigan Lake. I got in there at 6 p.m. on a Friday; on the following Monday morning at 7 a.m. I took a lap-stroke and rowed across the lake to meet the logging train of the Shawanigan Lake Lumber Company. I got there at 8 a.m., to find two young men trying to put a boom of logs together to tow across the lake. As the logs were both long and large, I had no difficulty in going where they were. I helped them for a couple of hours until the train came, when I boarded the engine for the camp, where I arrived at 10.30 after a three mile ride. I got the permission of the foreman to talk insurance and addressed the crowd after dinner for fifteen minutes, when one fellow came forward and was written. It was then 1 p.m., hence I could do nothing more until 7 p.m. I then got $2,000 more which loaded me up till 9 a.m. It was so dark then, and so much trouble work on the railway, that I feared to return, hence turned in with the boys. I learned that night that nearly all the remaining men were broods, hence I had done about all I could there. At 7 o'clock next morning I started for the lake and found the tow of logs out about half a mile. I pulled hard, overtook it, snubbed my boat to the boom, and clambered over the logs and into the little tug. In fifteen minutes I had the engine written and his chum. They were the pair I helped the day before. I then went back over the logs to my boat and made for the hotel, one mile down the lake, where I arrived at 10 a.m. At 11.30 I visited the mill and during noon hour secured the foreman's son and $10 to bind tickets. In sending in my applications I incidentally gave the particulars to our Secretary, which brought me yesterday the following from our President:

Toronto, Aug. 30th, '04. F. J. Gillespie, esq., Vancouver. Dear Mr. Gillespie, I have read with much interest your report of August 23rd from Shawanigan Lake. There must be something wrong with the Excelsior if the company does not succeed with you as a representative. Certainly any man who will undertake work such as you have done should bring any company to the front. It is a pleasure for me to read such a letter. Yours truly, D. Fisher, President.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great and wide-spread popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and croup essentially and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or harmful substances and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take anything after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

Dress Goods and Silks is by far the best ever shown in this store.

This is a three-horse team, this Dress Goods department, but the team pulls in unison and for the greatest good for all of you. Thoroughly honest, reliable materials are gathered here in a profusion that makes satisfactory choosing an easy matter for any woman of good taste. Buying in large syndicate quantities as we do makes it possible to sell the highest standard qualities at the most popular prices. The originality and exclusiveness of our patterns, linked with our "only one" and "lowest cash" price, and the "determination to do things right," form the third head of the team. For proof of these facts we submit a few prices and descriptions for your perusal, but don't fail to come to the store. Mr. Schwalm, who is at the head of this department, will consider it a favor if you will give him enough of your time to show you some of the new things.

REABORO.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss Phoebe Thorndyke, of Port Hope, is visiting her cousin, Miss M. Thorne.

Mr. Leslie Calvert and sister Annie, returned home Saturday, after spending two weeks visiting friends in Medina, Ohio.

Miss Neilson, of Lindsay, made a brief visit to her friend, Miss Ethel Parks, recently.

A number of our citizens attended the Liberal convention in Lindsay on Tuesday.

Miss Stella Hickson went to Lindsay on Monday to attend the L. C. I. She will be missed here, as she is one of our popular young ladies. We wish her every success.

LITTLE BRITAIN.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
A few of the citizens of our burg left on Wednesday, Oct. 5th, to attend the Oakwood fair, but alas! the rain played hob, and our people were badly disappointed, but enjoyed the outing.

On Thursday last Mr. J. J. Glass, Mr. L. Rogers and Mr. E. E. Dillman attended and contested in the rifle matches held at Lindsay. We think they did exceptionally well with such little practise, they all receiving prizes. Mr. E. E. Dillman captured the highest.

Misses May and Mary Dixon, of Cannington, were the guests of Mrs. J. Frick last week.

Mrs. Clark and children departed on Wednesday morning of last week for Toronto, where they intend making a short visit with friends.

Mr. J. F. Mander, of Lindsay, formerly of this place, was in our midst on Friday last.

Mrs. Hannah and her daughter (Gela), of British Columbia, who were the guests of Mrs. Scales some weeks ago, and who have been lately visiting friends at Woodville, have returned to resume their visit at Mrs. Scales.

Mrs. F. Faithful and daughter, of Toronto, have been the guests of Mrs. B. Faithful for some time.

We are sorry to have to chronicle the death of Miss Lila Swain, of Valence. The mourning friends and acquaintances have the kindest sympathies for our citizens.

Mr. F. Dix, of Maple Grove Farm, took a trip to Haliburton last week to bring home a large brood of young cattle, which he secured some time ago. We understand the number of head is 150. This will mean a lot of work for Mr. Dix.

Mr. Wallace of Lindsay, traveller for the Williams' Shoe Co. of Galt, was in town on Saturday last on business.

Rev. Mr. Tucker, one of our former junior pastors in the Methodist church, filled his old pulpit on Sunday evening. He delivered a fine sermon, which was enjoyed by everyone.

The Rev. Mr. Clark, of our church, took Mr. Tucker's place at Seagrave. Several of the members of our choir attended the temperance meeting of Zion last Sunday. A selection of singing was rendered by the following: Mr. D. Yerex, Mr. James Ferguson and Mr. F. Wickert. Our Zion friends seemed to appreciate it very much.

Miss Ida Tremere, of Salem, was the guest of Mrs. C. Metherell a few days last week.

Miss Crystal Dix, who is attending the Model school at Lindsay, and who has been home for several weeks spent Sunday under the parental roof.

Miss Ida Smith, who has been attending college at Whitby, is home again.

We are sorry to see our junior pastor, the Rev. Mr. Grant, going about town with a stiff neck. He now realizes Job's affliction as never before.

Mr. Wm. Cornish, who had several head of cattle on a ranch back near Balgoban, Lake Umbagog, Saturday and brought them home.

Mr. E. Z. Yerex received a telegram Monday morning, Oct. 11th, stating that his aunt, Harriet Ann Mark, the widow of Thomas Mark, of Port Huron, was dead. The corpse was brought to Mariposa Station by son, Mr. James Mark, of Kilmount. Our undertaker met the train with his horse and accompanied by the friends and relatives, he brought the body to the home of Mr. F. H. Watt. At 2:30 p.m. the funeral service was preached by the Rev. Mr. Clarke, in the Methodist church, after which the remains were interred in the Methodist cemetery.

Mr. T. H. Wallis shipped another car of live stock this week. It seems no trouble to him to secure stock.

A committee has been appointed by the Outfitters to arrange for a concert to open their new hall. The committee are meeting regularly and making the best concert given around these parts. Look out for posters in the near future.

PORTAGE ROAD.

(Special to The Post.)

We regret to have to announce the death of Mrs. Donald McLean, of this place, which occurred on Thursday, 6th inst. The deceased was 68 years of age, and had been ailing for some months, and although her death came as a shock to her family, it was not unexpected. She was of a kind and cheerful disposition and was beloved by all who knew her. The remains were interred in Lakeview cemetery, Kirkfield, on Saturday, and were followed by a large number of friends and acquaintances. The funeral service was conducted at the house by Rev. H. H. Turner. Mrs. McLean is survived by her husband, two daughters, and four sons, who mourn her loss and to whom we extend our deep sympathy.

GILBERT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A large number from here took in the Kilmount Fair and report a lively time.

Mr. F. Train, of Toronto, has purchased the Thompson house and opened up a Temperance house.

Mrs. Geo. Dawkins and Mrs. S. Hughes are away on a visit to Picton.

Mr. Dave Berry is down from Temiskaming on a visit.

Mr. Jack Howard has moved his family to Lindsay.

A concert will be held in Scott's Hall, Thursday, 13th, inst., with Miss Ketting, of Buffalo, as entertainer.

Work on the new English church is progressing rapidly and it will present quite a handsome appearance when completed.

A number of delegates from here attended the Liberal convention at Lindsay on Tuesday.

REABORO.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. D. McMann is the proud possessor of a beautiful black pacer that is likely to show up well on the racing course ere long. He purchased it in the vicinity of Cold Springs, in the Co. of Northumberland.

The candidature of Mr. R. J. McLaughlin for the Commons is looked upon with much favour in this neighborhood. His many sterling qualities will entitle him to the hearty support of Liberals on both sides of politics.

Miss Deatrice Hickson, of Brockville, has been visiting at the home of her mother, during the past two weeks.

Miss Thordyke, of Millbrook, visited her cousin, Miss Mabel Thorne, for some days recently.

Dr. Fogue, who has been visiting at home, attended evening service during the past two or three Sundays.

Mrs. S. Roddy has just completed the purchase of the old Powers property across the road from where she resides.

The young men of Reaboro can set the pace for other villages and some of the larger towns in looking after the comfort of visitors who attend service in the church. Every well managed church should have an usher or two, and you are glad to see some of our young men take the initiative.

NORLAND.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A somewhat quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated here last week, the contracting parties being Miss Mildred Cornemarche and Mr. Oscar Tintale, of Muskoka.

Mr. Alley has opened his new store with a selection of goods from the best houses. The structure is quite an improvement to the village, which is growing rapidly.

It is noted with much satisfaction that the Foresters' Hall is almost completed. It will furnish ample accommodation for entertaining purposes and will doubtless be much sought after.

The second annual show of the Laxton Agricultural Society was held at Norland on Wednesday. The inclement weather was a detriment to a successful showing, debarring many contestants and preventing many visitors from attending. The exhibits generally were good.

There is much sickness at present in this neighborhood, Mrs. S. B. Trick and Mrs. Chris Woodcock being the most serious cases.

Mrs. Wm. Boardway is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Les. Cliff, of Cannington.

Mrs. J. Armour, of Courtoise, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Trick.

MOUNT HOREB.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The farmers of this vicinity are well on with their ploughing. Mr. H. H. Hart and Mr. Robt. McGill are doing a rushing business in this neighborhood in the line of threshing.

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr. John Maitland, of Manvers. The funeral, which went to Onimco cemetery, was largely attended, considering the unfavorable day. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family which consists of Mrs. Richard Skuce, of Emily, and Mr. and Miss Maritla Maitland.

No doubt, but a number of our people will attend the dinner at Fleetwood.

Jackson wears a happy smile on his face over the arrival of a young son.

LORNEVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The late George Shields died at Lindsay on Tuesday of last week. The deceased had not been in good health for some months past, and about three weeks ago the disease from which he was suffering developed to so serious a degree that medical attendants advised his removal to the County Hospital. Here he underwent an operation on Sunday evening, from which he never recovered. The remains were interred in Peterboro cemetery on Friday.

On Tuesday morning a large delegation from the north townships passed through here en route for Lindsay to attend the Liberal convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the party for this constituency at the coming Dominion elections.

Rev. Mr. Smith is the guest of his friend, Mr. McDonald, pastor of St. Andrew's, Eldon.

Messrs. Tim. Newman, Percy Hancock and several others from this community attended the concert at Peterboro on Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. McDonald was called to Sutton on Monday on account of the serious illness of his father, who resides in that place.

FRANK HILL.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

At eight o'clock on Tuesday, Oct. 4th, a very pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Martin's church, Ennismore, when Mr. John Flaherty and Miss Margaret Owens were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Mary Owens, while Mr. M. McAuliffe, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony was over the wedding party drove to the bride's home, in Peterboro, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. Many presents were received by both bride and groom.

There appears to be no rest for the farmers. After laboring hard for some weeks during the harvest season, no sooner is it over than they are busily employed at their fall ploughing.

Mrs. C. Carey and daughter, Miss Nellie, of Rochester, who have been the guests of her sister, Mrs. Edward Hickey, for the past two weeks, returned home on Wednesday.

Mr. John Sullivan, blacksmith, is making some improvements on his shop in the line of shingling it.

Mr. George Franks has at present some men engaged at putting in a cement wall in the basement of his barn.

OAKWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Wesley I. Rich, of Mariposa Station, has returned to Toronto to resume his studies in medicine.

At the time of writing we are pleased to be able to state that Mr. Alfred Webster, one of our most nearby farmers, is on the road to recovery after his severe illness.

The Agricultural Society suffered considerably on account of the bad weather on the 5th. The entries this year exceeded those of last by nearly 300, and there is no doubt, had the weather been fine, the fair would have been better than for years. The directors were obliged to declare the Fair postponed for the year. All those having members tickets for 1904 will be members for 1905 without any additional expense.

The concert given in the town hall in the evening was a great success in spite of the weather conditions. Miss Emma T. Irons, entrenched herself more firmly in the favor of an Oakwood concert, and Mr. H. Blake Hewitt made a fine impression. The proceeds were about $64, which will help the Society out. Mr. Percy Hill, one of our local amateurs, gave several selections, which were rendered in fine style and received generous applause.

Mrs. W. J. McCullough, our barber, has been laid up for some time but we are pleased to see him around again.

Arrangements are being made by the Library Board, with Mr. Walter McRae and Miss E. Pauline Johnston, for an entertainment here in a week or so. Many will remember

WHY SHOULD YOUNG MEN VOTE LIBERAL?

Because the Liberal Party has been the Party of Progress and over Foremost in Upholding the Liberty of the Individual Against Oppression in any Form.

A prominent American periodical has recently published two articles, one from a prominent leader of the Republican party and the other from a gentleman holding a similar position in the Democratic party, on the questions, "Why should a young man vote for the Republican party?" and "Why should a young man vote for the Democratic party?"

This is an important question for young men, because the chances are that the party to which he first attaches himself, and to which he gives his first vote, will continue to be the party with which he will remain connected, and in politics, as in everything else, it is important to start right.

It has been said in the United States that if all the young men that had arrived at the age of majority between one Presidential election and another, or during four years, should all vote one way, they could have reversed the decision at the previous election, as no President had ever received a majority of popular votes equal to such number.

If this is only generally true, it can crease in education, the increase in wealth, make necessary new policies and new creeds to meet the new conditions.

These are they who form the Liberal or Reform Party of a country. It would seem to me enough to demonstrate that the policy efforts of the Liberal party in Canada, for the last century, have been along the lines above defined, simply to name the leaders who have been and are its champions and representatives.

Take the following: Wm. Lyon Mackenzie, Papineau, Bidwell, Lafontaine, George Brown, the Blakes, Oliver Mowat, L. H. Holt, Joseph Daulton, the Dorions, Alexander MacKenzie, Joseph Howe, Senator Penny, L. H. Huntington, David Mills, Sir Richard Cartwright, Felix Marchand, H. G. Joly, Laurier, Fielding and Mulock.

Let us consider for a moment some of the reforms which have been championed by these men. One of the first and no doubt greatest reforms championed and obtained by the Liberals of Canada was for representative government, for, of course, until that was obtained there was little chance of getting anything else. Among other abuses that were abated and reforms may be named extension of the franchise;

France, Gambetta, Jules Simon, Jules Ferry, and Waldeck-Rousseau, and in the United States such men as Washington, Lincoln, Daniel Webster.

Surely these are leaders any one might be proud to follow. They have always been men who have been for the masses against the classes, for the people against autocratic rule, for the principles of liberty, education and morality.

As to the more recent history of the Liberal party, three questions stand out prominently:

1. The tariff issue.
2. The Imperial preference.
3. The G.T.P. Railway.

The election of 1896 was fought and won principally on the tariff question, namely whether the policy of the Conservatives for a high protective tariff, and which had continually been getting higher, should be continued, or whether it was time to call a halt and regulate our tariff, not specially for protection, but for revenue with incidental protection.

In this matter the Liberals showed their usual spirit of tolerance and consideration of the rights of others, and therefore, no sweeping changes in the tariff were made. The result, it is believed, has eminently justified this position.

As to the Imperial preference, I am of the opinion that no act of the Liberal party has ever shown more real patriotism and imperial statesmanship. Even supposing to some extent it has been detrimental to a very few industries in the country, but which I do not believe is the case; no country, any more than a man, lives by bread alone. If we are not to consider for a moment some of the reforms which have been championed by these men. One of the first and no doubt greatest reforms championed and obtained by the Liberals of Canada was for representative government, for, of course, until that was obtained there was little chance of getting anything else. Among other abuses that were abated and reforms may be named extension of the franchise;

France, Gambetta, Jules Simon, Jules Ferry, and Waldeck-Rousseau, and in the United States such men as Washington, Lincoln, Daniel Webster.

Surely these are leaders any one might be proud to follow. They have always been men who have been for the masses against the classes, for the people against autocratic rule, for the principles of liberty, education and morality.

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

Gentlemen,—
As a result of the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Convention, and at the urgent request of many leading Conservatives, I am a candidate for the House of Commons for this constituency.

It will only be possible in the short time between my nomination and the election—only three weeks—for me to visit the more important centres of the constituency. I therefore desire to place my views before you in this way:

1. I believe in tariff based upon the necessities of the public revenue, so adjusted as to protect Canadian industries from unfair competition but not to enable exorbitant prices to be charged the consumer, with such a preference to the Mother Country and sister Colonies as will encourage trade within the Empire. The tariff to be revised from time to time in the interest of the whole people to suit changed conditions, and after careful investigation.

2. I believe in full Government control of all railways through the Railway Commission, which should exercise a general power over rates and service so that people in all parts of the country shall as far as possible, have good railway service at reasonable rates.

3. The battle that Canadians have to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

4. I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have their benefit at the earliest possible time.

5. I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of the same. I would much rather not be elected than that even in one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party; and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing either nomination or election by corrupt and crooked means.

6. With this statement as to my general views, I claim freedom of action and the right always to place what I may believe to be in the interests of the country before any party consideration.

7. It is the duty of a representative to devote himself solely to the interests of his country and constituency and not to attempt to serve two masters by representing for personal gain corporate or private interests at the same time.

8. I have lived among you from my earliest childhood and you have my record. If elected I will devote myself to the interest of the constituency and the country at large.

I ask the assistance of all persons, irrespective of party who earnestly desire the welfare of our constituency and country.

If elected I will represent all parties and see that justice is done to all.

Yours truly,

R. J. McLAUGHLIN, K. C.

THE COUNTY ROADS SYSTEM.

Members of County Council off on a Tour of Inspection.

The movement in favor of a Good Roads System for Victoria is assuming a definite and reassuring shape. Mariposa and Ops Councils have named the leading roads they desire to have improved, and other townships are taking action along the same line.

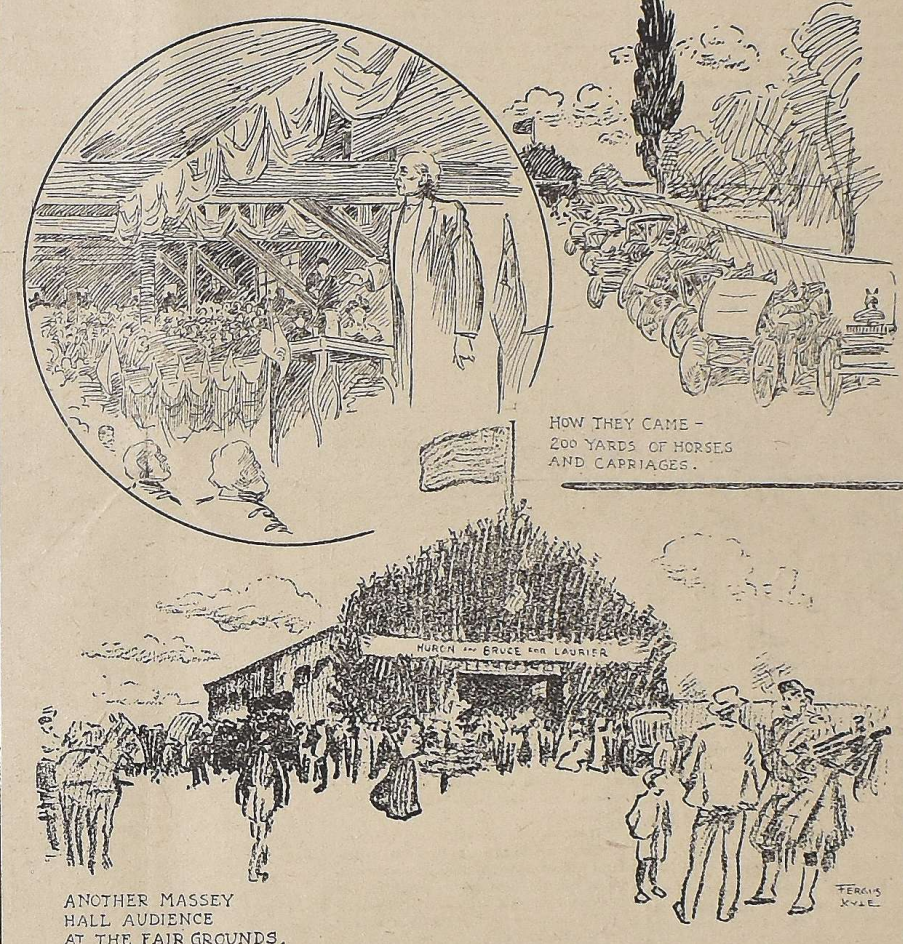

Wednesday about 9 a.m. Warden Chapman and County Councilors Shaver, Bryans, Graham, Scully, McQuade, Fairbairn, Staback and Dr. Wood, set out on a trip of inspection that will cover the leading roads of the County. They were accompanied by Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Commissioner of Good Roads, who arrived from Toronto last evening to join the County Councilors, who were delighted at learning that they were to have the benefit of his ripe experience and sound advice during the entire trip, which will last until Saturday. The party left town in three carriages, the route planned being through West Ops, Mariposa, Eldon, Digby, Somerville, Fenelon, North Verulam, East Ops. County Councilor McGee will join the party at Woodville to-morrow morning.

Chief of Police Newton, has received the following letter from Milton concerning the burglary recently committed there:

Milton, Oct. 15, '04.
Milton postoffice was broken into last night. The office safe was blown open and about $200 worth of stamps stolen. Warrants are out for the arrest of George Munro, height 5 feet, 8 inches, weight, 170 lbs. dressed in dark suit, and one Herbert Mackay, height 5 feet 8 inches, weight 165 lbs., clean shaven, dark coat, light ragged pants. Notify your postmaster in case suspected attempt to sell stamps.

Arrest and wire Chief Constable Bradley.

ANOTHER MASSEY HALL AUDIENCE AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Sir Wilfred at Lucknow—Real Old-time Political Holiday for Huron and Bruce

The holding of elections on the same day, the secret ballot; abolition of the clergy reserves; abolition of the feudal tenures; municipal government, the federal principle, and autonomy of the Provinces, etc.

The Conservatives hung on as long as possible to all the special privileges and prerogatives held by the governing classes, and which tended to centralize power in a few imperial and local officials, while the Liberals were for removing those privileges and powers, and giving to the people a direct voice and influence in public and Government affairs.

If we, as a Dominion, now have a Federal instead of a Legislative Union, it is because the Liberals fought for the autonomy of the Provinces, which we have now come to recognize as the only safe policy, which policy has been followed in the Australian Federation.

Surely this list of men and of reforms is sufficient to inspire in a young man an enthusiasm for the party through whose leaders and through whose efforts they have been brought about, and I confidently challenge the Conservative party to show any list of leaders or any number of reforms with which they do not compare more than favorably.

Therefore, if a young man wishes to ally himself with the party, by the reforms accomplished and by the men who have been its leaders and champions for the last hundred years, in Canada, has a record which is unsurpassed, he will certainly ally himself with the Liberal party.

The Liberal party in Canada, however, is only what the same party has been and is in other countries, and to be allied to the Liberal party in Canada, means to be allied with the greater party in the Empire and world at large, and to be the child, son and heir of all the reformers of the past.

JOHN TOPP, PIRATE.

By WEATHERBY CHESNEY and ALICK MUNRO.

(Copyright, 1900, by Weatherby Chesney and Alick Munro.)

Like furies we worked in the stinging reek, and like a mocking dead our enemy grew in power and height. Inch by inch we were driven toward the stern, fighting desperately every step of the way. Spaniard was never so relentless a foe as this one, which swallowed our watery missiles as fast as we hurled them and turned them to hissing steam that bit back at the sender.

Panting and scorched, we gathered, a smoke grimed group, on the counter and realized that we were beaten. A shout arose that the powder room was on fire, and a half charred boat was dropped into the water. Springing in, we pushed off.

Scarcely had we pulled a cable's length away when the Scourge blew up. Masts, spars and deck shot up toward heaven and then fell in a blazing shower around the column of smoke which marked the place where the shattered hull had sunk.

The rest of the night dragged itself wearily through, and the sun rose upon an unclouded sky. The boat was without stores or provisions of any kind. She had neither compass nor sail, and with one pair of oars we could make little headway through the calm, even had we known where to steer for.

Which of us did not envy the old man in his beautiful island hermitage when?

We looked around at the unbroken circle of the horizon, with the water lit and enlivened by a single zephyr and gleaming like a glancing mirror of light, then at the cruel sun that was arching a course of scorching splendor through the cloudless vault above, and as we looked we took but little comfort from the cheering words which Alec spoke to us. What help could reach us from such a barren fiery wilderness? What oasis could we hope to find in such a broiling, trackless desert?

But in spite of the enervating heat we tugged doggedly at the oars. The work, purposeless as it seemed, was some relief. To active men there is no torture like indolence in a case like this, for indolence is the advance picket of despair.

But each couple, though eager for their turn of toil, were glad enough to quit it at the appointed time. Water driven from the body in perspiration makes its want more keenly felt with fire. The burning thirst was aggravated by exercise. Alec, being sparsely built, perhaps suffered least. I, a thirsty soul, ever given to quaffing what was offered, endured ten men's agony. Indeed, as evening drew near, I began to fear that before another watch had run out madness or death must be the end of me.

My time, however, was not yet come. As the sun went down in the west its dying glory lit upon a sail that peeped above the southern water line. With frenzied effort we made for it and feared that the darkness would come down before we could reach it.

As we drew nearer we made out that she was a carrack. The breeze which brought her up had lagged behind, and she had run into a belt of calm. Retarding our efforts not one whit, we pushed fiercely on, urging the boat with Titan strokes; for we were no giant famine worn specters, no starvelings of the ocean who had been eking out a day's pittance to make it last over ten. In bodily health we were all hale and hearty and as good men as we were the day before, save for the mad thirst which consumed us. But that is a madness beside which all other emotions sink to nothing; passion and prudence alike die when the thirst eke touches them. Urged by it we would have charged an army or have ried from one man, and so double banking our oars we tore toward the carrack.

That she was Spanish from truck to tiller mattered nothing. Her people clustered on the decks in armed suspicion could not stop us. "Water! Agua!" we cried at them hoarsely. We cared for nothing else.

We climbed on board, and the Spaniards staid their hands, some because they feared to provoke desperate men, some through pity and others perhaps because they knew that when our burning throats were cooled we must yield at discretion. Regardless of the hostile crowd we rushed to the scuttle butt. Parched, faint, panting, we deemed the tepid water a nectar fit for the gods and the green slime, whose tendrils clung to the dipper, the sweetest essence man's palate could be tickled with. We drank and we drank and forgot in the satisfaction of the moment that the world held other evil things besides thirst.

But there was one at hand who would remind us. A tall, handsome

Our old enemy's turn had come again. Spaniard came forward from the crowd and stood before us. He saw what we had suffered, and he was pleased. And when those handsome lips parted in a smile a double row of cruel, yellow teeth shone out between them.

Our old enemy's turn had come again. We were the prisoners of Don Miguel del Cassamoro.

CHAPTER XXX.

The burning circle of sun baked sea from which we had escaped was strangely like a vast frying pan, and now, having got out of that, we were perilously near finding ourselves in the fire. Don Miguel was carrying us to Spain to the torture, and even his vengeful cruelty could invent for us no more malignant fate.

Had he known that the plunder of the galleon, together with other booty, lay snugly hidden on a lonely island under the guard of a crippled dotard, doubtless his eastward voyage would have been broken. He would have been charmed, too, now that the tables were so effectually turned, to renew his acquaintance with the old man, his former jailer, for thus the auto da fe he pictured would have another actor. But he believed that all our gains lay fathoms deep on the sea bottom with the ill fated Scourge, and we would not agitate his well balanced mind by undeciphering him.

Don Miguel did not put us in irons in the hold, though some of his underlings suggested it. No; he remembered the time when he was our unwilling hewer of wood and drawer of water, and he prepared to pay back some of his debts in kind. We were made to ply our craft as mariners whenever our services were wanted, and for the rest of the time we were the slaves of any one who chose to command us.

Every dirty job in the ship fell to the Englishmen's share, and a curse or a blow was the payment. And though the gorge of one of us would now and again rise and a mutinous refusal tremble on his tongue, his mates would bid him knuckle under, grin if he could and bide his time.

"A coward's blows never forget their father," Willie Trehallion would mutter prophetically.

"Are, uncle, an curses come home to roost," his nephew Job would chuckle in reply.

Outwardly no band of unfortunates was ever more numbed by despair, more hopelessly reconciled to an irrevocable fate. To the dons' eyes we were meek and submissive as Indians, going about our labors mechanically, and, if we did not show great interest in each task, at least we performed it effectively. We were careful not to court suspicion by excess of zeal, while we avoided additional tyranny by steady obedience.

But we meant to escape. The carrack should never set us on Spanish ground. We would fire her powder room sooner, and perish with the rest of her crew in one overwhelming holocaust. In the meanwhile we lived in hope that the chapter of accidents would unravel the coil in which we had entangled ourselves.

The pilot left the carrack at the most easterly point of Trinidad, and then, bidding goodby to domestic navigation, we set out on the ocean voyage. For two days we beat, tack and tack, against easterly winds, sagging to leeward like a haystack, and making hardly any headway. Then for three days the wind chopped round fair, and we sped easily along our course. But after the third morning had passed the barren plain of ocean began to haze over, and as the thickness increased the breeze died away, till at last the carrack lay motionless in the calm of a dense fog.

Night came, and the gray twilight of the afternoon changed to inky blackness. All of us were asleep, tired out with the exertions of the day and glad to snatch a little rest.

Suddenly Alec and I were aroused by a warning touch of Willie Trehallion's hook.

"Listen!" he whispered.

A strange sound came to us out of the blackness, a sound that was half wail, half howl, but wholly weird and awful.

"A water pixy," said I, trembling.

"Sea wolves," said one of the men, who had raised himself on his elbow to listen. "They're scenting prey. We're in for a fearful storm, or they wouldn't be there. Sea wolves never hunt without a kill."

The sound made itself heard again—a "Wa-a-o-o-w" rising doleful in the still night air and dying away into nothing with unutterable mournfulness.

"A water pixy beyond doubt," said I again.

"A water fiddlestick!" replied the boatswain contemptuously. "That cry comes from no creature what breathes through gills. It's my old cat, and that's his night song. D'y'ou think I shouldn't know his voice among a thousand? Old Nep—you'll mind him, Master Topp?"

I shook my head.

"The night mist has got into your brain, Willie. You must be mistaken here," I said.

"Mebbe it's Nep's ghost that's hailing, uncle."

"Nep's ghost be hanged!" replied the boatswain irritably, turning on this last speaker. "Hold your tongue, Job, an let others speak that has sense."

"But if it is Nep, Willie?"

"This—if that's Nep, why, then, it's the Bristol Merchant too. Think a minute. Why shouldn't it be her? Those on board couldn't be expected to wait for us up the great river till the crack o' doom. The three years that Captain Ireland told them to bide there is as long ago, an, so believing that we're swallowed up in the wilderness, they're making the best of their way home with the news. Besides, listen again. There I'd stake my hand on that that's Nep's voice! An, as Nep would never desert the Bristol Merchant, we must just try an frighten the dons into setting us adrift. We'll maybe fall between two stools; but, anyway, it's our best chance."

"If we can do it," said Alec, "but"—"Trust me to manage it, Captain Ireland," interrupted Willie. "I've a weapon in my mouth that would frighten the very soul out of a Spaniard. If the devil bred Spaniards with souls. Ask Master Topp. He knows what I can do. Look at them now! Fearsome o' the darkness, they've lit a score o' lanterns an are clustered together like a flock o' sheep, a-wringing their yaller hands with fright. Now's our time; now or never. An, mark me, my lads, outspaniard the most Spanish o' them in trembling. If it's laughter that makes your limbs shake, never mind. The dirty bounds are too scared to know the difference."

And, whispering further directions to Alec, he led him away, and the rest of us dropped down the ladders and mingled with the trembling group in the waist.

"If we can do it," said Alec, "but"—"Trust me to manage it, Captain Ireland," interrupted Willie. "I've a weapon in my mouth that would frighten the very soul out of a Spaniard. If the devil bred Spaniards with souls. Ask Master Topp. He knows what I can do. Look at them now! And, whispering further directions to Alec, he led him away, and the rest of us dropped down the ladders and mingled with the trembling group in the waist.

Again the melancholy "Ma-a-o-o-w" floats to us out of the darkness, and Alec, stepping forward into the lantern light, clapped a cupped hand to his ear and cried: "Listen! There's some one hailing from the masthead."

"Give ear to my lord o' the sea!" cried a high cracked voice from aloft, and another from the mainyard arm shrieked, "He comes alongside!"

Then, as though from the waters close to, came a third voice, deep and resonant, which asked what ship that was. "Who hails, and by what right does he question?" cried Don Miguel.

"I am Neptune, lord o' the sea," returned the voice. "What ship is that?"

A look of perplexity came into Don Miguel's face, and the rest of the Spaniards shook with fear.

Neptune was impatient.

"What ship is that? Answer me, miserable mortal! Know you not that I have power to pull your puny bark timber from timber an to carry your carcasses away to batten my sea wolves in their caverns among the weed jungle below?"

"I fear neither sea god nor sea devil," began the commandant boldly, but the priest interrupted him, saying in a whisper that it was best to temporize with the powers of darkness sometimes.

And then, with a muttered anathema after every sentence, he answered Neptune's questions himself.

"What cargo?" queried the lord of the sea.

The priest told him.

"What passengers?"

"Thirty, of whom seven are women and three infants."

"And what crew?"

"A hundred and sixty, most potent."

"No more? Methinks there's some few yet untold. Old ocean hath a queer favor hereabout."

"There are 11 prisoners, English sailors, who are working a passage to Spain."

"What?" bellowed Neptune. "Heretics on one of his majesty's ships! Heretics at large an unhackled! Thunder an tempests! I'll destroy the whole lot o' you!"

And so the farce went on, until at length the trembling Spaniards, finding that their crossings and pater noster were useless, began to look upon us as so many Jonahs. Their saints were forgotten, and they were for heaving us overboard at once.

But Neptune would not allow it.

"Polite not my sweet brine with the foul bodies o' Englishmen," he warned them. "Set them adrift in a boat, an then my sister's chickens, which feed on carrion, will have the wherewithal to flesh their hungry beaks."

Don Miguel would have prevented this, for he alone out of his ship's company doubted Neptune's genuineness, but the others would not listen to him. Tackles were rigged with lightning speed, a boat was heaved out from the booms and lowered, and we were shoved down to it willily, protesting vigorously in obedience to Willie's whispered command. They would give us neither food nor water, neither compass nor sail, nothing in fact but curses, and, bidding us shove off, threatened to quicken us with a saker shot if we did not hurry out of each.

We pulled on till the babel of voices on the carrack had died away, and then, judging we were out of earshot of the dons, Willie Trehallion gave a peculiar whistle, low and tremulous. A slight breeze had sprung up, and after a moment's pause a faint sepulchral "Wa-a-o-w" was wafted to us over the stern.

Around spun the boat, and willing backs, straining at the oars, sent her darting in the direction of the sound. Presently the rigging and hull of a brig loomed through the fog and a voice hailed to bid us keep our distance.

"Bristol Merchant, ahoy! We're your own mates."

"Sheer off or I'll sink you. Ye're pirates, that's what y're. Our mates is all swalled' up by the wilderness or took by Spaniards. Sheer off, I tell ye!"

"You've a black cat aboard there," bawled Willie Trehallion impatiently; "a black cat sailing under the name o' Nep, haven't you?"

"Mebbe we have, mebbe we haven't. I baint a-goin to argy wi' ye. Sheer off an ha' done. There's a Spaniard away there through the fog. Go an plunder him. We ain't got the value o' a jack o' ale among us."

"Wait a minute," said Willie Trehallion. "See if Nep won't remember his old master's call." And the boatswain repeated his low whistle.

"Ma-a-e-ow! Me-ar-wa-ow!" came shrill and distinct across the water.

"Well I'm blamed!" exclaimed a fresh voice. "Ef that ain't Willie Trehallion, et's his ghost. Nep'll answer to noan o' us, ill conditioned ole varmint es 'e is."

"Nep don't forget his old master if his old master's shipmates do. Now I'm telling you true. There's Captain Ireland here an Master Topp an just a han'ful o' others, all that is escaped out o' this murdering land. An now blest if our own mates will own us, though we've got gold enough stored up to buy Bristol city with."

"Put a stroke or two nearer," bawled the first speaker, and then added to those beside him: "And ye lads blow yer matches up ready to fire. There's witchcraft enough in that blamed old cat to get the whole lot o' us into trouble yet. Boat ahoy, there! Rest on yer oars again, an advance nearer at yer peril. Strike a light an let's look at yer faces."

"We have nothing to strike a light with," broke out Alec angrily. "Man alive, the boat's not provisioned for a voyage. She's as bare as Willie Tre-hallow's head. We've just escaped from the Spaniard yonder and are absolutely unarmed. Come, I know you well enough; you are Martin Snaile, whom I left in command."

"Mebbe I be, an mebbe I baint," replied the man cautiously. "No disrespect to ye, Captain Ireland, if ye be Captain Ireland, but I'll just make sure before ye come any nearer that a lantern's light won't shine clear through ye. The voices is all right, but they say that specters keeps the voices after the body's shelled off on 'em, an I ain't a-goin to 'ave no ghosts aboard me."

Alec stood up to be inspected. A great horn windowed lantern was thrust out on the end of a boat hook, and Martin Snaile, climbing into the main rigging, made a penthouse of his two hands and peered at us from under them. The fog was thick, the tallow dip flickered badly and Martin's wits were sluggish; consequently he was very long in coming to a decision. At the end of nearly ten minutes' scrutiny he stepped down from his perch and, bidding us remain where we were, disappeared for awhile. Presently he returned and, scrambling into the shrouds again, bawled out afresh:

"Ye looks an right; solid enough, too, I don't deny. But when a man's been a mariner all the years I have he learns that looks is sometimes deceivin'. So I'll just make so bold as to heave this orange at one o' ye to see whether it hits anything solid enough to burst. If it does, ye can come aboard."

He lifted his hand and threw. The yellow fruit, flying through the air, was stopped by Willie Trehallion's bald pate. The boatswain never winced, and apparently the sight of the scattered pulp and juice—the orange was an overripe one—streaming down his stolid face was sufficient. Martin Snaile demanded no more tests, and we climbed up the round barrel side of our own old brig, the Bristol Merchant.

There was but one thing which lessened our delight at meeting in freedom our old shipmates once more—we could not have the satisfaction of letting Don Miguel know how we had fooled him.

CHAPTER XXXI.

Three months had elapsed since the Scourge sailed from Caye Island when the Bristol Merchant drew in between the harbor heads.

Directly she rounded the spit a glance told those who knew the spot that something was wrong. All the works raised by English hands had been ruthlessly destroyed. Weeds were growing among a few charred stumps on the shore, and on the platform above there was rank tropical jungle in place of our snug, trim built dwellings beneath the palm grove.

A falconet shot roused speech from the cliffs, but brought no reply from human voice. The echoes died away, the screaming sea fowl settled down again and silence once more brooded over the island.

We began to feel uneasy forebodings of ill. The old man could scarcely be deaf to such a summons were he anywhere in the neighborhood. True, he might have wandered to the other side of the island. But we dared not think it. His lameness made him loath to walk unnecessarily, and for food he would not require to go far afield.

The vessel in which we returned was, it is true, as different in every point from the Scourge as she well could be, but our spars and rigging were gay with English ensigns and the voices which hailed the shore without answer were English every one.

What The Earth Produces.

The earth has nourished us through unknown ages of human existence. It is not true that the earth supplies us with everything that we really require for existence. Have you ever thought that it is probable that the earth supplies us with the means to keep our bodily vigor, our health, if we only knew it? The animals know by instinct what is good for them and will search until they find in some plant what they need for correcting indigestion or constipation, etc. Is it, therefore, not possible that there are roots and herbs supplied by nature which will cure the diseases that afflict human kind? That is why Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has such faith in his "Medical Discovery." Years ago, when he was in general and active practice, he found that a combination of certain herbs and roots made up in an alternative extract, without the use of alcohol, would always put the stomach into a healthy condition, nourish the tissues, feed the blood and nerves and put healthy tone into the whole system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores the lost flesh by curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food from which flesh and strength are made.

"I was all run down, very nervous, and suffered terribly from stomach trouble, which the doctors pronounced indigestion," writes Mrs. Wm. Morey, of Marshall, Mich. "I doctored for a year without permanent relief. Was advised by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after the use of nine bottles I was cured. I can heartily recommend the 'Golden Medical Discovery' to any one suffering from stomach trouble. My husband was also greatly benefited by its use."

THE P. O. DEPARTMENT.

It is significant that the Tories say very little about the Post Office Department. Their insight tells them that it is a department which now enjoys public confidence in a remarkable degree in consequence of the splendid reforms brought about by Sir William Mulock, including a reduction in the cost and an increase in the efficiency of the service.
The financial results accomplished are exceedingly satisfactory. In 1896 there was a deficit of nearly $800,000. There had always been deficits; it was supposed they were inevitable. After Sir William had been in office two years, the balance on the wrong side was cut down to less than $50,000, whereupon he felt justified in trying the experiment of lowering the postage rates. In 1898, mainly through his efforts, the rate on letters between Canada and the United Kingdom was re-

THE COST OF THE G. T. P.

(Toronto Star.)
In all his speeches during his Ontario tour Mr. Borden has been telling the public that in connection with the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Canada "should pay the other tenth and own the whole road." As the G. T. P. agreement will be thoroughly discussed the country over during the present campaign, and fully understood by all the people, it is surprising that Mr. Borden should utter and many times repeat the statement.
As regards the line from Moncton to Winnipeg, the State will construct and own it all, leasing it for fifty years to the company, rent free for seven years and the rest of the term at an annual rental of 3 per cent. on what the State has invested in it. This State, owned part of the line, although leased, is not to be monopolized, as the agreement provides that other companies shall have running rights. For instance, the Intercolonial can use these tracks to reach the West, or any Western line can use them to reach the East.
The prairie section from Winnipeg west is to be wholly built by the company, which must pay interest on its bonds from the first, receiving not a dollar of State money or an acre of State land. On the mountain section the State pays the interest for seven years on 75 per cent. of the cost of construction. This it does and nothing more. What the State contributes, then, to the G.T.P. is seven years' interest on the cost of construction of the eastern line and seven years' interest on 75 per cent. of the cost of the mountain section. To pay 3 per cent. interest for seven years on part of the cost of the road can scarcely warrant Mr. Borden in saying that the State is paying 90 per cent. of the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific and should pay the other tenth and own it all. The country guarantees the bonds in order that the money for this vast work can be more cheaply the heels of every new stroke of policy adopted by Ministers who legislated at a distance for a community they knew little about. The recent growth of the West cannot be better illustrated than by comparing the homestead entries of the last five years with the number in the closing five years of Tory rule:

1892... 4,358 1900... 7,426
1893... 4,175 1901... 8,162
1894... 3,668 1902... 14,073
1895... 3,030 1903... 31,383
1896... 1,888 1904... 26,073
Tory £17,399 Liberal £187,717
That is, settlement has been progressing five times more rapidly under Mr. Sifton's management than under that of his Conservative predecessors. Liberals do not assert that their policy has produced the bumper crops, the rise in the value of lands and other phenomena of prosperity that are attracting British and American farmers in such numbers to the West, but they can truthfully declare that their policy has done nothing to hinder the rush and a good deal to encourage it, whereas in former times the country suffered immensely from unstable and unwise laws as well as from the incapable administration of things in general.

POINTS OF LAURIER'S GREAT TORONTO SPEECH.

"If we stumbled on the preference as Mr. Foster says we did, it was not that kind of thing the Government was connected with used to stumble on. It stumbled on ignoble things, on faction, conspiracy, bolting and revolt."
"The name of Aylesworth has travelled through the length and breadth of our land, and he is appreciated, not only in his native province, but wherever the British flag flies on the continent of North America."
"I am prepared to admit that in some purely departmental matters we have been led into error."
"The charges brought against us are, after all, very small, very minute and very trifling. If compared with the offences proven against those who are now in opposition, when they were in office, they are

"For the next seventy-five years, may, for the next hundred years, Canada shall be the star towards which all men who love progress and freedom shall come."
"I am simply a Canadian like yourselves, coming from a neighboring Province, trying the best I can to unite our common people. Men of Toronto, I ask you to sink the petty, miserable, squabbling which divided us in the past, unite with us and take your share in the grand future which is before us."
"To you young boys in the gallery, the hope of the country, you who have life before you, let my prayer be simply this: From this day forth never look simply at the horizon, as it may be limited by the limits of a Province, but look beyond, all over the continent, all over the world, wherever the British flag floats, and let your motto be, 'Canada first, Canada last, and Canada forever.'"

EDITORIAL NOTES

Liberals, remember the watchword of the great Sir Robert Peel. Register, register, register!

R. L. Richardson is going to tackle Hon. Clifford Sifton in Brandon. Hugh John did that four years ago, and hasn't been heard from since.

Hon. Thomas Greenway has been nominated in Lisgar, and his election is regarded as sure. No man is better fitted to represent a Manitoba constituency.

The country is with Laurier from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and Victoria and Halifax will declare for a continuance of prosperity on Nov. 3rd.

Sir Wilfrid's manly tariff utterances are being loudly cheered. His declaration of a bold Canadian policy for the future was in striking contrast with Mr. Borden's "adequate protection" evasion.

Hamilton Times: In 1897 there were 683 vacant houses in Hamilton. The Liberal tariff went into force that year and has been in force ever since. Last assessment report does not show a single vacant house. Does not that speak of growth not possible under a bad policy, growth such as we never enjoyed under Tory rule?

The Grand Trunk touches all the important centres of Ontario manufacture. The Grand Trunk wants to do all the freight business it can get. As Sir Wilfrid points out, by securing the Grand Trunk interest in the Transcontinental Railway we make it an agent to promote the prosperity of Canada's manufactures in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

The Toronto News issues a warning against the Toronto Tory machine, which, according to it, has parcelled out the various nominations according to its good will and pleasure, giving the North to Mr. Foster, the East to Mr. Kemp, the Centre to Mr. Clarke, the West to Mr. Osler and the South to some person not yet announced. Grown powerful and arrogant, it is under continual temptation, the News says to manipulate all kinds of nominations, municipal as well as party. It is this same machine that gets the credit for bringing over to Canada the Buffalo headers to testify to other than the truth. It is this machine, it is understood, that is the custodian and dispenser of the "purity fund" by which constituencies are debauched.

Mr. Borden does not like the ship-bolts, "Laurier and the Larger Canada." He says it should be Laurier and the Larger United States. The Kingston Whig asks why, and says, very pertinently:

Sir Wilfrid is not working for the United States, but for Canada, the larger Canada, and he is working all the while. He has declined to discuss a reciprocity of trade with the United States any more, and because the time for that has passed. He has supplied an anti-dumping tariff by which Canada will not be made the market for the slaughter of American manufacturers. He has given an effective blow to the American trust that essayed the ruin of the Canadian tobacco trade. He has given a preference to the British manufacturers, and with the result that it has, according to Mr. Chamberlain, increased trade by millions.

It was Sir Charles Tupper who said, "Laurier is too British for me."

Toronto News: But the high-water mark of oratory was reached, and Sir Wilfrid can seldom have made a loftier flight—when he declared in earnest and impressive tones that the nineteenth century has been the century of the United States, which has filled one hundred years with the prodigies of her history, but that "the twentieth century shall be the century of Canada, a country which for the next hundred years will be the star to which all men who love progress and freedom shall come, and which shall repeat the prodigies of the United States." Increasing in eloquence, the Premier made a passionate appeal for union, asking the men of Toronto "to cease this petty miserable squabbling, unite with us, and take your share in the grand future which is before us." Then raising to a climax, he breathed a devout prayer that from this day forth the young men of Canada should never look simply at the horizon, as Hughes' Prize Package, containing 161 fables for children, a family tree, some depe literature and a richly tinted chromo of a South African warrior wearing one aluminum spur, is now being distributed throughout town and country free of charge, and our gun and popcorn dealers are disconsolate. They say the run on one cent draws has ceased since the Hughes' Prize Package was placed on the market.

Mr. B. E. Ackerman, a Peterboro business man, has just returned from a tour through the West, and the Review says: When asked with reference to public opinion in the West with regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Ackerman replied: "The people appear to want another railway, and they do not appear to be particular how it is going to be built."

Mr. Borden is going to speak in Montreal. He will find that in the past six years there has been, under what he would call the blighting influence of the Liberal policy, an increase in the taxable property of that city of nearly twenty million dollars—$19,769,578. Would you call that prosperity, or the disastrous fruits of an "adequate" protection? By the time he "drops," Mr. Borden will be black and blue from running up against such monuments of Liberal prosperity as these. He had better provide "adequate" protection for his shins.

The following was the rate of wages paid by the Tory Government to the employees of the Intercolonial Railway:

Laborers.....	$1.00 per day
Freight porters.....	1.00 per day
Trackmen.....	1.10 per day
Cleaners.....	1.15 per day
Firemen.....	1.20 per day

The Liberal Government pays these wages:

Laborers.....	$1.40 per day
Freight porters.....	$1.20 to $1.50 per day
Trackmen.....	1.40 to 1.50 per day
Cleaners.....	1.45 per day
Firemen.....	1.30 to 1.75 per day

This is an average of nearly fifteen per cent. in favor of the present Government. Workingmen should not hesitate to choose between the two.

Entirely satisfied with the conditions afforded by the Laurier Government, the Simplex Railway Appliance to look Laurier over and see into Canada a few years ago employed 550 men and supplied one railway, has now decided to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a gigantic plant that will comprise fifteen different kinds of shops and mills, and will give employment to fifteen hundred men. "What more striking proof can we give of our entire satisfaction with the conditions afforded us by the Liberal Government," said Mr. Wilson B. Butler, of New York, vice-president of the company, "than that we consider the outlook so promising that we are willing to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a large plant."

We have gained the confidence of the public by marking our goods in plain figures. Consequently, when we mark a ruff for $25.00 that does not mean you can buy it for $21.00. It simply means a Ruff marked $25.00 will cost you $25.00; a Muff marked $13.00 will cost you $13.00; a Ruff marked $5.00 will cost you $5.00. And you will get good value for your money. We do not advertise Bargain Days or Special Sales, for, from Monday morning till Saturday night we give every man, woman or child who patronizes us, full value for every Dollar he or she spends with us, whether the sale be large or small.

As this is the season when you are most interested in furs, we give a few quotations and invite you to call and inspect our Stock of Jackets, Fur-Lined Circulars, Ruffs, Stoles, Muffs, Caperines, Caps and Gauntlets.

duced from five to two cents per half-ounce. The year after, the domestic rate on letters in Canada was reduced from three to two cents, as also the rate between Canada and the United States.

Naturally, the revenue fell in consequence but it recovered by 1902, when there was a small surplus on the year's operations. In 1903 the surplus had risen to $300,000, although in addition to the reduction of rates he had all along been paying for the Yukon service, which was not in existence when he entered office. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, there will doubtless be another surplus of considerable size. The Post Office for the first time in its history, is now a self-sustaining department and something better.

It is contended by the Tories, who do not like to admit what is now notorious, that by comparison they made a poor fist of Post Office affairs, that the reduction in the rates of postage is not a gain to the farmer and mechanic but only to corporations and merchants who purchase large quantities of stamps in the course of their business. As a matter of fact, the cost of the Post Office department is now paid for by those who make use of it, and by each people only. Put when there were deficits ranging from $650,000 to $800,000, as happened under the Tories, those had to be made good by extra taxes on the whole people. Under the present order of things we have, first, lower postage rates, and, secondly a surplus that goes to reduce the burdens of the taxpayers at large. It is obvious, then, that everybody is profiting by Sir Wilfrid's capable management and that of his highly competent deputy, Dr. Coulter.

procured by the company, but the agreement clearly provides that the company, not the State, shall pay the interest on those bonds except on two portions of the line for seven years. If the State pays any interest on the bonds covering the prairie section, or after seven years on any part of the line, this becomes a charge against the company, a debt to the State, and the road goes into the hands of a receiver until the national treasury is reimbursed. Putting the extreme limit on what the new transcontinental railway will cost the country—accepting the most hostile figures—it is plain that the company undertaking this enormous enterprise will receive only $13,000,000 of State money.

Mr. Borden, it is said, wins applause at his meetings when he makes the "striking" statement that the country should pay the other tenth and own the whole road. The statement is assuredly a "striking" one. But the reading people of Ontario will become familiar with the G.T.P. agreement during the next few weeks, and will wonder what Mr. Borden was driving at.

PROGRESS IN THE WEST.

The Tory party has become the party of the sunset while the Liberal party of the sunset, while the Liberal Borden, tells his audiences of the great things done long ago by Sir John Macdonald and Sir Francis Hincks, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier's face is turned to the national accomplishments of to-day, that are giving Canada a position in the world not dreamed of by that generation of men. We all remember how, notwithstanding the vast sums poured into the West under Tory rule, that region remained almost as void and empty as when it belonged to the hunter and voyageur. If people went in, many of them soon came out, and those remaining were dissatisfied and disappointed by the failure that followed on

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Mr. McLaughlin's address to the electors of Victoria and Haliburton, which will be found in another column of The Post, is the expression of a manly, honest man, who is impelled by a sense of public duty to offer himself to the service of his country. His address has been freely circulated throughout the riding, and those who read it cannot but be convinced that he will, if elected, make a very able representative in our Dominion Parliament. His appeal to the voters is free from the rank egotism to be seen in every line of the address of his opponent, Col. Hughes, and his friends feel satisfied that the electors will be able to distinguish between the froth of a vain, and self-interested professional politician and the modest, earnest professions of a capable and conscientious citizen who would not stoop to the low tactics and cheap methods used by his opponent.

As for the campaign, it is proceeding satisfactorily. From all parts of the riding come reports of the heartiest enthusiasm for Mr. McLaughlin's candidature, and assurances from former supporters of Sam Hughes that they will no longer support that unworthy representative of Conservative principles. Large numbers of earnest members of that party realize that Mr. McLaughlin, who knows to a bad and fair-minded man along every line, would not fail in his duty to them, and would be able to accomplish a great deal for the riding that would be beyond the power of his opponent if again returned.

Every friend of Mr. McLaughlin should redouble his efforts, if possible, from now to the end of the campaign. The riding is a large one, the time is short, and there is no room for over-confidence. No Liberal should hesitate to approach his Conservative neighbor with an appeal to cast a reform vote in this campaign. It is a question of "Stability vs. Frivolity"—the election of a high-minded citizen, who will have the best interests of the constituency ever at heart, and the defeat of a professional politician who seeks to continue to use his connection with a great party for his own selfish ends.

THE CANDIDATES COMPARED.

Certain features of the battle now being waged in the County of Victoria for a seat in the Dominion House are unique. In other Counties the merits of the policies of the two great parties are the questions on which the respective candidates rely for their success, coupled perhaps to a degree, with the personal merits or weaknesses of the respective candidates. In Victoria and Haliburton we have on the other hand, a candidate, the unanimous choice of his party, and who is making sacrifice of his material interests, that he may serve his fellow citizens; while in Colonel Sam Hughes we are met by a type, common in the United States and unfortunately not altogether unknown in Canada—to wit: "the professional politician." Colonel Hughes has no business other than that of politics, and on politics he depends for a livelihood. To him a seat in the House of Commons is a vital necessity; without it he must seek some other occupation. His vote on the Yukon Railway Bill showed that he was alive to his own interests and those of the corporation whose servant he is and from whom the sinews of war for his campaigns come. It is idle to speak of him as a Conservative representative. He is a representative of no party and no power. He is a political swashbuckler without party and without convictions.

When North and South Victoria became one constituency he was not slow to recognize the fact that he must at all cost capture the convention of the party to which he was nominally allied. He was aware that the majority of the Conservatives of Victoria and Haliburton did not favor his candidature, and that a free expression of their opinion would have named another man. His only chance lay in packing the convention once exercised by Mr. McLaughlin. Senator McHugh and others, that procured the small grants in question, or that of Mr. Hughes. An opposition member can do a great deal for his constituency if he is willing to act in harmony with the friends of the Government. If the friends of the Government are trying to get something for the constituency, it will help it along very much if the opposition member will assure the Government that the expenditure is right and will not be questioned by the opposition.

Dr. Vrooman was always willing to act in harmony with Senators Dobson and McHugh, and with the friends of the Government. Mr. Carnegie adopts the same sensible course, and so considerable has been accomplished for the constituency.

Mr. Hughes will not do this. He will work in harmony with no one—neither Liberal or Conservative. He is not simply seeking the welfare of his constituency, but is always looking for something to praise himself about, and get his knife into somebody else. While Chas. Fairbairn, George McHugh and Dr. Vrooman represented South Victoria, and Sam Hughes represented North Victoria, a great deal might have been done for the County by the united efforts of all, but Hughes would work with no one. The others did what they could without his assistance and in spite of his jealousy, and he was always ready to try to get the credit for it when it was done, and to cast slurs on the others.

This last few years it has been impossible to do for the constituency what ought to be done. If we take the Trent Valley works, for instance, new locks are urgently needed at Rosedale, yet the obnoxious conduct of Hughes has rendered nugatory so far all the efforts of others to have this accomplished. Governments respect honourable opponents and do

MARIPOSA OUT OF LINE.

(Editor of the Watchman-Wardens.)
Sir—I think it is an admitted fact that the impression of a large section of Liberals is, to be a Conservative, to be mean, low, despicable, unworthy of any good deed and thoroughly incompetent to form a good fiscal policy or govern the country, and I am forced to admit that a large number of Conservatives hold similar views regarding their Liberal brethren.

Now, sir, methinks, and many are of the same persuasion, that such a view is very much in error indeed, smacking very much of narrow-mindedness and bigotry, thus obstructing the mind in its search after truth.

To my mind, one party does not possess all the virtues nor the other all the vices, but in each may be found very much to be admired, if we will but investigate impartially and with unbiased mind, desirous of arriving at the truth, "following" as Tyndall has so well said, "the Star of Truth where so ere it leads."

I believe that this principle would be a beacon light to help us decide in many important difficulties, presented to us from time to time.

I am of the opinion that, even out of Col. Hughes' Campaign Literature, a little truth, but a preponderance of error and bombast could be extracted.

Now, we hear much these times about the treachery of Mr. Boxall; untrue to his party, etc., etc.

Well, I have known that gentleman in political life for the last twenty years, and I remember distinctly, when a mere lad, of hearing him publicly expound the truths of and contend for the principles of Conservatism. He has lost none of his old time vivacity in this respect. He is a man of strong convictions of right, and possesses the courage to carry these convictions into active every-day life. I feel assured that Mr. Boxall's action at this time, will do more to elevate the constituency than all his opponents are doing to lower its standard.

I was surprised, while in Lindsay the other day, to find so many, who I thought were against us, coming out in our support. One man, beckoning me on the street, said, "Well, Irwin, you are in for it for writing those letters." "I'm here still," was the reply. "Yes," said he, "and I'm another who cannot tolerate such crooked work any longer." This man has been chairman of one division in Lindsay for years, and is a very respectable conservative citizen. Another said, "I find that the better element of the Conservative party in Lindsay is conspicuous by its absence from the committee rooms this campaign."

Even the Col's supporters will not justify him in the course taken, admitting to you that they have no love for Hughes, but it is for Borden and the party they are working.

My last letter will give you an inkling of the appreciation Mr. Borden has for Mr. Hughes. Look it up, please.

I am told the Col. has some very choice things to say of me, and of course, when I consider their source, I appreciate them. He says, also, he will ignore my letters; quite possibly this is his better policy.

In order to clear up some of his misrepresentations, I shall attach to this letter, a testimonial from our municipality, and he may have others from outside municipalities, trustees of public schools, Inspectors of Public Schools, etc., if he wish, which speaks for itself. I reluctantly do this, but that my letters may not be handicapped where I am unknown, I feel it necessary so to do. Regarding the principles of the two men now in the field, I can see no grounds for comparison, whatever—rather contrast only. Mr. McLaughlin has come out on a broad comprehensive platform, no obnoxious features of the narrow party lines observable. While not agreeing with all he says, I can agree to disagree, and believe Mr. McLaughlin to be strictly sincere in his manifesto. I say this of him from what I know of him as a gentleman and citizen.

But let me say this in closing. I want no Liberal to understand me, through these letters, to write from a Liberal party viewpoint. My object is the very opposite—I follow that party only in so far as they seek to advance the interests of the country along right lines. I am proud to be a believer in the principles laid down by the late Sir John A. MacDonald, who thrilled this whole Dominion by his dying words, "A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your kindness in publishing all my letters save No. 4, which you told me was a misunderstanding, and I regret any misunderstanding in that letter that might in any way reflect on any unwillingness on your part to publish it—Believe me, yours, etc.,
T. G. IRWIN,
Glandino, Mariposa, Oct. 17, 1901.

TESTIMONIAL.

Oakwood, Oct. 19th, 1901.
To whom it may concern:—This is to certify that we, the Reeve and Clerk of the Township of Mariposa, having known the bearer, Mr. Thomas G. Irwin, for a number of years, and being intimately acquainted, we know of his ability as a public school teacher to be number one. We also know of his ability to perform the duties of assessor of our township very creditably. His book work being exceptionally well done and his ability to be a number one in private life. We so know of him in private life and can unhesitatingly recommend him to any responsible position of trust and honor that he may be capable of filling.—Yours respectfully,
JESSE B. WELDON,
A. M. KINNOR, Reeve.

Where the Coin Flows to.

(Ottawa Journal.)
If Carnegie wants to prove that he really does not wish to die rich, let him offer to run the North Renfrew for the Ontario Legislature.

(Montreal Herald)

People who believe Captain Hale when he says the North Renfrew election cost the Liberals $40,000, should believe him when he says it cost the Conservatives $90,000.

A CAPABLE REPRESENTATIVE.

This is what the town and county wants. A member of Parliament ought to be a true representative of the energy, enterprise and thought of his constituency. That is just what R. J. McLaughlin would be. Brought up among us from his earliest childhood, intimately associated with our business and manufacturing interests, his interests are in the town and county and his heart is there also.

Col. Hughes professes to have been fortunate in speculation and to have accumulated a large fortune, but we have never heard that a dollar of it has ever been invested in productive enterprises in the County of Victoria. No struggling entrepreneur ever received any assistance from him. Various local enterprises have been got up by enterprising citizens, small companies have been formed to extend the town's trade, in not one of which Col. Hughes invest a cent of his great fortune, and notwithstanding his great wealth the charitable institutions of the town have never looked to Col. Hughes for any material help.

THE GREAT THINGS HE HAS DONE.

In the yellow circulars and in the list of wonders Mr. Hughes claims great credit for having obtained two small grants for the Township of Fenelon. He has to admit that Mr. McLaughlin was associated with both of these, but endeavors to claim that he was the man who did it. Now, we all know that under our party system of government, patronage is distributed through the Government's friends, not their enemies. We leave it to the public to judge whether it was the influence exercised by Mr. McLaughlin, Senator McHugh and others, that procured the small grants in question, or that of Mr. Hughes. An opposition member can do a great deal for his constituency if he is willing to act in harmony with the friends of the Government. If the friends of the Government are trying to get something for the constituency, it will help it along very much if the opposition member will assure the Government that the expenditure is right and will not be questioned by the opposition.

Dr. Vrooman was always willing to act in harmony with Senators Dobson and McHugh, and with the friends of the Government. Mr. Carnegie adopts the same sensible course, and so considerable has been accomplished for the constituency.

If we take the Trent Valley works, for instance, new locks are urgently needed at Rosedale, yet the obnoxious conduct of Hughes has rendered nugatory so far all the efforts of others to have this accomplished. Governments respect honourable opponents and do with his own heels. This he succeeded in doing. The leaders of the Conservative party, not appreciating the unscrupulous character of the man whose political opportunity it meant, failed to block this move. The convention as a body of representatives called together to deliberate who should be the choice of the Conservative party was a farce. The majority of the delegates came there prepared to support Hughes and to force him upon the County at all hazards.

Colonel Hughes' well known boast, that he would show Flavels, Vrooman, Wood, Fairbairn, Moore, McSweeney, Boxall, Ray, Sinclair and a host of other prominent Conservatives, that they did not represent the Conservative party in Victoria, fairly expresses the situation.

If Colonel Hughes succeeds in carrying united Victoria and Haliburton on the 3rd of November next, there can be no disguising the fact, that he is the Conservative party in Victoria, and the Conservative party in Victoria is Colonel Sam Hughes.

WHY SHOULD YOUNG MEN VOTE LIBERAL?

outlet for that country is imperative. The Conservatives admit that. The differences between the parties are only as to details, and not as to the important point, namely, that another road is necessary.

To-day the leaders of the Liberal party are men of honor and integrity, and the history of the Dominion for the last eight years in its home and Imperial and foreign policies is sufficient proof of their capacity for statesmanship, their ability to read the signs of the times, and to undertake great things for the Dominion.

And any young man, or any man in Canada, who wishes to belong to the party which has behind it, in this land and in other lands, the record for the emancipation of the people and the upbuilding of nations, and which at the present, as in the past, carries on its banner the inscription "Excelsior," will, I believe, find that that party in the Liberal party of Canada is now led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

No Cause for Alarm.

Dr. Barrows vouches for the truth of the following: A party passing the Conservative committee rooms Tuesday was attracted by sounds like a human being being strangled or in mortal agony of spirit. He rushed to the door, but on listening his fears became relieved, the whole trouble being caused by John Carew and Geo. Lytle trying to sing the choruses to Mr. Sharp's song, "John Bull."

SOUTH VERULAM.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The weather is like Indian summer at present and farmers are busy taking up their roots and thrashing. Dorgan Bros. are doing most of the thrashing around here, with their traction engine, and it takes them a very short while to complete each man's job.

Mr. Wm. Davidson has leased his farm to Mr. Robert White, of Dundas, for a term of years. We wish Mr. White every success in his undertaking, and welcome him to our midst. Mr. Davidson will reside in Bobaygeon in the future, where he has bought a handsome residence.

Mr. Robert Montgomery, of Ops, has been down this way thrashing clover. He thrashed for Mr. Edward Herlihy thirty bags of red clover, in nine hours. Bob. can get a hustle on when he likes.

The elections are the chief topic of conversation here, now. Mr. McLaughlin will make a good representative, but we are afraid he is far too honest to defeat a man like Colonel Hughes!

VICTORIA CO. CHEESE BOARD.

"VANITY RUN WILD."

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—I suppose you had a glance at the "picture" of our would-be member? If vanity of vanities were personified, surely we have it in Sam Hughes. That any sane man could read the trash that accompanies that picture, and not find a small morsel of pity for the person who penned it, I cannot imagine. It is impossible to think that the intelligent electors of this county will place the slightest credence on any portion of the mass of rubbish contained therein. It is incredible to attribute the sending of the "picture" to any man having the intelligence required in a representative, but the electors of Victoria are often treated to the style of vanity contained in Sam's emanation.—Yours, etc., TORY.

EMPEROR BILL'S COMPETITOR.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—I presume you have been favored with a copy of Col. Sam's manifesto. There is only one person, to my mind, who can compare with the wonderful representative of our—Emperor Bill—who with providence runs the world. Sam in some respects can give Bill points and then win out. It is needless to say that in this sacred our friend Sam is very economical with the truth. For instance, he claims to have been a Conservative since 1875. It really does not make much difference, but he means 1885, for before that time there was not a leader-mouthed Grit in the whole bunch than the same Sammy Hughes, and if he were to be honest for once and tell way he turned his coat, even his own Turpin would not think very much of him.

Another little discrepancy is where he claims to be the originator of our low railway, whereas those of us who know had thought that the Boys and Wickham were at the bottom of the transaction. There are literally scores of other points equally untrue, but really the reading of it is so nauseating that it takes a good deal of patience for a fair man to wade through it.

It really is a caution that any man should be silly and vain-glorious as to parade his family history and Munichsen deeds before an enlightened community and expect decent people to vote for him on their account. It is brains and manhood we want to represent us at Ottawa—not froth.—Yours, etc.,

GALWAY TOWNSHIP ON TOP

THE ANNUAL FAIR AT KINMOUNT FRIDAY OF LAST WEEK

Was Largely Attended and Proved Very Successful.

The agricultural fair of Galway township, held at Kinmount on Friday last, was in point of attendance one of the most successful in the Society's history. The day was ideal in every respect and the management are most profuse in their thanks to the many outsiders who so generously visited the show and helped so materially to swell the day's receipts.

A special train left town at 9 a. m. on the morning of the fair and picked up a large number of passengers at the different stations along the line. By the time Kinmount was reached standing room was at a premium. The hotel accommodation was heavily taxed, but ample provision had been made by the management of both hostilities and the visitors received a right royal welcome from their northern friends.

The exhibits on the whole fell short of previous years, but what was lacking in numbers, was made up in quality. The exhibits in the main building being of high quality in many instances, most noteworthy. Some beautiful work was shown in paintings, both in water colors, and oil, quite of many designs, as well as sofa cushions, pillow shams, etc., in profusion.

Of roots and vegetables it might be said that whilst not of the large, overgrown kind often shown, they were on the whole of nice appearance. Apples were shown that would do credit to any district in Canada. Mr. Edward Lee, of Somerville, we understand, showed many of the varieties. In butter a most creditable display was made.

In stock the exhibits showed a considerable falling off excepting in horses, which class was exceptionally well represented. In the driving class the animals were the equal of those shown at many of the leading fairs. Heavy horses were also well represented. In cattle, hogs and sheep a very poor showing was made. One lone hog was shown, it was a large Yorkshire boar, the property of Steve Oliver, Lindsay. The animal was disposed of to a breeder near Getart. In sheep Mr. J. Harper of Burnt River carried off most of the honors. Although a comparatively young breeder, yet he showed a flock of Leicesters that would do credit to a front township stockman. An aged ram was worthy of special mention. Mr. Harper has on hand several young ram lambs and ewes, and had numerous enquiries as to prices, pedigree, etc.

Mr. Edward Lee, of Somerville, might well be considered the leading exhibitor at the fair. Mr. Lee has been singularly fortunate in his career as a farmer. By dint of hard and honest labor, and by keeping in touch with the growing time, he has been able to acquire a competency that will stand him in his declining years. He is now the proud possessor of sixteen hundred acres of fairly good land in the township of Somerville, with at the present time sixty head of horned cattle and seven horses. He has seven sons, most of them able to do a man's work, and like their father, have never known the taste of liquor. Mr. Lee showed a prime team of Percherons that he raised four hundred dollars for, also a brood mare of the same breed. He had many exhibits in the main building.

In roots, vegetables, etc., Mr. Chas. McMahon, a young farmer, who is just coming to the front, was successful in carrying off many of the tickets. For brood mare and foal he got first place. A handsome Keswick foal also was awarded the red ticket. Mr. McMahon disposed of this animal on the ground before leaving.

In road and carriage horses, John Devitt, John Young, Jas. Gallagher, Gerald Ford, Neil Wilson and Wm. Hughes were the principal exhibitors. In single drivers John J. Kelley showed a Hamiltonian Earl of Statton, for which he received 1st prize. In stallion roadsters first prize went to Jas. Gallagher, of Bobcaygeon. R. McConnochie and Wm. Ritchie showed foals in 1904 roadster class, and Mr. Rich. Carr showed a grand one. Donald McDougall showed a driver that will become a swift one some day. Other exhibitors in the horse ring were G. S. Scarlett, J. Quinn, R. Mills, J. S. Kennedy, Levi Karl and several others, whose names we did not learn.

In the rating events a number of good horses were entered. Most of those present, who had watched the performance of Petroleum at Lindsay Central, were a unit as regards its getting first place. Joe L. (the snappy little boy that met with an accident at Lindsay) was entered for the different events but had not entirely recovered and was consequently unable to keep up the pace. Fanning's Black Boy and Annie showed to good advantage in the ring. In the free-for-all Petroleum was an easy winner, with Black Boy 2nd and Joe L. 3rd. Several minor races were run off that were of but local interest.

The fair management is to be congratulated on the manner in which each detail was looked after.

Fair notes.

The hotel cuisine was highly satisfactory to those whose appetites were whetted by the fresh morning breezes.

Notwithstanding the fact that a goodly amount of fire water was consumed, the crowd remained good-natured and law-abiding.

Mr. D. Sinclair, of Lindsay, was the only exhibitor in wheeled rigs, and succeeded in booking orders for his entire exhibit.

Many were the flattering remarks passed on the Kinmount brass band. Their playing was a most pleasing feature of the day's performance.

MARIPOSA OUT OF LINE.

(To Editor of Weekly Post.)

Sir,—Notwithstanding the Watchman-Warder's harrangue, re the Liberal convention, I am pleased to observe the high ground taken by the speaker as regards purity of elections. I trust they will continue to advance those views, and that when the election for the Local Legislature is on, operate them to their full extent.

Some people say their present action is one of necessity, Col. Hughes having monopolized the other course, but I have good reasons for believing they will carry out their pledges in this respect, as many prominent Liberals, not in the township of Mariposa only, but in the township of Lindsay, have told me personally, that they would never support another Liberal candidate to the Toronto Government until those fellows there now were fired out. Their statements were made long prior to the hail (Hell) storm which to-day disgusts the Globe newspaper. You see they now have additional reasons for proving true.

But, to continue my last letter. We hear much now-and-then about the interests of the party. Some of the posters, while admitting that the Col. is tricky, claim their allegiance to the party justifies their present course. I want to tell these fellows (and were they to observe the truth) that in the series of letters, and act upon them, they would be putting up a consistent fight for the party—one that would meet with the approval and commendation of the thinking electors.

The election of the Liberal candidate by 1,000 majority, thus retiring the self-appointed candidate, would be the very best thing that could happen the party, at the present juncture.

What! give over a constituency with 500 majority! Yes, the greater the sacrifice, the more the honor, and I shall prove these statements before concluding these letters.

We also hear something about loyalty to the party. Let us observe that of the so-called Conservative candidate. The Liberal leaders at Ottawa when discussing the sure election of Col. Hughes in Victoria and Haliburton, remarked, "Well it does not matter much, we can get him any time we want him, anyway." Now, are they not judging from his past record, justified in their conclusion?

Let's look up the Yukon Railway Bill and where was he? Against us! The Remedial Bill, and how do we find him? Wobbling. To-day with us and to-morrow against us! And he is using both handles of this question to-day in his campaign to deceive the unwary. Do you observe the loyalty, reader? Get your microscope.

Again, the Redistribution Bill, which I fully discussed in my 2nd letter, and where is he at? Against us! See it yet? Notwithstanding the fact that the Liberal party were a veritable quotation from Lindsay, page 11,512, in his speech in this regard, he tells us in his campaign sheet that McHugh and McLaughlin are responsible for the arrangement in this constituency. Oh! what a part!

Let's have the semblance of honesty—Liberal as well as Conservative. Now, sir, I am informed, ed, on good authority, not only, are these gentlemen not responsible for this, but that individually they wrote the Government, to, if possible, leave Victoria and Haliburton two members, and we find Dr. Vrooman on the floor of the House of Commons, telling the Government that the Liberals at Lindsay consider the bill, as affecting Victoria and Haliburton, an outrage, and that he believed that they (the Government) had heard from them.

Then again, let us look for his loyalty to the local party leaders and past representatives. You will need a microscope. How many of them has he not daggered to the hilt? All save one, and he is quaking a little. If Col. Hughes, or any of his friends, care to deny this, I shall, in my next letter, prove beyond a shadow of a doubt, that, upon him, and his only, rests the responsibility of the defeat of the Conservative party in South Victoria in 1896. And what do the Conservative leaders at Ottawa think of his loyalty? How many caucus meetings is he invited to attend? Why? jecho answers why?

What about the loyalty of his constituents? Why, his constituents, or never polled a vote for Dr. Vrooman, nay, but openly, voted against him in 1896, and paired against him in 1900.

Another of the Col's big guns, who claims such true loyalty to Dr. Vrooman in 1896, and at the election mentioned, polled his vote I presume for the Dr. and then asked the head Conservative at the booth, "Is there any money in this thing?" On being told by the other that "he had not heard of any," this true man replied, "Well, they may draw their own damn votes," and forthwith struck for the Col's riding and drove all day—just a little outing, you know!

Now, Mr. Editor, as my last letter so fully took the wind out of the Watchman-Warder's argument, re the petition, or for some other reason best known to that paper, its editor has refused publication to any more of my letters, hence I shall be compelled, to ask your indulgence for future letters. And by the way, I figure that the largest petition in this township is still in the hands of the agent, and of course, not counted, so you will observe the Watchman-Warder's argument is still more fallacious—Yours, etc.,

T. G. IRWIN.

Glandine, Mariposa, Oct. 15, 1904.

WHY THIS FALSEHOOD?

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—In Mr. T. G. Irwin's letter on "Mariposa out of Line," in Saturday's Evening Post, he says that the editor of the Watchman-Warder has refused publication to any more of his letters. That statement is absolutely untrue and without the slightest foundation. Mr. Irwin has always been assured that he was welcome to have his letters published in the Watchman-Warder. All that has been published, but one; that came to hand on Wednesday, when the paper was being rushed for publication, and being a long letter it had to be omitted for that issue. Mr. Irwin was immediately notified by letter of the fact, and his reason. A few days later he was seen personally and given the explanation again, and assured that he was free to publish his letters in this paper. His letter in Saturday's Post followed, saying that the editor of the Watchman-Warder had refused to publish any more of his letters. The purpose of an untruth of that sort is not easy to make out. It is, at all events, an instructive and timely one, and on both the man and his letters.—Yours truly, A. MALLETT.

Editor of the Watchman-Warder. Lindsay, Oct. 17, '04.

Note.—Mr. Mallett's explanation is plausible and apparently a frank statement of the case, but it does not agree with Mr. Irwin's explanation. The latter informed The Post that he had mailed his last letter on the same day, and by the same mail, as he dispatched the former letters, and had not been asked to forward them earlier. The public will readily understand that just at the present crisis in political affairs in this County, the editor of the Watchman-Warder might not feel inclined to strain a point to secure the admission of one of Mr. Irwin's letters to his columns—they are too illuminative.—Ed. Post.

A Play Too Good to Miss.

"Way Down East," which was the attraction Saturday night, was, we think, the best pastoral play we have seen at the Academy of Music. The staging was perfect, the smallest detail being carefully looked after. No local scenery was used. The company from the leading lady to the last important character, were all finished actors. The play itself appeals to everybody with a spark of sympathy, a liking for an interesting story and a relish for good wholesome fun. There are many reasons for its popularity, its pathetic scheme, its genial humor, its charming pictures of country life, its quaint characters and striking realism, but its more potent element undoubtedly is the strong human interest that permeates every scene. We think that, were more companies of this class secured and advertised so people would realize something extra was in store for them, full houses would be the rule.

THE WEATHER FOR OCTOBER.

Heavy Gales and Seismic Disturbances are Predicted.

Prof. Hicks has arranged the "first regular storm period proper" for October from the 8th to the 12th, and we may expect very prompt developments in the form of falling barometer, change to quite warm, followed by rain, wind and even thunder storms as early in the period as the 8th and 9th. Within forty-eight hours of noon on the 8th seismic disturbances in many parts of the earth need not cause surprise. The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storm periods may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms, first of rain and probable thunder, followed by early squalls of snow and sleet in northern extremes. Heavy northwest gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time and a general and decided change to colder will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm period that follows. This period will produce more earthquake shivers.

The last period of disturbance is central on the 27th-28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer, with falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and mist, amounting to sleet in many sections northward. The north will go out with anti-storm areas spreading eastward from the west-north-west, causing general change to much cooler. It must not be implied that much pleasant and open weather will not be between the perturbed periods. Even in the opening stages of storm periods, much of our finest autumn weather will occur, and immediately behind the actual area of cloudiness and precipitation, cooler but fine weather conditions set in. So that the "best of all times" will be expected to pleasant weather is to be expected in a large measure.

THE GOLDEN AGE FOR CANADIAN FARMS.

How Increased sales of Farm Produce the Last Eight Years Supplied the Foundation for Diversified Prosperity.

The Canadian farmer can contemplate the past eight years with a good deal of prosperous satisfaction. It will be hard to get the horny-handed son of toil to quarrel with providence or the powers that be. He has received too much at their hands. Thanks to himself, to good fortune and the aid of a progressive administration, the Canadian farmer is raising more stuff, getting better prices and selling in wider markets than in 1896. Providence provided the land, the sunshine and the rain. The farmer furnished the energy and the direction. The Agricultural Department of the Federal Government furnished a good deal of useful advice. It has taught improved methods of cheese making, of butter making, of poultry raising, of crop rotation, of fruit packing. The farmers have not been slow to adopt suggestions. The result is probably most plainly seen in Ontario where, within two years, two hundred thousand acres was taken from wheat and planted with grass and roots, indicating that the farmer was being specialized and instead of attempting to compete with the prairie of the west in wheat growing Ontario is going in for beef, for butter and for cheese. It is following the advice of the Canadian Department of Agriculture. The fact that the farmers would follow advice to the extent of changing two hundred thousand acres of crop shows a good deal more faith in the Department of Agriculture than its critics are willing to allow.

The Canadian farmer has become a mighty factor abroad. Europe and the United States are pondering if he can feed Great Britain. Such a question never worried them before the advent of the present Government. The Canadian farmer was not then the pivotal point of a world-wide controversy.

Where They Begin.

In 1896 Canadian farmers exported fifty million dollars worth of farm products. Last year the amount had increased to one hundred and fourteen millions. This great increase was accomplished while the population of Canada was being augmented by a good deal less than a million. The increase was chiefly due to the fact that the department of Agriculture pointed the way to the British market for the Canadian farmer. It also called the attention of the British consumer to the excellence of the bacon, butter and cheese made by the Canadian farmer. It studied the British market and taught the Canadian farmer how much fat he should put on his cheese, how the texture of his butter should be, how his butter should be packed to please the British consumer. The result is Canadian bacon and cheese have the highest possible standing in the opinions of the British taxpayers. The department has made some very useful laws to prevent unscrupulous persons from exploiting the high reputation of Canadian farm products by passing off inferior cheese, bacon and butter under the brand "Canada." A little of this sort of thing would play havoc with the Canadian reputation and the price of the Canadian goods. (However, when these laws were being passed Conservative critics in the Commons condemned them as restrictions upon the freedom of trade.)

Talk of trade and traffic is likely to prove dull. But in Canada the story has been so remarkable that it is as interesting as a romance. There it has left its record in every man's pocket.

How it Was Done.

Some of the things the present Government has done to help the Canadian farmer are interesting enough to be recalled.

It has established a complete chain of cold storage transportation, extending from the Canadian farm to the British consumers, and including depots at railway stations, refrigerated cars, depots at the sea board, cool chambers on the steamers and cool depots on other side of the Atlantic. The present Government inaugurated the system of distributing agricultural information to farmers. It appointed a practical agriculturalist for the Central Experimental Farm. It appointed a live stock commission to deal with the various interests of stock production and improvement in Canada.

The cold storage system has enabled Canadian butter to take a place in the British estimation ahead of the Australian and New Zealand, and only a little behind the famous Danish. It has enabled Canadian fruit growers to place tender fruit on the British market, a thing which could never be done before. Still Australia and New Zealand had demonstrated the value of cold storage shipments to Great Britain before this Government came to power.

Another good thing the present Minister of Agriculture has done was to secure the passage of the Fruit Marks Act. The British purchaser can now rest assured that his barrel of apples contains what is indicated on the outside.

Chicken fattening has been so seriously taken up that there are depots now almost from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The stalling process has proved valuable for getting foreign markets in good shape and early in the season when the market is high.

Tobacco growing has been encouraged and the result has been an increase of seven million pounds in the production of Ontario and Quebec. The department is still progressive and is now introducing a system of cool curing for cheese with enhanced its price from an eighth to a quarter of a cent a pound. One eighth means about three hundred thousand dollars more for the Canadian cheese makers. It is little on a pound but a lot on the crop.

Results.

In the last seven Conservative years Canada exported farmers' produce as follows:

Eggs	$ 7,212,000
Butter	6,140,000
Cheese	87,639,000
Bacon, ham and pork	15,752,000

In the seven Liberal years the result has been:

Eggs	$ 9,818,000
Butter	28,869,000
Cheese	133,378,000
Bacon, ham and pork	77,579,000

The increase in the amount of money the Canadian farmer gathered in from the foreign market in the last seven years compared with the seven years before was $217,585. This was $525 for each Canadian owning a farm of five acres or more.

No wonder the Canadian farmer is well satisfied with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Minister of Agriculture. And the theme for the benefit of the farmers are just beginning to be put into operation.

Don'ts for Young Mothers.

Don't give medicine to check the soothing mixture or opiate of any kind except by the order of a competent doctor who has seen the child. Remember that all so-called soothing mixtures contain dangerous opiates. If your child is restless give it Baby's Own Tablets, as they are absolutely harmless and in a natural way promote health-giving sleep.

Don't give medicine to check the movement of baby's bowels in diarrhoea except on the advice of a doctor. Feed the child sparingly and give Baby's Own Tablets to cleanse the bowels of irritating secretions. Keep the abdomen warm. This treatment will cure diarrhoea.

Don't give a young child harsh cathartics, such as castor oil, which gripe and torture. Baby's Own Tablets have a gentle, laxative action and never fail to cure constipation.

Mrs. J. D. Cully, Headforton, Que., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and have always found them a most satisfactory medicine."

It was learned by Coroner Barrows that Dussault had paddled down the river Saturday evening with a companion, as he was in the habit of doing. They were out in their canoes at an early hour looking for ducks, and the flight being small Dussault left his companion between 9 and 10 o'clock, saying he would fish for a while and at the same time might raise some ducks. That was the last seen of him by his companion. It is assumed that either he got a large fish on one of his lines and upset the canoe as a result of an unguarded action, or that he shot sideways out of the boat at a duck and the recoil sent him overboard. The facts will never be known.

The body was placed in the canoe and towed up behind Mr. A. B. Torrey's yacht. On arrival it was taken to Anderson & Nugent's undertaking rooms.

Coroner Barrows deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest. Dussault leaves a family, his only son having met death in a railway accident a year or so ago. He resided with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hutchison, in the upper flat of an implement warehouse on William-st.

Mr. Borden's Faulty Reasoning.

Jones, desiring to build a house, raises money by a note which Robinson endorses, holding as security an agreement that if he has to meet the note the house shall pass into the control of his agent and there remain until Jones discharges his obligation in full.

After endorsing the note would Robinson be justified in proclaiming to the world that he had built a house for Jones and had made him a present of it?

According to Mr. R. L. Borden's view of this case he would. This is Mr. Borden's theory with respect to the government's arrangement with the G.T.P. The government will endorse a proportion of the G.T.P. bonds. There is not one chance in a thousand that it will ever have to pay a cent. If it does it has security for every dollar advanced. Yet Mr. Borden tells the people that they are building the road and making a present of it to the Grand Trunk.

This is the Winnipeg Free Press way of combating Mr. Borden's absurd contention, and it is a good one.

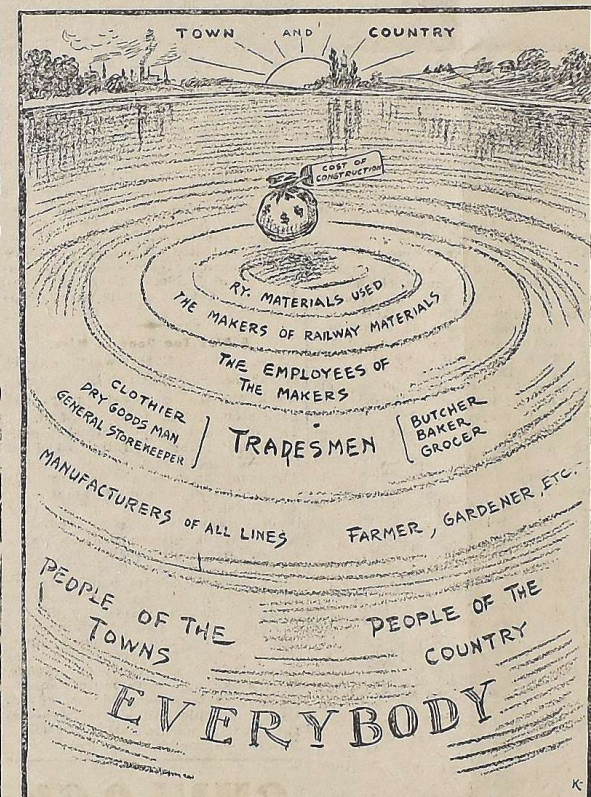

FOUND DROWNED.

Body of Napoleon Dussault Found in Sturgeon Lake

WAS ENTANGLED IN TWO TROLLING LINES OUT FULL LENGTH

Coroner Barrows Notified, but Decided that an Inquest was Unnecessary.

Sturgeon Lake has claimed another victim. Sunday about noon Mr. Reuben Morgan, town, arrived at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. John Hayes, at Pleasant Point, and went for a stroll among the cottages, accompanied by Mr. Will Hayes. Soon their attention was attracted by an overturned canoe some distance out in the lake, and a floating hat and several paddles near by were suggestive of a fatality. Scouring a skiff they rowed out to the canoe and discovered two trolling lines attached to one of the thwart. Pulling in the sick a body came into view, and they quickly let go of the lines and headed for Sturgeon Point to telephone the news to Lindsay. Coroner Barrows was notified and drove down to Pleasant Point about 4 o'clock, accompanied by Constable John Short. They raised the body, which proved to be that of Napoleon Dussault, a good-natured Frenchman, about 60 years old, who was well known about town as a handy laborer, and one who was given steady employment because a willing worker.

It was learned by Coroner Barrows that Dussault had paddled down the river Saturday evening with a companion, as he was in the habit of doing. They were out in their canoes at an early hour looking for ducks, and the flight being small Dussault left his companion between 9 and 10 o'clock, saying he would fish for a while and at the same time might raise some ducks. That was the last seen of him by his companion. It is assumed that either he got a large fish on one of his lines and upset the canoe as a result of an unguarded action, or that he shot sideways out of the boat at a duck and the recoil sent him overboard. The facts will never be known.

The body was placed in the canoe and towed up behind Mr. A. B. Torrey's yacht. On arrival it was taken to Anderson & Nugent's undertaking rooms.

Coroner Barrows deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest. Dussault leaves a family, his only son having met death in a railway accident a year or so ago. He resided with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hutchison, in the upper flat of an implement warehouse on William-st.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

VICTORIA ROAD.
(Special to The Post.)
Dental—Dr. Bowerman will visit Victoria Road on Tuesday, Nov. 1st, instead of Nov. 3rd, on account of election day being on the first Thursday of the month.—w1.

ONEMEE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Col. Sam Hughes had the full of the Bradburn hall of military enthusiasts and others. The military men were the only ones that really enjoyed the dry jokes of his great victories achieved. Want to see Mr. Robt. Kennedy, of Lindsay, as to how it was so many victories were won with such a small handful of men. The village citizens were well represented at the Hughes' meeting. A large number of ladies were present, consequently the cheers were weak. Johnston Ellis, S. J. Fox, M.P.P., Mayor Neill, and Dr. Cameron acted as chairman. Farmers are very busy at the root crops.

COBOCONK.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
An entertainment and supper under the auspices of the ladies of the English church congregation was held here on Tuesday evening, and was voted by all a success, both as to attendance, and the bill-of-fare provided. The weather being all that could be desired the young people for miles around took advantage of the excellent road conditions and came out in their might, to participate in what was expected to be one of the most pleasant outings of the season. The Rev. Mr. Chafee and his esteemed partner had been for weeks putting forth strenuous efforts to have this night's entertainment a record-breaker, and in this they were successful, as the general verdict of all was that the management deserved the heartiest thanks of all present for the perfect manner in which each detail was looked after. The hot fowl supper had a tempting effect on the appetites of those present, and the manner in which the eatables disappeared was nothing short of marvelous. A lightning article on Lindsay, did duty at the evening table, and those who watched his performance voted him a star in his line, yet his skill was not able to cope with the demand. However, there was abundance for all, and every one seemed satisfied. The musical portion of the program was a leading feature of the evening, a number from a distance taking part. Miss Brandon, of Cannington, in her violin solos delighted all. Songs were given by Messrs. Waffle, Carnegie and Elliott. A reading by Mrs. Shields was very much enjoyed. The Cobocok brass band rendered several selections in first-class style. Mr. J. C. Crawford, of Lindsay, wielded the hammer as auctioneer, and proved himself a professional at the business. The receipts from the sale of tickets on the quiet amounted to something over $200, the evening's receipts being in the neighborhood of $50. Among the ladies who worked most assiduously to make the affair a success may be mentioned the names of Thos. E. Jackson, of the Pattie house, Mrs. Walter Innes, Mrs. Han. Mrs. Elliott and others, whose names we did not learn. After a vote of thanks had been tendered to those from a distance who took part the gathering dispersed.

LORNEVILLE.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. Wilfrid Coad has secured a position as grain buyer for Mr. Jos. G. Ayers at Portage Road. He left here on Monday to prepare for a good season's business. Inspector Stacey made his official visit to our school on Wednesday of last week.

The steam shovel is at present operating in the cut west of the village. This cut was widened and dug out last summer, but was abandoned last fall without having been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coad, were in Lindsay lately, attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, the late Thos. Sadler, a well known and well thought of citizen. Mr. Ben Stacey transacted business in Lindsay lately. The following is a statement of Lorneville creamery for the month of Sept.: Total lbs. of cream, 9699.0; total lbs. of fat in cream, 12022.2; total lbs. of butter, 1253.7; lbs. of butter from 1 lb. of fat, 1.18; average price of butter 18.9; total money received for butter $2694.42; manufacturing expenses $498.85; total money due patrons $2195.57; Average price of fat paid patrons 18.14; total Curling Association held in Toronto.

LITTLE BRITAIN.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. H. McArthur and Mr. Victor Pogue drove out to Raglan last Sunday on business. Colonel Hughes, the Conservative candidate for the coming election, held a meeting in our new hall on Tuesday night of this week. There were a fair number in attendance, composed mostly of the Reform party. The most esteemed speaker of the occasion was young Mr. Lunney, one of our Mariposa boys. The meeting closed with three cheers for Mr. McLaughlin and Laurier, and a small cheer for "Sammy".

Rev. W. Wickett occupied our Methodist pulpit Sunday morning last. He delivered a fine sermon, relished much by his old friends. Don't forget the grand concert given in our hall on the moonlight night of the 25th of this month. Mr. J. A. Fox, who we all know as one of Canada's best comic singers, will be present, and George Smiley, a fine musician on the banjo, mandolin and guitar, will be present. Miss Muriel Mark, our local whistler, and Miss Scott, will also be present. A number of tickets on the quiet amounted to something over $200, the evening's receipts being in the neighborhood of $50. Among the ladies who worked

Mr. Joseph Flourey, of Lindsay, who has been out in our vicinity buying stock, shipped a carload last week. Several of our people attended Mr. Flourey's sale last week. Mr. Cornish has secured the residence of Mr. Isaac Irwin in our burg, and intends moving in soon. We are sure he will have a hearty reception.

—Mr. Robert Finley, who has charge of the Parry Sound Singer Mfg. Co's office, is removing his family there from Lindsay this week. Mr. Finley has met with good success since going there.

—Mr. H. S. Houston, of Ottawa, Principal of the several Federal Business College branches, wife and daughter Louie, are in town visiting his brother, Mr. Houston, principal of the Lindsay Branch.

—Mrs. John Malloy, of Downesville, has recently returned from a very pleasant trip through the North-west Territories, visiting in North Dakota, where she has two sons residing and with Minnesota friends. She was away about four months.

—Mr. Lon. Sobert, of Brooklin, spent Saturday and Sunday in town. He represented the Wilfrid Collegiate Institute at the Intercollegiate sports in Toronto, and won first place in the 100 yards, 220 yards, and the mile race. For two years he has held the championship of the Wilfrid Collegiate Institute.

—Mr. W. Roenick and Mr. W. Hufferman, of the Sylvester Band, were in Uxbridge on Tuesday playing with the Uxbridge band at the reception tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his stay there. (While there Mr. Roenick and companion engaged in a rabbit hunt and were successful in bagging two apiece.)

—Fenelon Falls Star: Mr. John Wardrobe, of Rosedale, spent Wednesday at the Falls. Mrs. H. McDougall spent a few days in Lindsay this week, the guest of Mrs. Bigelow. The many friends of Mr. Thos. Sadler, of Lindsay, heard with deep regret of his death on Tuesday. Mr. Sadler was a partner in the L. H. & P. Co., of Lindsay, whose power house is located in Fenelon Falls. He was well known and highly respected here, and the sympathy of the public is extended to his widow, and family.

Wipe Allandale off the Map.
Barrie Advance: Ald. Barwick and Strange moved that the mayor be authorized to request the Grand Trunk Railway to change the name of Allandale on their time-tables and sign boards to Barrie Junction, and that the corporation be requested to change the name of the post office accordingly, seeing that the municipality no longer exists.—Carried.

APPENDICITIS.

The Most Dreaded Disease of Civilization
Is the condition known as appendicitis. Once fully established, nothing will remedy but the cold knife. It has once been thought that this inflammation was caused by seeds or foreign bodies entering the appendix, but this theory is long exploded.

The true cause of appendicitis is sluggishness of the bowels, constipation and the gases which are formed in consequence. It is a modern ailment, known to the scientific physician as the Bacilli Colli Communis. Now to avoid this formation of gas germs, constipation and the resulting inflammation, take Smith's Pineapple and Bittern Pills which have been found in all the various diseases of the stomach, bowels and liver, and found to be the greatest and best preventive remedy known.

You may be very sick at night; Smith's Pineapple and Bittern Pills make you well in the morning. They will quickly and permanently cure.

OPS TOWNSHIP LEGISLATORS

ROADS TO BE IMPROVED UNDER GOOD ROADS SYSTEM

Selected at Last Meeting—Ratepayers to Vote Upon the Scheme.
Ops Council held a regular meeting on Monday last, Oct. 17th, all members present. After the reading and adoption of the minutes of last meeting the Clerk read the following Communications.

A notice from Stewart & O'Connor, in reference to Mr. Primeau's accident.

A statement from the County Clerk giving amounts available for expenditure in every municipality under the proposed County Road System.

A statement from the Township Engineer awarding the cost of survey on 8th con. road at lots 11 and 12.

Letters from Thos. J. Maher and Mary O'Connor, stating that they had removed obstructions off Queen-st. east, as ordered by Council.

Road and Other Grants.
Mr. Wm. J. McNeve, on recommendation of Council was allowed $6, being one-third of the cost of cleaning out the road ditch west of his farm, lot 10, con 9.

Mr. John Curth was on motion allowed $10, being part of the expense of putting in 8 inch tile across the 3rd con. road at lot 14, and also for putting in 3 inch tile across the road at lot 2, 1st con.

Geo. Murphy asked for bonus for 21 rods of wire fence on north side of 4th con. line, 5th con. Mr. Coulter, Commissioner, said his supply of wire was exhausted, and he did not know whether Council would order more fencing or not. The Council afterwards decided to pay a bonus of 30c. per rod, where commissioners deemed a wire fence necessary, rather than order any more fence material for this season.

The Keefe explained that Michael Hogan, tenant lot 21, con 3, wanted the use of the township grader, and a man to handle it, for a day or longer, to remove banks of mucky earth from the edge of Drain No. 1, on said lot. On motion of Messrs. Roene and Best, the request was granted.

Mr. Coulter moved, seconded by Mr. Roene, that the Engineer's account for survey on 8th con. roadway be paid, and that the Clerk notify the land owners concerned to pay their respective shares of the same as per award of the Engineer.—Carried.

Messrs. Peter Fisher and Thos. Crown addressed the Council with reference to the proposed survey, being of opinion that the line as now located is wrong. None of the landowners adjoining wants more land than his own. Mr. Reid had applied for the Engineer for the purpose of locating a permanent wire fence that he might not trespass on the road, but since by the line now run his fence will nearly reach the centre of the travelled road he is willing to build it east of or outside the road ditch on condition that the other landowners adjoining move their fences accordingly. The case is one that may be easily settled by the owners concerned, otherwise application must be made to the Minister of Crown Lands to locate said road at their expense without appeal. In order to prevent the expense of such a course, a motion by Messrs. Coulter and Roene that Commissioners Hawkins and Best view the situation and effect an amicable settlement of the matter was unanimously carried.

County Road Matters.
Since the members of the several Municipal Councils of the County were nearly all in favor of a County Road System being adopted for Victoria, it was agreed that a committee should be appointed to the committee in charge an estimate of the mileage required in each Township. The following is a list for Ops Township:

4th qr. line west of Lindsay to Mariposa boundary, and east of Lindsay to Emily boundary.
The Little Britain road from corporation of Lindsay to Glandine.

The Bobcaygeon road from corporation of Lindsay by way of 6th con. 5th qr. line and 8th con. line, to Fenelon boundary.

The Fenelon road from corporation of Lindsay by way of 4th con. line, 5th qr. line and 3rd con. line, to Fenelon boundary.

The Manvers and Janetville road, from Lindsay to Harriett's corner. The Mt. Horeb or Hill Head road from Pottery corner by way of Cunningham's old shop to Hawkins' corner at the junction of 2nd qr. line, and 7th con. road.

The Reabro and Onemore road, continued from Hawkins' corner eastward on 2nd qr. line to connect with the Onemore road running s. e. from Reabro.

Total length, 28 miles.
A resolution was passed instructing the Clerk to forward the list to the County Clerk, that an estimate of two cost might be made by Provincial Commissioner Campbell, the Township Reeves and others now about to travel over the listed roads of the county for the purpose of making the location of the system should have the approval of the ratepayers.

Sundry Items.
On motion of Messrs. Hawkins and Coulter, the following certified accounts were paid:
John McSwyn, solicitor..... $29.47
Geo. Smith, Engineer, survey..... 10.90
Jas. Greer, flour, Mrs. Powers..... 5.80
W. F. O'Boyle, blacking, postage..... 2.00
Mr. Coulter said there was a very dangerous culvert at the Pottery corner crossing, and the Clerk was instructed to notify the R. R. Co. to have it repaired at once.

The Council adjourned about 7 p. m., not to meet till Monday 15th unless necessity requires it.
W. F. O'BOYLE, Clerk.

Clothing Wanted.
The Children's Aid Society will be pleased to receive clothing new or second hand, suitable for an infant about three months old. Parcels may be sent to the society's room in the market building, or will be called for if the address be sent to the secretary.

—The Light, Heat & Power Co. had a gang of men at work Sunday removing a number of electric poles and lamps to the centre of the street, in conformity with their contract. The work could not be completed, owing to the power having to be on.

—The butternut, beechnut and chestnut trees are being sought assiduously by the small boys these days. On Sunday last a great number of boys went out to the several bushes to enjoy a feast of beechnuts. Hutton's grove being the principal foraging place.

—Mr. M. E. Tagney, owner of the building on Lindsay-st. formerly known as Brown's hotel, has rented several suites of rooms to parties unable to secure houses. Many people are wishing that he would turn the building into a flat residence and introduce a system of steam heating.

—A steam thrashing engine going down our main thoroughfare one evening caused a number of horses to jork at their tie straps. One of the horses broke away, but was caught at Britton Bros' corner. At this season the steam thrasher is more to be dreaded than the automobile on our roads, but it fills a more useful place in the public economy.

—The Ross Memorial Hospital ambulance made a trip around town Monday afternoon and about 4:30 was driven to the hospital, where Mr. Robt. Chambers took a photograph of the vehicle and the staff of nurses and Superintendent, Miss Scott. The ambulance looks fine and is certainly a credit to the builder, Mr. R. Kylie. The five team of black ponies driven by Mr. Jewett and owned by Lindsay Bros. showed up well. Our Hospital Government car will be congratulated on the magnificent gift placed at their disposal, we are informed.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR."

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Through the land there is a cry— it echoes near and far, Like "fiery cross" of olden times which summoned men to war;

'Tis the voice of our great leader— we'll respond like men to-day, And again elect our gifted chief— Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

From distant shores of ancient Gaul his race did cross the main, And bravely pioneered the wilds with heroes like Champlain, Proud bearers of the "Fleur-de-lis"—so gallant, bold and gay, Who gave to Canada such men as Wilfrid Laurier.

His foes would seek to slander him who always does his best; The paths of duty—never smooth, in these he stood the test, And over friend and foe alike he holds a gentle sway— This loyal son of Canada, Sir

TRENT VALLEY CANAL WORK

BROWN AND AYLMER'S SECTION CONNECTED WITH LAKE SIMCOE

Concrete Work of Kirkfield Lift Lock is about Completed.

Mr. J. A. Aylmer, of the firm of Brown & Aylmer, contractors for the construction of the Lake Simcoe division of the Trent Valley canal, was in town yesterday. He reports construction work as well advanced on his section of about seven miles, which includes five locks, three dams and two piers or breakwaters to form an entrance to and an exit from the canal. These piers are of concrete and contain 5,000 odd cubic yards. At the shore line at the Canal outlet, they are fifty feet apart and span outward to a distance each of 800 feet till their outer terminus are 300 feet apart. This forms a spacious receiving basin. There is some work to do on the gates of the locks and details incident to a work of this kind to be looked after. Mr. Aylmer expects to have his contract completed early next summer.

The adjoining section under Larkin & Sangster, contractors, is a similar forward state. The lift lock at Kirkfield is completed so far as the concrete work is concerned, and now ready for the iron work. If this is finished in time the canal from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe will be opened next summer and then we shall have continuous navigation from Healey's Falls to Orillia, Barrie, etc. The Trenton section will be built next and it won't be long till Peterboro has water connection with Montreal and Quebec—and Liverpool—Saturday's Peterboro Examiner.

The House of Refuge.

The County House of Refuge is fast taking on a finished appearance. Since the walls were completed only sixteen bricklayers and helpers have been employed. These men are busily engaged in putting up the chimneys, one of which is over the boiler room and is a large one. Carpenters are getting ready for the slate roofing. Contractor McLean expects the slaters to commence their work this week. Two iron stairways have been erected at the south and north sides of the building for use as fire escapes. The building itself is of red brick and is of large size. It commands a good view of all the surrounding country. Mr. L. Newton started the work of putting the window sills and frames yesterday. Contractor McLean is pushing the work forward rapidly, and when completed the building will be a fine one and a credit to the county.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great and widespread popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of the colds and fevers are taken in consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

WELCOME PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Addresses Meetings at Four Points.

EXETER AND CLINTON, WINGHAM AND LUCKNOW

A Revelation of the Premier's Physical Fitness Gratifying to His Friends and Disconcerting to His Opponents—An Eloquent Plea for Unity—A Dignified Statement of His Devotion to Canada.

Lucknow, Oct. 18.—To those who have been inclined to give credence to the stories in the Opposition press concerning his health, the record made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday will be a revelation as gratifying to his friends as it will be disconcerting to his opponents. Starting from London at an early hour, he spoke to the electors of the counties of Huron and Bruce at four different points, Exeter, Clinton, Wingham and Lucknow, received the greetings of his enthusiastic supporters at many other stations along the line, and started on the return journey to London last night, full of vigor and in buoyant spirits. His reception at Lucknow, the centre of a large Scotch settlement noted for its loyalty to Scottish ideals and to the great principles of Liberalism and freedom which are characteristic of the race, was especially gratifying to the Premier.

Eloquent Appeal for Unity.

At that town he spoke for nearly an hour and a half, and made an eloquent appeal for unity and harmony between the different races which have contributed to the composition of the Canadian people. With emphasis he declared that when the grave had closed over his mortal remains friend and foe alike will be compelled to admit that, of French-Canadian blood, his life had been devoted to the best interests of the Dominion, and that he had never stirred the passion or prejudice of race or creed, but had always appealed to the people of his native Province upon the broad principles of the great Reform party, God having made him a Liberal of the English school of Fox, Gladstone and Bright.

At Wingham and Clinton there were also great demonstrations in honor of Sir Wilfrid and his estimable wife, who is his inseparable companion in the campaign and who shares with him the affections of the people of Ontario. At Exeter and other stations along the line Sir Wilfrid was given gratifying evidence of the popularity of his Administration and assurance of the continued confidence of the people.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will leave London for Uxbridge this morning. En route they will stop over at Woodstock and pay a visit to Hon. James Sutherland, the state of whose health is unfortunately such as to preclude him from taking any active part in the campaign.

The Exeter Demonstration.

At Exeter there was a striking demonstration, and nearly a thousand people from the town and surrounding townships of Osborne, Hay and Stephen had gathered at the station. As soon as the train came to a standstill there was a rush for the car, and Sir Wilfrid's appearance upon the rear platform was greeted with a great outburst of cheering. A local committee, composed of J. G. Stanbury, Secretary of the Liberal Association; D. McInnes, Osborne; W. Hewson, Exeter, and C. Lewis, Crediton, boarded the car and conveyed to the Premier assurances of the loyalty of the Liberals of South Huron. "Glad to see you," shouted an enthusiastic admirer, and the crowd echoed the sentiment with a hearty cheer. "I am equally glad to see you all," replied the Premier, who, in reply to the insistent demand, made one of those happy and appropriate five-minute speeches characteristic of him.

POISONED ARROWS.

Foul Campaigning Against Hon. A. B. Aylesworth in Bowmanville.

Bowmanville, Oct. 18.—That even a man's religion is not sacredly exempt from the slanderous attacks of his political opponents is proved by the latest device to defeat Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, as exposed at a rousing meeting of his supporters here last night. A circular postcard has been sent out from Bowmanville, avowing that Mr. Aylesworth is an Atheist. The charge was the subject of an extremely touching reply by the candidate last night, when he repelled the insinuation and referred, with an emotion that broke his voice for the time, to the sainted mother now passed away, and who he said he was glad was not here to hear of such a charge. Mr. Aylesworth's explanation was heard by many with an emotion scarcely less manifest than his own. Although the circular was not read at the meeting, the following is given by one who saw a copy as the wording of it: "Are you aware that Mr. Aylesworth, like Sir William Mulock, is an avowed Atheist, that he boasts that he is too busy a man to attend any church, and he gives his support to none? You need not take my word for it; inquire for yourself." (Signed) S. Smith."

Tarte Not to Run.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Hon. Mr. Tarte will not be a candidate at the coming election. This decision was announced yesterday as follows in La Patrie: "Mr. Tarte has just made known to a group of his friends that he has come to the definite decision not to contest a seat at the present election."

Imposed Heavy Fine.

Woodstock, Oct. 17.—John Koch, hotel-keeper, of Drumbo, was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Ball in the police court Friday night for selling liquor without a license.

Injured in a Runaway.

About half-past ten p.m. Sunday a livery horse owned by Mr. Armstrong got beyond control of Mr. Marshall Bell, on Sussex-st., while he was assisting an occupant out of the buggy. The horse and rig dashed along Glenelg-st., and at the corner of Cambridge-st. the rig upset. Mr. Geo. Lindsay, who lives on the corner heard the noise and rushed out to stop the horse, but in the attempt he was knocked down and trampled on by the animal. He received a few severe injuries and cuts on the head.

Too Much Home Work.

(Toronto Telegram)
Perfection does not dwell in the school system that keeps young children drudging over their home work for hours every night.
Education should not come so easily that it will not be appreciated. Nor should education come through the stress and struggle and toll that wears out the health of a child.
A grown man can get a living in eight hours' work per day, and a growing child should be able to get an education in something less than five hours in school and four hours home work.

Ecclesiastical Law for Canada.

(Ottawa Journal, Saturday.)
Delegates from the ecclesiastical provinces of the Dominion of Canada are in session at the Archbishop's Palace to-day, having assembled yesterday to prepare matters for the First Plenary Council of Canada. The Province of Quebec is governed ecclesiastically by the regulations of the Council of Trent, but Ontario and the rest of Canada is governed by the Propaganda at Rome, as those provinces have not been canonically erected. It is expected that the plenary council will be called in January. Owing to the great importance of the business before the delegates and the many details to be discussed, it is not likely they will conclude their business before the end of next week. Delegates are present from the following ecclesiastical districts:—Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, St. Boniface, Vancouver Island, Halifax, Montreal and Quebec. The delegates from Kingston are Very Rev. John Masterson, V. G., Kingston, and Ven. Archdeacon D. J. Casey, P. P., Lindsay.

BANQUET AT MONTREAL.

The Citizens of the City Honor Lord and Lady Minto.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—A farewell banquet was tendered at the Windsor Hotel last night by the citizens of Montreal to Lord and Lady Minto. It was a brilliant affair, a large number of Montreal's most prominent citizens being present.

The chair was occupied by Mayor Laporte, and at the head table sat the Earl of Minto, Sir Louis Jetté, Archbishop Bruchesi, Bishop Carmichael, Senator MacKay, Justice Curran, Alex. LaCoste, Sir George A. Drummond, Sir Montague Allan, Sir William Hingston, Hon. J. I. Tarte, E. S. Clouston and others.

The toast to the guest of honor was proposed by Archbishop Bruchesi. A civic address was also read to Lord Minto by Sir Louis Jetté.

In reply the Earl of Minto said that he deeply appreciated the honor that had been shown to both himself and Lady Minto. He had served Canada at a time that was full of incident. His course had been run, the nasty places all passed, whether or not it was good was not for him to say, but after all it was only the first heat in the great Imperial stakes, and it rested with the people of Canada and Great Britain to bring it to a successful end.

Canada had made great progress in Imperial things. Now a great statesman across the seas was doing all within his power to direct into one common channel the destinies of the motherland and her self-governing colonies. This Lordship said that he had travelled over all of Canada, and he could give personal testimony of the great future that lay before her. He would always bear happy recollections of his service in Canada, and if he had won the appreciation of the people he would consider himself amply rewarded.

Canadian Boat Launched.

London, Oct. 17.—(C. A. P.)—The twin screw ice-breaker Montcalm, built for the Canadian Government, was launched on Saturday.

The Slocum Disaster.

New York, Oct. 12.—The report of the Gen. Slocum Commission was made public yesterday. In connection with the important findings of the Commission, presented in the report, President Roosevelt, to whom the report was submitted, has written a letter to Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor, briefly summarizing the report and directing him to carry into effect the recommendations of the Commission. He also directs that Robert S. Rodie, supervising inspector of the second district steamboat inspection service, and James A. Dumont and Thomas H. Barrett, local inspectors, in charge of the port of New York, be discharged from the service, the Commission holding them directly responsible for the laxity of the steamboat inspection to which the Slocum disaster was directly attributable.

May Not Survive Night.

London, Oct. 17.—There has been no change in the condition of Rev. M. C. Baldwin, Bishop of Huron. It is thought by attending physicians he is holding his own, but is very low, and grave doubts at midnight were entertained for his surviving the night. He has been unconscious since Friday morning.

Back From the Frozen North.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—A. P. Lowe, the geologist and explorer, who accompanied the Neptune to Hudson Bay, and spent last winter and part of the summer there, is in Ottawa. Mr. Lowe refuses to talk for the present, but it is understood that in his explorations he went further north than Peary, the United States explorer. He is also said to have come across some of the remains of the Franklin expedition. Last summer Hudson Bay was open for fully four months, and Mr. Lowe believes that navigation can be maintained for four and a half months.

Magazine Blew Up.

New York, Oct. 12.—The powder magazine at the fort on Cochon's Island, near Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe, blew up Monday. One man was killed.

Named Self While Insane.

Cornwall, Oct. 18.—While suffering from temporary insanity, Thomas Summers, a descendant of an old Glangarry family, hanged himself Sunday at the old homestead in Summerstown. The deed was committed with a strap, which was made fast to a transom over the door of his room. The body was quite cold when discovered by his sister. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and had paid a number of lengthy visits to Arizona and California, from one of which he returned a few days ago. The hamlet was named after his grandfather, who settled on the old stage road a century ago. No inquest was held.

Six Dead in Fire.

New York, Oct. 18.—Six persons were suffocated and 15 were overcome by smoke in a fire which gutted a five-story brick double tenement house at 15 Moore street, Williamsburg, early yesterday. Two of the injured—a boy and a girl—will probably die.

Injured At Fire.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Fire in McCannan's paint works yesterday caused a loss estimated at $150,000. Lieut. Nichols Stessens and Pipeman John S. Smith were injured, both seriously, but will probably recover.

Challenges Robertson.

London, Oct. 18.—(C.A.P.)—Conductor Griffiths of the Killicks Band, replying to Major Robertson's letter, published in the London newspapers, challenges the major to produce any printed or written announcements issued by the band claiming connection with the 48th or any other Canadian regiment.

Murder and Suicide.

New York, Oct. 17.—Charles Pfefferman, a fruit dealer of this city, and Miss Cora Kipling, were found dead early yesterday in Pfefferman's apartments in East 78th street. Both had been shot in the right temple, and the coroner announced that it was a case of murder first and suicide after.

Canadian Shoes vs. American Shoes.

Rapid construction, exterior beauty, and instability are characteristics in the production of U. S. Shoes.

In addition to the extra freight charges, U. S. Shoes must pay 25 per cent. duty before entering Canada. The maker must either reduce the quality or the dealer must raise the price in proportion.

The characteristics of Canadian Shoes are solid service, comfort, and necessary but not abnormal finish.

The cost of labor in producing Canadian Shoes is less than that of the U. S., on account of the lower cost of living.

Canadian Footwear leads the world for wear, comfort and style combined. Why, then, patronize a foreign industry?

THE SLATER SHOE for men, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, and the NEILL SHOE for women, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, are made in Canada for Canadians, and represent the skill and labor of the most expert Canadian workmen.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

LORNEVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Jessie Alexander (Mrs. Chas. Roberte), with other high class talent, has been engaged for a Recital on Friday evening, Oct. 23rd, under auspices of the Presbyterian Church Choir at Woodville, -w2.

GELERT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
A large number from here took in the Kinnmont Fair and report a lively time.

Mr. F. Train, of Toronto, has purchased the Thompson house and opened up a Temperance house.

Mrs. Geo. Dawkins and Mrs. S. Hughes are away on a visit to Picton.

Mr. Dave Berry is down from Temiskaming on a visit.

Mr. Jack Howard has moved his family to Lindsay.

A concert will be held in Scott's hall, Thursday, 13th, inst., with Miss Ketting, of Buffalo, as entertainer.

Work on the new English church is progressing rapidly and it will present quite a handsome appearance when completed.

A number of delegates from here attended the Liberal convention at Lindsay on Tuesday.

MOUNT HOREB.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The farmers of this vicinity are well on with their ploughing.

Mr. Herman Hart and Mr. Robt. McGill are doing a raising business in this neighborhood in the line of threshing.

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr. John Maitland, of Manvers. The funeral, which went to Omemee cemetery, was largely attended, considering the unfavorable day. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family which consists of Mrs. Richard Skuce, of Emily, and Mr. and Miss Maritza Maitland.

No doubt, but a number of our people will attend the dinner at Fleetwood.

Mr. Wm. Jackson wears a happy smile on his face over the arrival of a young son.

The funeral of Mr. Wm. Myers, passed through our village last week. Mr. Myers came to a sad death, while working along the new railway track at Burdock, he being run over by the train and badly mangled.

REABORO.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. D. McMann is the proud possessor of a beautiful black pacer that is likely to show up well on the racing course ere long. He purchased it in the vicinity of Cold Springs, in the Co. of Northumberland.

The candidature of Mr. R. J. McLaughlin for the Commons is looked upon with much favour in this neighborhood. His many sterling qualities will entitle him to the hearty support of Liberals on both sides of politics.

Miss Beatrice Hickson, of Brockville, has been visiting at the home of her mother, during the past two weeks.

Miss Thelma, of Millbrook, visited her cousin, Miss Mabel Thorne, for some days recently.

The young men of Reaboro can set the pace for other villages and some of the larger towns in looking after the comfort of visitors who attend service in the church. Every well managed church should have an usher or two, and you are glad to see some of our young men take the initiative.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The Bible Society services in the Anglican church on Sunday, October 9th, were largely attended and the interest shown was marked. The three resident ministers conducted the services.

The anniversary services of the Presbyterian church takes place on Sunday, 30th, instead of 23rd, owing to unavoidable reasons. The will be visiting ministers and an excellent musical service by the choir.

There were quite a few visited Lindsay, Tuesday, Oct. 11th, taking advantage of the reduced rates to attend the Reform Convention. The delegates returned highly pleased and satisfied with the proceedings. The best feeling prevailed over the unanimous choice of the candidate, who will receive strong support in this district.

Our young ladies and gentlemen find the new sidewalk invaluable for love's parades and rambles, and remarks from some of them go to show that they will soon settle down and assist in paying for them.

Mr. Joseph Graham and Miss Shaw were married on Tuesday and have gone out to the Coast for a trip. They were both very respected parities and former citizens here, but more recently of Peterboro.

(Too late for last week.)

HEAD LAKE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
It is our sad duty to record the death of Miss Mary McFadden, of Digby townships. The young lady had just been home from Peterboro one short month. She was not feeling well, but still no fears of anything serious were entertained by the family, until suddenly she became very ill and Dr. Grant, of Victoria Road, was summoned. He pronounced the disease to be brain fever and gave his faithful attention to the case, doing everything that medical aid could do, but the edict had gone forth and despite faithful nursing by her sister, Mrs. Jas. Blake, of Lindsay, who never left her bedside, and indeed that of every member of the family, she passed away on the evening of Oct. 6th, leaving great sorrow in the hearts of all who knew her.

The brothers who were summoned from a distance were Mr. P. H. McFadden, of Ohio, and Mr. John McFadden, of Percy township, Hastings County. They arrived in time to attend the funeral, which took place to the R. C. cemetery, Victoria Road, and was very largely attended, and many who knew her esteemed and loved her. Many relatives and friends in Peterboro and Lindsay will be grieved to hear of Miss McFadden's early death, as she was only twenty-two years old, which fully illustrates the proverb, "The good die young." May her soul rest in peace.

The Foundation Stones of the Ford Business.

The laws of Nature make it necessary to build a sure and solid foundation before we can go ahead, and the laws of excellence make it necessary to lean on reputation if we'd be certain. Realizing these facts to be true, we've started out with a determination to build and conduct our future business on the foundation stones of Honesty (in everything) Truthfulness (in our advertisements and behind the counter) Fair Dealing (throughout the store) Broad

Methods (in the management) Reliable Merchandise (in everything we sell) Cash System (in buying and selling)

One Price (the lowest possible) Money Back (for any reasonable cause) Courteous Treatment (alike to all)

Good Work (and we are trying to do it). The execution of these foregoing principles would make ideal store-keeping. We aim to have thus perfect store-keeping and we strive to surround ourselves with all these attributes essential to accomplish our ideal. By performances rather than promises will you understand our earnestness in this direction. But we don't pretend to have a flawless system—where is the human system that is?

The long forward look marks our ideas; their realization depends, first on our worthiness; second on your appreciation. What if the road be long and hard. Don't over-pity. Encourage.

Our Confidence in Lindsay.

Confidence is an all over feeling that makes us unafraid. We have confidence in Lindsay, confidence in ourselves and confidence in our public. The town of Lindsay and the surrounding country is one of the best in the Province. No-body gets rich in a colony of poverty. But remember this store has neither patents or monopoly on the wealth of this surrounding country. It's success depends on the legitimate inducements it offers you and if we cannot secure your trade honestly we're going to do without it—but we do want your confidence and deserved good will.

Our Advertisements.

Truthfulness is and always will be the cardinal feature of our daily announcement. We will take the mystery out of advertising by telling you the easy, understandable truth. Simply a plain statement of facts backed up by deeds in our store from now till the end of the chapter. That's good enough for us.

The Quality of our Merchandise

On this point we have the most positive convictions: No doubtful goods of any sort whatever will pass through our hands unless perchance by accident. This business is not launched with the mere thought of profit for to-day, to-morrow or yesterday, but a concern that hopes to endure for many years to come. There is but one way that will stand this test and that is by offering at all times merchandise that will not only sell but satisfy. Which we will aim to do under any and all circumstances. All our goods are guaranteed to be as represented.

The Benefits of Our Cash System.

We sell strictly for instant cash! Why? First—Because we want to surround our customers with every safeguard to their interest. For if you have an eye on business and choose to be independent and under no annoying obligation to your merchant you'll pay cash. Second—Because credit is no real advantage to you—the bills have to (or ought to be) paid sometime and if you buy goods here you have no trouble or worry over disputed accounts. Third—It's your interest to study cash habits—they are the best, because the cheapest. In the credit store you pay the long price on your merchandise and in this way you pay for the freaks of credit shrivelled up in book accounts worth 90c down to 10c on the dollar and thus you pay for those who don't pay. Fourth—Because as we buy for cash in big quantities with a syndicate of other cash stores we secure extra trade discounts that enables us to quote such prices as induce you to buy to save money. Selling for instant cash enables us to do with smaller profits, lessens our expenses and saves losses. Cash then surely gets extraordinary value when we buy; when you buy.

Our Only One Price Policy.

Some stores think it right to charge any price they can get. And the queer part of it is that some customers seem to agree with them and when they try to buy there you usually hear a sort of battle of wits between salesmen and customer. Shrewdness and bargain making are not needed here. It is a plain, even sort of business—our prices are unchangeable, so that the little girl spending her birthday gift can buy at the same prices that we charge the hardest bargain driver. When a merchant establishes and holds to a one-price system it follows that the prices put on his goods are low and fair, else he'd win no trade. This one price policy has been in effect since we've taken over the business and it will remain in this store as long as we do.

ONE OF THE BIG SYNDICATE, OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE,

LINDSAY.

This is a Money Back Store.

We are trying our best to lessen exchanges and returns; but by being more careful in the first place; not by hiding behind any narrow reason for not trying again to suit you. We've adopted this plan instead of sending goods on approval, because it is more convenient for you and for us, then there is no possible chance of you being billed (and thus displeased) for some article that you had returned from approval of which we neglected to make note of.

We would rather have one sale and a friend than two sales and only money.

Now if you come here and buy in haste or get goods unsuited to your needs you have only to notify the store within reasonable time after the purchase and ask the return of your money which will be cheerfully refunded in full, providing the goods are in perfect condition or have never been in use.

In case you forget your purse, or order any article over the phone we will be glad to send your purchases C. O. D.

This rule will apply to all alike and we are sure any reasonable person will agree with us that it is the best way after all. What could be more fair?

Navigation Notes.

—The Str. Alexandria is towing cordwood to the back yards.

—Sturgeon Points residents will be without steamer service after Saturday. The Manita will make her final trip between Robyaygon and Lindsay that day.

—Steamboat men should get to gather and petition for a lighthouse next season at the north end of the long cut. It would be a great convenience.

—Yacht owners complain that the millmen leave the river channel in a foul condition. Saturday nights and interfere with the movements of yachts next day.

—The light house has drifted away from its moorings at the month of the lower cut, and is now moored at Sturgeon Point, between Wakeley's grocery and the sandbar.

Difference.

London, Oct. 18.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Hugh Cecil, in a letter to The Times, says a study of the whole of Premier Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain's speeches would, he thinks, intensify the impression that they fundamentally differ about the fiscal policy.

Forbids the Marriage.

Boston, Oct. 18.—The House of Bishops, one of the legislative bodies of the Episcopal Church Convention, yesterday adopted an amendment to the canon on marriage and divorce, forbidding the re-marriage of any divorced person.

Bremer Released.

Regina, Oct. 18.—F. S. Bremer was released at his trial in Regina yesterday, when charged with complicity in the Wilcox mail robbery, the crown dropping the case, believing Bremer did not know the money was stolen.

No One Opposed.

Hesper, Oct. 18.—A bylaw to loan Clark & Domell of Galt, manufacturers of woodworking machinery, $20,000 to establish their plant here was carried at the polls yesterday by 264 votes for and none against.

Murder in a Church.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 18.—Clay Grubbs, a prominent distiller, shot and instantly killed O. L. Davis, his brother-in-law and former business partner, at Piney Church, Davidson County, Sunday. There had been blood between the two for some time. Davis leaves a family and was a man of wealth.

Bishop of Huron Still Lives.

London, Oct. 18.—2 a.m.—Dr. Moorehouse, who is attending the Bishop of Huron, states that the patient shows no change either for good or bad. His condition is the same as last night and may remain so for some time. There is no hope of his recovery.

One Big Raft.

Sarnia, Oct. 18.—The Reid tugs Salva and Ottawa brought a big raft of logs to this port on Sunday from Spanish River. The raft was consigned to the Cleveland saw mill and consisted of 3,000,000 feet.

Arrested At Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 18.—Wm. Bragg, Toronto, was arrested last evening by Detective Miller and C. T. R. Constable Brine. He is charged with obtaining $66 by false pretences from the G.T.R.

Would Bind None.

London, Oct. 18.—(O.A.P.)—The Daily Chronicle says the creation of an Imperial Council such as is proposed by Sir Frederick Pollock, would bind none and derogate nothing from that complete independence of action the self-governing colonies so dearly prize, and which is the condition of their devotion to the Empire.

Lt.-Col. Reade Resigns.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Col. Reade is giving up his position of commandant of Kingston College next July. The term for which he was appointed does not expire until Jan. 19, but, as Lieut.-Col. Reade's own request, he will be allowed to go six months ahead of time. His successor has not been chosen.

Toronto Yongs St. Bridge.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—(Globe Special.)—The Railway Department has issued an order for the two railway companies to bear the cost of constructing Yonge street bridge. The order, which bears date of Oct. 7, requires the work to be commenced on Oct. 15, 1904, and completed by April 15, 1905.

Borden's Best.

(Manitoba Free Press.)

Mr. Borden is hardly setting the heather afire these days in Ontario. He makes a respectable appearance on the platform with his decorously dull speeches. No doubt this is a case for the application of the principle of the motto displayed in the Western mining town church: "Please do not shock the organist. He is doing the best he knows how!"

RACIAL CRIES.

Our Protestant and English Speaking Cabinets.

The Hamilton Spectator, which took a conspicuous part in the campaign of 1900, in denouncing "French Mr. Tarte" and "disloyal Tarte" and "French Mr. Laurier," is at it again. This time there is no Mr. Tarte to exhibit as a French burlesque, but it is already ringing the changes on the "French Premier."

There may be some who read the Spectator and kindred journals, who are ignorant enough to believe what the Spectator desires to impress upon them; that is, that the Liberal Government in the Dominion is a "French" Government.

There is no justification for such a claim. On the score of nationality the French-Canadians present but a small showing. They are:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Messrs. Prefontaine, Lemieux and Brodeur. The remainder of the Cabinet is composed of English speaking members, including Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Frederick Borden, Messrs. Fielding, Sifton, Sutherland, Fisher, Mulock, Scott, Patterson, Hyman, Emmerson, and Templeman.

The same spirit of partisan animosity that has given birth to this attempt to arouse national prejudices against the Liberals, is seen in the appeals of Conservatives to sectarian antipathies by spreading reports that the Government is a Catholic Government. There is no more truth in that than there is in calling it a French Government. As might be expected, the Government includes members of almost every Christian denomination, the Protestants being in a large majority. Classified by religions, the members of the Cabinet stand as follows:

Sir Wilfrid, Catholic.
Sir Wm. Mulock, Church of England.
Fitzpatrick, Catholic.
Brodeur, Baptist.
Patterson, Presbyterian.
Brodeur, Catholic.
Sutherland, Presbyterian.
Prefontaine, Catholic.
Sir Frederick Borden, Church of England.
Sifton, Methodist.
Emmerson, Baptist.
Fisher, Church of England.
Scott, Catholic.
Hyman, Church of England.
Sir Richard Cartwright, recently retired, Church of England.
That is, eleven Protestants to four Catholics.—Sarnia Observer.

OBITUARY.

Mary Pearl Hutton, Town.

Death has visited many homes in town and country within the last few weeks, but to none has the shock been more sad than to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutton, east ward, in the loss of their only daughter, Mary Pearl, which occurred on Oct. 11th, at the early age of 7 years and 6 months. Two years ago she was taken ill with diabetes and at that time they had the advice of all the town doctors, but none held out any hope of her recovery. But her parents still had hope, as she kept up and was out walking with her mother on Sunday, which made the shock all the greater, when she was taken suddenly worse on Monday morning. Doctors were called but could give her no aid. She lingered until Tuesday evening at 8.30, when she passed away, and the sad news had to be broken to the grief-stricken parents that their household treasure was gone. That they had the sympathy of their friends and neighbors was evinced by the fact that from the time it was known she was ill, they were never left alone for moment, and if the heartfelt sympathy of the community can be any comfort in their sad bereavement it is theirs.

The funeral took place to the R.C. cemetery yesterday (Thursday) morning, and was largely attended.

"There is not here, or in this country, a single man who does not feel prouder in his heart to call himself a Canadian than he was eight years ago."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Toronto.

OAKWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss E. Pauline Johnson and Mr. Walter McEay have been definitely engaged for next Monday evening, Oct. 24th, by the Public Library to give one of their fine entertainments in the town hall. Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of a Mohawk Indian chief, was here several years ago, and those who had the pleasure of hearing her then will be glad of another opportunity. Mr. McEay comes highly recommended and an evening's enjoyment is assured.
The pupils of Miss Hattie Pinkham are giving a concert, with the aid of some outside talent, on Friday evening, the 28th of this month, in the town hall.

WOODVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
If the weather during the last few days is Indian summer, it is very acceptable also to white people, or at least we are glad to get it.
Rev. Mrs. Ardenhead, of Stouffville, occupies the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday next, morning and evening. Special music by a male quartette.
Mrs. James Vanstone returned from a visit to friends in Queensville lately.
Miss Mary Gilchrist, of Islay, is a much-welcomed visitor in town at present.
Mrs. R. Thomas returned from a visit to her home in Whitevale recently.
The new gaslight in the Methodist church was in use Sunday evening for the first time. It is indeed a very pleasing and much-needed change from the former lighting, and very much appreciated by the congregation in general.
Mr. John McEay and family are about to move to Toronto in a few days.
Mrs. Dr. Grant returned Tuesday from a lengthy visit to Toronto friends.
Mrs. Bingham has at Cannington for a few hours on Wednesday, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McPherson, on Sunday. Frank is always a welcome guest here.
Politics are at the rage now. Keep going, for there is only a short time before election day.
The funeral of the late Hector Mc-

Eachorn, who died last Thursday, took place from the family residence on Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. Mr. McEachorn was well known and highly respected throughout Eldon, where he formerly resided.

Mr. C. G. Cady, Massey-Harris representative, was in town recently on business.

The Misses Jennie Grant and Lexie Staples visited Cannington friends last Wednesday.

Mr. C. H. McKee is having a furnace put in his residence. Mr. J. McPherson does the work.
Mr. S. Read was at Cannington on Friday.
Mr. Wm. McPherson, of Cannington, is assisting in his brother's (Mr. J. McPherson's) business, as the latter is not very strong after his recent illness and is not able to attend to his business as before.

REABORO.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The home of Mrs. McMann, of this place, was saddened by the death of her daughter Lizzie, which occurred on Sunday, the 16th, inst., after about a two weeks' illness. The remains were interred in the Baltimore cemetery on Tuesday last, in the family burying ground.

The roads being in prime condition, and the evening being fine, a large number from this place attended the fowl supper held at Elbert Corners on Monday evening last.

A number of soreheads at the Lindsay Central, who felt somewhat chagrined at seeing the red ticket go to Mr. T. Melvor's single driver, will conclude that their judgment was at fault when they learn that she took last at Peterboro and also at Millbrook, and if that is not convincing proof of her ability to win, we must add that her fame has gone abroad, and that Mr. Melvor received and accepted an offer of $300 for his mare from Graham Bros. of Claremont. We understand she is to be shipped to the old country.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss M. Smith, formerly teacher in our public school, has been engaged as teacher of the public school at Valentia for a short period.

Mrs. Levi Sparks, Jr., widow of the late Levi Sparks, has returned from Port Perry.

Mr. James Marshall, woodworker in Mr. R. S. Robertson's carriage factory, met with what might have been a fatal accident, last week. He was not feeling well one afternoon, so went in the house to take some painkiller. He noticed a bottle in the window, labelled painkiller and took a dose. He went to work, but in a few minutes began to stagger, almost falling over. The other workmen in the shop were amazed and went and helped him to a seat. He managed to tell them what he had taken. The contents of the bottle were then examined and were found to contain carbolic acid and glycerine. Dr. Hall was immediately summoned, and the patient was soon relieved, but did not fully recover for a day or two.

The ladies of our village are as industrious as ever in preparing for the cold weather. Mrs. J. Trick had a quilting bee last week and as usual the current events were fully discussed.

JANETVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The social and debate held in the Methodist church here on last Friday evening, was in every respect a most unqualified success. A very nice program was rendered, partly musical and partly literary. The choir rendered some mixed choruses in a most pleasing manner. Mr. Harry Anderson sustained his old-time reputation in his rendering of "Way Down on the Farm." The Rev. Mr. Harrison acted as chairman and announced the different numbers on the program. A dialogue by a number of young ladies and Mr. Best evoked much amusement. The debate was the feature of the evening's entertainment. The subject "Resolved, that idle gossip is more injurious than thieving," was handled in masterly style by those taking part. For the affirmative, Mr. Best, Mrs. Bradburn and Miss B. Grant; for the negative, Dr. Nasmyth and the Misses Wilson. The discussion throughout was most instructive and entertaining, many strong points being scored by both sides. But of course both sides could not win. Those appointed to pass judgment on the merits of the debaters were Mr. Suggett, Mr. S. Stinson and Mr. J. R. Brown. After retiring for a few moments to compare points, the affirmative were awarded the decision. Cake and coffee were then served in the basement, to which ample justice was done, at which all retired to their homes feeling that a pleasant and very profitable evening had been spent.

The decision arrived at some time ago by the managing committee to dispense with the annual fowl dinner seems to have met with general approval. The social given on Friday evening did not entail any great amount of hardship on those who are always foremost in offering their services to further the work of the church, and by forthcoming on such occasions. The receipts, whilst not large, were all profit, as little or no expense was incurred. A similar gathering could be given at intervals during the fall and winter months, and would no doubt, be highly appreciated by the parishioners. The rev. pastor is to be complimented on the healthy condition of the several funds of the church and the good feeling that exists between pastor and people.

A meeting is expected to be held here in the interests of Mr. Aylesworth at an early date. The opinion of many in this section is freely expressed that in view of the fact of the riding being privileged to have as a candidate a man of such sterling worth as Mr. Aylesworth is known to be, that party lines should be thrown to the winds and that all independent of political color, should turn in and help to elect a man who is sure to be a member of the coming Dominion Cabinet. A fact expressed by an elector was to the effect that as there did not seem to be any question on either side of politics as to the government being returned to power there cannot any good arise from the riding by being represented by the opposition. The speaker claimed that the public had had an object lesson along those lines during the last two sessions of parliament. A general awakening of the electorate seems to have taken place since the candidature of Mr. Aylesworth became known.

Mr. J. McComachie, of Bowmanville, who has visited us weekly during the past summer, made his last trip of the season on Tuesday last. Mr. McComachie is in the egg business and has made many warm friends in this locality. By fair and honest dealing he has established a reputation that will stand for him year after year, if he should continue to visit us.

Mrs. Johnson and family left here last week, and are gone to reside in Lindsay.

Revival services are being held nightly, and are being presided over by our pastor. The attendance is growing each evening, and an abundance of spiritual good is looked for.

NESTLETON.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The farmers of the vicinity have the satisfaction of seeing an elevator of fair dimensions rear its head Leavenward. Its dimensions are 35x35; 60 ft. h. h., with a capacity of 40,000 bushels. The building is being erected by Mr. C. G. D. of Toronto, who has several elevators going the line of W. R. Wailes. Mr. H. McLaughlin, of Blackstock, is the contractor, which of itself is sufficient guarantee that the work will be pushed forward with all possible despatch. Mr. McLaughlin hopes to have it in readiness early in December.

Mr. J. H. Hylard, the hustling and energetic Frost & Wood agent, was in the neighborhood for a couple of days this week, accompanied by the company's special salesman in Lindsay, Mr. W. J. Mullin. We understand several orders were booked to their credit as the result of their labors.

The Rev. Mr. Sanderson, of Ennisville, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church here on Sunday to relieve the Rev. Mr. Butler, who will be on duty on anniversary services at Mr. Vernon on that date.

Mr. John Armstrong is after overhauling his dwelling, and now to considerable expense. It is, however, well spent, as it gives the place quite a new appearance.

Our old friend and neighbor, Capt. Ball, has taken his departure from amongst us after having spent the greater part of a lifetime. He has gone to reside in the city, and enjoy the reward of his labor for the balance of his earthly career. His departure will be regretted much by many, more particularly in church and Sunday school work, where his influence was felt largely. We wish him and his esteemed partner many years of happiness.

Mr. Peter Wright has been appointed a delegate to the Sixty-third School convention to be held at Hamilton next week.

Mr. J. H. Williams, who has been lying dangerously ill for the past few days, was at last accounts resting easily, but his condition is considered to be most serious.

Mr. Aylesworth's popularity is growing in this section day by day. Many who were hitherto lukewarm in politics, have signified their intention of supporting him, as they consider it would be an honor to the constituency to be represented by one of the most popular and clever men in Canada to-day.

Mr. David Malcolm has been most unfortunate in having his team run away some four or five times of late. In most cases they were attached to a plow or some other farm implement, which rendered the runaway all the more dangerous. Fortunately no particular harm was done.

Mr. John Prout had a similar experience to the above one time, being unattached to any implement, and being within the confines of the farm, there are no casualties to report. Too many oats is supposed to be responsible for the trouble.

Mr. H. Walker will leave for the Old Country next week, accompanied by his mother. He may remain away for the winter.

The Misses Treemer, of Taunton, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmerson for a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Crossman, also of Taunton, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Samways for some days last week.

Mr. Andrew Malcolm, who has lived long enough around the city to know the "ropes" pretty well, is doing a little in the produce line and has already made a few shipments of apples and potatoes. This will be appreciated by the farmers in this vicinity, who will find a ready market at their doors.

Mr. Richard Williams visited his friends across the lake on Sunday, last. The day being ideal, and the placid surface of the Scougou without a ripple, the outing was most thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Oswald McGill passed through our village on Monday morning, and had in his possession an American eagle which he had shot down by the lake last Saturday. It was a fine specimen and measured six feet from tip to tip of its wings. The only other bird of the kind known to have been seen ever in this locality was shot some thirteen years ago by Mr. Wm. McGill, at the lake.

The remains of the infant child of Mr. A. H. Herron, of Seagrave, were interred in our cemetery here on last Wednesday, and were laid beside his mother, who had preceded it some nine months.

Mr. John Elford left for the lumber camp last week, where he expects to remain for the winter.

Duck are plentiful and hunters numerous down by the lake.

Mr. John Bartlett is negotiating for the purchase of a lot at the station, with a view to building there. We may possibly have a house of accommodation for the public, which would be a great boon to the traveling community.

Choir practice was held at Mr. W. Armstrong's last week, and a goodly number were in attendance. Mr. Levi Bartlett was amongst those present, and has signified his intention of becoming a member, which would be highly appreciated by the young ladies.

Miss Hattie Morgan left for the city last week, where she has secured a pleasant position.

Mr. Carl Frideman Wulff, of Buffalo, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Porteous for a few days last week.

The "other" correspondent who wrote from here last week warning the farmers to look out for the wolf, intended to pose as a funny man, but fell a long distance short of the mark. If he had been better versed in the spelling of surnames he would have readily seen that his vocation was not along the line of being a maker of jokes.

Mr. Walter Veale, of Toronto, paid a brief visit to friends here last week.

Mr. James Malcolm has just completed one of the most modern and up-to-date fowl houses to be found in the country. It will be frost-proof, with cement floors, and well lighted so that it will be summer all though the winter outside. Jas. no doubt recognizes that the hen industry is one of the most important branches of farming to-day.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Are Firmer—Hogs Weaker at All American Points.

London, Oct. 18.—Cattle are firmer at 8 1/2c to 12 1/2c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9 1/2c to 10c per lb. Sheep, 10 1/2c to 11 1/2c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 73 carloads, composed of 787 cattle, 1332 hogs, 1517 sheep and 60 calves.

Trade in shipping cattle is dead, no straight loads of exporters being offered. A few old steers may have been picked up by local butchers, as well as a few export bulls. Export bulls are worth from $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Trade in butcher's cattle was slow. Even the best loads and lots of cattle did not sell as readily as on previous market days. There were several loads of fair to good butchers' left over unsold. Picked lots of choice quality butchers' sold at $4.20 to $4.40, McDonald & Maybrey having sold 414 at $4.20 and 415 at $4.35, and picked lots of good butchers' sold at $3.80 to $4.40; fair to good at $3.50 to $3.75; cows, at $2.50 to $3.00.

The demand for feeders is not as great as it was, and the market is easier. Short keeps, 1150 to 1200 lbs. each, sold at $4.40 and some rough cattle of the same weights as low as $2.00 per cwt.; 600 lbs. steers sold at $3.25 to $3.50; stockers, 600 to 700 lbs. each, are worth from $2.80 to $2.75 per cwt.

About 15 milch cows and springers sold all the way from $27 to $80 each.

The number of veal calves was not large, and had the effect of making the price of firm, but unchanged, at $2 to $10 each, or $3 to $5.25 per cwt., with an extra choice odd calf at $5.50 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs was not large—about 1000. Export ewes sold at $3.25 to $3.40; bucks at $2.50 to $2.75; lambs at $3.35 to $4.35, and picked lots of ewes and wethers at $4.50 per cwt.

Receipts of hogs were not large—about 1400—but prices declined. Selects are quoted at $5.15, and lights at $4.25 to $4.50; stags, $2 to $2.50; sows, $2.25 to $3.50 per cwt. These quotations are for fed and watered.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, Oct. 18.—Cattle—Receipts, 750 head; fairly active, barely steady; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.85; shipping, $4.50 to $5.25; butchers', $4 to $4.85; heifers, $2.50 to $3.15, and lights at $2.25 to $4; stockers and feeders, $2.25 to $3.75.

Veals—Receipts, 100 head; steady; $4.50 to $5.25. Receipts, 6500 head; slow; 10c to 20c lower; heavy, $5.45 to $5.60; Yorkers, $5.30 to $5.40; pigs, $5 to $5.10; roughs, $4.40 to $4.60; stags, $3.75 to $4.25; calves and grassers, $5.10 to $5.35.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts, 5000 head; steady; prices unchanged.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, Oct. 18.—Receipts—Cattle, 502; feeling steady; dressed beef in fair demand at 16c to 18c per lb. for native steers; Texas beef, 5 1/2c to 6 1/2c. Export to-day, $11 beavers, 1145 sheep and 5000 quarters of beef.

NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET.
New York, Oct. 18.—Receipts, 279; market steady; veals, $5 to $5.75; grassers and westerns nominal; dressed calves steady; city dressed veals, $16 to 18 1/2c per lb.; country dressed, 8c to 12c; dressed grassers and fed calves, 4c to 10c per lb.

sheep and lambs—Receipts, 450; steady for butchers and sheep and lambs; sheep, $3 to $4.25; lambs, $3.25 to $5; yearlings, $4.50.

VOTE FOR McLAUGHLIN AND THE WELFARE OF THE CONSTITUENCY

The campaign is nearing its close. From every corner of the constituency encouraging reports are coming in, and the workers on behalf of Mr. McLaughlin, Liberal and Conservative alike, are daily becoming more confident of victory.

The meetings of this week especially have been splendid tributes to the esteem in which Mr. McLaughlin is held, and not only are the old-time workers united and confident, but prominent and influential Conservatives are canvassing and speaking for Mr. McLaughlin, and meeting with large success. Vote early on November 3rd. Vote fearlessly, vote for the best man, and victory for Mr. McLaughlin is assured.

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

Gentlemen,—As a result of the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Convention, and at the urgent request of many leading Conservatives, I am a candidate for the House of Commons for this constituency.

It will only be possible in the short time between my nomination and the election—only three weeks—for me to visit the more important centres of the constituency. I therefore desire to place my views before you in this way:

1. I believe in tariff based upon the necessities of the public revenue, so adjusted as to protect Canadian industries from unfair competition but not to enable exorbitant prices to be charged the consumer, with such a preference to the Mother Country and sister Colonies as will encourage trade within the Empire. The tariff to be revised from time to time in the interest of the whole people to suit changed conditions, and after careful investigation.

2. I believe in full Government control of all railways through the Railway Commission, which should exercise a general power over rates and service so that people in all parts of the country shall as far as possible, have good railway service at reasonable rates.

3. The battle that Canadians have to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

4. I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have their benefit at the earliest possible time.

5. I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of the same. I would much rather not be elected than that even one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party, and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing either nomination or election by corrupt and crooked means.

6. With this statement as to my general views, I claim freedom of action and the right always to place what I may believe to be in the interests of the country before any party consideration.

7. It is the duty of a representative to devote himself solely to the interests of his country, and constituency and not to attempt to serve two masters by representing for personal gain corporate or private interests at the same time.

8. I have lived among you from my earliest childhood and you have my record. If elected I will devote myself to the interest of the constituency and the country at large.

I ask the assistance of all persons irrespective of party who earnestly desire the welfare of our constituency and country.

If elected I will represent all parties and see that justice is done to all.

Yours truly,

R. J. McLAUGHLIN, K. C.

SOME MISREPRESENTATIONS ANSWERED

Mr. McLaughlin and His Dealings with the Township of Fenelon.

Matters which refer to ordinary private business of a respectable candidate should not be brought up in a political campaign, but in the contest in this constituency Mr. Hughes has begun by slandering Mr. McLaughlin's professional conduct and standing, and in reference to Mr. McLaughlin's relations as solicitor for the Township of Fenelon (his native township) the abuse and misrepresentation of Mr. Hughes is especially glaring. Mr. McLaughlin has asked from Mr. Taylor Parkin, Reeve of the Township (a Conservative), and Mr. Manley Maybee, Treasurer of the Township (another Conservative), statements as to exactly what took place. Mr. McLaughlin has no desire to intrude private business matters upon the people, but when false statements are published broadcast and canvassed insidiously, there is no other course but to refute them from the foundation up.

A comparison between the charges made by Mr. Hughes and the unbiased statements of Mr. Parkin and Mr. Maybee will prove interesting.

MR. HUGHES' RED CIRCULAR, Paragraph 59, reads as follows:—

"The Rosedale Bridge was raised to match the Government swing. Unsolicited by the municipality, Col. Hughes obtained from the Government the cost to which the Township had been put, viz., $200.00. When this sum was sent to the Government Agent, a Lindsay lawyer, HE TRIED TO CHARGE THE TOWNSHIP TWENTY PER CENT OF THE AMOUNT, though he had nothing whatever to do with securing it, and as Government Agent would receive pay from the Government. Mr. Taylor Parkin, Reeve, refused to allow him the $40 for doing nothing."

MR. TAYLOR PARKIN, Reeve of Fenelon, gives the correct statement in his own handwriting as follows:

"RE ROSEDALE BRIDGE.

"I NEVER WAS ASKED BY ANY PERSON TO PAY TWENTY PER CENT ON $200 OBTAINED FROM THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT IN THIS MATTER."

Which statement is likely to be correct?

Mr. Taylor Parkin told Mr. Hughes personally, and wrote the Watchman-Warder, that their statement was not correct. Why has neither the candidate nor his organ given an apology?

RE FLOODED ROADS.

In the year 1899, when Mr. Alex. McGee was Reeve of the Township of Fenelon, a claim of the Township of Fenelon against the Ontario Government for damages resulting from the flooding of roads in the township near Balsam Lake was put into the hands of Mr. McLaughlin as Solicitor for the Township, and he at once set about to obtain the damages to which the Township was entitled. When the claim was first taken up the Public Works Department refused to entertain it, but later it was taken up again and the late Mr. Thomas Walters appointed arbitrator, and his award was $434.80. The Department thought the amount excessive, but Mr. McLaughlin, although the Council would have accepted $100 in settlement, persisted in claiming the full amount of

AN ENEMY OF HIS COUNTRY.

(London Advertiser, Oct. 19.)

A shameless campaign is being waged in Victoria and Haliburton by Sam Hughes. He is hard pressed by a popular opponent, and is resorting to the basest appeals to race and sectarian prejudice. We have before us a copy of a manifesto—printed on yellow paper, an appropriate color—with which he is flooding the back townships. An extract will serve to show its character:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers aim gradually, by 'evolution'—at the independence of Canada. 'THIS RAILWAY FAD OF THEIRS, SO THEY ROAST IN QUEBEC, WOULD GIVE A BACKBONE OF SIR WILFRID'S FELLOW COUNTRYMEN BEHIND OLD ONTARIO AND ASSISI IN THE PLAN.

"They demand independent treaty-making power. 'They demand abolition of a legal appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council.

"They excited dishonest prejudice against Britain in the Alaska boundary case.

"They will not contribute to this Imperial navy, but wish a Canadian navy under control of that 'warrior seaman,' Mr. Prefontaine.

"They have abolished the necessity of the Canadian general being a British-trained officer.

"They would abolish the office of Governor-General, and make a President."

"Their whole policy is towards these ends.

"They dismissed Lord Dufferin for asserting the illegal actions of Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, in meddling in military affairs without authority more than any 'street sweeper' possessed.

"They have sought to establish the worst forms of militarism in Canada by trying to bring officers of the militia when not on duty, or on service under the thumb of the minister.

"They have further sought to make it a serious offence for a Salvation Army soldier to wear his uniform.

"These tyrannies Lord Dufferin opposed, and stood for the rights of the citizen."

This tissue of falsehoods is being circulated in a thinly-settled district, covering an enormous area, where the majority of the electors are remote from centres of population, and not in touch with the daily papers and the ordinary channels of information.

Such a riding lends itself to darkness, and Hughes feels he can employ them with impunity. The country ought to ring with denunciation of these dastardly tactics, and of the author of them. The Grand Trunk Pacific contract has been attacked on various grounds, but Hughes is the first man who has tried to make it a race issue. And this blunders and political incendiary was the parliamentary champion of Lord Dufferin!

The award and was finally successful. The cheque for $434.80 was handed to Mr. McLaughlin as Township Solicitor, and by him at once forwarded to Mr. Parkin, the Reeve. Not a cent was taken from the cheque by him. He was not Agent for the Ontario Government, but Solicitor for the Township, who paid him his fees. It is worth while corresponding the statement in the Watchman-Warder and those signed by the Reeve and the Treasurer of the Township of Fenelon.

The Watchman-Warder of October 20th, 1904, says in reference to this matter:

"The money was handed over by Mr. R. J. McLaughlin as the Government Agent. We at once wrote to Reeve Parkin of Fenelon for the facts. The Reeve replies as follows: 'The Government grant for roads submerged was $432.80. Of that sum Mr. R. J. McLaughlin KEPT $80 and gave the Township the balance.' That statement of the Reeve is endorsed by Treasurer Maybee."

Mr. Taylor Parkin's statement (which we give in full) is as follows:

"Re Flooded Roads—The roads injured by the dam at Rosedale, in the Township of Fenelon. Mr. McLaughlin, OUR TOWNSHIP SOLICITOR, DID THE WORK, and obtained from the Provincial Government $434.80. The Township paid his firm for services for the same $80. I NEVER SAID Mr. McLaughlin KEPT $80. HE GAVE ME A CHEQUE FOR THE FULL AMOUNT and the Council passed a resolution to pay the $80 for services rendered." (Sgd) TAYLOR PARKIN, Reeve.
"Oct. 25th, 1904"

Mr. Maybee's statement is as follows:

"Extract from treasurer's books of the Township of Fenelon re money received from the Ontario Government for flooded roads at Rosedale:

"1901—Dec. 16.—Received from Ontario Government award for flooded lands..... $434.80

"1902—Jan. 9.—Paid Robert J. McLaughlin for services rendered in getting $434.80 from the Provincial Government re roads flooded by dam at Rosedale..... $80"

"The above is a true copy of the entries in the books of the treasurer of the Township of Fenelon re roads flooded at Rosedale. The cheque from the Government for the whole amount was paid to the Township, and Mr. McLaughlin was afterward paid his bill of $80 by order on the Treasurer in the usual way. (Sgd) MANLEY MABEE, Treas."

From the above it is clear that MR. McLAUGHLIN DID NOT KEEP BACK THE $80. He rendered his bill, and it was not paid until the next month. The Township Council had every opportunity to object to the account if they so desired, but Mr. McLaughlin never heard of any objection. The report of the Council meeting of the Fenelon Council, reported in the Watchman-Warder of December 26, 1901, contains the following:

"It was moved by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Perdue, that our Solicitor's fee of $80, for services rendered in securing an award of $434 from the Ontario Government re flooding certain roads by the building of the Rosedale dam, be paid.—Carried."

The fact is that Mr. McLaughlin had the matter in hand for over two years, the amount obtained was highly satisfactory to the township, and his fee was well earned.

In respect to these matters the Watchman-Warder sent a list of questions to Reeve Parkin and they were answered by him. Why was not that list of questions and answers published, instead of an untrue and distorted perversion?

Every thinking man can see at once that the charges against Mr. McLaughlin are both untrue and venomous.

ROUSING LIBERAL MEETINGS.

The most cheering reports have come from all parts of the riding during the past few days concerning the enthusiasm manifested at meetings held in the interest of Mr. R. J. McLaughlin. Conservative friends are rallying to his support everywhere, and even take the platform in his behalf, thus giving the lie to Sam Hughes' frantic professions that the disaffected are being "whipped into line." So far from this being the case, the revolt in the Conservative ranks against the ringmaster methods of the self-appointed candidate is growing and spreading, and the full force of the righteous indignation felt by many will be manifested with crushing effect on November 3rd. (The present is the opportunity of a lifetime to get rid of an imperious politician who will brook no restraint, and who claims to hold the party in the hollow of his hand. Many are going to seize the chance.

Is there a man, young or old, who has not more money in his pocket to-day than it held during the lean years prior to the Laurier Administration? Thank our progressive Government and vote for a continuance of prosperity.

R. J. McLaughlin would worthily represent the Riding and work for the best interests of Victoria and Haliburton—Sam Hughes would misrepresent the Riding and work for his own interests, as in the past. Voter, which man do you want?

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

of stone over the grave, on which Alec carved with a sword point, "Senex hic jacet." And for two whole days Job Trehallon sat by the grave or wandered in the woods alone, and during the whole time we remained on the island no man heard his laugh or saw his grin. It was a strange friendship which these two crazy ones had for one another.

After the burying was done there was a great discussion about the meaning of the words which the old man had written. Some thought they were mere wanderings of a diseased mind, while others maintained that they had a meaning, but that it was scarcely worth while to attempt to dive very deeply after it. Every one had something to say; Alec alone remained silent and ruffled his fingers thoughtfully through his shock of tangled red hair. I did not question him, but went to sleep, trusting that his wits would work out some solution.

When the sun had scarcely risen and the night mists were still waving lazily over the harbor, a hand was laid on my shoulder, and I awoke to find my sworn shipmate standing over me. He bade me slip on my clothes and come down to the shore with him.

"Jack," he said, when we had reached a path leading to the plateau above, "what's a serpent's trail?" "The mark of its nasty slime on the ground, which shows where it has passed," I answered promptly, "or mayhap it's his insides, if you will have it so," I added, not seeing in the least what he was steering for.

"Good, Jack! You'll make a lawyer yet. And now where shall we find our serpent?"

"In the woods, if there are any, though I believe the island's free of them."

"What do you say to a stone serpent?"

"What, one of those at the temple corners?"

"Yes. The very one perhaps that you and Willie Trehallon turned into a boggy house to frighten Spaniards. So stir your stumps, Jack, and perhaps we'll bring back some good news as sauce for breakfast." So away we walked together to the great temple on the black heights of the farther cape of the island.

We reached the platform, stepped through the old opening and mounted the stair in the serpent's body. Scrawled on one of the walls we found a great "W," whose meaning I was at a loss to guess.

Alec, however, as soon as he saw it went down again and made for the western corner of the temple. Here, after a lengthy search and careful sounding of the walls and floor, we discovered a loose slab of stone and, wrenching it up, descended to a chamber in the snake's gullet.

Sure enough there was more writing, and this time the meaning was quite plain.

"Look in the bole of the tree wherein the bear sheltered which gored Jan Pengony's thigh."

Now fortunately I had witnessed the incident referred to, and we rushed toward it with beating hearts.

The hollow was choked with sticks and leaves and such like, but this we clawed away with eager hands and came at last upon a case bottle bound in wicker. Peering down the neck, Alec said he saw a parchment and, breaking the glass without more ado, found that the letter was addressed to himself. It was written on the back of an old ship's manifest, and this is how it ran:

Dr. Led—The day after thy Scourge called a small coasting brig hove to off the Mouth of Harbour, and we have come in had not halled her with Threats. Whereupon she turned Tail. Judged her Master well his Mate and bring him in Force. Be thought me how to dispose of Treasurers Scheme a Plan and executed it. To repeat same, follow ravine at Foot of Temple Hill, and find a poled Rock across Torrent. Three-ply Block and Tackle shifts it. Cave beyond then dig, forming Treasure Chamber. Chests and Pouches lie in it. Am about to die, but will write thee even in dying. Being in such evil Case, and being known by none—not even by such old Shipmates as Trehallon, Senex, and Pengony—did not through very Shame own Kinship subscribe my name, but will self things after Father, HENRY IRELAND.

Post Scriptum—Will hand thee my Share of Treasure. Take as Co-legacy my Hate of Spaniards.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Sail away,
Huck away,
Plunder! [Boom.]
Gather all the valuables you can.
Come back,
Nothing lack,
Thunder! [Boom.]
Scatter all the money like a man.

The Bristol Merchant's anchor has kissed Severn mud once more, and Willie Trehallon's favorite song, sung, roared and shouted in every variety of voice and key, is rising from the throats of her brown-faced crew and compelling attention on the wharfs and landing stages of Bristol city—aye, and throughout the whole town too.

The years of adventure and peril have come to an end at last, and now, before the quill is laid aside and the ugly, uncompromising word Finis is scrawled across the bottom of the last page, a few more dips in the inkhorn will enable Captain Alexander Ireland's brave lads to make their bow and march off the stage with ensign and pennants flying. For John Topp prides himself on being too old a seaman to leave the strands of his yarn lying littered about the decks, but prefers instead to see them snugly moused and pointed to an end.

When the Bristol Merchant set out from the muddy Severn to seek adventure and gold in the faraway west, 101 men, drunk and sober, had watched her from her decks the black, wavy line which marked the iron bound coast of Devon until it sank slowly beneath the horizon aster and had then turned, with hearts full of hope, to follow the beckoning arms of the flashing sun as it dipped, all molten gold, into the waste of western waters. It was the beacon which told us that out there beyond the Atlantic rollers lay Manoa, the city whose streets were paved with gold.

Ah, but it lied! That golden glory of the sunset was a will-o'-the-wisp which led all but a few of those 101 brave men to their death. Manoa has never yet enriched by so much as a piece of eight the many bold adventurers who have sought it, nor ever will, for, to my thinking at least, its golden wealth exists only in the hopes of the bold lads whom it leads to death. Aye, Manoa is but a dream city, and the story of Job Trehallon's tame pagan was but a Circe song of death.

There are some men who can be happy only when they are doing and daring. To enjoy the rewards of adventure past and peril safely braved is to them impossible. Only sword in hand, and in the sharp grasping of battle do they breathe easily and believe that they really live. Now, I ask no better comrade than such a one to stand by me side when the hot breath of a foe is surging in my face, but ashore, in a tavern, or at supper in a Bristol mercer's house, a man may have a more congenial comrade. Of this restless sort was my sworn shipmate, Alexander Ireland, and before a month's mud and rust had gathered on the Bristol Merchant's anchor flukes, he was at sea again, fighting in Captain Franky Drake's company against the enemies of England and Queen Bess.

Job Trehallon spent his prize money in 14 days and then shipped for the Guinea coast, from which he has not yet returned. His uncle, after a shorter trial of dissipation, resolved to eschew the delights of sack and ale and started a tavern to aid him in keeping his vow. The rest of the crew "scattered all their money like men," and then went about once more to collect a further supply for the same good purpose. It is the way of sailor men and always will be.

But there is still one person in this tale of whose fate I have not told, and I had meant that there should be half a score more of chapters written to say how I sought her and won her. But she has read all that I have written, and she refuses to form any further part in what she calls my tale of robbery and blood. If I wish to tell how I sought her at Vigo and found that she had gone, and how I finally tracked her to Grenada and stole her, then, says she, I must write another tale of that alone.

She is my wife. I have bought a roll of paper and a score of quills and could write the tale with easy glibness if it were permitted me. But, as I say, Inez is my wife now, and so she must be obeyed.

THE END.

Killed in Syracuse.

Peterboro, Oct. 20.—Tuesday evening the sad news of the accidental death of William C. Dixon, was received from Syracuse, where he had been living, and where he carried on an electric business. The deceased was born and brought up in Peterboro.

Anxiety For 169 Souls.

Havana, Oct. 20.—Anxiety is felt here for the safety of the Spanish royal mail steamer Buenos Ayres, which left New York, Oct. 13, carrying 169 passengers, and is now nearly three days overdue at this port.

Father of Music Halls Dead.

London, Oct. 19.—Charles Morton, the "father of music halls," died yesterday morning. Although 87 years of age, he remained in active management of the Palace Theatre until a few days ago, when he retired. A big farewell matinee, at which all the leading artists were to appear, was in course of preparation for the veteran's benefit.

Behind in Their Accounts.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—A new treasurer has been appointed in the township of Shuniah, Thunder Bay district, the late treasurer having been found short in his accounts, the amount being under $600.

A shortage in Caledon township reaches nearly $4,000, the deficit having been discovered on the death of the treasurer.

Quite Shocking.

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—The kind of banquet the members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held Tuesday evening has given the straight-laced quite a shock. The banquet was held at the Jockey Club Hotel. The retiring pastor, Rev. Neil McPherson, himself, was there, and progressive euche and dancing were indulged in.

SHELTER AND FOOD ARE NIL

Russian Losses Figured Out By the Japanese At 13,333—Nine Abandoned Russian Guns Captured—The Two Armies Are Now Separated By Less Than Four Miles—Fortifying Lamutung.

Mukden, Oct. 25.—(Via Pekin).—The Russian forces on the left again crossed the Shakhe River on Oct. 21 and are now pushing forward towards the Japanese positions, entrenching as they advance. At the same time Russian batteries are continually bombarding the Japanese, who can be plainly seen, busily engaged in the making of trenches.

The Russian and Japanese armies are now separated by less than four miles and the whole field of operations of both armies can be plainly seen.

The question of fuel is becoming a serious one. The greater part of the Chinese corn has already been used for fuel and for fodder, while most of the houses in the Chinese villages have been destroyed and their wood used for fuel.

Without fuel and without shelter beyond that provided by tents it seems impossible for the army to remain in the field during the increasing cold weather.

Nine Abandoned Guns.

Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Friday, Oct. 21, via Fusan, Oct. 25.—While clearing the field near Shakhe the Japanese found nine abandoned Russian guns.

Russian Losses.

Tokio, Oct. 25.—The Japanese headquarters here yesterday, without referring to the general situation in the vicinity of the Shakhe River, published the following report received the day before: Since the last telegram referring to the enemy's dead, the bodies left on the field have been increased to the following: Found by the right army, 5,200; found by the left army, 5,608; found by the centre army, 2,580; total, 13,333. The number of prisoners captured totals 709.

Russian Prisoners 3,000.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Russian prisoners in Japan number 3,000, according to a Tokio despatch to The Times.

Both Sides Entrenching.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—There was no news of immediate importance from the Far East last night. The indications are that both sides are heavily entrenching, though it is believed that General Kuropatkin will be ready for a forward move at an early moment, unless heavy Japanese reinforcements compel him to remain on the defensive.

Japs Fortify Village.

Harbin, Oct. 25.—A number of Japanese prisoners have been brought to this place. The Japanese are heavily fortifying the village of Lamutung.

It is reported that the Russians have buried 700 Japanese who were killed defending Lone Tree Hill. It is snowing to-day.

Mishandles a Shotgun.

Wapella, N.W.T., Oct. 20.—Harry Dingham, aged 22, working as a harvester for C. C. Pierce here, attempted to pull a shotgun out of a haystack by the muzzle, when it exploded, the charge entering his breast and killing him instantly.

GIRLHOOD WOMANHOOD MOTHERHOOD

The first lesson that the young girl has of womanhood is usually a painful one. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes is sadly borne down by this new experience of life. All the pain and misery which young girls commonly experience at such a time may, in almost every instance, be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, dizziness, nervousness and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

The anxious mother of the family often-times carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visits is very often much too great. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice, which is given free. Correspondence is held strictly confidential.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protoplasm, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, of Buffalo, N. Y., ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Your wonderful medicine, "Favorite Prescription," has helped me greatly in time of suffering," writes Mrs. Minta Wright, of Edwards, Ind. "Last winter I was unable to do my work, was to be confined in February, and lay in Illinois twice and told me about your medicine. I used three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and will say I had the easiest and quickest confinement I ever had. Had three children before, and would suffer from twenty-four to thirty-six hours before birth, but this time only two hours. Have a fine baby girl and she is the most healthy one of all. I am still using the 'Favorite Prescription' as a tonic."

WELL PUT.

Speaking at Sherbrooke a few days ago Hon. Sidney Fisher in the course of his address said, "The Conservatives say that we have stolen their clothes. We ask what part of your clothes have we stolen? Your clothes showed deficit after deficit. You added twenty-one million dollars to the public debt to pay your way. We scorn to use such clothes. On the contrary, under the Fielding tariff the Dominion of Canada has been able to spend sixty-five million dollars on progress, development and capitalized account in improving the public conveniences and in increasing the industries of Canada. We have not added one cent to the debt, but we have paid a million and a quarter of the debt that you and your colleagues placed on the country. Your clothes are ragged as well as dirty. "The Conservatives say that we have continued their policy of protection. We have introduced a policy to protect the industries of Canada so as to double their product. Their policy had brought her industries to a state of stagnation. Ours is broad in expense, in the interests of every class, protecting and aiding the industries of Canada. The Liberal platform is equal justice to all. We have succeeded in arranging a tariff under which the whole community may prosper equally."

the representative of law and order. Had some hot-headed friend of the prisoner suggested a rescue there might have been an exhibition of American mob rule. Why should fair-minded men sympathize with the law-breaker and manifest disapproval of the officer who is performing his duty—his sworn duty—for the public welfare?

There have been several instances of this false sympathy, and they do not redound to the credit or good sense of our citizens.

CANADA LEADS IN GROWTH.

The increase of trade in Canada, since the Liberal party came into power, has been immense, and is a record this country can be proud of. Canada's increase in trade, since 1895, has been greater than any other country in the world. Let us present a few figures to prove this. The following table gives the relative percentage in growth of trade of the several countries mentioned, for the past seven years:

Canada.....	107.43
Japan.....	97.20
United States.....	47.18
Great Britain.....	26.29
Germany.....	38.59
France.....	21.98

Canada leads the world in growth of trade, only Japan, the plucky, coming near this country, and the war will give it a set back. The United States is far behind. As Sir Wilfrid Laurier says, last century belonged in the way of growth to the United States, and the twentieth century will belong in that way to Canada. Canada is growing; keep her growing, and continue a policy under which she has grown, and is growing so rapidly.

Further proof that our growth has been greater under Liberal rule than under Conservative rule.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1878 to 1884, the increase of Canadian foreign trade was twenty per cent.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1884 to 1890, the increase was 5 per cent.

Under Liberal rule, tariff reform has greatly contributed to the prosperity of the country.

Under Liberal rule, the revenue of Canada has increased by leaps and bounds.

Under Liberal rule, the banks have greatly increased their business.

Under Liberal rule, railway construction has been most active.

Under Liberal rule, the Post office Department has been reformed.

Under Liberal rule, there has been a post-office surplus.

Under Liberal rule, the Customs Department has been re-organized.

Under Liberal rule, Canada has bulked more largely in the eyes of the Empire and the world than it ever did.

Under Liberal Rule, Canada has come to her own as never before.

Under Liberal rule, we have a united Canada from ocean to ocean.

MR. BORDEN'S "POLITIES."

Here are some points in Mr. Borden's railroad policy as set forth by himself on the floor of the House of Commons:

"I did not propose the immediate construction of a transcontinental line."—Mr. R. L. Borden (Hansard, 1903, page 12,623).

"The line from Sudbury to Fort William, 555 miles, at an outside cost of $24,975,000. Betterments from Sudbury to Fort William might cost $3,000,000."—Mr. R. L. Borden (Hansard, 1903, page 12,631).

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. at the present time owns that road (the north shore line around Lake Superior), which has only one-fifth or one-tenth of the traffic it can carry. If you give to the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk, in common with the Canadian Pacific, equal running powers over that line, you will increase its traffic to some extent, but for many years to come you will have an avenue for all the trade that will be carried from the east to the west by means of a railway."—Mr. R. L. Borden (Hansard, 1903, page 9,000).

"I say it would be a proper and a

WHY NOT A FROG FARM?

The passing of the frog is one of the unexpected results of the rapid development of an epicurean appetite for a dainty that, twenty-five years ago, was appreciated at its true value, by our river-drivers only. Since then it is safe to say that millions of pounds of frogs' legs have been consumed here, or exported to the States. So great has been the slaughter that it is a rare thing to hear the croak of a bull-frog in our marshes. To supply the ever increasing demand, frog farms have been established at several points in Ontario, one of which last year produced 5,000 lbs. of dressed frogs' legs, and 7,000 live frogs for medical experiments.

There is a fortune awaiting some enterprising Lindsay citizen in this line of business. It would be an easy matter to enclose a few acres of drowned land up or down the river with a dyke formed of boards driven into the mud, and to add other yards as the frogs increased. Millions of frogs might be raised on the upper and lower Scugog reaches, and the owners of submerged lands may yet derive a good rental from their at present unproductive properties.

JAPANESE LOYALTY.

The Japanese will never know when they are whipped. They will all be dead first. The same spirit that inspired the sailors of the blockading squadrons at Port Arthur pervades the entire army and when we enquire as to the origin of this remarkable national characteristic which refuses to turn its back upon the foe and looms death coolly and calmly in the face we are told that it is due to the "Bushido," a solid foundation of moral and physical training which has been going on from generation to generation for hundreds of years.

"Bushido" is an unwritten code of knightly honor that governed the bushi or samurai, the military class of Japan which practically ruled that country until thirty-seven years ago. "Bushido" required the Japanese to train his body into physical perfection and to develop in his soul a martial spirit, to despise cowardice, to face humiliation bravely and to give his life to his emperor whenever it was required of him. Whatever may have been the defects and vices of the ancient clans of Japan they certainly developed to a remarkable degree such eminent virtues, as courage, coolness, fortitude, endurance and loyalty. To the samurai, or military class, "Bushido" was a religion. Their boys began training at 5 years of age. Their days were devoted to physical exercise and literary studies and their nights to reading and hearing tales of the nation. Every inducement was offered them to imitate the national ideals, to develop their physical strength and their moral stamina and to practise self-control and disloyalty and cowardice were sins unpardonable.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Montreal Herald: For the next few days Ontario people will have a chance to look Laurier over and see if he's as bad as he's painted by the Mail and Empire.

Uxbridge Journal: R. J. McLaughlin, barrister, of Lindsay, has been selected by the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton to oppose Col. Sam Hughes. Mr. McLaughlin is a son of the soil (having been raised on a farm), an able man of fine presence, and popular. Although the redistribution has tended to strengthen Mr. Hughes' position the Liberals have so much faith in their energetic candidate and in the cause that they are working with considerable

With this annual deficit of $800,000 has been converted into a surplus last year of $300,000. The increase of business and economy in administration have made the difference.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, ex-Minister of Railways in the Tory government, said, in 1902, "Any man who knows anything of the commerce of his country, knows that not a bushel of grain can profitably be exported by the Intercolonial." Yet Mr. Borden wanted to buy and lease bits of railway to patch up a connection with the Intercolonial, instead of the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme!

When Mr. Foster reduced the duty on agricultural implements from 35 to 20 per cent., he said (Hansard, March 27th, 1894) that it would have the effect of greatly cheapening one of the largest items of expenditure to which the farmers has been subjected, especially in grain growing districts." Now, some of the Tory organs say that because the Liberals have not raised the duty again they are "playing into the hands of the Yankee implement combine." But the duty will be raised in the near future—Sir Wilfrid foreshadowed that in his speech at Peterboro—and two Lindsay industries stand to benefit largely.

The Grand Trunk Pacific will open up the Northwest to millions of settlers. They will require some of the goods manufactured in Lindsay. More than this, it will open up a wide field for skilled mechanics and other railway men from Lindsay and other points on the Grand Trunk. Mr. Borden, if he succeeded, would retard the progress of the Northwest, prevent the further development of the present Grand Trunk system, and be detrimental to Lindsay in many ways. Several of our leading industries depend on the development of the Northwest to warrant the carrying out of plans for future expansion.

Mr. Henry Dalby, former Conservative organizer in Quebec, writes in his new Montreal Journal, the Argus:

In advocating the principle of Government ownership, Mr. Borden is no doubt actuated entirely by considerations of public interest; but it is perfectly well known that his attitude on this question does not commend itself to many of the most influential friends of the Conservative party. The argument is not all on one side, but the silence of an important section of the Conservative press on this point, and the outspoken declaration of one of the most prominent members of the party against Government ownership, are significant. They cannot all be disposed of by describing them as chosen apologists of the "graft."

THE OLD FAMILIAR FIGURE, AND — HOW IT LOOKS NOW

MISPLACED SYMPATHY.

Lindsay enjoys the reputation of being one of the most orderly of towns. Few grave crimes have been committed within its borders in recent years, and the cases of misdemeanors investigated by our Police Magistrate at intervals are not sufficiently numerous to cause alarm or give rise to an impression that we are retrograding in a moral sense.

That Lindsay is a well-conducted town is due to the fact that its citizens stand for law and order and frown upon drunkenness and hoodlums. Consequently when a police officer finds it necessary, in conformity with his sworn duty, to arrest an offender against the law, he should have at least the moral support of every good citizen. But occasionally things do not work out that way, and we refer to a case in point.

A couple of days ago an athletic individual who is employed in one of our saw mills went on a spree and created trouble in several of our hotels. While he was bullying the bartender and customers in the place last visited License Inspector John Short, who happened to be passing, was called in by the proprietor, who said he wished to conduct a respectable house and did not want to get into a row with his ill-tempered visitor. Inspector Short, who is a County Constable, warned the man to go home, and he started off, but returned and again began to make trouble, whereupon Inspector Short was compelled to arrest him. He fought like a tiger, but Mr. Short has demonstrated on more than one occasion that he can whip his weight in wildcats, and he held on to his man, who eventually was lodged in the lock-up across the street. While the struggle was in progress a large crowd gathered to watch the fray and manifested their sympathy for the rowdy prisoner rather than for

OUTSIDERS.

Mr. McLaughlin stated to his fellow workers, "We want no outsiders in this contest. It is the county's own fight. We will do it ourselves. We want no professionals, but rely solely on the good citizens of the two Counties."

Mr. Hughes, on the other hand, cannot rely on the people of the County. He is filling the County with outsiders. They are cropping up everywhere—spellers, professional stretchers at his meetings, and siders through the country.

The circulars are not the only evidence in the Counties of frantic fight. Be ready and prepared for all of these. We may also expect roadblocks and further editions of the circulars still more venomous, as fear and rage become more intense.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The campaign in Victoria and Haliburton is progressing nicely, and almost every elector has had an opportunity of meeting the candidates and of hearing them on the public platform, or of reading their printed addresses.

In the case of Col. Hughes, his address reeks with characteristic boasting and capital "Ts," and he lays claim to being the promoter or father of almost everything good that has been done for the county or the country for many years back. It is unnecessary to say that many of his alleged achievements are pure fabrications, as those who are acquainted with the facts are ready to testify. It is quite evident that Col. Hughes does not give veracity a place in his political platform, but hopes by sheer busyness and bluster to delude the electors—at least until the 3rd of November.

That sort of campaigning may go with a certain class of the electors, but fortunately the average voter is not of that class and will not be misled either by his yellow literature, the gift of his picture, or boastful descriptions of his doings in South Africa or elsewhere, nor be influenced by his too transparent magic lantern show. The people of Victoria are waking up to the fact that they want a representative in parliament who will truly represent the country and its interests, and who will not sacrifice those interests to his personal ends and glory, or at the voice of any corporation that may seek to employ his services.

Mr. McLaughlin does not have to make his livelihood out of politics, and only offered his services at the urgent request of his friends, and with a conscientious desire to serve his country, as any honest man should be ready to do when duty calls him to make the sacrifice. His success in a large legal practice, and his great natural ability—which has brought him to the fore in his profession—makes him eminently qualified to fill any position demanded of him in the administration of the country's business. He is a man who would not play fast and loose with his honor, or the confidence of those who elected him, for all the glory and tempting offers that might be bestowed upon him.

The campaign has no political significance, as Col. Hughes cannot claim to have been brought out by the Conservative party, but by a force of carefully drilled delegates who did not represent the voice of the majority of the party.

THE PREMIER AT PETERBORO.

At every point visited by Sir Wilfrid Laurier during the Ontario tour just closed he has been accorded a welcome that has exceeded in rapturous enthusiasm and fervor anything of the kind ever extended to any other leader, Conservative or Liberal, since or before Confederation. Members of both parties have taken part in the grand ovations of which Sir Wilfrid has been the proud recipient.

The meeting at Peterboro Oct. 20, proved a fitting close to his triumphal tour through the northern constituencies. It is estimated that 10,000 people lined the streets and cheered themselves hoarse as Sir Wilfrid was being escorted to the hall. The gathering was held in Block-et, skating rink, a huge building capable of accommodating over 5,000 persons. Many more than that number crowded their way in somehow, determined to hear the great leader of the Liberal party, while other thousands unable to gain admission, blocked the streets and manifested their enthusiasm by cheering vociferously whenever they heard the sound of applause from within. That we are not colouring the picture can be vouched for by three hundred Lindsay citizens, who went to Peterboro by special train at an early hour, to greet the Premier, yet many were unable to gain entry to the rink. Even Senator McHugh might have had to remain out in the cold but for the bold manoeuvre executed by his admirers among the contingent of Lindsay L.C.I. students present, who, calling their football skill into play, elevated him shoulder high, formed in flying wedge shape, and made a successful "touch down" by carrying the Senator to a good seat many yards in advance.

What is the secret of these wonderfully attended meetings? The admittedly great personal magnetism of the Premier counts for much, and no doubt equally great must be the attraction of success. Peterboro, like most of the towns in Canada, languished under Tory rule, while under the government of Sir Wilfrid it has prospered as never before and taken city rank, and the hum from busy industries is heard on every hand. The citizens of Peterboro realize that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has kept the promises he made to them on the occasion of his last visit to the town in 1896, and Conservatives vied with the Liberals in giving him credit for pledges carried out. The great meeting meant more—it was an unmistakable expression of the people's intention to return a supporter of the Party of Progress in the person of Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal candidate in West Peterboro.

What verdict are the voters of Lindsay going to render at the polls? Has the town not made substantial progress since 1896? Do we not wish more industries, a larger population, and all the good things which fall to the lot of well-situated centres when the business of the country is on the increase and confidence reigns in every breast? If we do, then we should be fair to the statesman who has already accomplished so much, and promises still greater things. We should send him a faithful supporter in the person of R. J. McLaughlin.

The whole trouble is—Mr. McLaughlin has done a great deal for the Township of Fenelon, his father was for many years a member of the Council of the Township of Fenelon, he was brought up in that township, and he has many warm friends there. Mr. Hughes has been endeavoring for years, vindictively, to estrange these friends from Mr. McLaughlin. We are glad to say that there is no other person small enough to do a thing of that kind.

This matter was with the Ontario

ter, and after a great deal of correspondence, several trips to Toronto, and procuring and furnishing evidence, the Commissioner of Public Works appointed the late Thos. Walters, at the request of Mr. McLaughlin, as an arbitrator to settle the matter. Mr. McGee, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Walters went through the whole matter, and the location was examined and investigated, and finally Mr. Walters made an award of $432.80. This the Government thought was too much, and objected for some time to pay it. Mr. Taylor Parkin, when he became Reeve, was willing to take $100 in settlement of the matter, but Mr. McLaughlin refused to accept anything less than the fulfilment of the award, and finally, in December, 1901, the Government paid the award to Mr. McLaughlin as township solicitor.

The statement attributed to the Watchman to Taylor Parkin, Reeve, that "Mr. McLaughlin got $80, and gave the township the balance," is wholly untrue. The cheque itself was forwarded to Taylor Parkin personally the day it was received, and when Messrs. McLaughlin and Peel rendered their account to the Township it was approved by the Council and paid in the usual way by an order on the treasurer. A letter of thanks was written by the Clerk to Mr. McLaughlin. It was a matter of private business which no person but a spy would think of making capital of.

The whole trouble is—Mr. McLaughlin has done a great deal for the Township of Fenelon, his father was for many years a member of the Council of the Township of Fenelon, he was brought up in that township, and he has many warm friends there. Mr. Hughes has been endeavoring for years, vindictively, to estrange these friends from Mr. McLaughlin. We are glad to say that there is no other person small enough to do a thing of that kind.

"STABILITY VERSUS FRIVOLITY."

R. J. McLAUGHLIN,
Liberal Candidate for Victoria and Haliburton.

ANOTHER CRIST OF FALSEHOODS AND SLANDERS.

In Hughes' famous red circular he makes a charge to the effect that R. J. McLaughlin tried to collect 20 per cent. commission, or $40 out of a $200 grant which he (Mr. Hughes) says he obtained to assist the township in the building of the new bridge at Rosedale.

This statement is absolutely untrue. The cheque in question came through Mr. McLaughlin's firm and was awarded to the Township of Fenelon without any charge whatever, and, as a matter of fact, Mr. McLaughlin was in England at the time. In an old adage that "if you tell one lie you have got to tell more to cover it." That is the position that Hughes is in now, and in last week's Watchman-Wardner he comes out in flaming type with "that 20 per cent. rake-off." He says nothing whatever about the $200 grant for the Rosedale bridge mentioned before, but goes into an entirely different transaction altogether, which is as follows:

When the dam at Rosedale was built more than thirty years ago the water was raised on Balsam Lake and flooded certain roads in the Township of Fenelon. When Alexander McGee was Reeve of the Township of Fenelon (one of the ablest Reeves the township ever had), he consulted Mr. McLaughlin, as township solicitor, about having the township recouped for the additional expense in building these roads, and the Council authorized Mr. McLaughlin to take the matter up with the Government as township solicitor. Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. McGee went to Toronto about the mat-

Government, not the Dominion Government. The statement in the Watchman that the money was handed to Mr. McLaughlin as Government agent, is absolutely false. The statement that Mr. McLaughlin got 20 per cent., or any commission out of it, is absolutely false. The statement that Mr. McLaughlin denied this at Dunsford is also absolutely false, as Mr. McLaughlin did not mention it at Dunsford. Mr. McLaughlin did deny at Dunsford the lie contained in the red circular about the $200 grant from the Dominion Government.

Mr. McLaughlin will be at Cameron to hold a meeting on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, and would be glad to meet the electors and ratepayers of Fenelon there.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR AN INDEPENDENT THINKING YOUNG MAN.

The present election—as far as this constituency is concerned—gives to independent thinking men, no matter what their previous inclinations may have been, the opportunity they desire. Mr. McLaughlin stands personally as high in the estimation of the public of the County as any man well can. He has been a brilliant student and is a man of great breadth, of wide reading, and accurate knowledge. A modest man, without pretensions, he will be the same before, during and after the election. He is no professional politician. He only accepts the nomination at the urgent request of leading men of both parties. He stands for all those good things that the people of the County of Victoria and Haliburton prize. He recognizes where Mr.

McLaughlin's strength and his own weakness lie. He is therefore following two ideas in this campaign; 1st, to bolster up his own reputation by silly self-praise; and 2nd, to injure Mr. McLaughlin's reputation by absolutely groundless slander.

The electors will give a slanderer his due.

Mr. McLaughlin's standing and reputation rests upon hard work and merit—a sure and permanent foundation.

THE CANDIDATES.

R. J. McLaughlin, Liberal candidate for Victoria and Haliburton by unanimous choice of one of the finest conventions that ever assembled in the County Town of Lindsay.

It is a name to conjure with. It is the sign manual of a robust, deep-thinking and broad-minded personality. It is the birthright of one who is respected and admired for his commanding business and social qualities by all who enjoy his friendship or acquaintance, and of whom most of the men of the Townships who have not yet met him face to face and hand to hand have heard it said, "R. J. McLaughlin is a strong man and his word is his bond."

It is a name that should appeal with especial force to the voters of the united Counties because it belongs to one who is native born, who is one of themselves, and one who has risen from a lowly position in early life by sheer pluck and intense application—talents which have formed the sole capital of many ambitious young Canadians at the starting point of their careers, and which have aided many sons of Victoria and Haliburton in attaining positions of responsibility and honor in the various walks of life.

R. J. McLaughlin belongs to and is a type of that class of men of which neither political party can number too many among its adherents—the conscientious, high-minded, thoughtful citizens who are developing an interest in the politics of their country because of the rapid growth of a national sentiment among the people. These men would like to elevate politics to a higher plane, and they abhor the grafters and self-seeking professional politicians whose sole aim is to make use of their connection with one party or the other to advance their own ends, which, as a rule, are identical with the aims of some corporation or magnate seeking special favors and willing to pay for them. With such men R. J. McLaughlin would have nothing in common, and if they elect him as their representative the people of the riding may depend on it that there will be a shattering of present ties and ill-gotten gains.

Mr. Sam Hughes, the Conservative candidate, may fairly be classed as a professional politician. A newspaper man of some years standing, he possibly experienced the bitter pangs of poverty associated in the public mind with that laborious and poorly rewarded profession, and being injured to a restricted diet and other mortifications of the flesh he cheerfully vacated the editorial chair and applied himself with renewed zest to his duties as lawmaker. What matter that the pittance was small—the representative of North Victoria is a soldier—used to Spartan fare and emergency rations. He could get along, thank you. And he has—none better. He displayed the qualities of a patriot in making his choice between giving his sole attention to a neglected business or the service of his country. Believing that politics owed him a living, he elected to serve all the people in preference to a small community, and we have reason to believe that he never has regretted his choice. Things have come his way, and as his influence in certain circles at Ottawa increased, his position and the emoluments thereof grew more precious in his sight, and he simply couldn't bear to contemplate his relegation to private life. In an effort to prevent that disaster he packed the Conservative convention and insulted all who dared to remonstrate against his high-handed proceeding.

The following excerpt from a sermon recently delivered by Rev. Mr. Crawford, a Toronto clergyman, applies with especial force to the candidates in Victoria and Haliburton.

"The worst sins in politics today was selfishness—getting there your own way. If society were right, political life should be a very sacred life. The chief end of society was to train the individual to exercise his functions of citizenship in a worthy manner. There was an ideal for politics and it lay in a deeper conception of national and individual development. He was prepared to do a great number of political things were in the game for what there was in it. These men would never make a grand nation of Canada. The kind of men wanted were men of a master passion and there was really only one—a sense of responsibility to God and to man. If this sense of duty was not fit for public life, the kind wanted was the one who never owed before circumstances, but who moulded circumstances to his will, who leaned away from wrong. These were the men who assisted in making the history of this country. The elements, men who placed principle and right before party. A man might talk well on the platform—it was easy, if he had the gift of gab. The man who hunted for office should be the last man to get it—the last to wield the scepter of government. If these men of strong character, principle and integrity were to be found, Canada's future was assured."

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED—BISHOP OF MCKENZIE RIVER A VISITOR.

An Encouraging Annual Report—Work has steadily increased—The Membership Exceeded Previous Years.

The tenth annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held on Friday last in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, with President, Dr. White, in the chair and the following members present: Mrs. Drew, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Sharpe, Mrs. (Dr.) McKay, Woodville, and Messrs. Dr. White, Hore, Rogers, Crawford, Rev. Mr. Marsh, Chief Neilson and Bishop Reeve, of Mackenzie River district. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted.

The President gave a brief, but impressive address on the great importance of the child saving work. The treasurer, Mrs. Milne, read a very gratifying report which was adopted.

Mrs. Sharpe, secretary, read the annual report, which was partly a review of the work performed during the period of the ten years since organization. The report was as follows:

The Annual Report.
Mr. President and members of the Society.—It is with great pleasure that we present to you the 10th annual report of this Society. Ten years ago it was the privilege and duty of your secretary to give notice that a public meeting of the citizens of this town would be held in the Council chamber for the purpose of hearing Mr. J. Kelso, of Toronto, the Superintendent of the Child Saving Department. Mr. Kelso's object in coming here was to create an interest in this new work, and it is possible to organize a Society for the better protection of children. The outcome of the meeting was the formation of a Society which has been the medium of bettering the condition of about 55 neglected and dependent children of this town and county. Many more than the given number have been aided and provided for without being legally transferred to the care of the Society.

The 1st President of our Society was Mr. D. Ray, who very ably filled the position for 4 years. The new organization very soon had opportunity of manifesting its usefulness, in looking after two or three motherless children, whose father was quite incompetent of so doing. The home of the children was one of the very worst in town, yet the children have grown to be promising citizens owing to the timely aid of the Society. Soon again we were called upon to look after the interests of two little girls who were living with their mother some distance to the north of us. As this appeared to be a very difficult case to deal with, the Provincial Superintendent secured the services of Constable Short to aid in bringing the children to town. The personal appearance of the Secretary, Mr. Kelso, was a most interesting and successful one. He spoke in a general way of the work that is being carried on in the interests of child-saving and its need of support.

E. E. SHARPE, Secretary.

On motion the following were named as a nominating committee: Mrs. Trew, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. Rogers and Chief Neilson. They retired and nominated the following officers: Hon. Pres. Dr. Herriman; Pres., Dr. White; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. Trew; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. Rogers; Secretary, Mrs. Sharpe; Treasurer, Mrs. Milne; Councilors, Mrs. Weldon, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Whiteside, Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Fee, Mrs. Spratt, Mrs. McCrea, Miss Twamley, Miss Hannahs, Miss Fanning, Archdeacon Gassy, Fr. O'Sullivan, Revs. Marsh, Wallace, Henderson, Phelps, Welford and Messrs. Neilson, Knight and Hore; solicitors, Messrs. O'Connor and Peel; auditors, Mr. L. Campbell and G. E. Broderick.

The President and Secretary expressed their thankfulness at being re-elected.

The Bishop of the Mackenzie River Diocese was present as a visitor and gave a very interesting talk relative to his work in the far away regions of our country.

The meeting then adjourned.

NEURALGIC PAINS

ARE THE CRY OF THE NERVES FOR BETTER BLOOD.

Enrich the Blood and Neuralgia will disappear—It is Only Those Whose Blood is Poor and Watery That Suffer.

No part of the human system is more sensitive than the nerves. Many of the most excruciating pains that afflict mankind come from weak, shaky, shattered nerves, and among the nerve pains there is perhaps none causes more intense suffering than neuralgia, which generally attacks the nerves of the face and head, sometimes causing swift, darting, agonizing pains—at other times a dull, heavy aching feeling which makes life miserable. There is only one way to get rid of neuralgia and other nervous troubles, and that is through the blood. Poor, watery blood makes the nerves shaky and invite disease. Rich, red blood makes the nerves strong and banished all nerve troubles. No medicine in all the world can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and nerve tonic. They do not make rich, red blood, and helps to make rich, red blood, and every drop of this new blood feeds and strengthens the nerves and banishes all nerve aches and pains. Among those who offer strong proof of this is Mr. John McDermott, Bond Head, Ont., who says: "A few years ago while working as a carpenter in Buffalo I got wet. I neglected to change my clothes and next morning I awoke with cramps and pains throughout my entire body. I was unable to go to work so called in a doctor. I followed his treatment, but it did not help me. As I was unable to work I returned to my home at Bond Head. Here I consulted a doctor, who said I was suffering from neuralgia, but though he treated me for some time, he also failed to help me. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so decided to try them. I had not used more than three boxes before I felt they were helping me. From that on I gained day by day, and after I had used some ten boxes I had fully recovered my old time strength and have since been able to work at my trade without any trouble. The pains and aches no longer torture me and I have gained in weight. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an invaluable medicine and shall always have a good word to say for them."

Neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, and many other blood and nerve troubles all vanish when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used—but you must get the genuine—bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all druggists or direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Obituary.

Orillia Times: The many friends of Dr. W. H. Muldrew, in this neighborhood, and those who had the pleasure of meeting him at the fall fair here three weeks ago, will learn with regret of his sudden death Friday afternoon. Mr. Muldrew taught for a short time in Orillia High School, leaving here to take the principalship at Gravenhurst school. He visited friends here several times, and has acted as judge of children's week exhibit at our fair for the past two years and talked of weeks and how to get rid of them. He made many friends by his genial good nature, and his sudden death is very much mourned. Death was caused by diphtheria after an illness of less than two days. Some of our citizens will remember Dr. Muldrew, who visited the town some years ago. Mr. John Liggitt, of the G.T.R. shops, town, is a cousin of deceased.

WHY THIS FALSE ACCUSATION?

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to an article in last Monday's Evening Post, in which the Editor of the Watchman-Warrior accuses me of falsehood. Well, I am sure we are all pleased to hear from Mr. Mallet again after his Rip Van Winkle experience of inactivity, but I am sorry to find that he has about as little regard for facts as he previously had.

He says I said that he had refused publication to any more of my letters. I did, I was always of the opinion, and am still, that actions speak louder than words. My letter was dropped in the Lindsay office on Tuesday evening, and he admits receiving it Wednesday morning. I have never been asked for them earlier than this. The letter has been in his hands since Oct. 12th. It is still unpublished. Its sentiments are as vigorously unpleasant to him. Judge, reader. Again, he says he wrote me immediately, i.e., Wednesday morning, Oct. 12th. His letter bears the date of Oct. 13, and too late for the mail, that it might reach Glenora before Saturday, Oct. 15th. It did not. It is obvious that you could not have had it (the letter) reach us at least as early as it did "The Post."

Now Mr. Mallet sends his paper to Glendine fifty-two times a year, and he necessarily knows our mail regulations, hence he is culpable for mailing late. He also says, in his letter to me, "It is unlikely that you could not have had it (the letter) reach us at least as early as it did 'The Post.'"

When I called to see him at his office on 15th inst., and told him how it was that it did not reach him in time, he said the explanation was perfectly satisfactory, but that he did not care to publish a letter so damaging to his own candidate after it had been all "round" the country. From what I see of him lately, I believe here was the stickler. What would you think, reader?

I am not aware that The Evening Post goes much outside of town. He also says in his charge, I was seen personally and assured me publication, when my letter followed stating that he would not publish my letter. Now, this is not, in any degree, in accordance with the facts as my letter was written in print, and I believe on the street, before I called at his office. Do you observe the side-light? I saw him again on Monday, Oct. 17th, at McCannell's hotel, and he had the good taste to attack me in the matter while at dinner. I then told him he had said "no" in the most emphatic manner, but that I was willing to make any apology that was due him providing he was willing to publish the letter, and that he would find in the office a statement to that effect, which you know, Mr. Editor, is now in print, but by the way, judging from his present course, I could not conscientiously make now.

But in the face of this, I find him impatiently rushing into the paper with an insinuating and cowardly attack on myself and my letters. This was evidently his object from the first, as he has not had the manly courage to deal with them in a straightforward manner. He knows, as hundreds of others do, that they are true.

Thanking you for this space, Mr. Editor, I am, yours etc.,
T. G. IRWIN.
Glendine, Oct. 22nd, '04.

Head About to Break from a Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith, of Julliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

An Advertising Pointer.
New York's theatrical managers have learned a lesson in advertising over which they have been debating for years. At the beginning of the season the Managers' Association decided to confine their advertising efforts almost entirely to newspapers and cut out the display of lithographs in store windows. They did so. In consequence one month's trial has convinced them that the value of advertising through lithographs hung in store windows has been decidedly overrated.

Cause of Lockjaw.
Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion cap or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation, and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

The Seedless Apple.
The revolutionary acquisition of the apple industry, the seedless, coreless type developed by Mr. John F. Spencer, is described in a recent issue of The Fruitman's Guide. It is explained that there are stamens and pollen, as usual, but no blossoms. In its early development the fruit resembles in shape a small berry, which formation it retains until half grown, after which the characteristic apple form is assumed. The fruit, it is asserted, loses none of its flavor because of the transformation in its shape. It is all usual, there being no core, yet it has the usual apple appearance except for the small protuberance at one end, which has every appearance of the navel in the orange. This marvellous product of the plant breeder is the result of seven years' labor.

WELL FED JAP SOLDIERS.

Three Meals a Day and Wine and Beer in the Canteens.

The Japanese soldier gets three meals a day, and he vaunted about, stemlessness is a legend. In former times he was satisfied with a little rice, but now his appetite has increased enormously. He rarely gets prepared rice; the custom is to give him cooked rice with decorated grain, which, by the way, he likes less than pure rice. This diet is prescribed to increase his physical strength, and to guard him against beriberi. At present the Jap soldier is served with fish and meat. For breakfast he has boiled corn and rice, bean soup and preserved vegetables. For dinner he has fish, meat, boiled rice and corn, and cooked vegetables. For supper the menu of the dinner is repeated. Consequently the Jap soldier sleeps comfortably.

In addition to this, he has the privilege of buying bread at the canteen. It is generally white bread, which he calls pan. He hates black bread, or kuropan, as he calls it. He can also procure at the canteen a sort of sweet biscuit, kafapan, about as large as the palm of the hand and as thick as the little finger. The canteen is run by the corporals and under officers, who have the same fare as the soldiers. Rice wine and beer can be also had at the canteen. On New Year's day, the anniversary of the foundation of the empire, and on the birthday of the Mikado, the troops get carefully prepared rations, including a cake of soft rice, a white cake and a red cake and katapan, in addition of course, to the usual fare. So it appears that fish, meat, rice and corn form the nourishment of the Japanese soldiers, a nourishment far superior to that of the ordinary Jap. In the barracks the soldier sleeps in a wooden bed with woollen coverings.

In time of war, on the day of mobilization, the Jap trooper receives a red bed covering. In his sack, which has many little pockets, he carries dry crushed rice and salted prunes. He has a bamboo tube filled with

CRYING!

What for? If you ask her she will tell you she doesn't know. She just feels nervous, that's all. A man is apt to have very little sympathy with this condition in his wife. He can't see any earthly reason why she should cry. She has plenty to eat, plenty to wear, and he does everything he can, he thinks, to make her happy; and in spite of that, she sits down and cries softly to herself, apparently without any cause or reason. But there is a cause, and that cause is some disorder or disease of the delicate womanly organism. Unhealthy drains have taken away the vital force. Inflammation is fretting the nerves of the whole body. If women did but understand the intimate relation of the general health to the local health of the delicate womanly organs, they would realize that the quick way to establish the general health is to cure the local disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription dries the drains that enfeeble women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a medicine that can absolutely be relied upon to make weak women strong and sick women well. It contains no alcohol, and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Women suffering from disease in chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has in a little over thirty years treated and cured more than half a million sick and ailing women. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COULD SOAERELY WALK.
"For the sake of poor, suffering women, I feel it my duty to inform you of the great benefit your medicine has given me," writes Mrs. Callie Bowles, of Watts, Ireland, Co. C. "I was in a miserable condition when I wrote to you. I had a nervous disease so bad, I could scarcely walk and suffered such dreadful misery I hoped to be relieved by death. You wrote to me to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and I have taken eleven bottles of it, and feel like a new woman. I am entirely well and feel like a new woman. I feel thankful to God and to Doctor Pierce for the blessings I now enjoy. I have a fine, big boy, two months old, and I have got along well in my life. I can't praise your medicines enough."

NO USE FOR DOCTORS.
"About five years ago I had very poor health," writes Mrs. S. E. Whalen, of Holden, Johnson, Mass. "After doctoring four years with our town doctors they gave me up; said they had done all they could. I had been confined five times, and each time, the doctor half could hardly drag around. I had such pains in my back and abdomen I could not stand on my feet for more than a few minutes. My feet were cold or burning, and my periods came too often. The doctors said it was change of life, so, as I had heard of Dr. Pierce's medicine, my husband got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' I took it and it helped me in some ways, so I wrote to you and I could give you advice. I commenced 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' as I was so constituted all the time and pills would weaken me so that I would have to go to bed, the great sufferer of everybody I got well, and when I met my friends they would say, 'I never thought you would be here now.' I can say it was your medicine, which would be all the greater praise, were she to refrain from the mad competition of ayurvedic remedies.—Montreal Witness.

water. The company wagon carries in addition to dried vegetables, dried fish, preserved meat, chajon (extract of beans) wine and cigars. The troop has a cooking stove, said to be made of pressed paper, rendered incombustible through some chemical progress. It is carried in the haversack. They use a great deal of paper in the Japanese army. The winter underclothing of the troops is made of waterproof paper.

On the march the man carries only his rifle, his cartridges, his crushed rice. The coolies, Chinese and Korean, carry the rest far in the rear.

The bivouacs are arranged in a manner to procure the greatest possible comfort. The officers and men are supplied with furniture made of braided straw, camp beds and carpets. For the generals regular little houses are set up in short order. A great number of women follow the army. They cook the meals for the soldiers, and care for the wounded. Among them are many Chinese.

The war mail, now organized for the first time, renders excellent service. The soldier is forbidden to mention the regiment to which he belongs or the place from which he starts. He can write from the field of battle, but without indicating the locality or giving the date. The military administration attends to the work of transmitting the replies.

Deer Hunting Regulations.
Some of our citizens are not thoroughly informed as to the length of the deer hunting season in this part of the province this year. The Ontario Government extended the hunting season for moose, caribou and red deer in the territory north and west of French River to Nov. 20, five days longer than usual, which action brought requests from hundreds of hunters in other parts of the province.

SPIFF!

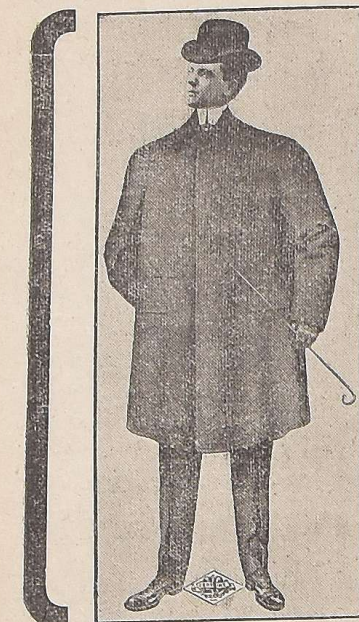

PROGRESS and 20TH CENTURY BRAND Suits and Overcoats are Spiff. Get away from the idea that you can't be fitted with ready-to-wear Clothing. You can, and easily, if you'll let us show you our Brands with their concave shoulders, can't break fronts, hand-filled Collars and every detail that custom-made garments have. With this difference Progress and 20th Century Brands are all ready-to-wear and no long waits, same as you do when a tailor measures you, and you have to go through the tedious process of getting fitted, etc., and take chances on it being a fit when you get it.

able government have been recognized. The Canadian workingman is sharing our national prosperity. The Canadian railways are reaping the benefits of improved business conditions. The tall chimneys in Canada are smoking. Canada is at peace within her own borders and with the world. The Canadian Cabinet is a business government. Twenty-five millions worth of settlers' effects have been imported into Canada since 1897. The Liberal immigration returns have not required padding. The prohibition of unfit immigration is being effected. The settlers of the West have been relieved from scores of adverse conditions. Despite reduction in taxation the national debt has remained practically stationary. Farm lands in the West have largely increased in value. The contract with the Grand Trunk Pacific is vastly superior to that made with the C.P.R. of twenty years ago. The Liberal railway policy will open vast areas of new country. The new railway commission will control railway rates and prevent discrimination. The Government assists the Northwest Territories by over a million a year. Liberal rule has given Canada its high-water period of prosperity. A new Canada has come into being under Liberal rule. Peace, Plenty and Prosperity prevail in Canada. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has proved himself to be "The greatest statesman of Greater Britain."

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE KENOSHA, OF THE KAWARTHA LAKES NAVIGATION CO.,

Caught on Fire at the Town Dock Early Last Saturday and Burned to the Water's Edge.

The finest vessel of Lindsay's fleet of steamers—the excursion steamer Kenosha, owned by the Kawarttha Lakes Navigation Co.—was burned to the water's edge in the town wharf basin at an early hour last Saturday, and the blackened and charred hull now rests on the river bottom. The steamer had been moored at the west end of the dock since the close of the excursion season, and was to have been taken to winter quarters in Bobcaygeon dry dock next week. At 2:15 a.m. a couple of the Flavelle Milling Co's employees crossed the pontoon bridge to the cars on the opposite side of the river, but saw no sign of life, yet five minutes later Mr. Geo. Doig, head miller, who happened to be in the third story, noticed a blaze and gave the alarm. Mr. Geo. Cornell rang up the fire hall from the box at the Y.M.C.A. corner and although the brigade res-

ANOTHER PARLOR CAR WANTED.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Dear Sir—Will you kindly permit me to use your valuable paper as a medium to publicly express my opinion of the present Grand Trunk Railway service on our branch lines. I spend the greater part of my time on the railroads of Ontario, and I wish to say the service on this branch of the G.T.R. is unexcelled, and with the addition of a parlor car on our mail train from Port Hope in the morning, and from Toronto in the evening, would attain perfection. The Peterboro Flyer has one, we know, and it wouldn't be complete without it, but that train makes no connections anywhere, and stops at few stations, so it fails to accommodate the vast majority who travel on the mail. Again, the Flyer is never crowded. Its day coach is so much superior to that on other trains that the general public are satisfied with the accommodation it affords, but not so on our mail trains. On these a parlor car is a necessity; would be extremely popular; and no doubt the revenue to the company would be

Mr. John Twohey, another brother, left last Friday morning. At last accounts Mr. Twohey was resting somewhat easier. His many friends in town and county will hope for his recovery.

—Globe: Mrs. J. W. Flavelle gave a very rare reception Thursday at her residence in Queen's Park to introduce her daughter, Miss Flavelle. The beautiful rooms were massed with chrysanthemums, and the refreshment table bore great vases of meteor roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Flavelle wore a beautiful dress of cream all-overlace on silk; Miss Flavelle being in a dress of pearl white silk Brussels net, over white satin; she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. An orchestra played delightfully, alternating with charming selections on the great pipe organ in the library.

AN AID TO MOTHERS.

It doesn't help a sick baby to give it "soothing" drugs. On the contrary, it lessens baby's chance of recovery. If your little one shows any signs of being unwell promptly give Baby's Own Tablets and see how speedily they will be bright, cheerful and happy. This medicine is sold under a guarantee that it contains no poisonous soothing stuff, or hurtful drug, and it cures all the little ills of babyhood and childhood. Mrs. W. H. Austin, Farmington, N. S., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are just what every mother needs when her little one is getting their teeth. When my little one cried I gave him a Tablet and it hush him at once. Mothers who use the Tablets will have no trouble with their babies." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
